Five Cars Scrambled Near Clinton

CLINTON — Kathleen Ann Brelish of 718 Joseph Kies Rd., Clinton was southbound on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. just south of the village limits, waiting to make a left turn into the driveway of the Wayne Johnson residence, at 4:45 p.m. Tuesday.

Passengers in the Brelish car were Chris Johnson, 15, and Gail Johnson, 16. None were injured.

Mrs. Merz was issued a summons for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

FIVE MINUTES after the first accident on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., Mrs. Douglas Kies of Matthews Hwy., Tecumseh, slowed her southbound pickup for the broken glass in the highway and the pickup was struck from behind by a Pepsi Cola truck driven by Thomas Cunningham, 45, of 1002 River Acres Dr., forcing the pickup across the highway into the path of the northbound car driven by Daniel C. Chisholm, 32, of Detroit.

Considerable damage to the three vehicles ensued and four persons were treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital for injuries: Mrs. Wisner with a cut nose and her passengers, Calvin Wisner, 1, bruises, Stella Almaroad, 42, of Sharon Holow Rd., Manchester with a severely cut chin and lacerations on the leg, and the other driver, Daniel Chisholm with cuts on the upper lip. All were released.

Oppose K-12 And Vote "No" On Tuesday, Sept. 27
K-12 Will Remove Local Control Of Schools

EACH LOCAL SCHOOL BOARD WILL BE AS EXTINCT AS THE DODO BIRD IF K-12 PASSES.
In that event, the four school districts would be governed by the four Boards of Education. In near future this would probably be cut to one board. Presently in the 11 districts, each School Board has seven members. This makes 77 people who represent the 55,000 people in Lenawee County.

IF K-12 PASSES ONLY 44 PEOPLE INSTEAD OF 77 WOULD REPRESENT THE THOUSANDS OF CITIZENS OF LENAWEE COUNTY!
This is a great loss of representative government. Many people who force such laws as K-12 onto the law books are the same people who back the "one man, one vote representation."

WHAT'S HONEST ABOUT THE GRAB FOR POWER UNDER K-12 IF EDUCATIONISTS REALLY BELIEVE THE PEOPLE SHOULD HAVE A VOICE?

LET'S KEEP SCHOOL HOURS IN SCHOOL AND NOT ON THE HIGHWAYS.
The children's day is long enough. Long bus rides on the highways will cheat the children, not benefit them.

HIGH SCHOOLS ARE THE CENTER OF ACTIVITY IN SMALL TOWNS
In each of the county high schools, the parents, teachers, friends and neighbors gather for band boosting, P.T.A., conference, sports, concerts, fun festivals, and other meetings. Removing the high school center of interest will tragically contribute to the death of county small towns.

FAMILY LIFE WILL BE UNDER MUCH MORE TENSION
As one mother of four says, she would have to be divided four ways if K-12 carried. She could then have children in schools so separated that their family activities and needs would be harrowing. Attending distant sport events, distant PTA meetings, conferences, picking up children for medical and dental appointments . . . all add up to more difficult living.

A SMALL HIGH SCHOOL HAS IMPORTANT ADVANTAGES
Many agree that in small high schools each student has a chance to find his place . . . meaning a place for self-expression and achievement in band, classroom, sports, club work and student leadership. In large schools, the competition is keen for each place and upsetting emotionally to those who can't "find a place." Workers with youth recognize that it is this failure to find a legitimate outlet for self expression that turns teen-agers into delinquents — getting recognition in acts outside the law.

LOCAL PEOPLE CARE MOST ABOUT GETTING 100 CENTS WORTH OF VALUE FOR EACH DOLLAR SPENT!
The farther away the management of schools is from the people, the less control they have over costs.
Big schools and big districts are always much more expensive!
A vote yes means extensive new buildings and assuming annexed debts.

WHY CAN'T JOHNNY READ?
There's a better educational opportunity right now — teaching all children to read. It doesn't take K-12 to do that!
Parents of children being educated now do believe that basics in education leading to good citizenship can be taught in our small, rural high schools. This is proved, in fact, by the eminent men in science today who were graduates of small, rural high schools.
This country has more and better scientists and technicians than any other. The gross national product is superior to anybody else's by hundreds of times. U.S. satellites fly just as far and just as fast . . . All of this was accomplished without "national goals in education" or coordinating the thousands of local school districts in the 50 states.

K-12 DOES NOT GUARANTEE BETTER EDUCATION
Even the K-12 zealots admit this! They use the words "might," "should do," "we expect," and "possibly."
But opponents of K-12 can say positively: K-12 WILL ELIMINATE LOCAL CONTROL OF EDUCATION.

Corn Picker Entries Open for Contest

The 1966 Michigan State Corn Picking Contest Committee announced today that a few places are still available in this year's Michigan State Corn Picking Contest.

Applications are available at the Chamber Office, 216 North Main Street, Adrian, or will be mailed upon request. Call 265-5141 for further information.

The contest will be held Oct. 5 and 6 with land drawings Oct. 4 at 4 p.m.

The F. W. Leonard farm, four miles east of Adrian, is a beehive of activity with preparations being rushed to completion. Mr. Leonard, host for this year's contest, says he has never seen a finer crop of corn.

In preparing the fields for growing corn, the soil was first tested to determine the best fertilization program.

Two hundred pounds of potash was applied to the soil prior to plowing.

The 24,000 seeds per acre of contest corn was planted, using 250 pounds starter fertilizer.

Insecticides were not used since Mr. Leonard follows an adequate rotation to avoid rootworm problms.

A full season preemerge herbicide, was applied at the rate of two pounds of active ingredient per acre to control broadfleaf weeds and grasses.

Blue Angels Thrill Fans of Aerial Fun

By JUDY FIELDER

Screeeeeeeee — BOOM!

They came from the east, in tight formation, and streaked overhead, breaking apart into separate directions and climbed out of sight.

We could hear them roar, but they had disappeared into the haze. We squinted at the sky, waiting to catch a glimpse, when suddenly at treetop level, the Blue Angels roared in from each direction, crossing at the center of the field — at 550 miles an hour.

OUR BUNCH, along with thousands of other lovers of anything that flies, spent Sunday afternoon at Willow Run Airport, being thrilled at the first air show in the area in over 10 years.

In true aerial tradition, we lined up with the miles of cars in the steaming hot sun until we found a parking place, tramped dusty miles, packed into a bus and rode to the other side of the field where the grandstand and aircraft displays were set up.

We thrilled to the dual aerobatics and the Army parachute team. A highlight of the utility aircraft demonstrations was the Aero Commander, formerly the Meyers 200.

Comedy was provided by the "Flying Professor", Capt. Dick Schram, USNR, who took his light Piper Cub off the ground sideways and flew loops at levels low enough to cut the grass.

Bright blue and yellow, they streaked through the skies and carved us right along with them, whizzing by and going up, up, up, out of sight.

Only the roar remained — until out of the sun they would zoom and turn and climb. What a thrill!

The Angels landed, we returned to our car, drove home, washed off the dust, boarded our beds . . . and flew all night long — Scree-Boom!

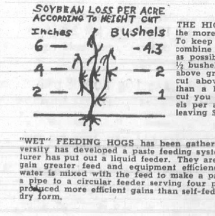
DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.



THE HIGHER SOYBEAN PRICES GO the more it pays to save every bushel. To keep harvesting losses low set the combine to cut as close to the ground as possible. Engineers say you'll lose ½ bushel an acre for each inch of cut above ground level. For each inch of cut above 4 inches you'll lose more than a bushel per acre. At a 6-inch cut you could easily be losing 3 bushels per acre. At $3 a bushel, you are leaving $5 on every acre.

"WET" FEEDING HOGS has been gathering interest. Ohio State University has developed a paste feeding system and at least one manufacturer has put out a liquid feeder. They are attempts to reduce labor and gain greater feed and equipment efficiency. In Ohio's system enough water is mixed with the feed to make a paste which is pumped through a pipe to a circular feeder serving four pens. It is automatic and has produced more efficient gains than self-fed pigs on the same ration in a dry form.

IMPROVED DAIRY OUTLOOK calls for some possible changes in herd management and better equipment and facilities. For instance, with higher feed costs, higher milk prices, and strong slaughter cattle prices, good records are a valuable tool to determine which cows should be culled. Use DHIA records — cows on this program earned $213 more than others in the 1965-66 year. Also use good AI bulls to upgrade your herd and avoid using beef bulls.

PORTABLE FARM ELEVATORS ARE DANGEROUS, so handle them carefully. When you move an elevator watch out for power lines. If you move one with a tractor and it catches in power lines, don't step off the tractor — jump free! Then shut the power off before clearing the elevator.

BUMPS OFFICIAL — A Scott Edwards to Dean Hebb pass fell incomplete in the second quarter when Hebb grabbed the aerial, then bumped into an official, dropping the ball. It was ruled an incomplete pass. On the next play, Willow Run intercepted and eventually got field position for the Flyer's second score.

"Best team in eight years." This statement, reportedly made by Coach Tom Moshimer of Dundee, earlier this fall gives an indication of Tecumseh's opposition here Friday night.

Eight years cover a number of ball games. One doesn't have to be reminded the Vikings are undefeated in their last 28 games.

There will be nine lettermen in the starting offensive lineup and 10 in the defense.

Dundee's offensive line will average about 172 pounds, the backfield, just under 160. Defensively on the line, the Vikings will up the scales at a 176-pound average.

TECUMSEH WILL have a slight weight advantage, but Dundee will offset this with a faster backfield, especially if Roger Young is unable to play.

Willow Run Spoils Opener for Tecumseh

By JIM LINCOLN

A fourth quarter, 68-yard touchdown run by Don Stewart sparked Willow Run to a 20-12 victory over the Tecumseh Indians here Friday night.

Until the veteran signal-caller broke loose around the Indians right end, Coach Tom Fagan had great hopes of upsetting the visitors, despite numerous errors by his own club.

Just prior to the run, WR looked listless while the Indians seemed to be gaining momentum. In seconds, the whole picture changed.

Earlier in the fourth stanza, Dean Hebb sneaked over behind a wedging Tecumseh line to pull the Indians within one point, 13-12. Tecumseh just missed knotting the count when Buddy Work was dragged down inches from the goal line on the extra-point try.

After the ensuing kickoff, the Flyers gained just two yards in two plays. At this point, Stewart faked a handoff, kept the ball and skirted Tecumseh's end, broke loose in the Tecumseh secondary and outraced two Indian defenders.

WR added the extra point and put Tecumseh out of reach with a 20-12 lead.

THE SEASON'S opener started with the Indians marching 42 yards with the kickoff before giving up the ball on an interception at WR's 23.

Twelve plays later, the Flyers scored, aided by a 29-yard pass play which moved the ball from Tecumseh's 48 to the 19. On the next play, WR fumbled but gained six to the Indians' 13.

Tecumseh evened the count about five minutes later when Scott Edwards tossed a short screen pass to Roger Young on WR's 18. With four blockers out front, Young easily raced in for the TD.

On the extra point, WR's line broke in to nail Edwards before he had a chance for a handoff.

Neither club scored in the third quarter, although the Indians missed a couple of good chances.

After stopping WR on an interception by Lee Hannibal on the Tecumseh 24, the Indians moved across mid-field in three plays, where John Anderson broke a couple tackles and then fumbled the ball while in the clear at WR's 34.

Tecumseh got closer the next time, moving to the 17 where a first down was missed by inches.

Three plays later, WR tossed a wild pitchout and Hebb covered it on the WR 11. Hebb took over the quarterback slot three plays later and went in for Tecumseh's second tally from the two.

ALTHOUGH defeated in the opener by what Fagan calls the best WR team he has seen, the Indians were far better than the club which took a shellacking a year ago.

Henry Mensing played an exceptional game, particularly from his linebacking post. He alone was responsible for 16 tackles, and once in the third period in a three-and-two situation, stopped WR's big fullback in his track.

Tecumseh's line, as a whole, played well enough to win most games. WR found the interior almost impossible to penetrate. If passing were outlawed, the Indians would have won.

Tecumseh's top back was John Anderson with 95 yards rushing in 12 carries. Young had 33 yds. in 10 attempts before being hurt.

Leg Injury Stops Young

Young suffered a minor leg injury in the clash against Willow Run, and it's been slow coming around.

ANNUAL REPORT

TECUMSEH PUBLIC SCHOOLS 1965-1966

In compliance with Section 616, Act 269 of the Public Acts of 1955 as amended, Tecumseh Public Schools of Lenawee County submits the following Annual Financial Report as defined by Rule R340.354 of the Compiled Laws of 1966.

Appraised Value of School Property		$5,610,150
Value of Sites	$ 184,500
Value of Buildings	4,991,550
Value of Equipment	434,100
Number of Buildings		11
Number of Classrooms		115
Number of Teachers		126
Teachers' Salaries
Minimum	$4,900
Maximum	7,900
Median	6,520
Number of Elementary Pupils		1,802
Number of Elementary Pupils, Non Resident		1
Number of Secondary Pupils		1,452
Number of Secondary Pupils, Non-Resident		6
Ratio of Pupils to Teachers		25.8

After five years the Tecumseh Schools have almost recovered from the slashes made in school services due to lack of funds. Two staff vacancies have not yet been reinstated, that of Elementary Supervisor and Elementary Art Director. However, other services have been added, progress has been made in curriculum improvement both in the elementary and secondary schools, and additional classroom space provided for all levels of instruction. The Board of Education and staff have worked many hours to achieve these improvements in services to the community.

It is interesting to note that although the total school census of children from birth through nineteen years of age showed a gain of 62 children, the school age census five through nineteen showed a gain of 127. When actual enrollments for State Aid were in on the fourth Friday of September, we had gained from 1964 to 1965 12 children in the elementary schools, lost 7 in the junior high, and gained 40 in the senior high for a net gain of 27 children. Our junior high pupils and teachers enjoyed their first year in the addition provided by a generous benefactor.

A staff of 202 serves these 3254 children. It is made up of a superintendent of schools, assistant superintendent for business affairs, high school principal, assistant principal, two full time and three teaching principals, 62 elementary and 61 secondary teachers, two public librarians, three bookkeepers, one attendance, officer, five secretaries, maintenance engineer, two maintenance men, 12 custodians, bus supervisor, bus mechanic, 27 bus drivers, grounds keeper, hot lunch manager and three assistants, and twelve lunch supervisors. Included in the teaching staff are three full time vocal music teachers, two full time instrumental teachers, six physical education teachers, two school librarians, one art teacher, three secondary guidance directors, two teachers of the deaf, and two teachers of mentally retarded.

The attendance record for our schools is always outstanding. It is our feeling that the parents and children of our community appreciate the quality of their schools and that the children are happy and interested in their educational programs. Therefore, attendance is not a problem in Tecumseh. We have an enviable and outstanding record of attendance for 1965-66, 94.6% in the elementary schools, and 94.3% in grades 7-12.

West Branch has three rooms in operation and Sutton also had three until late in the spring when the mobile classrooms did not arrive on time. A fourth grade was also housed in the conference room at the Public Library until that time. We then used two of the three rooms at Sutton for classrooms and the third for a lunchroom as the two mobile units situated there have no such facilities either. These rooms helped to relieve the overcrowding in some of the elementary grades due to increased enrollments over the last two years. Also by careful planning and re-distribution of children, it was again possible to place not more than one grade in each classroom in the elementary schools. Curriculum changes were inaugerated.

The Board took advantage of the availability of Federal Funds by authorizing a remedial reading program, grants for additional library materials, and a summer Head Start program. Four remedial reading teachers, two in the elementary, using mobile laboratories; one each in the Junior and Senior High using room laboratories were able to help our poor readers to improve rapidly. Approximately $30,000.00 was used for this purpose and $5,000.00 on library materials. The "Head Start" program was wonderful and we were able to give real service to these disadvantaged pupils and parents.

A diversified music, art, and physical education program was available in the secondary schools as in the past. Extra-Curricular activities in the secondary schools consisted of football, basketball, weight teams in football in the Junior High, baseball, track, golf, Future Farmers of America, Varsity Club, Girls' Athletic Association, student council, annual staff, school newspaper, professional writing for awards, Spanish Club, Future Teachers Club, Future Nurses Club, Future Homemakers Club, Latin Club, French Club, Art Club, and Science Club. This was our sixth year in the Huron League consisting of Milan, Airport, Flat Rock, Grosse Ile, Blissfield and Tecumseh. We won the ABHT Basketball Tournament at Christmas time. We were League Champs in no sport but won all-sports trophy. Young adult farmer classes were held in the evening weekly and other educational and civic groups were served by the school.

The Public Library was operated by the Board of Education with the assistance of their appointed Library Board consisting of interested citizens. Two full-time librarians with student assistants provided outstanding service to the public. The school libraries, both elementary and secondary, have made increasingly valuable contributions to the educational opportunities available to our children. Their facilities, contents, and services have been praised by visitors from many schools.

Our Tecumseh Educational Association, in its 6th year, made valuable contributions to the general development of school policies. Considerable time was donated by the T.E.A. and the Board of Education negotiating teams in developing a Master Agreement and its salary schedule section. As your chief administrator I believe that both teams were able to do their jobs more effectively because of the excellent rapport between the administrators, teachers and Board in the past.

The Hutchinson Act also provides for all the other staff members to negotiate contracts for salaries, working conditions, and hours. The maintenance and operating staff, the Secretarial Staff, and the Bus Drivers organized their groups and are negotiating contracts with the Board of Education for 1966-67. All other employees negotiated either through the Superintendent or Assistant Superintendent so that at this writing the agreements have been ratified by the Board or are under consideration by them.

Bus service to city as well as rural areas was provided as in recent years and pupils were required to assemble at designated bus stops wherever possible rather than for door to door pickup. Parochial school children were transported and part of this extra cost was provided by the state. The student activity bus was almost constantly in use for field trips and athletics and the total cost was borne by the Board. Elementary as well as secondary pupils make use of this bus as field trips are invaluable teaching tools. The Board also provided free bus service to athletic contests.

Parent Teacher Association activities were left to the desires of the parents and teachers of the various buildings. Some building associations were very active while some buildings had none. In many schools their P.T.A. has been able to assist materially in planning and augmenting the school programs and has done much to engender co-operative efforts in solving the educational problems of their children. In addition several of the groups have raised funds with which they purchased school equipment which could not have been bought without their aid. The Band Boosters' Club was very active and presented the school with additional equipment and instruments for the band. The Board has authorized the purchase of much needed additional band instruments for 1966-67 and thus the program should be enriched.

The Board of Education met many times during a very busy year and through careful use of the four additional operational mills was able to restore some school services and augment present ones. Another four mill operational tax for two years was presented the electors of the district in June and was passed. These additional funds will provide improved salaries for all personnel and improved educational curriculums for the children.

The Board inaugerated a Christmas Party for all school personnel in the High School Gym which seemed to have been very successful and fun for all. The Board ratified $5,000.00 to help the Junior Chamber of Commerce reach its goal of $20,000.00 for the lights for the football field. These should be up by the first game this fall.

Our elementary course of study manuals were revised and re-written this year. The elementary physical education program was given special attention. Secondary manuals, both Junior and Senior High, were reviewed and are scheduled for compilation into final form by the end of the fall semester. The University of Michigan and Tecumseh Schools cooperated in a "Physical Fitness" testing program and some curriculum changes were developed through mutual cooperation. The Kindergarten Handbook was published and distributed at the Kindergarten Roundup of parents which was held for the fourth time this spring. This program was again well received by parents and has helped to improve the curriculum. Several staff members have written articles published in magazines and newspapers.

Knights Repeat Victory

By RICK CURRIE

Boysville's Fighting Knights relived history Saturday night by beating St. Charles of Coldwater, 14-0.

First touchdown was made by halfback Don Chalmers on a seven-yard rush. Mike O'Dea ran the extra point over.

From then until the third quarter, it was a see-saw battle with nobody scoring. The Knights bulldozed through the St. Charles line for yardage, but penalties kept them from scoring.

In the third quarter, the Knights brought the ball down to the four-yard mark on a 65-yard drive. Mike O'Dea carried the ball over for the second Boysville TD and Don Chalmers kicked the extra point.

Chalmers led the Knights in rushing with 141 yards. O'Dea averaged 34.3 yards on three punts, and Chalmers averaged 45 yards on three kickoffs.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By RICK CURRIE

After a week and a half of getting to know each other again, the student body voted for their perspective class representatives.

The seniors were the first to hand in their results. Don Chalmers was elected president.

The sophomores will have Dave Rockwell as their president; Frank Klos, vice-president; Jim Holden, secretary and Dave Corpolongo, treasurer.

Since the freshmen are almost all new boys to Boysville, Brother Stephen Withey announced he was holding off elections until they got to know each other better.

8:30 a.m. — Classes begin.

1:20 p.m. — Classes resume.

3:30 p.m. — Recreation, sports, club activities, extracurriculars.

5:15 p.m. — Study hall.

9:30 p.m. — Retiring.

Our first football game was previewed with a pep rally held by the senior class. Our team captains, Don Chalmers and John Yankoski, assured the student body that the team was up and ready to win and asked for their backing.

Coach Ctatters also told the students he thought they were ready and that the team had worked hard. The pep assembly ended with a horse race with entries from each of the River Raisin schools. It goes without saying who won.

Brother Gerald Nettesheim has been recently assigned to the Boysville staff. Brother Gerald will be taking the position of Registrar left by Brother Ronald Ehrhardt who received a change of assignment to Notre Dame from the Midwest Brothers of Holy Cross Provincial.

Brother Gerald makes his home in Milwaukee, Wis., and has been assigned for the past 10 years at Father Gibault School for Boys in Terre Haute, Ind. While he was there, Brother was assistant Prefect of Discipline, taught typing and had other prefecting duties.

Here at Boysville Brother Gerald will be the full time Registrar and will be prefecting in the recreational halls.

Boysville had the honor of having as its guest one Sunday morning the I.H.M. Sisters from St. Charles of Coldwater. Brother Romain's sister, Sister Noel, is Superior and Principal there.

Before they left, we made sure they met our huge football team. They asked us to have mercy — Sorry Sisters!

Clark Is Named As Board Member

Tecumseh's Chief of Police, Murell Clark, has been appointed a member of the Membership Committee of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police by the president, Art Lowers.

Chief Clark received his appointment due to his long years of service during which he has demonstrated the vision and ability to plan wisely and work expertly to combat the various "disturbers of the peace."

If Chief Clark accepts, he will help the state overcome a problem which has become more serious each year—crime.

Redskins Scalped by Fighting Irish

By IVAN McKENNA

Clinton's Redskins were on the warpath last Friday night, but the Fighting Irish of Adrian Catholic Central were braced for the attack.

Clinton's errors proved to be costly as CC took the 'Skins, 18-6.

Pass was the word for the Redskins with quarterback Doug Wight firing 24 aerials and connecting on eight.

IT WAS Catholic Central, however, that made the passes count. Irish quarterback Joe Schwartz tossed two touchdown aerials to his brother Butch.

The first was a 14-yard scoring strike that came with 7:15 left in the first half and put the Irish ahead 6-0.

The Redskins snapped back and eight plays later knotted the score at 6-6 on a swing pass to halfback Butch Hoelzer for 15 yards.

The turning point came with 5:31 left in the third period. Gregg Van Zandt intercepted a pass of Clinton's Doug Wight and returned it 42 yards to the Redskins' 18. Five plays later the score was 12-6 and the Fighting Irish had a lead that was never challenged.

With 10 minutes left in the game Central's Joe Schwartz again sighted brother Butch alone in the end zone. The pass was good for 20 yards and six points, giving the Fighting Irish their winning 18-6 margin.

Last year's county scoring champ Eric Wilkins and teammate Tom Muldary led the ground gaining for the Irish, together picking up 215 yards. The Redskins found it a bit harder to crack Central's big line spearheaded by 268-pound guard Steve Ballenberger, but Hoelzer and fullback Ivan McKenna carried for 42 and 43 yards respectively.

COACH MIKE SNYDER'S defense was considerably sharper than the offense. Linebackers Sam Sparks, Dave Grinnell and Jake Schwab, along with deep backs Hoelzer, McKenna and Brown, did a respectable job for the Redskins.

Adrian CC	0	6	6	6	—18
Clinton	0	6	0	0	— 6

Adrian CC scoring: Muldary 1 (run); Butch Schwartz 2 (20 and 14-yd. passes from Joe Schwartz).

Coach Praises Tory Defense

BRITTON — Even though the Britton-Macon's Tories lost to Waldron 6-0 Friday, Coach Paul Palka and his players are confident there are victories for Britton in the future.

Coach Palka credits outstanding performances to Tom Korican, Terry Godzina and middle guard Bruce Gillespie. He also got fine defensive work from the ends, Jim Henry and Kirk Crutchfield, along with Jerry Korican.

"Our farthest drive on offense was down to our opponents 15 yard line, but we just couldn't get past it. If we could have had one touchdown we would have won the game," the coach said.

The Tories meet Maumee Valley Country Day School on the Britton field this Friday at 7:30 p.m.

New Annex Construction Has Begun

BRITTON — Ground was Broken and the foundation laid this past week for a two-story addition to the Congregational Christian Church.

The annex will provide 2,340 square feet of floor space for six new Sunday School class rooms, rest rooms, minister's study and office, and a boiler room for the gas furnace which will be installed this fall.

Of brick veneer construction, it will blend with the present church building. Six years ago the sanctuary was completely renovated and four years ago a ranch style brick parsonage was constructed.

The Rev. Gustav O. Hannevik has served the congregation for the past years.

SOME TROPHY — Joe Prochaska, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Prochaska of 1024 Pennington Rd., returned home with a trophy from his summer job with the Forestry Service in northern Colorado and the Rockies. The MSU senior found a dead elk bull and brought home the impressive rack — biggest ever found in that area — "And that's no bull!" Joe declared.

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sell?

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U.S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading—not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Sorriest on Record

Since when does the City of Tecumseh have to bow to the St. Regis Paper Company?

Apparently, it is now.

What occurred at Monday night's Council session is something best forgotten. However, action by our city officials makes this impossible.

Threatened with the loss of free, wall-mount paper sack holders for refuse collection, Council scrapped a six-month experimental program for a compulsory refuse collection — which may or may not work. It may or may not be wanted by some 2,000 Tecumseh families.

Some of our individual rights vanished — or were taken away — by a hasty and irresponsible Council decision.

AT THE JUNE 20 Council session, with a St. Regis representative present, our officials agreed to experiment with paper sacks for refuse collection.

At that time, the paper company's offer was to provide free wall holders for the sacks. In a sales pitch Monday night, the same representative sought an immediate decision, threatening the city with loss of the free holders.

No one showed the gentlemen to the door. He got the decision he wanted — but did the residents of Tecumseh?

A hasty decision? You bet!

These surveys from an experimental area for paper sack pickup raised many questions. And, under the present plan, these questions are not going to be answered.

There's to be no change in the sacks, there'll be no change in sack size or cost and there'll be no change in collection service.

Refuse collection costs for many will go up 50%, for some 300% or more.

Monday night's session didn't limit itself to dictatorial action either. There were a couple of purchase agreements that were not sound economically.

As a businessman, would you spend $900 for a machine that will operate six or seven hours a year? We don't deny that the city needs to improve its addressing methods for sewer and water billing and give the gals at city hall a break.

But why not investigate other machines which cost less to buy, maintain and supplies necessary for operation?

Another unbusiness-like action was the handling of bids for gasoline and fuel oil. These bids were submitted and broken down for each item as they should have been.

However, instead of acting upon each separately, Council acted on each company's total, not the bids just for gasoline, nor the bids for fuel oil.

Come on Councilmen, we can do better than Monday night's session, which must be considered one of the sorriest on record.

Merger Approval Dim

Nobody seems fired up about pushing for the proposed merger of Clinton, Britton and Tecumseh school distiricts.

But there are a lot of folks in Clinton and Britton who say they'll definitely vote against the plan.

On this basis, the possibility of an approving vote is highiy unlikely. But merger is ever before us.

Go back 15 to 20 years ago and examine the school setup of these same communities when there were dozens of districts where now there are three. If Rip VanWinkle had taken his snooze during that time and were to awaken now, he'd be amazed at the way those various segments had been smoothly joined.

Now, jump ahead to 1976 and what you will probably find is one district encompassing Britton, Clinton and Tecumseh. But we're afraid 1966 won't go down as the year it happened.

First of all, a lot of people aren't sold on the idea. The possible benefits are vague — centralized buying, better instruction, more variety of subjects offered on the high school level.

However, while the proposed Northeast District would surely save money on purchasing, there would probably be greater costs for transportation and instruction.

Teacher tenture is based on an interest in staying at a particular school and salary schedule. Another factor is instructing in one's major field. At a bigger school, these are plus factors in keeping teachers for long periods.

A merger of Clinton, Britton and Tecumseh would mean a stack of headaches a mile high — for several years. But eventually, the three-into-one deal would bring great dividends of better education for area youngsters.

Sales Award Sends Two To Hawaii

They left by jet Sept. 2 and spent a day in San Francisco where they went to the Top of the Mark to sight-see. They visited China Town before taking off for Hawaii.

Highlights of the tour with a group of about 50 Ford Motor Company dealers and their wives included a beach party at Koonapoli Beach on Maui and a two-day stay at the Maui-Sheraton.

They returned to Waikiki to stay at the Kahala-Hilton and were guests at a Shipwreck Party — a traditional Hawaiian dinner served while sitting on cushions on the sand.

White eating such goodies as chicken, barbecued ribs, melon and pie served in half a pineapple, they were treated to a Hawaiian floor show.

Another night, they enjoyed dinner and a floor show at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel. They went on a boat trip to Pearl Harbor.

They returned by way of a five-day cruise on the SS Matson Lur-Line luxury ship and returned home Sept. 11.

The collision caused the car to slide sideways and overturn on its top but neither driver was injured.

Slauterbeck was issued a summons by the Clinton State Police for not having a Michigan operator's license.

Through My Window

A VERY VERY YOUNG CARDINAL

Labor Day weekend saw the start of an adventnre which involved, of all things, a very, very young cardinal. We cannot call him a baby but certainly the term early adolescence will fit.

To have such a young bird appear so late in the summer was rather surprising. His parents must certainly have been extra late with this last brood.

Junior's father was a very young bird though — in fact, all day Sunday, the 4th of September, we congratulated ourselves on having a not-quite-grown-up cardinal around. We kept wondering if he were one of the babies that early in the summer had been brought to the feeder.

He definitely looked like a young bird and Monday morning, when we saw him on the feeder but also heard the squeaky voice of another youngster, we grew excited thinking about two kids.

Finally, Little Squeaky Voice came to the feeder — imagine our surprise when the first cardinal hopped over to the youngster and fed him.

Good heavens, it was father and son—not brother and brother.

He just didn't look old enough to have a family though, the trend towards young marriages must be reaching the bird world, too.

JUNIOR CARDINAL was really something to see. His tail was long and quite red. His wings were also quite well colored up. His back and head, however, were soft grayish brown, the juvenile color which is similar to the adult female.

There was a slight indication of a black face mask but his bill had not started to turn at all. It was dull black and showed not even a hint of its future orangy splash of brilliant and bright red color.

The upper part of his breast was startling, there, completely surrounded by brown, was a big splash of brilliant and bright scarlet. He was a lovely combination of subtle and bold coloring.

But getting back to his first visit to the feeder. He was so young and it was such a big, big world. Crouching on one corner of the tray, he made no attempt to pick up food himself but was completely happy to be fed.

Of course, if Papa C. did not bring a seed the minute Junior was ready, that squeaky little voice urged him to hurry.

In several days the youngster was coming to the feeder by himself. How quickly they grow up. It is not easy, though. Those first few trips were mighty 'scary'. He was so nervous and skittish that he could hardly eat.

HIS SELF CONFIDENCE is growing every day, though, and now, eight days after his first appearance, he swoops to the feeder and starts eating immediately.

He is growing up in appearance, too. Each day the splash of color on his chest is larger, the face mask becomes a bit more distinct and today we noticed that just above the top of his mask, red was beginning to show.

There are also read streaks above his eyes, red eyebrows are mighty cocky. His topknot consists of three short feathers two of which are red.

So it is that, in a surprising turn of events, our September bird watching has been highlighted by a very, very young cardinal.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

If you helped in any way on the School Supplies for Ben Cat project start taking a bow.

The effort has made a wonderful impact — and this report comes right from Lt. Greg Mason, the Tecumseh man who started things and is currently on leave.

Greg popped into the office Wednesday morning and gave a glowing report on the results of people here sending pencils, pads, erasers, slate boards and school books for use in that tiny Vietnamese village.

They all arrived, Greg said, and everyone was delighted. Oh, maybe not the kids at first, they were reluctant, sort of in wonderment. But the teachers and the district chief, Capt. Bien, realized how important and useful the supplies would be.

Gradually, the children came to learn this, too. Some of them walk up to 18 miles round-trip each day to attend classes.

The 600 slate boards, made by Tecumseh High School students, scored the biggest hit of all.

Only a few blackboards are available in the high school building, none in the grade setup — the three-room structure the men of Greg's unit are presently fashioning with scrap lumber.

A major problem being faced is the influx of refugees into the Ben Cat area, which is well secured by American troops. The school enrollment has jumped from 1,000 to about 1,400 in past months.

Where to put these youngsters and how to get native teachers for them is a major problem. A few GIs are able to help out, but only on a limited basis.

ALMOST EVERY item that came from Tecumseh bore a sticker reading, "School Supplies for Ben Cat, Vietnam, from Tecumseh, Michigan, USA."

Greg said the battalion commander, Com. Frank R. Tims, especially liked this twist, constantly repeating the idea that direct help for these Vietnamese was coming from the USA.

Another of extreme interest was sprung by Col. William Brodbeck of Omaha, Neb. He asked his fellow home townites to help finance an orphanage.

Currently underway is a building, which will house nearly 300 youngsters—thanks to generosity of Omaha folks.

Tecumseh school supplies will play an important part at the orphanage too, as some of these have been earmarked for it by Capt. Bien.

AS THE BOXES from here were being moved from the outfit's base camp into the village, a distance of 2½ miles, there was always the comment, "Wouldn't this be a great time to be ambushed?"

It never happened to fellows on the school project, but a sergeant from another First Division unit, working on another undertaking, was killed when a Viet Cong sympathizer mined a road.

This temporarily soured the guys because they knew he was from the village they were helping.

It was quickly decided that the orphanage would be named in that GI's memory.

"I can't possibly see everyone," said Greg, in expressing his thanks for local cooperation. "But I want to say the effort was very worthwhile and the items are being used in the proper manner."

United Fund Drive Shoots for $45,884

Charity goal of 45,884 for its 1966 campaign has been set by the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

Leaders of the drive are aiming for a total collection of $60,000 with overage going toward their Pit park development project.

The $45,884 includes $4,100 contribution to the Wolverine Council of Boy Scouts and $6,000 payment on the Pit property. Other donations and agencies were listed in last week's Herald.

Representatives of 15 local industries gathered Sept. 22 at the Tecumseh Country Club to evaluate the parts their employees would play in the Tecumseh Community Fund's 1966 campaign.

They heard presentations by Lewis J. Lamm, chairman of the Board of Tecumseh Products Co., and the Public Relations Director of the Michigan United Foundation, David L. Froh.

Ron Coleman, who is directing this phase of the annual appeal, went over the aims of the drive.

The industrial campaign will begin Oct. 10. Volunteer solicitors at every local business and industry will have information on pledge cards and payroll deductions.

Each employee will be contacted personally during the drive.

Rolls 700 Series

Walter Miller of Britton hit a 700 series bowling with the Men's House League. His three games were 255, 220 and 225, total 700.

Merger Project Snowed

The proposed Northeast School District merger has been buried — under a landside of "No" votes, 2,038 to 237 "For."

Only 2,309 ballots were cast, slightly more than a third of the 7,000 registered voters in the three school districts.

A breakdown of the vote by school districts:

	FOR	AGAINST	DISQUALIFIED
Britton	43	393	4
Clinton	19	716	15
Tecumseh	175	929	3
TOTAL	237	2,038	34

Two other proposed mergers within the county also failed.

The Southern District — Blissfield, Morenci, Sand Creek and Madison — was turned down, 1,796 to 136. A total of 1,944 votes were cast, with 12 disqualified.

The Northwest District — Hudson, Addison, Onsted and Cement City — was defeated, 1,740 to 132. Five ballots were disqualified out of 1,877 cast.

Traditions of East Come to Britton Area

By KATHRYN M. SOMMERS

Thanks to the "fly now, pay later" plan the K. S. Xaviers hope to visit their families in India next summer.

They haven't seen them for five years and the grandparents have never seen their two grandsons, Sunil, 3, and Sambath, eight months.

In addition, seven-year-old Sally was only two when she came to America.

If "Sally" sounds like an unusual name for the child of Indian parents it's because she has such delightful parents.

"Our daughter was born just two months before her father left India to come to the United States for more education," says Mrs. Anne Xavier. "We wanted her to have an American name, so we got a book of them and chose Sally because of its lovely sound."

In India Sally has a pet name of "Laj."

MISS SALLY is now a second grader at Britton and frankly balks at having to learn her parents' language. "I'm in America now," she says, "and I want to talk like an American."

The Xaviers are living on a farm at 9942 Welsh Road, north of Britton.

Anne finds living in the country different from both her home town of Krala, located in southern India, or Royal Oak where the family has been for the past five years.

For one thing Anne misses the servants she'd have at home to help take care of the house.

"In India," she says, "for a house this size (two stories, eight rooms) we'd have three servants." They'd do all the cooking and housework and take care of the children. Sally had her personal servant, an "ayah," in India.

It was quite an experience for Mrs. Xavier and her daughter to Slow me down, Lord, so I can talk

Tecumseh grows them big. Thomas Rutherford, 507 E. Chicago Blvd., stopped in the office Friday with a cucumber weighing three lbs. It was a foot in length and 10½ inches in circumference. He said this was the granddaddy of all of them in his garden.

It's off to Rockport, Mass. for artist Russell Steinke, who is looking for some local subjects — seascapes, lobster pots and things New England. A one-man showing of the work he does there is planned when he returns in about a month.

Druggist Carl Lamb got a phone call from a former associate behind the prescription counter, Steve Walsh, now working in an Adrian store. Steve reported seeing a Lamb's Rexall Pharmacy ad, which ran in The Herald, reprinted in The American Druggist trade magazine.

"X" marks the spot and there is no other way to vote. Several people are losing their voting privilege because they are not taking the time to check the instructions. Fifteen votes in Tecumseh, 15 in Clinton and four in Britton-Macon were thrown out because they checked the spot, wrote on the ballot or in some other way defaced their ballot.

Recent donations received for the Heart Fund of Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary in memory of Mrs. Murell Clark were from Wallace MacGeorge, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Reister, Mr. and Mrs. Yale Kerby, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Carpenter.

Walt Zarnoch learned a lot about Forestry Service on his summer job in Ukiah, Ore., but he learned something about subsistance cooking, too. A bunk-house full of a dozen men each had to prepare his own food the entire time.

Seems like it got sort of dull by summer's end when the daily fare was mostly TV dinners, but Walt says he loved the work and hopes to go back next summer.

Family from India

fly alone from India to the United States. But it was necessary if they were to join her husband who had been studying at Wayne State University for two years.

★

MR. XAVIER earned his bachelor of science degree from the University of Madras and came to the United States for further study in his field of biology and plant physiology.

He received his master's degree in 1961 from Wayne and hopes to complete requirements there for the Ph. D. degree in January. Presently he is assistant professor in the biology department of Adrian College.

Mrs. Xavier is a charming and gracious lady. She wears the sari, traditional dress of the Indian woman, even though Mr. Xavier and the children wear western clothing.

"In India the men wear suits, too," Mrs. Xavier said, "so that's no different. And a sari are any single piece of material and come only in one size. girls don't wear them until they're 15 years old."

Anne does own some blue jeans and blouses which she sometimes wears for doing house work. "My husband rather likes the jeans for work," she confided. But she owns no western clothing for wear in public.

"We feel that western clothes look good on Americans, but they don't look good on us," Mrs. Xavier said.

She went on to explain that the sari is a modest garment, worn the way it is to particularly cover the top of a woman's body.

"If I were to try to wear western clothing in public my family in India would think I was trying to put on airs. They would look down on that," she said.

★

HER HUSBAND'S view on western dress is somewhere between the two opinions. Anne says that he doesn't approve of "mini skirts and such" but that he thinks a lot of western clothing looks very nice.

"But,' she quickly added, "he wouldn't want me to wear it."

In five minutes Mrs. Xavier can drape a sari on her lady guest and, because she is so gracious, she'll look at you and say, "Oh, you look just like an Indian princess!"

However, in India it's considered a sign of good fortune for a woman to be heavy. "If you come to India," she told her interviewer with a twinkle in her eye, "the first thing they'd tell you would be to gain 10 pounds."

Perhaps the sari she chooses for the guest will be the pink silk one embroidered with lots of silver-colored threads. That one her mother sent to Anne to wear home from the hospital after the birth of her baby.

It's an Indian tradition that the mother of a new-born child should have new clothes.

THEN, IF THE lady guest is married, Anne will put a "bendthi" on her forehead. It's a small red dot which all married Indian women wear low on their forehead, between the eyes.

They put it on with a short round wooden stick, dipping it into a red powder. The powder is scented and supposed to contain ingredients that are good for the skin.

"We do have to be careful in putting the bendthi on," laughed Anne, "or we look like Bozo the Clown."

Working around the house the Indian woman might not put the "sign of marriage" on her forehead but she wouldn't appear in public without it.

Because, of course, it's a great honor to be married. If a girl in India isn't married by the time she's 20, she's considered to be an old maid.

Anne was just 20. If that was a bit over the hill by Indian standards, it's because she'd completed two years of college first.

She studied history and economics and for her second language chose Hindi. She'd already learned English, as everyone does in Indian schools.

ANNE AND HER husband didn't "meet and fall in love." Their marriage was arranged by a marriage broker. He works with the parents of the young people and arranges details such as a dowry.

Mrs. Xavier didn't even see her fiance until two months before they were married and had never talked to him.

What if the couple doesn't like each other? The man has the privilege of refusing the young lady, but she can't refuse the gentleman.

"It's a terrible disgrace to be refused," said Anne. Another marriage can probably be arranged, but still the girl has suffered shame.

Obviously Mrs. Xavier isnt displeased with the choice made for her. Much of her conversation is about "my husband." She speaks proudly of his work and his education.

In India he taught at the University of Madras and here in Michigan he taught part time at the Detroit Institute of Technology before joining the faculty at Adrian this year.

It is difficult for an educated man to get a job in India. Many of them are unemployed. Mr. Xavier belongs to a "scientific pool" sponsored by the Indian government and hopefully a job will open up for him in his own country.

"MY HUSBAND has such wonderful opportunities for research and publishing in this country," Mrs. Xavier says. Only recently she accompanied him to Washington, D. C., where he presented a paper.

His hobbies are collecting and classifying botanical specimens and photography. He does his own developing and several of his studies of Anne and their sons adorn the walls of their home.

Anne likes to sew (but the accelerator of her electric sewing machine is currently misbehaving) and to read. She goes through about eight magazines per month and enjoys all the authors.

Cooking is another of her specialties and while she enjoys making the traditional Indian dishes — especially for guests — she also likes our food. The family seems to have a special fondness for spaghetti.

Actually, it was her husband that taught Anne to cook. While he was waiting for his wife to join him, Mr. Xavier bought a cook book and the necessary spices and set to work. Then he taught Anne.

"He's a very good cook," says Anne, "and when I am convalescing after childbirth he serves me breakfast in bed."

★

"That is Hindu," says Anne, "and I have always been Catholic."

But she added that the caste system today isn't as binding in India as it once was.

The Xaviers attend St. Elizabeth's Church in Tecumseh. The Rev. Thomas Collins recently visited their home and blessed the house.

When some of their friends in Royal Oak heard that Mr. Xavier had accepted a job at Adrian College they said, "Ah, Adrian is very much like Krala. You'll like it so much you'll want to stay for ever."

Well, maybe. If so, it would surely be Michigan's gain but what a big loss for India!

The Fall Council Camporee of the Wolverine Boy Scout Council, will be held Sept. 30, Oct. 1 and 2, just east of Tipton.

The 1966 Camporee will be a pioneering event with troops building tables, tripods, gateways, fences and towers.

Materials for these structures will be found by the Scouts in 18 acres of woods in the Camporee area.

These woods were badly torn up by the tornado of Palm Sunday, 1965 and will provide more than adequate amounts of downed timber for fires and pioneering structures.

Camporee Director Robert Roach of Temperance expects nearly 600 Scouts, Explorers and leaders to attend. A beautiful fully embroidered emblem will be available for each person who participates.

Post 87 of Tecumseh will handle traffic.

Religious services will be conducted in the field. Catholic Mass will be handled by the Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins of Tecumseh. Protestant service will be officiated by the Rev. Lazlo Gere of Tecumseh.

Happiest family in town are the Marion Morses, now living more comfortably than in many years in their new home at 9498 Tonneberger Dr. It just couldn't happen to nicer folk.

Any new home is pleasurable, no doubt, but this is different.

It has wide doors, ramps for ease in getting in and out with a wheelchair, it's all on one floor and has a variety of equipment, designed especially for the paralytic.

Vista and the young people, James and Judy, are delighted, mostly because now Dad can do so many things by himself that he couldn't at their former residence on E. Valley Road. He, well Marion, is on Cloud 9.

Much of the credit for the new found happiness of this family is due to efforts of Robert Gillespie, post service officer for the local American Legion who established the fact that Mr. Morse was eligible for a service connected disability pension.

The Veteran's Administration ruled that his condition warranted the home and awarded him a $10,000 grant.

Nearly 100 attended a surprise open house Saturday night arranged by neighbors and relatives of the Morses.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bagshaw have returned from Lake Matinenda at Blind River, Ontario, Canada where they spent most of the summer. A recent houseguest at their home was a son, Dr. Malcolm Bagshaw of Stanford, Calif. who attended meetings in Ann Arbor while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dinse and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wagner have returned from several days vacation at East Tawas.

John Meadows is spending a two-week leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Meadows, after completion of boot training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center. One of the all-Michigan Tiger Co. to win the Hall of Fame award, John will go to Memphis, Tenn., to an electronics school. Justly proud, Pat remarked Wednesday that his company received 14 more flags than the previous winner of the famed award.

Douglas Gillies, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gillies, is entering Michigan State University as a freshman.

Mrs. John Wintersteen and Mr. and Mrs. John Alico of Calumet will leave Sunday from Metropolitan Airport for a three-week trip to Italy. Mrs. Wintersteen is well prepared with a travelogue book given to her by her grandchildren.

Attending the funeral service for Mrs. Zoe Bailey in Ypsilanti Monday were Mrs. Clyde Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey, Donna Cleveland, Mrs. L. K. McIntyre of Clinton and Mrs. Wilfred Dunigan and daughter, Nancy, of Jackson.

Mrs. Warren Puffer attended the pre-school association of Metropolitan Detroit workshop on pre-school education Saturday at the Bell Telephone Building in Detroit. She was accompanied by Mrs. Claude Sebring.

Pam Dabe has resumed her studies at Michigan State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Upton and son, Randy, will live in the Alvin Brazee home while the Brazees are in Florida this winter. The Uptons are from Las Vegas, Nev., and he is working on construction at Siena Heights College.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Breitenwischer returned Saturday from a 10-day visit to the eastern states including a stop with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Breitenwischer, and children in Concord, Mass.

Eddie Pope spent the weekend as a houseguest of his grandmother, Mrs. Gus Link, in Toledo, O. Since his return home Sunday, he has been ill with a throat infection.

Ardis Drewyor has accepted a position in the office of Dr. Edward Mitchell in Alliance, O. He is a surgeon and former missionary to Puerto Rico. Miss Drewyor was formerly employed in the office of Dr. James Reynolds, Adrian.

Cynthia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Feight of 1521 Russell Rd. She is studying elementary education.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McKee of 9771 Matthews Rd. She is taking a course in nursing.

Margie P. Parrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Parrett, formerly of Tecumseh, now of Jackson, has entered Ferris State College.

Joanne Brion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brion, left Friday to begin freshman classes at Michigan State University.

Out-of-town people attending the funeral of Peter Burch were the Rev. Bruce Burch of Belfontaine, Ohio, the Rev. and Mrs. Ken Parsons of Kenton, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Gembarski and daughter, Mrs. Mina Larson, Mrs. Stella LePaige, all of Warren, Mrs. Gene Burch, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Burch of Milan and Henry Jermeay of Adrian.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books ready for you to borrow at your Public Library:

RUN AWAY LITTLE GIRL, a touching and memorable story of a family whose love and devotion triumphed over seemingly insurmountable adversity; it is also an authoritative first hand account of the astonishing breakthrough in the treatment of brain injured children.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOAX by Alan Abel. In 1959, Clifford Prout appeared on national television and came to the attention of millions of Americans as the founder of SINA, the Society for Indecency to Naked Animals. The organization had one objective — to clothe all quadrupeds from cats to camels for the sake of decency. Not since Orson Welles directed the Martian invasion some 25 years ago have so many people demonstrated such incredible gullibility and a willingness to accept as absolute truth all they read, hear or see. This is the inside story of the hoax and very funny reading it is.

THREE FLAGS AT THE STRAITS by Walter Havighurst. This exciting book traces the story of the Mackinac forts through their domination by the French, the English, and finally, the Americans. It is a fast-paced saga of exploration and adventure, of war and of commerce, and through it weaves a procession of some of the most illustrious men in American history.

THE WORLD OF THE JUDGES by Father J. McKenzie. Built upon the historical story of the times of Joshua and the Judges, this book represents a distillation of the current factual knowledge of the era. It relates the historical background to its significance as part of the story of man and religion and provides an interesting portrait of a tumultuous page from history.

The Clinton club needs new members. Anyone interested may Phone 456-4348.

Huron Loop Crown Fight Opens Friday

Tecumseh opens its campaign for the Huron League crown Friday night when the Indians travel to Flat Rock.

While the Indians are 0-2 for the season, the Rams are 2-0, with easy victories, one over a tough Monroe Catholic Central eleven.

Flat Rock was not supposed to be particularly strong this season, but based on its first two outings, the Rams should enter the game with a good chance of winning.

Coach Tom Fagan hopes to have halfback Roger Young back and running. The tri-captain was sorely missed in Friday's loss to Dundee.

Dance Classes

Dance classes for beginner and advanced students are again being offered by Mrs. Bruce Brown of Onsted.

The first 10-week session will begin Sept. 28.

Registrations for classes in modern dance, ballroom dance, ballet, tap and rhythmics for all age groups are being handled at City Hall.

Dundee Recovers Fumble, Wins 7-0

Undefeated Dundee kept its winning streak going here Friday night when the Vikings capitalized on an Indian fumble in the third quarter for the game's lone touchdown.

Dundee has now won 29 straight and has hurdled its toughest game of the season by defeating Tecumseh, 7-0.

Both the Indians and Vikings put on a defensive battle with neither club able to put together a drive in the second period. Tecumseh reached Dundee's 23 and 16-yard lines, but never threatened again.

Late in the third quarter, Dundee punted and recovered an Indian bobble on the Tecumseh 34. Ten plays later, Gregg Perry went over from the two for the winning markers. Glenn Pilbeam kicked the extra point.

Although the Vikings threatened again — and had another tally called back due to a penalty — Tecumseh never advanced beyond its own 35.

The tough Dundee line limited the Indians to just 47 yards rushing, and 32 came in the first half when most of the play was in Dundee's territory.

	Tec.	D.
1st Downs	5	10
Yds. Rushing	47	152
Passing	4-12	2- 5
Intercepted by	1	3
Yds. Passing	23	24
Fumbles lost	2	2
Punts	6-26	7-28
Penalties	4-46	9-95

Tecumseh played without its speediest back, Roger Young, and whether he would have made any difference, is debatable. The Indians lacked speed to run outside and repeatedly tried to crack the interior of the Vikings' line.

An attempt to get a drive going in the final quarter faltered badly as Indian passes either fell incomplete or were intercepted.

Lee Hannibal, hard-going Tecumseh defensive tackle, won plaudits as Indian Player of the Week, according to Coach Tom Fagan. Lee's efforts paced a tremendous effort by the Apaches — the THS defense — against Dundee. Lee is 6-4 and 190, extremely mobile once the ball is snapped.

NOBODY GOT THIS ONE — Gus Bishop (5) of Tecumseh made a gallant effort to catch a Scott Edwards pass with a Dundee back close at hand. Sprinting behind was the Vikings' Terry Missler (15) who made a try at grabbing the deflected ball, however it fell to the turf.

HERALD PHOTO BY TOM RIORDAN

Coach Todd Praises Frosh

Fine blocking jobs were turned in by Bob Hackett, Tony Nykodym and Earl Ruttkofsky, said the mentor.

Bob Reed went over on a quarterback sneak, the touchdown being set up with a 68-yard sprint by Gerald Girbach. Pieh got the extra point.

An end sweep by Pieh accounted for the next six-pointer with Reed busting over for the tally-after.

All this action took place in the first quarter.

Two more scores and a safety came before the half.

Jack Kennedy went in from two yards out, after a Mike Kennedy-to-Burn pass ate up 37 yards. Then Mike went into for the extra point.

The final scoring was by Jack Baker, who accounted for two points by bringing down a Madison man behind the goal line for a safety, finally taking a TD pass from Bob Reed. Bob got the point after.

Two JVs Each Tally Pair of TDs

Jim Hunt and John Kennedy both scored twice as Tecumseh's Junior Varsity clobbered the Willow Run JVs, 39-0, last week.

Kennedy passed to Dan Anderson, a play good for 12 yards and the first tally. Then Hunt sprinted five yards into paydirt.

A one-yard buck by Kennedy accounted for the third score with Larry Cote getting the extra point on a run.

It was Hunt's turn again, this time on a 15-yard sprint.

Hunt followed this with a TD toss of 25 yards to Kennedy, then Hunt ran for the extra point.

Laidlaws Place Third in Regatta at Clark Lake

Dr. Bob Laidlaw, skipper, and his sons, Dave and Bob, crew won third place in the Lightning sailboat class at the Clark Lake Yacht Club Invitational Regatta last weekend.

They were also awarded the third place trophy at the Huron-[illegible] Yacht Club Re[illegible] Portage Lake last month.

The brothers along with Greg Mochl of Adrian represented the Devils Lake Club at the quarter final races for the Sears Cup, National Boys Junior Sailing Championship at Crystal Lake.

They were awarded second place trophies for the series in which the Flying Dutchman class was sailed.

Withrow, Locker Star as Ruhl's Stops All-Stars

Harry Withrow went 4-for-4 and Clyde Locker 4-for-5 as Ruhl's Citgo defeated the Sto Pitch League All-Stars Sunday, 15-4.

It was the summer's bloop loop finale.

The winners pounded out 24 hits with the All-Stars being limited to seven.

Hurler Ruhl had a shut-out going into the fifth frame when the All-Stars scored all of their tallies.

Memoriam

In loving memory of my sister, Gladys A. Kurtz, who passed away one year ago September 30, 1965.

To those who have a sister
Cherish her with care
You will never know how much you miss her Until you find she isn't there.
Sadly missed by her sister,
Rose Service. S29c

In memory of Ricky Frank Horton, our beloved son and brother, who passed away three years ago today, Sept. 29, 1963.

The angels gathered sunbeams,
To fill the morning sky
And said that they were love dreams
Which they gave to you and I.
How angels wanted someone
And they looked both near and far
And finally found you, darling,
To hang the evening star.
Still greatly missed by Mother,
Dad and Brother. S29c

TECUMSEH businesses and individuals who donated refreshments for the bloodmobile's visit were:

Doughnuts — Harold Green, Jim Beardsley and Van's Pastry
Cups — Lester Proctor and Dr. Robert Murray
Juice — Vescios and Kroger
Coffee — A & P
Centerpiece — Pickard's Floral Shop

High School boys and girls, including Future Nurses, assisted in the canteen and loading and unloading equipment.

ALL-NEW STYLING FOR RAMBLER AMBASSADOR — Two "up-sweep" horizontal paint stripes at the belt line add distinction to the all-new 1967 Ambassador DPL hardtop and convertible models which goes on display this week at Wilson Motor Sales. The DPL models also have "rally" turn signal-park lights in the grille instead of in the front bumper to differentiate them from other Ambassador models. The wheelbase of the Ambassador line has been increased from 116 to 118 inches, resulting in over-all length of hardtops, convertibles and sedans, and four inches for station wagons.

Art Display Opens Mon.

First of four fall semester art exhibitions, entitled "Fantasia, Dada and Surrealism," has been scheduled for Oct. 3 through 21 in Rush Union at Adrian College.

Michael Cassino, art department chairman, said the show will include original graphic work by the masters of the fantastic and absurd in art, including Arp, Dali, Miro, Chagall and others.

The works will be displayed from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day and admission is free.

Rummage Sale Goes on Agenda of Pythian Sisters

Ten members were present as Mrs. Lynn Hubbard announced the dates for the sale, Oct. 7 and 8.

Hostesses Mrs. Verdi Skinner and Mrs. Opal Brady arranged tables for cards following the business session.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Seniors Considering College

Considering that the guidance department has to service all 1,000 students it's interesting to note that already this year approximately 60 seniors have sat down to make plans for next year's college programs.

They have conscientiously come in to get their registration materials for the required College Board exams and American College Testing programs.

They have registered for the Michigan Math scholarship test and the Michigan Competitive Scholarship exam. Deadline for registering for these two is Saturday, Oct. 8.

THE MAJORITY of these 60 seniors have done a fine college exploration job. Most have looked into at least four colleges. Many have already made visitations to these campuses. Some have sent in applications. A surprising number have made a tentative decision on a future career.

Discussions that leads to an individual choosing a large university as opposed to a small college, or one many miles from home over one within commuting distance have been thoughtful.

College Night sponsored by the Lenawee County Counselors Association, which will be held at Blissfield High School Oct. 24, should be of assistance to those seniors who are still unsure of their choice of college.

LIKEWISE, Trade and Technical School Night, also planned by the county counselors group for November, should start many seniors, who choose not to go to a four-year college or university moving toward a selection of a trade school for post-high school education.

These students should comprise the next wave of seniors to flow through the guidance department as these decisions must also be made soon.

Girl Scout Leaders Have To Register

Registration Day for all the Tecumseh Neighborhood Girl Scout troops will be Tuesday from 9 a.m. until noon at the Scout Cabin on Kilbuck St.

All leaders should bring their troop registrations, including the money.

Adult women, who are becoming active registered adult members of Girl Scouts, should sign up at this time also. This includes all leaders, assistant leaders and committee mothers.

In-person registration is being tried as a new and more efficient method of turning in troop registrations for the new year.

This plan will alleviate the necessity of mailing improperly filled forms back and forth between leader and Girl Scout Council, a problem which caused delays in past registrations.

The assistant registrar from Jackson will be in charge.

Commendation Goes to Virginia Dollison

A letter of commendation was presented to Virginia Dollison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Dollison, 402 Herrick Park Dr., by Tecumseh High School Principal Neville Hart.

Virginia is among 38,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper 2% of those who will graduate from high school in 1967.

She ranks just below the 14,000 semifinalists announced earlier this month by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

John M. Stalnaker, president of NMSC, said: "The outstanding record made by these students in a national competition deserves public recognition. Their significant academic attainment gives promise of continued success in college."

Although students receiving Letters of Commendation advance no further in the Merit Program, their names are reported to other scholarship-granting agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices at the time they took the NMSQT.

News from the Tecumseh Library

TWO UNDER THE INDIAN SUN by Jon and Rumer Godden. In November 1914 two small sisters returned to India. They had spent a year in London being "brought up" by austere aunts, but now they were summoned back to their home in East Bengal. Jon was only seven and a half and Rumer, six. This book is a collaboration and remembrance of the five years that followed in which time the sisters grew so close that "between them was a passing of thought, of feeling, of knowing, without any need for words."

ONE IN SEVEN; DRUGS ON CAMPUS by Richard Goldstein. The consumption of drugs for other than therapeutic reasons is illegal in this country. Yet the use of marijuana, LSD, and other drugs is commonplace on the nation's compuses — more so than parents imagine or educators are willing to admit.

THE SECRET OF SANTA VITTORIA, by Robert Crichton. This is a big novel about war, love, laughter and intrigue. It is about courage and cowardice, and about ordinary men rising to great heights in extraordinary times.

THE CRIMSON MADNESS OF LITTLE DOOM by Mark McShane. A suspenseful who-dun-it, about a suicide in a town with 15 inhabitants.

YOUR CHILD'S RELIGION; a practical guide for parents by the Rev. Randolph Miller. If you, a parent, are concerned about the spiritual welfare of your children, this book could be of much help in your search for guidance.

The Blue Dot Is Teenager New Fun Spot

CLINTON — Clinton Youth will have a place for fun—beginning Saturday.

That's opening day for the new teen center The Blue Dot, which will be operated by Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hunt in the former Miller dime store building on W. Michigan Ave.

The Hunts have rented the building and in a whirl-wind, two-week renovation, have prepared to open a spacious recreation room for boys and girls 13 to 21 years.

Snacks will be available from vending machines including sandwiches, soft drinks and chips.

There will be game machines and music for entertainment.

Tables and chairs will provide a place to chat.

Weekends, there will be dancing with music by live bands.

A cool, blue-carapeted bandstand has been erected in one corner. This spot will be home base for The Necessities, who'll play for the opening dance Saturday.

"We'll be hiring other bands to play occasionally," Mrs. Hunt said.

There will be no admission for after-school hours from 3:30 to 9 p.m. weekdays and Sundays.

There will be a 75c charge for Saturday night dances which will last until midnight.

Adult supervision will be provided at all times.

FFA Travelers Receive $100 from Chamber

CLINTON — Members of the Clinton FFA Chapter who will be attending the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo., in October, will be assisted by a gift of $100 from the Chamber of Commerce.

John Jansen, the FFA advisor, told the Chamber members last Monday of the educational value of the trip.

The next meeting will be Monday in the high school.

Mrs. Schuler Leads Past OES Matrons

CLINTON — Mrs. Gladys Schuler was elected president of the Past Matrons Club OES at the meeting held last Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Pujo.

The potluck supper and social evening was attended by 14 persons.

Others elected were:

Vice President — Mrs. Delber Kellin.

Secretary — Mrs. Delmar Manchester.

Old Newspapers Tell of Past Village Life

CLINTON — Bits of village history came to light recently when workmen repairing the foundation in the United Church of Christ, opened a wall and discovered some old newspapers which had been placed there by workmen in 1913.

A copy of the Clinton Courier, dated June 20, 1913 and a copy of the Clinton Local, dated June 24, 1913, are being read with interest by present members of the congregation.

The Commencement exercises for the Clinton High School were being held in the Townhall with W. T. Van Tuyle, president of the School Board, presenting the diplomas.

Present Clinton residents who appeared on the 1913 commencement program were Lawson Ward and Amos Crane.

The 1913 Alumni banquet was served in the Townhall to 60 persons. Featured on the alumni program was a duet by sisters, Mrs. Hazel Barnard and Mrs. Clare Kimball.

The Clinton Local noted the first band concert would be played in the new yellow and white bandstand, which had just been erected on Clinton's main four corners.

The B. O. Randall & Co. advertised a free concert on the new Edison Disc phonograph, by a representative of the Edison Phonograph Co.

Mention was made of the workmen fixing the foundation at the Congregational Church.

The papers which those workmen so carefully preserved for later generations will be replaced in the church walls this week, perhaps, to come to light in another fifty years.

Clapida Proposes Agrarian Village

A group of farmers have formed a Committee for the Lenawee Area Planning, Improvement and Development Association, CLAPIDA, and are considering the incorporation of the nation's first agricultural village.

CLAPIDA'S president, Dr. Edwin C. Kerr of Britton, who owns acreage in the area which may be incorporated into an agrarian community, heads the organization.

The officers own about 5,000 acres and the membership of "about 100" own another 5,000 acres.

Other officers, all of Mritton, are:

- ▶Vice president — Ned Swift
- ▶Secretary — Oliver Mueller
- ▶Treasurer — Stanley Woods

The proposed village would be an agricultural preserve and as such the group expects it would be able to prevent the penetration by the Michigan Highway Department's proposed freeway between US-23 and US-27.

The group contends that some of Lenawee County's richest farmland is in the path of the proposed highway. CLAPIDA is urging that US-223 be retained and improved instead of building a new freeway.

Band Benefit Card Party Is Saturday

CLINTON — Band Boosters made plans for the first card party of the season to be held Saturday in the high school cafeteria.

Mrs. Richard Sharpe and Mrs. Lawrence Gunn will serve as co-chairmen for the first party. The first Saturday of each month has been selected for the parties.

Karl Wirt, band director, discussed the purchase of a new tuba and announced that field drums have been ordered for delivery Oct. 5.

Employment in County Up 500 Workers in Year

Summer time plant closings for vacations accounted for approximately 550 temporary unemployment compensation claims in July and August.

Clifford Rice, Manager of the Adrian Office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, stated that temporary claimants were not employed long enough with their separating employer to be eligible for vacation pay and therefore claimed unemployment insurance.

Benefit payments made during August by the Adrian Office totalet $62,364. This is the largest amount paid Lenawee County individuals for any month this year.

Last year, the August payments for unemployment insurance totaled $46,780.

During the past 12 months Mr. Rice noted, "Employment in Lenawee County has increased by 500 workers, from 28,100 to 28,600 as of Aug. 15, 1966."

Continued employment expansion is evidenced in Lenawee County as county employers continue to call upon the local MESC office for many workers.

Color Tour Time Arrives

Nature's fall color show, when forests turn from summer green to a brilliant sea of red, orange and brown, has just opened in Michigan.

Approximately 320,000 cars carrying 800,000 persons will travel 32 million miles in Michigan on special trips to view fall color this year, says the Automobile Club of Michigan.

The color spectacular is expected to reach its peak in the upper third of the Lower Peninsula by mid-October and move into central Michigan a few days later.

"Although color tours can be taken in southern Michigan anytime after the second week-end of October, the most brilliant colors can be seen the last two weeks of the month," Jerry E. Fisher, touring manager adds.

Weather conditions determine the length of the color tour season. Rain and wind knock leaves from trees and can limit the season to a few days. When days are warm and dry, color can last for two weeks in an area.

The two most popular touring areas in the state are the Irish Hills in Lenawee County and the Traverse City-Cadillac area.

Often cited as the most scenic individual road for viewing peak color is the 52-mile stretch of M-55, between Cadillac and Manistee.

Although color tours can be taken anywhere in Michigan, Fisher suggests that motorists travel country roads where traffic is light and settings more picturesque.

Mr. Fisher adds that state forests and recreational areas have roadside markers indicating picnic areas, scenic sites, recreational and educational areas.

Knights Post Second Win

By RICH CURRIE

The Fighting Knights of Boysville won their second straight grid contest Friday, taking Deerfield, 33-0. This week the Knights face Britton-Macon on the Tory gridiron.

Only score of the first half of last Friday's game came in the first quarter on a 2-yard plunge by Don Chalmers. Don also took the ball from his halfback position to score the extra point.

When the game resumed there was no mistake that the Knights had control of things. For the most part it was Chalmers handling the switch.

Another cool line plunge by Don early in the third quarter, and his extra-point kicking ability put the Knights ahead, 14-0.

It wasn't long after the kick-off that the Knights had the ball again, another Boysville march, and another Chalmers TD plunge.

Chalmers got his chance to show he could score from longer distances than a yard or two when in the fourth quarter, he ran the ball 38 yards for his fourth touchdown. This time Don's extra point kick was good. Close to the end of the game, Boysville fullback Dave Rockwell, went four yards for the Knights' final six points.

Aside from the splendid attack the offense showed, the defense played an almost flawless game. Deerfield was held to 38 yards rushing and failed to make one first down rushing.

The four Deerfield did make were from Boysville penalties. Don Chalmers led the Knights in rushing with 167 yards. Mike O'Dea punted four times, averaging 37 yards.

Knee Injury Slows Baird on Gridiron

EAST LANSING — Don Baird, former athletic standout at Tecumseh High School, is currently hampered with a knee injury which is dulling his chances of breaking into the starting lineup for the Michigan State Spartans.

Baird is making an attempt to overcome the injury and will certainly rank as a top candidate in the future.

The guard position on the Spartan squad is one of the least protected by depth, so there's a chance he might see action before season's end.

The 5-11, 200-pound sophomore is majoring in pre-med at Michigan State. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baird, 114 W. Pottawatamie, in Tecumseh.

As a prep, he captained the '65 Tecumseh squad to eighth ranking in the state as he earned state honors.

Pobuda Leads C ounselors

The next meeting will be held in Hudson Oct. 20 and will be an evaluation of the college night program.

The Rose car slid into a stake truck, driven by Michael Mohr, 21, of Adrian, which was stopped on M-52 waiting for the light.

Mayer was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Foreman will speak at a noon luncheon Friday, Sept. 30, in the Jack Tar Hotel, before the combined sections of the State Bar.

A living legend in the field of criminal law, Foreman, the reputedly invincible lawyer, has defended over 700 persons charged with murder — only one received the death penalty.

Mr. Beardsley will leave Friday morning and return home Saturday.

Art Buchwald, one of the top humorous syndicated columnists in the country, will be the speaker at the banquet Thursday night.

Garden Club Sees Before, After Slides of Parks

A showing of local parks and recreation areas on slides compiled by Donald Moffatt, Tecumseh's parks and recreation director, held the complete interest of the Little Garden Club at the September meeting.

Mr. Moffatt showed many before and after views of these areas, explaining plans which have been carried out, along with those of the future.

He explained that there are several types of parks, active and passive, along with historic and scenic areas for public enjoyment.

He noted how greatly used and enjoyed these local places are, but also told of the vandalism and abuse the same areas suffer by a few individuals, spoiling them for a much greater number.

President — Mrs. Donald Moffatt

Vice-president — Mrs. Owen [illegible]

Secretary — Mrs. William Adams

Treasurer — Mrs. Paul Henning

Pardee Scores 2 for Redskins

By IVAN McKENNA

The Clinton Redskins ran their record to 12-0-1 in Lakeland C play Friday night with a sparkling 19-0 win over Ypsilanti-Roosevelt.

After a first game loss to Adrian Catholic Central, Clinton is now 1-1 for the year.

All the scoring was done in the first half with fullback Mel Pardee accounting for two of the Redskin's touchdowns.

The first was a one-yard plunge, which came after Clinton had marched 60 yards.

Clinton's final TD came three minutes later on a lofty 45-yard pass from halfback Butch Hoelzer to Gene Brown. Brown then kicked the ball through the uprights to make the score 19-0.

The Redskins defense dominated the action throughout the game. Roosevelt's only threat came midway in the third quarter. The Roughriders advanced to Clinton's 15-yard line where they were contained for four downs.

Linebackers Sam Sparks and Jake Schwab along with tackles Bob Feldkamp and Kalvin Bennet, paced the Clinton defense, which came up with three pass interceptions, a recovered fumble and a blocked punt.

★

THE REDSKIN offense, which relied on a steady ground attack in the first part of the game, never got moving in the second half, although they did have one touchdown called back on a clipping penalty.

The Redskins will be out to maintain their flawless league record when they meet the Trojans from Whitmore Lake, also victorious in their league opener, 6-0 over Ann Arbor U-High.

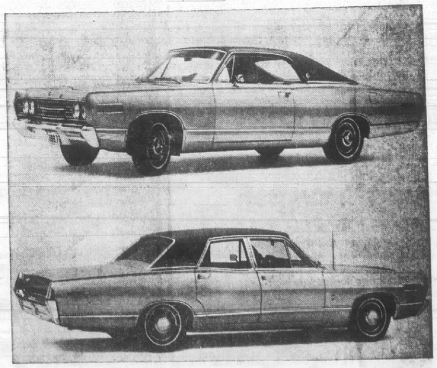
The 1967 Mercury Cougar

Arrival of the Mercury Cougar puts a new kind of motoring experience on the American road — a luxury/sports car lithe in appearance and agile in performance. Exclusively a two-door hardtop, the Cougar assures comfort for both front and rear passengers with its 111-inch wheelbase and overall length of 190.3 inches. The long hood and the short deck emphasize the European flair of its styling. A choice of three V-8 engines and three transmissions is offered. Fixed position dual sealed beam headlamps are concealed behind vacuum powered retractable doors.

Ford Thunderbird brings a new dimension to the field of personal luxury car transportation with the introduction of its 1967 product line which includes this 4-door Landau model. All Thunderbird models present a markedly changed yet unmistakably Thunderbird look with a thrusting, long hood line, shorter rear-deck and recessed air-scoop type intake grille. The 2 and 4-door Landau models feature vinyl-covered roofs and the traditional S-bar on roof quarter panels. The two Landau models plus the 2-door Hardtop have ventless side windows and headlights located in the grille sides that are covered by matching doors which retract when the light switch is actuated.

Dramatic new styling marks the 1967 Ford which has received a major sheet metal change for the third time in three years. Pictured here are the X/L Convertible (above) and the X/L 2-door Hardtop, both of which offer Ford's Select Shift Cruise-O-Matic transmission as standard equipment. Featured only on the Fairlane GTA in 1966, Select Shift permits the driver to shift manually or automatically. Ford's new styling features sculptured side panels and a gull-wing design grille that is die-cast in the X/L, LTD and Country Squire series. Engineering improvements give the 1967 Ford an even quieter and smoother ride. All Ford models will be on display at Ford dealer showrooms Friday, Sept. 30.



Continuing its expansion in the upper end of the medium price field, Mercury for 1967 introduces two new top-of-the-line series, the Mercury Marquis, above, and the Mercury Brougham, below. The Marquis is a sporty two-door hardtop with formal, vinyl-covered roof. The Brougham features new Breezeway ventilation with lowerable back window in the four-door sedan, as pictured, and a four-door hardtop. Interiors are luxurious in styling and in appointments. The 1967 Mercurys assume additional Lincoln Continental styling influence, with a broad, raised powerdome on the hood and a subtle hop-up on the rear quarter panel.

By RICK CURRIE

Most of the activity around campus has been in the form of meetings.

The Student Council, with representatives of all classes, held its first session to discuss coming events.

The Council is moderated by Brother Robert Fillmore and is organized as a voice for the student body and school activities.

The junior and senior class both had meetings on possible fund-raising activities for their pet projects — the juniors put on a prom each year and the seniors want to take a trip to Washington, D. C.

TB tests were given to the faculty and student body this past week by Mrs. Bowers from the Lenawee County Health Department. Mrs. Bowers later returned and gave a talk to Brother Romain's eighth grade health class on smoking.

Brother Romain, Don Chalmers Sam Arrage, Rich Kaly and Sam Kirkland went to see Moe play against Hillsdale last Saturday night.

Even though Hillsdale won, 28-13, both Findlay touchdowns were made by Moe. All the fellows said it was so good to hear everybody cheering for Moe, but it just didn't seem the same without Moe in a Boysville uniform.

How about a visit to the most popular spot on campus — the Dining Hall.

Feeding 200 hungry boys three meals a day isn't the easiest job in the world. Even so, under the supervision of Brother Donald, this task is handled as expertly as any family kitchen, thanks to our dining hall "Mothers," the ladies who work for us.

We eat cafeteria style in a spacious and beautiful dining area. Three well-balanced meals are prepared by what we consider the best cooks anywhere.

Head chef is Mrs. Kenneth Kwiecinski from Manitou Beach. She is assisted by Mrs. Greta Filter of Clinton, Mrs. Jack Crittenden of Saline, and Mrs. Raymond Connors of Macon, mother of our coach.

Fresh and delicious baked goods are prepared each day by Mrs. Parl Tucker of Macon and her assistant, Mrs. Bertha Zick of Macon, better known as "Ma."

Our dining room is always spotless due to the careful care given it by Mrs. Wayne Lembrick of Macon, Mrs. Wyman Rhodes of Macon, Mrs. Leonard Furguson of Tecumseh and Mrs. Leo Erhart of Tecumseh.

Having these wonderful women preparing our meals adds that something touch of hominess. Without them we would be mighty homesick.

Tomorrow afternoon we leave for our first weekend home, returning to the campus on Monday.

MACON — The first meeting of the Ridgeway School Blue Birds was held Wednesday, Sept. 14 at the home of Mrs. Paul Hover.

This is the first Campfire group to be organized in the Tecumseh Public Schools.

The new members are Cathy Conway, Vicki Cook, Kathy Fredericks, Sherry Hover, Meg Moore, Brenda Raine, Brenda Stuart and Judy Thomas.

They will meet every Wednesday with their leader, Mrs. Paul Hover, assisted by Chris Conway and Roxie Hover. They are under the direction of the Adrian Area Campfire Office.

The Blue Bird program is designed to help grow through a variety of constructive experiences, such as music, handicraft, dramatic plays camp craft, games, trips of interest within the community and guided social relationships within the group.

The work is carried on by volunteer leaders, assisted by mothers. Members hope that many other Blue Bird and Campfire Girl groups will be organized in the Tecumseh area in the near future.

Historian Welcomes Residents

Twenty-nine members and two new members, Mrs. Gerald Harris and Mrs. Ben Joseph attended the meeting at St. Peter's Episcopal Church last Tuesday.

Mrs. Lawrence Cote of Fabricare will speak on "Care of Clothing."

Carolyn Piotter Wed in Dundee

Carolyn Kay Piotter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard Piotter of Dundee, recently became the bride of Daniel Howard Zimmerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Zimmerman of Sylvania in ceremonies at St. John's Lutheran Church, Dundee.

The couple will live in Sylvania after a northern Michigan honeymoon.

4-H Welcomes All

In observance of National 4-H Club Week — Sept. 25 to Oct. 1 — the North Franklin Hustlers 4-H Club prepared an exhibit for the window of Holmes Pharmacy to encourage enrollment in the program.

The two junior leaders were assisted by Lois Stamats, Bruce Carlton, Sherry and Joyce Richardson and John Vincent.

The window stresses that 4-H "brings out the best in families" and also emphasizes the closeness acquired by parents and leaders with boys and girls through projects.

The program is not only for rural youth, but all interested young people between the ages of 10 and 18.

Mrs. Claude Creger, a leader of the North Franklin Hustlers, said Monday that anyone can be a leader. Her club, as well as others in the county, will be happy to help a group get organized.

The Lenawee County fall crop show will be held in the 4-H project building at the Lenawee County fairgrounds Oct. 15.

The Junior Livestock banquet will be held Oct. 13 at the Blissfield High School at 6:30 p.m. with fat stock members, buyers and leaders as guests.

The North Franklin Hustlers achievement program will be held at 8 p.m. Oct 22 at the home of Charles and Kathy Munger.

Larry Gould, International Farm Youth Exchange member, will be the speaker telling of his experience while in Mexico.

Mr. Gould is from Morenci and the North Franklin Club supported him in this venture.

Members will be recognized and awards will be presented, using the point system of achievement throughout the club year.

32 Hikers See Need for Raisin Project

Thirty-two hikers from Detroit agree that the River Raisin reclamation project can't happen too quickly.

They made their way along a six-mile stretch of the river's bank Sunday and discovered dense thickets or underbrush nearly impassible.

An American Youth Hostels group, the Detroiters were guided by Ed Eisner of Ives Rd. At on point the underbrush was so thick, even Ed was lost.

A Raisin renovation project has been under consideration by governmental and civic authorities for nearly two years.

The waterway would be cleared of debris, banks cleaned and dams constructed to impound bodies of water.

Elder statesman of the group was Mrs. Florence Pavlak, a 63 year-old widow who got into hiking in 1963 when her husband died. She has taught first grade at Keating School on Detroit's east side since 1931.

Ages of the hikers ranged down to 14. Madine Earnest was group leader.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Eisner are active in AYH — in fact that's how they first met. They invited the Detroiters to Lenawee County and started off at Sutton Rd., heading north.

Following the junket, the weary walkers returned to the Eisner home to break out sack lunches before heading back to the Motor City.

18-Year-Olds Should Get Vote Esch Contends

Republican candidate for U. S. Congress Marvin L. Esch announced that he was joining Gov. George Romney and other Republican organizations in supporting the lowering of the voting age to 18.

In making his announcement Esch said, "I believe it is only right for younger adults to have the opportunity to express their opinions at the polls."

Red Riding Hood and Carrie Nation on March Again

MACON — The Macon Community Club meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Ralph Halladay in Clinton Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore conducted the short business meeting.

The pledge to the American Flag was given and the Lord's Prayer repeated.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorton Sr. invited the club to meet with them in October.

Mrs. Halladay read some human interest stories which her late husband had written.

She also told about being a guest recently in the home of Mrs. Alida Chapman at Holly who is the great-granddaughter of Musgrove Evans, who built the first home in Tecumseh.

One form of entertainment was the portrayal of characters by various members of the club.

Costumes and articles furnished by Mrs. Halladay included Marconi with a telegraph set, Whistlers Mother, Carrie Nation, Little Red Riding Hood, P. T. Barnum, Florence Nightingale, Abraham Lincoln, Charles Lindberg, Jennie Lind, Mollie Goldberg, Alice Roosevelt, Samatha and Josiah Allen.

There was gaiety as the various portrayals were guessed.

Ice Cream, cake and cookies were served.

ZIP Code Post Cards Going Out

Residents of Tecumseh will be offered an opportunity to ZIP Code their mailing lists during October.

Letter carriers will deliver "no postage needed" cards to each of the Tecumseh's 3,000 residential delivery stops beginning Oct. 10. The cards will have blanks for addresses used most often, but for which individuals do not know the proper ZIP Codes.

In rural areas and cities with one ZIP Code assigned, only an out-of-town card will be delivered since all local addresses will have the same ZIP Code.

After filling in the street number, city and state, the cards are to be mailed back to the postmaster. Post office personnel will add the proper ZIP Codes and return the cards to the sender.

Clinton Post Office will be sending the Zip Code cards to 513 rural residents and 495 box holders in the village.

Britton and Tipton offices will also be mailing the cards.

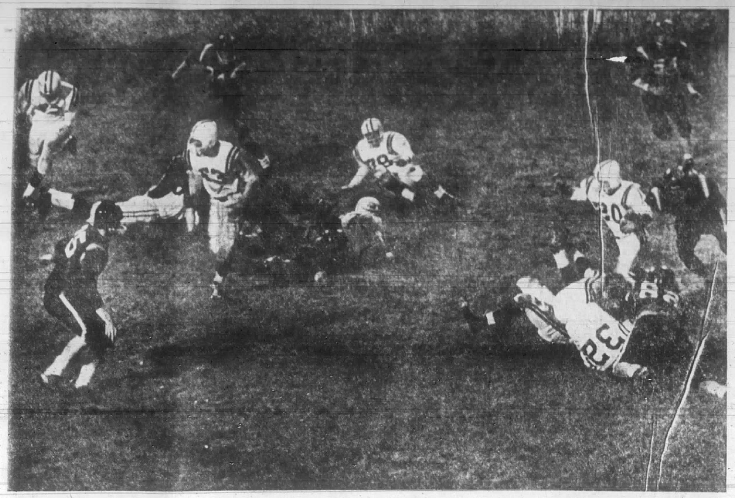
Courses under consideration include basic accounting, Typing, shorthand and English in addition to the Management Program.

Dr. Houghton stated that comments or suggestions relating to preferred courses are welcomed by writing Cleary College in Ypsilanti.

New Water Source Is Being Checked

A test well on Pennington Rd. is in the process of having samples checked in Lansing to determine if the water will be safe for possible use in Tecumseh's water supply.

City Manager Cal Zorn said a report is expected in the near future but that a field check has shown the water is very hard and high in iron content.



STAR FOR VIKINGS — Dundee halfback Ernie Hoffman (20) was the fellow who scored the lone touchdown of Friday night and helped his team rack up victory No. 29 in a row. Tecumseh's defense held valiantly most of the night, but was hard pressed in the second half containing the sprinting Hoffman, who was Dundee's most consistent gainer.

Susan Rowlands Weds Landon Rososco

BRITTON — Susan Kay Rowlands and Landon R. Rososco exchanged marriage vows Friday evening in the Congregational Christian Church of Britton. The Rev. Gustav Hannevik, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowlands, 326 W. Chicago Blvd., Britton. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Richard W. Ruffins of 1060 Morningside Dr., Ann Arbor.

Organist, Mrs. William Raeburn accompanied the soloist, Jon Ruffins, brother of the groom, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because".

Gold vases of white gladioli and pink carnations graced the altar, which was flanked by palms. White satin bows marked the center aisle.

She carried a crescent bouquet of pink carnations and variegated greens, centered with a detachable corsage of white roses and cranberry velvet ribbons.

Maureen McGingley, a college friend of the bride from Ypsilanti, was the maid of honor. She chose a cranberry velvet costume suit with candy-pink satin accents.

Her headpiece was a pink Dior bow. She carried a crescent arrangement of white carnations and cranberry roses, with white velvet ribbons.

A tiered pink and white wedding cake, made and decorated by Mrs. Charles Foster of Monroe, aunt of the bride, was placed on a round table and surrounded with greens. Mrs. C. Paul Rowlands, sister-in-law of the bride, cut the cake.

BRITTON — Rally Day and Promotion Sunday was observed in the Congregational Christian Church last Sunday morning.

All the children and young people were promoted to new classes, which will begin next week.

The junior choir sang two selections.

Mrs. Eldon Reeck, Sunday School Superintendent, gave the secretary's and treasurer's reports. Douglas Fairbanks conducted the offering for Missionary Sunday, which is sent to a missionary friend in France.

Recognition for high attendance was given by Mrs. Ronald Frayer, who explained the system for credit toward pins.

1,017 from County Go into Uniforms

By CAROL HOWELL

One in a Series

As of December 31, 1965, approximately 1,017 men and women from Lenawee County were reported by the Selective Service to be in the Armed Forces of the United States.

USO programs serving them at home and abroad cost about $3.71 each per year. Accordingly, the cost of maintaining USO services for military personnel from Lenawee County during the year was approximately $3,773.07.

Th USO is one of the 35 state and national agencies supported by the Michigan United Fund, one of the 12 charities receiving a portion of the budget of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

Of MUF services 26.85% are health agencies, investing heavily in research projects to discover the causes of and improved treatment for heart and circulatory disorders, arthritis and rheumatism, kidney disease, mental illness, polio, cancer, cerebral palsy, diabetes, epilepsy, multiple sclerosis, mental retardation and loss of hearing.

THE RESULTS of reasearch programs are without significance until they can be applied to those in need.

A major concern of 17.54% of the MUP agencies is the training of key personnel in the proper use of new diagnostic, surgical and medical findings — of new methods of prevention and therapy.

This requires widespread education of physicians, teachers and other technical personnel.

Many agencies also conduct public meetings to educate parents, relatives, teachers and friends of victims of certain diseases.

Of MUF services 29.49% are to individuals and communities. They operate or participate in rehabilitation programs, handle adoptions and boarding care for children, assist unmarried mothers, operate mobile units for clinical evaluations and detection, supply leader dogs to the blind and serve victims of various disabilities.

THE REMAINING MUF agencies cover a multitude of field and community services, supplying local affiliates with professional and supervision, program materials aid assistance of field staff and caseworkers.

They also integrate their programs among themselves and with other agencies to assure adequate service in areas that might otherwise be neglected.

Big Brothers of America, Department of Public Health Nursing (NLN), National Council on Crime and Delinquent, National Recreation and Park Association, National Legal Aid and Defender Association, National Travelers Aid Association and the Michigan Society for Mental Health are only a few of the agencies that make up the Michigan United Fund.

BREWERS CHARGE

'Beer Tax Too High'

Losses sustained by the announced closing of Associated Brewing Corp. within the next two months and the continued high tax rate will cost Michigan "millions of dollars annually."

This is a direct result of the state's high beer tax rate, charges Michigan Brewers Association president and executive secretary Robert A. Schiffer.

"After careful study, we find that several hundred jobs will be eliminated due to the closing of Associated. In addition to the brewery employees themselves, distributors and wholesalers will be adversely affected," Mr. Schiffer said.

Associated announced that it would close its Detroit operations within the next two months. The brewery marketed Pfeiffer, E & B and Schmidt brands from Detroit.

"The brewery is moving its production to the Indiana plant where a more favorable tax structure on the brewing industry is in effect.

"Michigan's beer tax is the highest in the nation and is 30 per cent higher than the next highest state.

"At $6.30 tax per barrel (reduced 31 cents on Sept. 1), this strangulating tax is driving the brewing industry either out of business or out of the state.

"This is the third brewery to close in Michigan since 1962 when the tax was increased 430 per cent," Mr. Schiffer said.

The taxes, Schiffer said, are inequitable and most unfair because they single out one industry.

"The 31 cent a barrel reduction in Michigan tax on Sept. 1 was a step in the right direction. This shows that the legislators realize the Michigan beer tax is too high.

"A much greater decrease is needed, however, before the Michigan brewing industry can be competitive with the surrounding state markets," he concluded.

George Underwood Motor Sales of Clinton invites all area boys, eight through 13, to participate in his agency's annual Pass, Punt and Kick competition.

Stauffer Film Is Available

Family Day at Stauffer Chemical Co. Silicone Plant and Technical Center was enjoyed Sunday afternoon by about 250 persons.

Employees, their spouses and older children were on hand.

The program began with a guided tour of historic Sutton House, restored and redecorated by Stauffer and used as offices for engineering, production, purchasing, personnel and patent departments.

Glass blowing was demonstrated in the research laboratory and various testing equipment was explained. Silicone rubber tape was extruded and cured in the product engineering laboratory.

Chet Huntley was the narrator in the film, which briefly described the contributions of Stauffer to everyday life.

THE FILM may be borrowed, free, from the plant manager's office by Lenawee County organizations.

A representative group of products made from silicones was displayed. Another exhibit showed, in simplified form, how silicones are produced and processed, from starting materials to final Stauffer products.

Student Wonders About Things Free

TO THE EDITORS:

Free! Free! Free!

After something for nothing. When I was a child of seven or eight, if someone said "Free" there I was ready and waiting to get something free. Usually there was a catch to it, you had to buy something or if you did get something, it really wasn't worth much.

As I grew older, I realized that what you want you pay for and if it is free, you pay for it in some way.

It seems that some people who are over the age of 21 still "jump" at the word "Free." If not, Tecumseh wouldn't be stuck with a Compulsory Trash Pick-Up.

Congratulations to Councilman Puffer as a man who can see the fallacy of the proposition of getting something for nothing. Why aren't there more men like him on the council.

Why should the trash pick-up be compulsory? Why isn't the private citizen allowed to dispose of his own trash in the manner he wishes. Why is it believed that the citizens of Tecumseh are stupid?

Isn't it possible that the citizens of Tecumseh are intelligent to think for themselves? Do their choices and decisions have to be made for them?

I remember when the people of Tecumseh voted in the local elections. Did that election prove that people should henceforth have their thinking done for them?

Was the St. Regis Paper Company the only company that handles paper sacks for trash pick-up? Was their deal the best considered or the only considered?

I read The Herald every week during the school year and it sure gives you something to think about when you see a situation where the individuals right to free choice is given away.

That's What Workers Want

TO THE EDITORS:

This is in reply to the editorial of Sept. 22, criticizing the City Council for approving the purchase of an Addressograph machine for the city offices. I am writing as a former employee of the city government.

The machine that the girls are using at the present time was acquired by Robert Kroner, Village Clerk, in 1952. It is hand operated and has certainly fulfilled its purpose.

In the 14 years that the girls have struggled, perspired, adjusted by screwdriver, and, speaking for myself, talked to it, they have printed addresses on more than 112,000 water and sewage billing cards.

Other methods of addressing have been considered, but due to the constant changes in addresses and new accounts, the employees have felt the Addressograph is the most satisfactory method, and who should know better than the ones who do the work?

It is interesting to note that this particular unit could have been purchased in 1964 at an approximate cost of $600, which is considerably less than the present price, but due to the objections of The Tecumseh Herald representative, it was not purchased at that time.

It is my personal opinion that if the officials of the City of Tecumseh have ever been justified in buying a piece of equipment, they are certainly justified in making this particular purchase.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Emily Wheeler

Blood Bank Helped Her

TO THE EDITORS:

I am one of those who owe much to the blood bank. By the grace of God, medical skill and five pints of blood (plus four of plasma) I am alive and happily recovering.

I am anxious to see that list of 213 blood donors — I cannot write each of them a personal thank-you, but I can say from my heart, "Thank you for the precious gift of your blood, and God bless you!"

Mothers Love Their Children —We Blush

TO THE EDITORS:

I am writing to you about your headline of Sept. 1, "School Starts, Mom's Rejoice," indicating that mother's are delighted to have school open so that they can get rid of their children.

Actually, many mothers enjoy their children and like having them around. Also, it doesn't exactly warm our children's hearts to read that their mothers find it hard to tolerate their presence.

So, how about re-thinking that philosophy?

Sincerely,
Rebecca Gresham

Editors note — Really, we were just funnin' folks with that headline.

Merger Stories Surprise

TO THE EDITORS:

The stories last week about the coming vote on merger came as a surprise to this reader even though The Adrian Telegram had a series on the subject a few months ago.

I hadn't realized that a vote was so close. But just what a merger of the three systems would involve is still very much a mystery since The Telegram series did not go very much into detail.

The point that I wish to make is this: As was mentioned last week in The Herald, many people didn't even know that a merger was being considered, much less just what changes a merger would involve.

It would be a valuable service to these communities if The Herald could run a series of articles on what the people can expect if the proposal is adopted. Possibly a debate by supporters and opponents of the plan would be the way to do it, or at least discussions of it by people who are familiar with the subject (pro and con of course.)

Quite possibly a lack of information available to the voters could mean a defeat for the proposal even though the general attitude of the electorate were favorable.

I believe that the basic purpose of a merger is good but any changes or adjustments should not take away unnecessarily any part of school "identity," nor should it cause avoidable transport of students.

Quite often the remedy to a problem or crisis creates other problems and crisis. This should be carefully avoided even though the extra care might mean a slight delay in taking advantage of the merger provisions.

Sincerely,
Harry E. Snyder

Editorial Gets Appreciative Reception

TO THE EDITORS:

More power to Jim Lincoln for his editorial last week speaking out against the way city council rammed the compulsory paper sack deal down the taxpayer's throats. And to the one lone council member who voted against it.'

This takes strength of character in a small town, where everyone knows everyone else. But thank goodness there are a few people still left, who will stand up for what they think is right, whether it agrees with the crowd or not.

This idea of forcing the poor taxpayer to follow every whim the city fathers can come up with, sure makes me wonder. How about all you other taxpayers, are you happy about this newest arrangement?

Or didn't you read about it in The Herald? You will know about it when you have to pay your $15 a year, or possibly much more. We dutifully go to the polls and vote for council members, who are supposed to represent the will of the people.

What about the people who went to all the expense of installing a garbage disposal, and have never had to bother with the poor service one gets from the garbage pick-up trucks? Do you know they even have to pay this $15 or more, too?

I was told if we don't go along with this idea, they would have to raise taxes then, to cover any trash pick-up the city might need. What in Heavens name does our tax dollars go for, now?

Through My Window

Mid-September is always a peculiar season and this year it was more so. It was neither summer nor fall — warm weather thing had not quite given up but the trend toward fall was definitely on the rise. The overlapping produced some interesting incidents.

Our cardinals were a terribly mixed up group. The very young male we discussed last week has an even younger sister. Or perhaps she is a cousin.

Whichever, we looked out at the feeder one day and there, timidly crouched in one corner, was a baby cardinal.

Her feathers were soft and ragged, her tail and wings showed only the faintest traces of red and her bill was dull black.

She was a hungry little rag-a-muffin, screaming at the top of her squeaky voice to be fed. We were more than surprised at who came to the rescue.

Just as we thought Junior's father too young to have a family, the female who fed this youngster looked barely out of adolescence herself.

She hardly had a top knot and, had we not seen her taking care of the baby, I am sure she would have gone down on our bird calendar as a youngster.

★

THE NEXT SUMMER time type thing involved a hummingbird.

From Mrs. Strong of Ridgeway we heard about a tiny hummer who did his September bathing in the fine spray from the garden hose.

As her husband tried to fight the near drought conditions with the hose, a tiny humingbird darted into the water.

Making the spray as fine as possible, Mr. S. called his wife and they had a tremendously exciting experience of watching the bird hover in the water, duck his head into the spray, fly to a nearby perch to preen and then return for more bathing.

For three afternoons this performance was repeated — wow!

But fall is close at hand, too, and Mother Nature is not about to let us forget it.

We figure that the first wave of robins left shortly after Labor Day. Then came about 10 days of no robins at all and suddenly the yard was full of them again.

This second flock was a large one but convened quickly and was gone. There was little milling about, apparently all the travel plans were set.

WE WERE sad to see the robins go but with the grackles, the story is different. They became such a nuisance during the summer that their departure was almost good riddance.

The entire clan has not departed but at least we have waved a gleeful good-bye to two large flocks.

The most non-summerish aspect however, was the appearance of the trees.

As we looked out the windows, it was still a predominantly green a rich, lush, vibrant color — it was instead worn out, dull and faded.

More than any other single thing, the droopy leaves bespoke of summer's ending.

So it is that with neither summer nor fall being in complete command, our mid-September looking was almost half and half.

Budd Building $6.5 Million Disc Brake Plant

Another bonanza has hit the area.

Budd Co. is erecting a $6.5 million disc brake plant, just south of Clinton, next door to Peerless Gear.

It will be the firm's only setup for the manufacture of the new breaking system, which in two years has become quickly adopted by the automotive industry.

Budd's Automotive Division was one of the first of the large industry suppliers to develop and produce a commercially-feasible disc brake for use on American produced passenger cars.

Since the initial Budd introduction, other manufacturers and suppliers have brought out similar disc brake packages and the adoption of this type of brake has grown so rapidly in the industry that practically every make and model will offer disc brakes as standard or optional equipment in 1967.

Construction has been given a rush urgency basis. Grading was completed early this week and 155 footers are now being poured. Structural steel is slated to arrive with the first snow flakes.

Plant production is scheduled to begin next July.

The new facility will offer 152,800-square-feet of manufacturing and office space with 300 employees. Budd currently has about 200 people in its Clinton operation, which is at the old Clinton Engines layout.

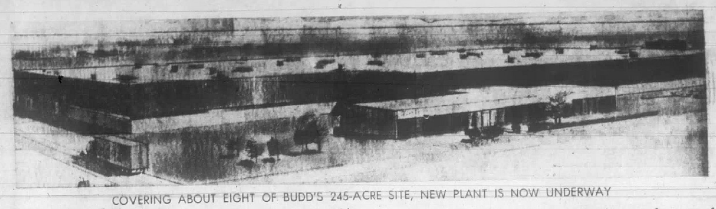
THE BUDD DISC BRAKE is used as standard equipment on the 1967 Chrysler Imperial and is available as optional equipment on the Plymouth Fury, Dodge Polara and Monaco and the entire Chrysler line.

Everything will be moved into the new building. Budd had been leasing from Clinton Engines over the past two years, where its operation has since been greatly expanded through the installation of additional equipment for the machining and assembly of the Budd disc brake and for similar operations in the production of hub and rotor assemblies for other types of disc brakes.



COVERING ABOUT EIGHT OF BUDD'S 245-ACRE SITE, NEW PLANT IS NOW UNDERWAY

Under the present schedule, Clinton is producing 220,000 units of hub and disc assemblies annually. In Phase 1 at the new plant, this will jump to 1½ million units. Within one year, that figure is slated to double.

Situated at one end of a 245-acre plot, the new plant will cover less than 10 acres, leaving ample room for parking and possible future expansion.

The Clinton plant is the second automotive parts layout announced by Budd for 1966. In Kitchener, Ont., an auto chassis frames plant, costing $21 million, is rapidly nearing competition.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Physical culturist Ed Allen will give his television followers something new — an exercise routine from Hidden Lake Gardens.

So if you spot Ed prancing up and down the slopes Thursday morning, with a film crew panting along behind him to capture all the action on video tape, don't be alarmed.

It's all for real. And a fine bit of promotion for the Irish Hills by genial Bud Rogers, who has been pushing the area since the days of President Roosevelt, Teddy, that is.

Bud invited the WWJ-TV "Living" show to do a sequence from the Hills. The station accepted and the red carpet is being prepared for the entire length of US-12, from M-52 to Cambridge Junction, not to mention that stretch of M-50 back to Hidden Lake.

Director-producer Bert Wright runs a taut ship and he'll have the full crew of Mr. Allen, Carol Duval and the other, plus his technicians, ready and rolling early Thursday morning.

Dorothy and Fred Bahlau will be hosting the bunch at Stagecoach Stop, then Bud will be on hand to show the Detroiters Mystery Hill and Prehistoric Forest, owned by him and Bill Pettit.

Incidentally, did you see that question in the Friendly Free Press' Action Line a month ago — something like, "Is there really a mystery hill in Michigan, which has a strange magnetic pull?

ONE NEWCOMER to the Hills is the only fellow who is unhappy that the TV crew is moving in Thursday.

He's Diamond Jim Brady, who instead of being behind his import shop counter at the ex-Irish Hill Playhouse, is confined to a Detroit hospital with pneumonia.

Jim feels he has a great gimmick for the TV program, his genuine Irish flag, which is the largest one in America — 12'x 25' — obtained from the Irish Consulate in Chicago.

For a long time, he couldn't even locate a place to display it, but recently he had two giant poles set and strung a wire between them, letting the hunting drop from it.

Via telephone Tuesday night, Diamond Jim said he couldn't sneak out of the place, but hopes to have son Tom up in time to get the colors of Erin waving as the TV troupe passes by.

Flag or not, Jim is truly gloomy about not being around Thursday to give the visitors a welcome handshake and some genuine Old Sod conversation.

Channel 4 will be presenting the show shot in the Irish Hills on Wednesday, Oct. 19 from 9 to 10 a.m.

Corn Contest Hits Climax on Thursday

George Anton of Carson Hwy. is one of the contestants in the two-day Michigan State Corn Picking Contest which concludes Thursday.

Gov. George Romney and Rep. Marvin Esch will speak Thursday at 11:30 a.m., following the mixed combine contest, which begins at 9:30.

The two-day event is held at the F. W. Leonard farm, eight miles directly south of Tecumseh on S. Raisin Center Hwy. and Deerfield Rd.

Bob Maddex of the Agricultural Engineering Department of Michigan State University will supervise the demonstrations in types of harvesting equipment currently available, beginning at 2 p.m.

Lenawee County's leading implement companies will participate, detailing the most efficient means of operating their equipment.

The presentation of awards will be held at 4 p.m. with the closing ceremonies Thursday.

Dependable Predicts Rate Drop

A majority of Dependable Garbage patrons will have a decrease in refuse collection costs under the paper sack system, according to Phillip Duckham, owner of Dependable Garbage at Napoleon.

In a statement to Council Monday night and at a question-and-answer period with several residents. Mr. Duckham explained the new system.

He said patrons will be asked to set the bags outside their garages or houses and the bags must be off the holders for pickups.

The new system, compulsory for all Tecumseh residents, will probably start here Jan. 1, when all refuse collection will be made in paper sacks or bags.

Metal cans will be discontinued.

New Laws Approved by Council

Ten ordinances were approved for adoption by Council Monday night, including the ordinance for a community television franchise.

The other ordinances dealt with crowds and riots, indecent exposure, indecent language, disorderly person, firearms, fortune telling, obscene literature, devices and shows, gambling and lotteries, and a change in the building inspection fees.

LOOK OVER PLANS — Harold Tuttle and his mother, Mrs. Madeline Tuttle, look over plans for the latest addition to their manufacturing plant. Mr. Tuttle is president and his mother holds the job of board chairman and treasurer.

Tuttle Co. Plans Large Addition

H. W. Tuttle Co. is expanding again.

An addition to the west end of the present plant will provide 15,000-square-feet, announces the firm's president Harold W. Tuttle.

Of it, 12,000 square feet will be devoted to production area and the balance for a new employee lunch room and new first aid room. There'll be a truck receiving dock and employee entrance as other features of the latest section.

This will give the Tuttle Co. 55,000 square feet as compared to the 22,000 square feet into which the company originally moved from Adrian in 1959.

Employment has grown over the years from 60 to the present 225.

Work on the latest addition will begin the latter part of this month with occupancy expected in January. Kreighoff-Lenawee will be the contractor.

Tuttle has long manufactured heating elements for electrical appliances.

It recently has gone into a new application — a small heater for refrigeration compressors.

Placed in the housing, the element provides just enough heat to keep the refrigerant (which is a gas) from mixing with the lubricating oil.

Previously, the two had sometimes joined, turning the oil into a detergent and robbing it of its lubricating qualities.

Mr. Tuttle reports that the company's engineering department is working on other new product lines, which are expected to be announced in 1967

Mrs. Lamm Leads Drive

West Too Wild for Gun-Toting Stage Robber

Michael Steven Bair, 15, of 930 Cambridge Rd., Onsted, is employed as a "robber" to attack the stagecoach as it carries tourists around the park.

The 44 Colt pistol was in his holster when it discharged a blank as it was being withdrawn by young Bair.

Michael was treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital for a leg wound from the blank cartridge and he was released and back in action at Stagecoach Stop Sunday.

Tecumseh Men Named to Board at Siena Heights

Three new members were elected to the Board:

- ► Miss Margaret O'Connor, Testing Consultant, Chicago Public Schools
- ► D. E. Conklin, Plant Manager, Fisher Body, Tecumseh Plant
- ► Lewis J. Lamm, 1009 Red Mill Dr.

Special committees of the Lay Board, educational affairs, student affairs, development and financial, met separately to explore means of assisting the college and charting a course for future development.

Chairman Named

Councilman Donald Sunderland was appointed chairman for Michigan Week 1967 by Council Monday night.

11 Bands To Play at 20th Festival

The 20th annual Lenawee County Marching Band Festival will be held at the Tecumseh High School Athletic Field at 8 p.m., Tuesday.

This year each band is to select its own theme and then all will combine for three numbers under the direction of the president of the County Band Directors Association, Bruce McCormick of Blissfield.

The three selections will be "Mr. Touchdown, USA," "God of Our Fathers," and the "Star Spangled Banner."

The bands participating this year will be Adrian, Addison, Blissfield, Britton-Macon, Clinton, Deerfield, Hudson, Madison, Onsted, Sand Creek and Tecumseh.

The City of Tecumseh pays the expenses of the evening and the proceeds are divided among the participating bands.

Each band will perform for seven minutes, however, they are fined $5 for every 30 seconds over the limit. The fines go into the County Band Directors Scholarship Fund to send students to Music Camps.

The Rev. Blair Bashore, who has been the narrator since the show's inception, will again describe the show for the audience.

Tickets are now on sale and can be obtained from any Senior Band member. They are 75c for adults and 50c for children.

Lynn Noble Leaves Post

Lynn Noble, Tecumseh engineer and building inspector for the past three years, announced his resignation to Council Monday night.

He told city officials that he has accepted a similar position at Wheaton, Ill., and hoped to assume his new duties there on Nov. 1.

City Manager Cal Zorn says Tecumseh will seek a replacement and will contact the Municipal League at Ann Arbor for its assistance.

Mr. Noble came here from Detroit in June, 1963. At the time, he also was the city tax assessor.

NEW PHYSICIAN — Dr. Joseph F. Bachman will open an office for the practice of internal medicine at 600 E. Pottawatamie on Oct. 17. Dr. Bachman was born and raised in Metropolitan Detroit. His under-graduate study was at Dartmouth College, and he received his medical degree from the University of Michigan. He interned at Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia and took his residency training in Internal Medicine at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit. In 1963, he worked as a volunteer physician at the Albergue Santo Antonio Hospital in northeastern Brazil. He was a captain in the Army Medical Corps in 1964 and 1965. Assigned to the 121st Evacuation Hospital in South Korea, he managed an intensive-care medical service. In recent months, Dr. Bachman has been with the Division of Cardiovascular Disease at Henry Ford Hospital. Dr. Bachman has moved to an apartment at 200 Marlboro Ct.

"The Cycle of History" is the basis of one of THS principal Neville Hart's public address sermons. It reads:

Nineteen of the twenty-one world's civilizations died, not from an outside enemy, but from internal decay.

In a few short years the United States will be 200 years old. The average age of the world's greatest civilization is 200 years.

From spiritual faith to great courage.
From great courage to liberty.
From liberty to abundance.
From abundance to selfishness.
From selfishness to complacency.
From complacency to apathy.
From apathy to dependency.
From dependency back again to bondage.

This cycle is not inevitable. It depends on you!

Mrs. Herman Schantz, of Macon, reported seeing wild geese going south at 8 a.m. Saturday. Can cold weather be far behind?

The Junior High students in Harry Travis's Group Guidance read about juvenile delinquents and teenage problems every day. The class takes 35 daily papers to keep up on world events, latest science advancements, etc. Later on, Mr. Travis said, the kids would be studying the want ads for job opportunities and discussing the advantages of one vacation over another.

For a few minutes we thought we had a neat item for this column.

Report: A kindergartner took his dad's expensive polaroid camera to "show and tell" Friday, then left it on the school bus that night. Driver returned it in good condition Monday after questioning kids, "Did anybody lose anything on the bus last week?"

How about that?

Anyone that would like the Goodwill trucks to pick up good used household items may call Anna Wells, 423-4212.

A "Pick Up Camper Club" is now being formed, with membership open to anyone in Lenawee County who is interested. An organizational meeting will be held Sunday, Oct. 9 at 3 p.m. at 511 Springbrook, Adrian, when the publicity director for the National Campers and Hikers Association will be present.

Intercounty Drains Could Bring Action

Action under the state drain code to form an intercounty drainage system may make goals of the River Raisin Watershed development project possible in six years, according to Chester Pierce of Detroit, attorney for the Wayne County drain commissioner and counsel for the Michigan Association of Drain Commissioners.

The new approach could deal with water impoundment, dams and dikes, along with sanitary sewers and surplus water problems.

Sixty members of the watershed association including Lenawee, Jackson, Washtenaw and Monroe counties met with Mr. Pierce Sept. 8.

The first step for action on the various provisions of the code is to apply to the Department in Chicago for planning assistance, said Mr. Pierce.

Senator Bursley's LANSING REPORT

A questionnaire on state issues which I sent out last year to an extensive mailing list and which also appeared in various area newspapers brought forth some 3,000 responses which were of great value during the legislative session.

I shared the results with my colleagues of both political parties in the Senate and we were particularly appreciative of the many thoughtful letters which accompanied these polls.

Members of the Senate are again polling their constituents for help in formulating legislative programs for the 1967 session. I solicit your opinions again and ask that this questionnaire be mailed to:

Firemen Will Have Ball This Weekend

The annual Tecumseh Fire Department's "Fireman's Ball" will be held Saturday, Oct. 8, at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall beginning at 9 p.m.

George Ruhl is chairman.

Don Johnson's "Quartertones will play and taped stereio music of the big band era and current dance music will be supplied by Lavern Ehlert.

Mr. Ruhl said that this is the local fire eaters only fundraising event of the year and donations are $2.50 couple or $1.50 per person.

Tickets are available from the firemen or by calling the station 423-4545.

The landmark will be the scene of many demonstrations beginning at 10 a.m.

Men with equipment from 14 departments throughout the county plan to take part in the demonstration of new techniques and equipment, not too familiar to local firemen and residents.

Tecumseh Chief Wallace MacGeorge is inviting the public to attend all or any part of the event to open Fire Prevention Week Sunday.

He said that the demonstrations will help people to realize the destruction fire can do.

Chief MacGeorge said the local department will complete the inspection of buildings in the business district next week in accordance with Fire Prevention Week.

McDowell Explains Remedial Reading

Remedial reading in Tecumseh schools was discussed by Supt. James McDowell with members of the Wit and Wisdom Club Oct. 3 at the home of Mrs. Herbert Munger.

Mr. McDowell said that the reading program at the present time is 100% financed by the Federal government.

The basis for selection of schools eligible is the number of school age children in their district, who come from homes which had less than $3,000 annual income in the 1960 census.

As time goes on the Federal backing will gradually decrease, and then in order to be continued, the difference will come from local school funds.

Equipment used in teaching is the same for both the elementary aid secondary schools. Subject matter is based on the need of the student, not age-grade level.

Tecumseh has four groups in the program — two in the elementary system, one in Junior High and one in Senior High.

Two mobile units, with 220V circuit hookups, are fully heated. Special equipment can be plugged into regular outlets.

There are places for six students to work at one time.

Special rooms have been outfitted in the buildings where the Junior and Senior High students receive instruction. They have carpeted floors and drapes to reduce noise and promote the best working conditions. Rooms are darkened for movie projection. Carpeting reduces the cost of maintenance in cleaning.

PURPOSES OF the program are:

- Develop vocabulary and speed.
- Improve listening skills, keep individual interest and attention.
- Improve power of concentration, accuracy and comprehension.

While the program makes no use of marked grades, tests are given. The first test in the fall measures the level of work that the student will do.

In the middle of the year a test is used to determine the rate of advancement, and then a final test in the spring determines the basis of learning and provides information for follow-up.

At present there are only six students in a class, thus enabling the teacher to give individual instruction and the special attention needed. Classes are 30 minutes long.

★

MEMBERS OF the club were taken into the mobile unit and were able to view the equipment with Mrs. Becker explaining procedures.

After all had seen the mobile unit, members were given a test and found that it was not as easy as they thought.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. R. Dustin and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Willmott.

Southeast Asia Mission Work Will Be Shown

Mrs. Johnson is the president of the Michigan Baptist Women's Association.

Her talk will follow a potluck supper at 6 p.m. in the Youth House. The Women's Society sponsoring the program invites any interested persons to attend.

Rolls and coffee will be furnished. Those coming for dinner will bring a dish to pass and their own table service.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fosbender, Mr. and Mrs. Loarn Forrester and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bishop are on the comittee.

BUDD MANAGEMENT TEAM — Running the show at Clinton's Budd operation are from left, D. L. Schick, controller; B. J. Henehan, manager of material control; W. J. Brandstadt, tool engineer, all of Tecumseh; R. W. Winchell, production manager, and R. H. Tarske, plant manager, of Clinton, in staff conference at Budd's Clinton plant.

Macon — Films and slides of the Michigan Youth Choral tour through England, Scotland, Ireland, Switzerland and Germany last summer were shown at the General Woman's Society of Christian Service meeting last Tuesday.

Worship was led by Mrs. Willard Wedemeyer of Saline in a setting arranged by Mrs. Ronald Corl.

Dates for the annual church calendar will be collected in October by Mrs. Harold Ruhl, Mrs. Guy Zeluff, Mrs. John Hewlett and Mrs. H. F. Moore.

Macon ladies have been invited to attend the Quiet Day of Prayer at the Tecumseh Methodist Church Wednesday, Oct. 26.

Members traveling to the Cass Community Center Saturday, Oct. 22, will meet at the church at 11 a.m., with a sack lunch. The meeting at Cass begins at 1 p.m.

The Macon society will serve luncheon to the Lenawee Historical meeting in the Macon church Thursday, Dec. 1.

2 Lads from Ecuador Visit Tecumseh Family

ROUGHING IT — Eddie Rapin, Greg Burns, and Doug Dillon of the Blind Bats Patrol, Troop 4, prepare their cooking fire for a Saturday evening meal at the Wolverine Council Camporee on October 1. Troop 4 is sponsored by the St. Elizabeth Catholic Church with Dr. Robert Laidlaw as Scoutmaster.

Many Tecumsehites tried to remember their high school Spanish last month — Let's see, how do you say, "How are you?" "Como esta ud?"

Such were the greetings to Spanish-speaking Rafael and Eduardo Arroyo of Quito, Ecuador. The two brothers, 15 and 13, arrived in Tecumseh July 26 to spend the summer with the Dr. Robert Laidlaw family at their summer cottage on Devils Lake.

The Arroyos became acquainted with the Laidlaws through a distant cousin, Pepe Aguirre, of Quito, who visited the family of Dr. M. R. Blanden several years ago.

They wondered if the Laidlaws were willing to take one of their boys for the summer.

When the Laidlaws learned there were two boys, they cabled back, "Send both." There's always room for one more.

Ralph and Eddie, as they were quickly re-named by the Laidlaw children, found many things the same as Quito.

They enjoy the rock and roll groups as well as folk singers, and are especially fond of Peter, Paul, and Mary.

Ralph quickly learned to dance the way U. S. teenagers do. Eddie loved hamburgers and potato chips, said they have them in Ecuador, but they aren't as good.

The brothers attend the American School, a private school with most courses taught in English and rated with the classes taught in the States.

The capitol, Quito, is almost on the equator, but because of being surrounded by mountains, its climate is cool, with only two seasons, summer and winter.

The boys wished they could stay to see snow, which they had only seen on the mountain tops.

The boys spent a day on Mackinac Island, saw the Soo Locks, visited the museums of Chicago and strolled through the campus of Notre Dame University, where their father graduated as a civil engineer.

They marveled at our freeways, saying that in Ecuador, most of the roads are poor, narrow and unpaved, because of the rugged Andes Mountains.

The Arroyos have servants to do the housework, but readily took over their share of the work in the Laidlaw household.

The brothers loved Tecumseh for its beauty and hospitality, said Mrs. Laidlaw.

400 Scouts at Camporee

Over 400 Boy Scouts, Explorers and their leaders attended the first annual Fall Pioneering Camporee for both Monroe and Lenawee Counties held last weekend just east of Tipton.

American and Boy Scout flags in the tent area were visible from M-50, attracting the attention of passers-by.

Explorer Post 87 members had charge of parking for the event and Dr. Robert Laidlaw's Troop 4 Boy Scouts also participated in the cooking and pioneering projects.

Dr. Laszlo Gero reported a total of 250 boys attending the church service that he conducted in the crisp cold morning air Sunday. The Rev. Fr. Daniel Dunnigan, S. J., read the mass for a like number of Catholic Scouts.

Saturday evening a campfire was held with Judge Rex Martin as master of ceremonies and Archie Schinjeck of Adrian as the keynote speaker. His subject was "Pioneering, Past, Present and Future."

Timber downed by the Palm Sunday tornado of a year ago was used by the scouts and explorers to build bridges, gateways and fences for the camping area.

Instructions in the use of an axe, saw and lashing were useful as scouts constructed tables that would seat an entire troop of six to 10 boys.

Each boy and adult attending the Camporee received an embroidered emblem.

Two of the injured were pedestrians and four were hurt in one accident.

A resume is:

Sept. 28 — In a chain-reaction type mishap on N. Evans St., the four cars involved all required wrecker service. Mary L. Brown, 21, of 415 E. Shawnee St., was waiting to make a left turn. Mossie I. Slusher, 55, Clinton, was stopped behind the Brown car. Sharon L. Crane, 23, of 9501 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., was unable to stop, running into the rear of the Slusher auto, knocking it into the Brown vehicle. Ramon M. Aylesworth, 26, of 9103 N. Union St., then ran into the rear of the Crane car.

No arrests were made.

Sept. 29 — Janet K. Bird, 18, of 209 S. Maumee St., was cited for failure to yield the right of way and not having an operator's license after an accident at W. Chicago Blvd. and Maiden Lane with Raymond J. Schmidt, 18, of 208 W. Cummins St.

Sept. 30 — Donald G. Reaume, 54, Monroe, was charged with reckless operation after running into William Buchheimer, 50, Holloway, at Rogers Hwy. and E. Chicago Blvd.

Sept. 30 — Daryl D. Richardson, 18, Cement City, was cited for driving with an obstructed windshield after he collided with a parked car, owned by James Clark, Dundee. Richardson was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Oct. 1 — Glen W. Work, 41, of 711 Adrian St., was charged with failure to yield right of way at the intersection of S. Evans and Pottawatamie St. The other driver, Charles A. Meyers, 23, Cincinnati, and his passenger Harold Sturtevant, 39, were slightly injured and taken to the hospital.

Oct. 1 — Kent Allen Norris, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris, 604 Murray Dr., suffered minor injuries when he ran in front of a car driven by Louis Ray E. Stone, 18, of 500 Murray Dr. The mishap occurred on Murray Dr. and Stone was not held responsible.

Oct. 1 — Janet M. Venske, 906 Sunset Dr., backed into Margaret C. Rodeman, Bellevue, O., at the McCarty Market parking lot. No citation was issued.

Oct. 2 — Thomas J. Gallant, 16, of 205 E. Kilbuck St., was cited for driving left on center after he scraped an auto driven by William Augustine Wright, 52, of 810 Outer Dr.

Oct. 2 — Deborah D. Earling, 6250 Rogers Hwy., suffered minor injuries while walking across the alley, next to Pearls Cafe on N. Evans St. She said the car was driving the wrong way in the one-way alley, and at the time, she did not believe she was hurt. The other driver stopped, offered assistance and then went on when informed there were no injuries.

Dedicate Hazel Herrick Hall

Dedication of Hazel M. Herrick Hall, one of two new sorority residence halls on the Adrian College campus, will be held Saturday morning at 11:30.

A nopen house is set for the Williams St. residence from 10:30 to 11:25 a.m., President John H. Dawson has announced. Friends and members of the community are welcome to attend.

It was first opened to students last fall, and is located opposite Shipman Library.

It is named in honor of Mrs. Ray W. Herrick of Tecumseh, a patroness of Chi Omega sorority.

In addition to the 80 women students residing in Herrick Hall, there are 40 members of both the Alpha Phi and Sigma Sigma Sigma sororities in Lowry Hall.

This residence hall is named for Dr. Hope Lowry, who for 43 years taught languages at Adrian, and will be dedicated on Oct. 29.

The two local chapters, Tau Delta and Kappa Phi Gamma, are currently housed in former college residences on Williams and Madison Sts. across from the campus.

The Saturday ceremonies will include college faculty, students and officials, members of the Herrick family and community friends.

Indians Block Punt, Whip Rams, 6 to 0

By JIM LINCOLN

A strong defense paid off for the Tecumseh Indians Friday night when they clipped Flat Rock, 6-0, for their first victory of the season.

Engaged in a scoreless deadlock with the Rams for over three quarters, the Indians got on the scoreboard when Lee Hannibal crashed through to block a FR punt.

Until then, Tecumseh battled both the Rams and penalties in a futile attempt to score.

Drive after drive bogged down due to penalties — 105 yards in all were marched off against Tecumseh, including seven major penalties.

COACH TOM FAGAN'S club threatened the first time in the second period with a drive that carried from Tecumseh's 20 to FR's nine — despite two 15-yard infractions against the local team.

Late in the third period, the Indians moved from the Rams' 37 to the six where FR recovered a Tecumseh bobble on the 10. In three plays, FR moved just two yards and had to punt.

At this point, several Tecumseh linemen broke through with Hannibal getting credit for the block. After the TD, the teams twice exchanged punts before FR started a belated drive which ended when John Anderson picked off his second interception of the night.

Andersons first interception occurred on Tecumseh's 33, but an Indian penalty pushed the ball back to the 18. Three plays later, Tecumseh fumbled and FR recovered on the 12.

Less than two minutes remained. Two plays cost FR 10 yards, but an Indian penalty took the Rams back to the Tecumseh 11. On the next play, Anderson pilfered a FR pass on the three, ending the threat.

Coach Fagan said Tecumseh put on one of the finest defensive efforts ever by one of his teams. He cited Barry Williamson for his exceptional play at a defensive end post, and particularly for a defensive gem when he stopped FR's Pat Mahar on an attempted pass play deep in Indian territory.

The game marked Jim Mobley's debut as starting quarterback, replacing Scott Edwards. Edwards in turn found the flanker spot in the Tecumseh backfield to his liking and turned in several nifty pass receptions.

ALTHOUGH THE offense failed to score, it was able to move as 12 first downs will attest. Mobley, Edwards, Anderson and Buddy Work are expected to start for the Indians against Milan, here Friday night.

The loss was FR's first of the season after two victories, one over Monroe CC. It undoubtedly is one of the Rams' better teams, particularly on defense, which gave ground grudgingly to the Indians.

Ex-THS Star Wants To Beat His Old Team

Tecumseh should clip Milan's Big Reds here Friday night for the Indians second straight win in the Huron League — but it won't be easy.

Assistant Coach Jim "Bubbles" Curth, former Tecumseh star, has scouted the Indians in all three games and has hopes of his Milan team springing an upset.

Milan, tied by Saline in the opener and loser to Monroe CC, came back last week to trounce Airport. The Big Reds are vastly improved over 1965 and have shown steady improvement since the season's kickoff.

Tecumseh will have a slight edge in weight on the line, but Milan's backfield will be larger and faster.

Frosh Crush Adrian

In win No. 2 last week, his crew stopped Adrian, 35-0. Scoring thrusts included:

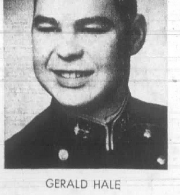
Offensively, guard Bill Gibson and tackle Bob Hackett were standouts.

Coast Guard Academy Would Like Local Lads

The Coast Guard Academy's yearbook, Tide Rips, pictures sophomore Gerald Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hale of 198 Evans Creek.



GERALD HALE

The school received a copy of the yearbook as a means of encouraging other young people from this area to attend the Academy.

It seems there are few cadets from the state of Michigan. No political appointment necessary to secure admission to the Coast Guard Academy.

Jerry spent six weeks this summer aboard the cutter, Rockaway, cruising the Great Lakes.

The Coast Guard Academy education is within the reach of THS students, who are prepared sufficiently to be successful in such a military academy.

On the national qualifying tests Jerry ranked 12th in the nation which stands as a tribute not only to him and his parents, but to Tecumseh High School.

PLAYERS OF WEEK — Coach Tom Fagan selected defensive left end Barry Williamson and quarterback Jim Mobley for the honors, based on their performances against Flat Rock. Barry helped to contain the Ram offense to 40 yards and made four key tackles. The final one came in the last minute of play as Flat Rock tried to pass while on the Tecumseh 10-yard-line, but ended up with a 12-yard loss. Mobley played his first complete game, got the offense moving for 210 yards and hit on 8 of 11 aerials. Jim ran the ball 23 times himself in the THS victory.

Boysville Romps by Britton, 59-0

By RICK CURRIE

The game began with Boysville kicking to Britton.

On Britton's first play, the Tories fumbled and Boysville recovered.

From those opening seconds to the final gun it was Boysville all the way, the Knights third straight shut out, 59-0 victory. It was the Tories 23rd straight defeat.

BESIDES THE opening TD, three other scores were made in the first quarter, O'Dea on another 35 yard run, Chalmers on a 20-yarder and Dave Rovkwell on a 28-yard dash.

Chalmers kicked the extra points.

Dave Rockwell, sophomore fullback, scored twice for the Knights in the third quarter both times on 15 yard sprints, literally opening up his own hole as he blasted for the goal line.

★

EVEN THOUGH Allen Rockwell has yet to score for the Knights, a lot of the Boysville touchdowns are made because of his fine ball handling from the quarterback position.

Chalmers led the team in rushing with 92 yards. Rockwell went 83 yards and Mike O'Dea 75 yards.

Friday night at 7:30 Boysville will host Summerfield on the Britton gridiron to see which team will stay undefeated in the River Raisin League.

Now It's Up to THS Varsity

If Tecumseh's varsity team can make it a Maple sweep, the Indian football season will be a tremendous success.

After THS freshmen walloped Adrian frosh, 35-0, the Jayvees followed it up here last Thursday night with a 20-0 win over the Maples.

In the first quarter of the JV tilt, Jim Hunt capped a 60-yard drive for Coach Vic Lawson's 11 with a seven-yard TD romp.

John Kennedy tallied the second score in the third quarter on a quarterback sneak. Carlo Mobley took a pass from Kennedy for the extra point.

Tecumseh's final TD came in the fourth period on a nine-yard run by Rick Steele. Jim Hunt picked up the extra point on a sweep.

Youth Problems To Be Reviewed by Mrs. Hanna

One of the biggest problems of the future is the problem of youth. Schools and societies, churches and the state try to find the solution of protecting teenagers against the temptation and facts which they face day by day in order to keep them on the right path of life.

This will be the theme of Mrs. H. H. Hanna, a civic employee of the Probate Court, at the Monday meeting of the LCW in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m.

Her topic is "Division of Protective Services".

After the program a kitchen shower will be held.

Mrs. William Rohweder will lead the Bible Study of the Gospel of St. John and refreshments will be served by Mrs. Fred Wesleoh and Mrs. Frank McRae.

Big Year For Exchange Students

By BILL WHITING

Two seniors at Tecumseh High School are in the beginning stages of what will probably prove to be the most exciting school year of their lives.

Sent to this country through the Youth for Understanding Program, based in Ann Arbor, they have been adopted by two local "host" families for a [illegible] month visit to the U. S.

Burkhardt is staying with the Gaylon Robinson family at 109 W. Pottawatamie. He first became actively interested in coming to the U. S. two years ago when his father, an architect, made a trip through the Midwest.

After leaving a port in Germany on Aug. 16, he was treated to a [illegible] sightseeing stop at Amsterdam, London, Lefavre, Ireland, Quebec and Montreal.

From there he came by bus to Northville. The oldest child in his family, Burkhardt has a brother, Detlef, 13, and a sister, Manuela, 7.

Being with people, swimming, ball games, gymnastics and music all interest him. While in [illegible] is studying sociology, government and U. S. history.

UWE IS from Bergen/Celle and is residing with the Frank Daltons, 906 W. Pottawatamie St. The family he was originally scheduled to live with, moved at the last minute, and the Daltons offered their assistance when they heard of his plight.

Through Youth for Understanding, Uwe was transported from Germany to the U. S. by plane and arrived here in late August.

His main reason for coming, he says, is to get to know the USA. He has taken two other extensive trips to Sweden in 1955 and Great Britain in 1956.

His major studies have been in language and social science and he is interested in rowing, stamp collecting, cycling, reading and dancing. He intends to become a geologist.

MR. AND MRS. Peter Kalom, both teachers are the coordinators for the Youth for Understanding group locally.

They are attempting to stir up interest in the exchange program in order to assist area students wishing to go abroad for the summer months.

The couple hope to have meetings in October for anyone who might wish to obtain application forms, donate money, or be a sponsoring family.

Those who would like more information are asked to call 423-4044.

Wheat Acreage Upped by 32%

Revised farm allotments for the 1967 wheat crop have been mailed to growers in Lenawee County.

They reflect an increase in the national wheat acreage allotment recently announced by the Secretary of Agriculture, which boosted the total to 68.2 million acres.

This is 16.6 million acres, or 32 percent larger than the 1966 crop effective allotment.

INTRODUCING THE 1967 STANDARD OF THE WORLD

You are looking at two of the newest luxury cars ever created. They are typical of Cadillac for 1967. The Fleetwood Eldorado—the world's finest personal car—is the first exciting case in point. Eldorado is a styling masterpiece . . . with its spectacularly long hood, its daring new roof lines and its dramatic rear quarter design. It is also an engineering triumph. For Eldorado is the first car in the world to combine the sure-footed traction of front wheel drive with the maneuverability of variable ratio power steering and the balance of automatic level control. And with all its spirit and action, Eldorado provides unusual five-passenger spaciousness and the quietness and comfort that only Cadillac could create. This brilliant newness also marks the Cadillacs you are most familiar with. For they are the most beautiful Cadillacs of all time . . . with a new forward-sweeping grille and a new side contour that flows from front to rear! And with this new Cadillac look come a number of other achievements . . . the most luxurious interiors in history . . . a new generously padded instrument panel . . . a more responsive Cadillac engine . . . improved variable ratio power steering . . . and a new General Motors-developed energy absorbing steering column. Discover Cadillac for 1967 for yourself . . . at your authorized dealer's. Once you have personally seen and driven these exceptional new automobiles, you'll agree that never before has anything on the highway said new so beautifully . . . or Cadillac so well!

DELUXE PLAY HOUSE — Out Britton way is a s pacious bunk in the backyard of the Lyle DeJonghes, built especially for son, Don, (looking out the window). His cousin, Troy, at the base of the giant tree stump, was visiting the day of the picture. Don's sister, Julie, also likes the neat hide-away.

Sherry Harper Joins Michigan Youth Symphony

Sherry Harper, senior at Tecumseh High School, has qualified to become a member of the Michigan Youth symphony and will begin rehearsal Oct. 8.

The Michigan Youth Symphony is organized and sponsored by the University of Michigan Extension Service in cooperation with the School of Music.

It provides an opportunity for ambitious music students to work together in the study and performance af great orchestral music.

Sherry has attended Interlochen National Music Camp two different summers, once on a David Day scholarship and once assisted by the Federation of Women's Club of Lenawee County through the all county band.

She was first chair flutist this summer at Interlochen.

She plans to continue her study of music and languages after high school.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By RICK CURRIE

A little color has been added to the Boysville campus this past week.

The cheerleaders are selling "Knight Hats" to foster spirit. The hats are on the style of a pork pie, royal blue with gold band, feather and Knight emboider. The cheerleaders are charging $1 for the hats and they are selling well. What profit they make will go to meet their expenses for their spring trip. Last year they went to Cedar Point. Spend our time?

Brother James Reisz is in the initial stages of organizing a science club. Brother said the membership stands now at about 20.

The club's purpose is to experiment into many different scientific projects. The first two will be the construction of a 12½" telescope and the setting up of a short wave radio operation.

Freshmen are about to elect class officers.

Brother Stephen Withey, freshmen class moderator, set down what qualifications a student should have in order to be a good class officer in a meeting held after the first report card marking period.

Student Council held a meeting to discuss what the student body could do in the spirit of prayer for peace. The results of that meeting will be in my column next week.

Ninty-eight percent of the student body went home this past week end, leaving campus by cars and bus Friday noon. It usually takes until Wednesday to really recuperate.

We get these weekends home every month. Some boys are already counting the days until the October vacation.

When we are not in school, eating or sleeping, where do we spend our time?

Any leisure not taken up by some extra curricular is usually spent in recreation halls. There are two on campus-Neri (named after St. Philip Neri) and Dettman (named after Willian Dettman, a loyal workman for Boysville ever since it started. Mr. Dettman resides in Britton and is still on the campus staff.

Pool and ping pong tables are provided for those who like to be physically active. There is a special room set aside for TV viewers.

One may even find somebody trying to do his homework, but this is rare since the constant blare of the juke box is just too much competition.

These rec halls are used before school in the morning, after lunch, after school, and after supper until 9 when students go to the dorms.

The rec halls are comfortable and adequate, but age demands replacement. A new rec hall will be one of the first buildings of the future for Boysville.

Large Turnout Meets Vivian

Congressman Vivian gave a brief talk on the Vietnam war, inflation, poverty, farm programs, and other domestic and foreign affairs.

After his talk Congressman Vivian asked the group for questions and while coffee and rolls were served informal discussions were held.

The hostesses were Mr. and Mr. Raymond Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Nickley.

Esch Starts Early

He was meeting and greeting Tecumseh Products workers as they arrived about 6:30 a.m.

Later he conferred with officials, then buzzed over to the Tecumseh CAP headquarters for a coffee hour.

He cited the cost of living index, which showed a rise of fourtenths of one per cent in the cost of living in August, a month when the cost of living normally goes down.

"It is time the Administration levelled with the American people as to just how serious are the nation's current economic ailments. The Administration must not try to hide behind false predictions, and it must stop trying to pass the buck to such groups as the farmer," Mr. Esch added.

Healing Power

"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases"

The Psalmist's assurance of God's healing power is included in the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon titled, "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

STABLE FAT CATTLE PRICES with some weakness in October is the way the market picture appears for the remainder of 1966. Price levels should average $25 to $26 but closer to $26 during the fourth quarter. Fed marketings are up and are expected to run 7% to 8% above year-ago levels. Some weakness is typical for October and is most likely associated with increased marketings of grass-fed cattle. More pork may also have a downward effect on beef demand this fall. Sales on rallies are favored.

WINTER SHELTER PAYS when it comes to protecting livestock from wind and snow. Shelter protects animal health and improves production. In Iowa tests, steers sheltered over a 151-day period gained faster, consumed less feed and graded higher than unsheltered cattle. The advantage amounted to a feed saving of $11.81 per steer plus $3.17 per head for grading higher. This means $14.98 can be credited toward amortization of the shelter. Barns were partially open on one side to exercise lois.

TEST GRAIN AND FORAGE for nutrient conient before your winter feeding program gets under way. You need to know for example, how much protein and TDN your feed contains so you can do an accurate job of balancing livestock rations. The table shows the wide variation in protein levels you can expect. Some Pennsylvania farmers reportedly increased income $40 per cow after following test recommendations. Both state and private services are available.

Feed value variation

Kind of feed	% Crude protein Low-High
Hay	4.0 21.3
Silage	.7 5.3
Shelled corn	6.1 11.5

FLOTATION TIRES for feed and manure wagons are valuable for muddy conditions. They won't mire down as easy under load and you'll get less field compaction than with narrower tires.

Peace Corps Training Rugged

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — What happens when you volunteer for the Peace Corps" was answered by Mrs. Willis Piper of San Jose, Calif., for the members of the Women's Fellowship of the United Church of Christ at their meeting Thursday evening.

Mrs. Piper, nee Linda Witherell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Witherell, of rural Clinton, and her husband, Willis left Tuesday for two years service with the Peace Corps in British Honduras.

Mrs. Piper told members of the intensive training which she and her husband have undertaken since they volunteered for the Peace Corps last spring.

Linda is a graduate of Clinton High School, with a bachelors degree from Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo. She has been substitute teaching in high school this year while earning her masters degree at San Jose State University, Calif. Where she has lived since her marriage two years ago.

Willis Piper has been a San Jose policeman for seven and one half years and has a bachelors degree in sociology and psychology. His father was a building missionary and the Piper family lived in Africa for four years while Willis was a teenager.

In a group of 49 Peace Corps volunteers, the Pipers, in June began training at Lincoln University, Pa.

PARTICIPATING in the rugged daily routine were a varied assortment of people including widows over 65, a maiden lady, 68, electrical engineers, a physicist, a seminary student, married couples in their 50's, architects, teachers and several quite young newlywed couples.

Only Spanish was spoken during the training. Required courses included intensive calisthenics, communism, American international relations, foreign policy and the history and culture of British Honduras.

AT THE CONCLUSION of the training in Lincoln University, the 49 volunteers had dwindled to 36, some by their own request, others were asked to leave.

The 36 remaining were divided into three groups: teachers, community development workers and the public works technicians.

Of these, the teachers and technicians were sent ahead to British Honduras while the 16 community workers, including the Pipers, were sent to Puerto Rico for three and one-half weeks in August for further conditioning.

★

ARRIVING IN Puerto Rico, the volunteers were briefed for a day, then told, "Adios."

With only the name of a distant village on a map and instructions to find any family there to take them in to live for three and one half weeks, the volunteers were left entirely on their own resources.

They were driven in a Jeep up the mountainside over breathtaking, impassable gullies to reach a bayside "barrio", or settlement of farmers.

After pleading with several reluctant families, the Pipers were given a place to sleep in a leaky, tin-roofed abandoned house.

The farm house consisted of four rooms-two bedrooms, one of which contained the kitchen table, a kitchen with a refrigerator, and a living room with a television set and four chairs.

A square platform in the center of the kitchen was filled with dirt and rocks on which pans could be placed over a stick fire.

Smoke drifted upwards through an opening in the ceiling, but it usually hovered in the room, she said.

A sink outside an open window made drainage a simple matter — as was the garbage disposal. Leftover food, or bones were casually tossed out a convenient window and pigs, or chickens disposed of it.

Food was prepared on large banana leaves, on the floor, by the mother, who squatted comfortably on her haunches.

There was little question about each day's menu — it always included rice and beans with the added treats of dried codfish, avocado, mango, fried green bananas and yami, a kind of potato.

THE MEALS were tasty, with considerable spicy flavor, but there was no variety, Mrs. Piper said.

Each day, the father went whistling off to pick his coffee beans — on his plot of 15 acres. Although he received $68 per hundred pounds for the beans, there was only one crop, and the family subsisted on the locally grown fruit and vegetables for the remainder of their needs.

The Puerto Rican family cried when the Pipers left three weeks later — and each had learned to understand something of the other's culture and customs.

With this experience, the Willis Pipers and their fellow Peace Corps volunteers were prepared for two years of service to help the people of British Honduras learn to help themselves.

TWENTY women were present for the Fellowship meeting at which it was voted to give $100 toward the Church World Service quota of supplies for missions.

A quilting bee was scheduled for all day Oct. 20 at the church. Those attending may bring a sack lunch.

Blueberry coffee-cake and coffee was served by Mrs. John Gilman.

The next meeting will be a Thank Offering program in November.

Skins Blast to 56-7 Win

By IVAN McKENNA

CLINTON — Following a mediocre first half, the Clinton Redskins erupted for 21 points in both the third and fourth quarters last Friday night to hand Whitmore Lake a crushing 56-7 loss.

The Redskins jumped to an early lead in the first quarter on a 25-yard pass from Butch Hoelzer to Jim Gray. Hoelzer soon upped the margin to 13-0 as he scored his first of four touchdowns on a 44-yard run around end.

In the second quarter, it was Whitmore's turn to score. The Clinton defenders, with a 14-0 advantage, quickly saw their lead cut in half. Don Lupi, the Trojans workhorse, hit paydirt on a 14-yard run, making the halftime score 14-7.

Second half action was completely dominated by the Redskins. The offense did everything right and the defense could do no wrong.

Hoelzer, Clinton's fleet-footed halfback, crossed the goal line three times in the third period on runs of 3, 8 and 15 yards.

The Redskins put on a brilliant defensive showing in the final frame as they recovered two fumbles and scored touchdowns on two intercepted passes.

Gene Brown, who also booted five extra points, returned his stolen pass 35 yards for the tally. A minute later, Bill Driscoll picked one off and scampered 25 yards for Clinton's final TD.

Quarterback Doug Wight also scored in the last quarter on a three-yard plunge.

With the victory, the Redskins upped their record to 2-1 for the season and took over sole possession of first place in the Lakland C with two victories and no defeats.

Clinton travels to Ann Arbor Saturday night to play University High School. The Cubs, who battled to a draw with Adrian Madison last Friday, will be seeking their first league victory.

Tips for Hunters

With pheasant season opening Oct. 20, area hunters should review a few simple rules as carefully as they check their equipment.

Sportsmen should remember:

1. To hunt on another man's land is a privilege. Abuse of that privilege has only one result — loss of a place to hunt.

2. Never hunt on a farm without permission. Ask the farmer first — he has a right to grant or refuse hunting privileges on his land.

3. Don't impose upon a farmer by hunting with a large party or when another group is already on the land. An "army" of hunters and dogs will be resented. Three or four persons to a party is sufficient.

4. Proper introduction to a farmer will help get permission to hunt on a farm. Farmers like to know who is on their land.

5. Guns and dogs should be kept in the car until after hunting permission is granted. As common courtesy, a hunter should not approach a house with a gun in hand.

6. Locate farm boundaries before you venture into the field. This will prevent trespassing problems.

7. Note location of livestock and perishable crops such as soybeans, alfalfa, clover and buckwheat. Farmers do not appreciate hunters and dogs trampling through these fields or near areas where livestock are pastured.

8. Dogs should be under control at all times, and should never be allowed to chase livestock.

9. Always close gates. No farmer like to round up his cattle on a neighbor's farm.

10. Don't break down fences. Go under them, or climb over at fence posts. If necessary, dogs should be lifted over fences.

11. Observe all game laws and gun safety rules. A shotgun should not be fired in the direction of livestock or buildings even though they may be out of range.

12. Guns should be unloaded and pointed in a safe direction near people and livestock. And, don't fire a gun near farm animals. Farmers resent having livestock frightened by a shotgun blast.

13. Be careful with matches and cigarettes.

14. Don't be a litterbug.

Common sense and a little courtesy will go a long way toward creating a good relationship between farmers and hunters, the specialist says.

FLEET-FOOTED JIM JOHNSON TAKES OFF FOR GAIN IN MFL CONTEST

Are Lions Looking?

"One star in Pontiac's 47-28 triumph over a strong Lansing team was Jim Johnson, a 180-pound halfback from Tecumseh," reported the Pontiac Press recently.

He has been a standout with the Arrows for two seasons and hopes the parent club, the Detroit Lions, are looking.

★

THE PRESS noted, "Johnson has been the 'jack-of-all-trades' for the Arrows.

"He is one of the leading runners on the team, has done some of the punting and is also one of the top pass receivers.

"Last Saturday night he made two beautiful finger-tip catches for 17-yard and 90-yard touchdowns, one from quarterback Tom Meyers (the former Northwestern All-American) and another from Ron Bishop (ex-University of Detroit star.)

"Johnson's desire to play football is obvious from the fact he travels 90 miles from Tecumseh four times a week to work out with the Arrows," said the Press.

★

IN A 25-14 win over Flint, Jim tallied three times, two on aerials from Meyers.

One score came when Johnson grabbed a pass, "and the strong-legged flanker eluded four Blue Devils to go in for a 39-yard touchdown play."

On another scoring strike, "It was a brilliant catch for Johnson, who took the ball away from a Flint defender."

Pontiac competes in the professional Midwest Football League.

TEEN TALK

By DEBY EARLING

In memory of Mrs. Ruth La Prad an announcement board has been erected in front of the High School on Maumee St.

It was donated by the Student Council and assembled by Charles Gross' classes who also carved the poles which support it. Sylvia Fritz, 1966 graduate, painted the shields that adorn each end.

√

The Pledge of Allegiance has been reinstated into the daily curriculum at the High School as a result of letters from various classes protesting its omission.

Because of "lack of time and enthusiasm" it was decided by Neville Hart, principal, that the Pledge would be recited only on Monday mornings.

Fifth hour government class sent a letter to Mr. Hart requesting that the matter of resuming the daily Pledge be reconsidered.

Mr. Hart, who was pleased by their patriotism, read it over the PA and invited all the other classes to submit letters expressing their opinions. He received 14 letters including one from the Spanish Club which represents nearly 100 students. This means that half the student body was in favor of asserting their patriotism daily.

√

Future Nurses will initiate new members Oct. 6. Mothers are invited to attend the meeting. Group pictures will be taken and refreshments will be served.

√

President — Jean Brazee
Vice-President — Kenny Pieh
Secretary — Jackie Work
Treasurer — Steve Tilton
Student Council Representatives — Bill Puffer, Lorie Beavers, Joette Brees, John Birchfield.

Latin Club will meet Oct. 25 in room 14. There will be a guest speaker.

The club is in charge of construction and sales of Homecoming tickets. They will be sold in the study halls Oct. 17 through Oct. 21, for $1.50 per couple and at the door Oct. 21 for $2.00.

School Counseling Second Step Begins

Second phase of the counseling program at Tecumseh High School is underway.

This aspect consists of introducing freshmen to the situation, that is the one-to-one relationship of the counselor and the counselee sitting down together to talk.

Together they fill out the personal data sheet, gathering such information as the student's age, grade, parents' names, sisters, and brothers' names and educational background.

They discuss the subjects the student likes best and which he likes least, which ones he gets the highest and lowest grades in.

Then he is asked his extracurricular activities, what magazines he reads and what kind of books he likes.

The exploration then moves into possible occupational interests, work experiences, future educational plans.

Parking Program Is Long Term

Did you know that there are 52 free off-street parking stalls in downtown Tecumseh?

Orginally, back in 1960 when the program to hardtop, line and light city parking lots started, each place was made complete with a meter.

Revenue bonds of $65,000 to provide money for buying property and making improvement, were sold, with income from the meters earmarked to pay off the principal and interest.

Downtown Tecumseh is blessed with nearly 300 paved off street stalls, all within short walking distance of stores — a setup many communities would trade their eye teeth for.

The method was simple — merchants would kick in cash to buy up the parking meter bonds. Some storemen gave or pledged for amounts up to $500 each — wise investments in the future of the city.

This enabled Pat's committee to go to city fathers, cash in hand, to pay off a portion of the debt.

Voila! Fifty-two meters got the ax.

The remaining bonds amount to more than $50,000 and that's the long-range target at which Pat is firing.

Taking the route, one jump at a time, the goal can eventually be reached, he feels.

What finer item to advertise than "Free Off-Street Parking Behind All Downtown Tecumseh Business Places."

Some day it may come to this and 52 free spots is certainly an excellent kick-off.

More Industrial Expansion

With H. W. Tuttle and Budd unveiling plans for expansion, we can only say we're delighted — probably echoing reader sentiment right down the line.

This entire area is blessed with an array of excellent manufacturing plants and the lineup continues to grow.

Industry in a community is vital. It offers job opportunities and tax base. But there's another factor — community participation by the firms themselves and their employees. The latter has always been a strong point in Tecumseh and Clinton.

The cities are interested in the industries and the industries are interested in the communities, a marvelous combination.

Give Your Fair Share

It's Community Fund time again.

Our 1966 goal has been established at $60,000 and, to coin a phrase, "That's a lot of potatoes."

Of necessity the campaign calls for participation of everyone in the area. But then, there are benefits for all young and old, through the agencies the Tecumseh Fund helps to support.

First of all come the charities — the American Red Cross, Girl and Boy Scouts, Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic, Michigan Children's Aid Society, Salvation Army, Family Counseling Service and others. Their budgets total $45,884.

From this point, surplus cash collected will go towards Tecumseh park improvements, mainly the Pit area. When the project is completed, the new park will be of tremendous value to folks of the community.

So, let's dig deeply, and each person give his Fair Share to the 1966 drive.

Budget - $25; Not Enough

By CAROL HOWELL

Lenawee County's chapter of the American Red Cross had allocated $25 of its 1965 budget for disaster aid — a reasonable amount considering the fact that there hadn't been a major disaster here for 45 years.

In the wake of the Palm Sunday tornadoes the Red Cross provided $57,000 of the $70,000 given Lenawee County victims.

One In A Series

During the 12-month period from May 1965 through April 1966 Tecumseh residents used, in Herrick Hospital alone, 165 pints of blood.

At the lowest price, $25 per pint, this would have cost $4,125. Under the Red Cross-sponsored Regional Blood Program this blood was supplied at no charge.

Organized by congressional charter in 1900, the American Red Cross is unique in that it is charged by the government with specific responsibilities.

It must provide service to the Armed Forces active, veteran and their families—disaster preparedness and relief programs and assistance in carrying out the terms of Geneva Convention.

In addition the Red Cross may, if it has sufficient funds, carry on its other services.

Its 56 Regional Blood Programs supply about 50% of the whole blood used throughout the nation and a large percentage of the blood derivatives used.

Research is carried on in blood freezing, blood groups and types and the development of new blood products.

Nursing Services courses and first aid and water safety programs are conducted by trained volunteers in formal classes and through demonstrations, films and other mass media education.

Local Red Cross offices are open five days a week and a volunteer is available to take emergency calls around the clock, seven days a week.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

I would like to add my two cents concerning this garbage pick-up. Or should I say the lack of it? I have battled them as long as they have been on, except for one month. That being the month prior to their contract expiration, then it was perfect.

So they got a new contract, because Mayor Easton checked out one phone call and found it to be invalid. Not bothering to ask those of us that have to pay to have the garbage picked up once a week; if that, only to be told by the head office "well we are picking up your whole week's garbage!"

If you are lucky enough to be home when they come, so you can haul all your garbage up from the basement, where you have to keep it or the dogs and flies get it. So now they have the nerve to tell us we MUST take from this same company!

A heartfelt hooray should go to Jim Lincoln, an ex-resident of Stacy St., he knows what the service has been like, especially when you are awakened Sunday morning to the sound of a garbage truck.

A thank you to you Councilman Puffer for sticking up for the citizens of Tecumseh.

Respectfully yours,
Mrs. Harold Iffland

Through My Window

ABOUT OWLS

First of all, I should preface this article with a promise of at least trying to avoid saying some of the obvious things about owls, the groan producing things. There are so many terrible puns which come so easily but I shall fortify myself with good intentions.

Somehow owls always strike me as being friendly and interesting creatures even though my first-hand experience with them is woefully little.

In fact, a face-to-face encounter is practically non-existent—occasionally, however, one will be in the neighborhood and we will hear him either in the evening or during the night.

For the past six or seven weeks there has been owl fun. We have not heard him every night, we can't call him a regular, but he hollers often enough to keeps things interesting.

ABOUT NINE o'clock one evening he was sounding off and the noise was so loud that I wondered if he were not sitting on the railing to the porch ramp.

Although some people do not care for the sound owls make, we all quite enjoy it. I believe that instead of struggling myself, I shall let the Audubon Bird Guide describe our screech owl's call:

"A low, tremulous whistle often rising at first, then falling. It has a plaintive, mournful quality and is sometimes described as a whinny."

In the south, I understand that this owl is often called the shivering owl. I almost think that this is a better name than screech. After all, the screech should denote an ear-piercing, hair - raising, blood - curdling scream, shouldn't it?

★

OF COURSE, our little screech owl's voice can be loud. In fact, one of the interesting things about this owl is that such a little bird has such a big voice.

A screech owl is only about 10 inches long — no, when one discusses owls, it should be high, shouldn't it?

But 10 inches, that is the size of a robin and a robin never seems very big. The birds are built differently though and I suppose the owl's big round head, squat and chunky body, and blunt tail makes him appear bigger.

Actually, in the owl family there is great variety in size. The great-gray owl is a giant, standing some 27 inches high and with a wing-spread often reaching five feet.

The large snowl owl of the far north measures a close second with its 25 inches in height. At the other end of the scale is the tiny pygmy owl whose length is only six inches — just think, that is not much bigger than a wren.

★

OWLS ARE often a persecuted group and how unfair. They do a tremendous amount of good. Instead of being killed and driven away, they should be encouraged to come into a neighborhood.

Mainstays of their diet are rats, mice, snakes, insects and all sorts of other undesirables.

They are efficient hunters, too, an authoritative estimate is that in one night a barn owl will capture as much small prey as 12 cats. (Perhaps we should do away with cats and bring on the owls!)

Of course, these birds are superbly equipped for their night-time hunting excursions. They have large eyes which are extremely sensitiv to even the faintest flicker of light.

Their acute sense of hearing enables them to pursue prey entirely by sound when necessary and their soft ragged feathers sound-proof their flight to the point of it being practically soundless.

So it is that Marda should now take a deep bow because, just imagine, one whole article about owls and not once did she get wise and say, "Owls — who gives a hoot!"

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Four dignitaries from the Toledo Zoological Society, headed by Director Phil Skeldon, were in town last week.

They'd come to take a look at the fabulous "museum" in the basement of the Jens Touborg home at 704 W. Pottawatamie St.

Their eyes popped in amazement — even though these fellows are accustomed to seeing the finest and most unusual in animals, both live and stuffed.

There are probably a lot of Tecumsehites who don't realize that in our midst is a genuine big game hunter, who not only bags exotic trophies, but has them mounted for a collection which now totals 55.

Five are full size, including a magnificent Bengal Tiger shot in India, a black-maned lion from Africa, a sleek Brazilian jaguar, frozen in mid-stride.

If you are starting to think that Jens gets around, you're right. Safaris have taken him to Africa four times, India, Brazil and Alaska once each.

Born in Vinding Vejle, Denmark 65 years ago, Jens came to Tecumseh in 1936 to help the infant Tecumseh Products Co. get off the ground. One of his major contributions was the design of the hermetically-sealed compressor, which revolutionized the refrigeration industry.

From the time he was 10, Jens dreamed of big game hunting. His retirement from the Products in 1955 sprung him for this new career.

★

BAGGING PHIL jag proved to be his most harrowing experience — and nearly cost Jens his life.

The hunter stands firmly, extending the razor-sharp point of the spear towards the jag, which eventually will turn on a pursuer and attack.

As the animal leaps, it impales itself on the spear.

It was a rugged hunt, lasting 21 days. Each morning at two the group started, dogs fanning out in search of a fresh jaguar trail, followed by the two hunters and a native guide on horseback.

They searched until about noon, when the dogs, horses and men were exhausted.

After more than two straight weeks of this, Jens began to think he was on a South American snipe hunt.

All this changed abruptly on the 21st day when the dogs picked up a spoor and then the jaguar came into view, racing towards heavy cover.

It had been searching for cattle, but when spied sprinted for a place to hide.

THE MEN dismounted and entered the underbrush on foot. The guide shouted. The jag had circled the party and was poised to attack from 30 feet.

Jens wheeled and fired, striking the animal's jugular vein. Blood gushed out, but the wound hadn't phased the jag's attack.

At this split second, Jens was cheered by the presence of Sasha, who leaped forward with his spear and caught the cat on the point.

It jerked free, backed off and got ready to attack again. The move gave Jens time to get back into action and he fired the killing shot.

From the jungles of Brazil, with its harrowing danger, Jens returned home unscathed, slipped in the shower and cracked a rib.

When the Toledo contingent headed for home, following the nearly two-hour visit with Jens, they seemed as impressed with the hunter as his trophies.

Off for Florida

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hall left Monday for El Rancho Village, Brendenton, Fla. where they will spend the winter.

Underwood Takes Over Tecumseh Area Ford Franchise

FORD TERRITORY FOR GEORGE UNDERWOOD EXPANDED BY RECENT DEAL

George Underwood's Fordland franchise now includes all of Tecumseh, Britton and Tipton, in addition to his Clinton territory.

In a recent transaction, Mr. Underwood obtained assets of Tecumseh Motor Sales from Jim Finch.

Underwood Fordland will operate its entire territory from the Clinton location with plans for larger facilities to be announced later.

"We are, however, expanding our sales and service capabilities in the present quarters, having added another salesman, a parts manager and two mechanics to our staff," the Ford dealer noted.

Underwood Fordland ranks in the top 10 among 168 agencies in the Lansing Zone, which covers all of Michigan, except for the metropolitan Detroit area.

He opened a used car lot at what now is the location of his Fordland on the Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., later had Packard and Edsel franchises.

In 1954, he obtained Lincoln and Mercury, then the complete Ford line in 1961 when he bought out the former Lancaster agency.

Mr. Underwood currently employs 18 people in his sales, service and accounting departments.

Mr. Underwood also owns a used car lot on M-52 at the north edge of Adrian, which is being operated by George Underwood, Sr., and Thomas Prange.

Ken Connair Wins Holiday

Kenneth Connair, 304 Outer Dr., has won the free weekend at an Albert Pick Motor Hotel. Mr. Connair was drawn as a preliminary winner from Green's Clothing, then was picked in the final drawing.

Mr. Connair and his wife Nan plan to take a trip to an out-of-state hotel, either Columbus or Cleveland, Ohio, in late fall or early winter.

He is employed in the Tecumseh Products service department.

Eight more weekly prizes, sponsored by Tecumseh merchants, are to follow.

M-MSU Battle of Bands Ends in Tie, Folks Agree

"Hey, whose side are you on?" queried the fellows sitting behind Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Dickinson at the Michigan-Michigan State game Saturday in East Lansing.

Trying to be impartial, the couple had been cheering for both teams.

What else could they do with a son in each school — with a son in each marching band?

Late Friday night two tickets were sent to Opal and Fred — from whom they still don't know.

As they excitedly climbed to their seats, walking next to the tunnel at the north end of Spartan Stadium, out popped the Michigan band.

There was Tim, not more than six feet form them.

He looked astonished. Until that moment, he had no idea his parents were within 80 miles of the field.

30 Volunteers Consider Aims

A charity goal of $45,884 has been set, with leaders hoping for $60,000. Overage will go to develop "The Pit" as the city's center of recreation.

Snappy Tunes, Crisp Air Keep Feet Tapping

By CAROL HOWELL

It was a perfect night for a Band Festival — crisp enough to make you tap your feet, even if the music didn't get through to you.

The bleachers were jammed and late comers dotted the banks overlooking the Tecumseh High School athletic field to see and hear more than 600 young bandsmen from 11 communities.

Many sported new uniforms. All were decked out, shako to spats, to lend polish to the event.

Gate receipts were split equally among the participating units.

In addition, there were $125 in overtime levied against bands who exceeded the established seven-minute time limit.

The fines go to the Lenawee County Band Directors' Scholarship Fund.

Leading off, the Deerfield band delivered a medley of tunes from the pre-Rock and Roll era. Highlights were "Sentimental Journey" and a snappy rendition of 'Basin Street Blues," featuring a routine by three majorettes backed by the trumpet section.

Addison, resplendent in red, white and black, took the field with the familiar "Give My Regards to Broadway." In the "Box Office Serenade" that followed, the group offered a number of amusing routines, notably "The Colonel Bogie March."

Madison took as its theme "The History and Growth of Patriotism," swinging into well-executed formations for "Yankee Doodle Dandy," "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition," and "You're a Grand Old Flag."

★

"LIVING PICTURES" of stereo recordings were the Hudson's contribution. In formation, the unit covered musical history from the "Frere Jacques" round through gramophones ("Spring Song") to the new big brass sounds, ending with an impressive treatment of "Drummer Madness."

Junior's development was reviewed, from "Chopsticks" through a tremulous first solo, to the formation of his own dance band, with an especially clever bugle display.

Eight Blissfield drummers whooped it up with "Girl from Ipanema" to conclude a medley of songs suggested by "TV Heroes." Standouts were a tricky routine to "You Gotta Be A Football Hero" and a very Latin "Mama Mucharo."

Adrian entered the field to a ragtime Cohan beat. Sousa and Big Ten selections gave way to "America" and then — they turned out those new football lights!

Eight Adrian majorettes with flaming batons took the Festival's biggest band through an intricate "Flying Saucer" routine in total darkness.

★

STRUTTING to "Mame" majorette Pam Walsh led Sand Creek in a "Pop Music, USA" medley that included "Whatever Shape Your Stomach Is In," a number rarely heard in band concert.

"Tijuana Taxi" and "Second Hand Rose" were done with precision by Sand Creek.

The Britton-Macon band presented "The History of the American Flag." Fast-moving arrangements of "Stars and Stripes Forever," "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "God Bless America" took them through a variety of routines.

An exciting touch was the unfurling of a 50-star flag to the strains of "America the Beautiful."

High-stepping Clinton romped through "Turkey in the Straw," majorettes joining the ensemble in a rousing combination of "Turkey" and "Rockin' the Blues." The performance concluded with "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" — and swing they did!

Six pompon girls led the Tecumseh marching band through a tribute to South America senoritas.

THE MOST colorful display was yet to come.

Bruce McCormick, Blissfield band director and president of the Lenawee County Bandmasters' Association, took the podium and the 11 participating bands returned to the field for the evening's finale.

The young musicians delivered "Mr. Touchdown USA" and a reverent "God of Our Fathers," concluded with the National Anthem while majorettes and mascots came to motionless attention on the sidelines.

Injuries Plague THS Chances

Tecumseh plays Grosse Ile for the first time in the Huron League Friday night, and possibly the championship depends on the outcome of the game.

Under normal conditions, Coach Tom Fagan's club would whip GI. Conditions are not normal, at least for the Indians.

John Anderson, suffering a left knee injury on the last play of the first half against Milan, is very doubtful. Roger Young, along with Anderson, is the best back Tecumseh has and he's doubtful.

Young has been out of action since the Willow Run tilt, except for a couple of minutes against Flat Rock.

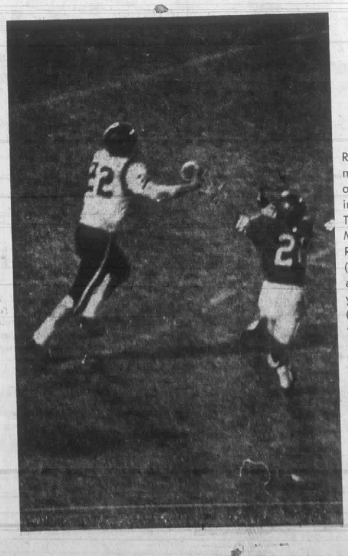
Dean Hebb, 6' 3" end who grabbed three touchdown passes last week, is ailing with a sore thigh and won't be up to par if he plays.

As if these three are not enough, Henry Mensing, the best guard and linebacker seen this year, is suffering from a bad knee and may not play.

The 5'8" 190-pound lineman injured his knee against Milan and Fagan says he won't play if it jeopardizes Mensing's health.

He's been the backbone of Tecumseh's defense all season and the Indians' defense has been tough, despite two losses.

If two or three of the injured can play, Tecumseh has an excellent chance of topping the loop with a 3-0 mark. If none play, the game's a tossup.



TD Trot

Rangy Dean Hebb (22) made a great catch (left) of a toss from Jim Mobley in the second quarter of Tecumseh's victory over Milan. There was only Big Red to beat, Don Outland (26) and Hebb wheeled around him, sprinting 35 yards to the end zone (right) for the first of his three TDs. Hebb's excellent all-around play brought him Lineman of the Week laurels from Coach Tom Fagan. The Indians are rolling strongly now, with two straight victories and an excellent chance to capture the Huron League crown. This Friday, they travel to Grosse Ile. For grid game reports, see Section C, page one.

Plans Made for Programs

Eleven members of the Senior High Youth Fellowship of Tecumseh Methodist Church held a two-day planning session last weekend at Judson Collins Camp near Wamplers Lake.

Programs to study other religions, a mission study, Bible study, a discussion on sex and morals, a concentration on Methodist beliefs, and a program on war and peace will complete the Sunday evening sessions for the 1966-67 year.

Several trips are scheduled, one to a synagogue in Jackson and one to Ypsilanti State Hospital, where a party will be given for the guests.

Annual visit to the Chelsea Home, a skating party, caroling, and a camping weekend will round out the year's events.

Products' VP Resigns Post

Mr. Wade had served in the capacity for the past year and one-half, coming here from Seiberling Rubber Co. in Akron, where he was vice-president.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

"If you have enough guts to print this letter you are a better man than I think you are," started a letter to us. Only problem, the writer forgot to sign his name.

Therefore, to him or her, we say, "If you have enough guts to sign your name to your note, we'll be delighted to print it."

Saturday will be a legal banking holiday — thus, both United Savings of Tecumseh and Adrian Federal Savings and Loan will be closed all day.

Here's the deal: Oct. 12 is Columbus birthday, but that's Wednesday. Somebody up in Lansing decided that the nearest Saturday to the anniversary of Chris would be the day to close shop.

You understand perfectly now, don't you?

Whose little wooden keg is this? Leo Judson of Ternes Rd. found a small wooden keg on W. Brown St. Wednesday with the inscription "Established in 1844, trademark registered in 1888" and Pennsylvania White Lead Works on it. Before the Judsons turn their treasure into a flower pot, they would like a little history of it.

Mrs. Merle Hunt of The Blue Dot in Clinton said Monday that she would like to see more Tecumseh area young people enjoy the facilities at the teenage spot. "The Necessities" will play for a dance Saturday from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Refreshments are to be available for the adult chaperoned event. The Blue Dot is open every night until 9 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 2 to 6 p.m.

Mrs. Yale Kerby and her hurrying GOP Girls are really on the go. They accompanied Gov. Romney to the State Corn-Picking Contest last Thursday and campaigned with the Governor, Rep. Marvin Esch and Bob Stites from Palmyra to Adrian. From there, back to Tecumseh, where they greeted Mrs. Esch and guests at the Shawnee Republican Women's Tea.

Annual 10-week distribution of The Herald to 1,000 Irish Hills resorters is a great project, says Mrs. Sally Pope, of Gaston Jewelry. The idea has produced considerable summer business, according to Mrs. Pope, who now numbers among her own clients folks from LaGrange, Ill., Livonia, Detroit, and Dearborn — all the result of being given copies of the local weekly. Merchants chip in to pay for the promotion.

Ribbons and silver trays are flying through the mails from California to the Earl Roe residence, 211 W. Logan St. Son, Robert, has a Shetland Pony, Dee Dee, that he is planning to enter in National competition next year. She won first prizes in the Santa Barbara County Fair and the Ventura Horse Show as well as the annual Channel City Horse Show and a third at the National Date Festival Horse Show. Dee Dee is little, but oh, my!

Every play seems to be crucial this season for Coach Tom Fagan, gridiron mentor of the Tecumseh Indians. But through it all — including a multitude of injuries — Tom comes up smiling. A lot of folks feel he should be ranked as one of Tecumseh's finest coaches, both as a teacher of football and builder of men.

LBJ wants to boost Social Security payments. The older we get, the better this idea sounds.

Virginia Murray adds to her many conquests. She has received a part in "The Diary of Anne Frank" in the new Stone Village Theatre Repertory season. The play will open the season Oct. 21 and 22 with an 8:30 p.m. curtain time. Congratulations Gin.

No need to go out of the city for a color tour. Just look around. Leaves seem to be more brilliant this year than ever.

The big house moved down M-50 Wednesday to its new site on the Louis Letsche farm, directly across from Hidden Lake Gardens. Mr. Letsche purchased the home at 210 W. Logan St. from the Presbyterian Church. Plans are for a parking lot on the former location, where the Ed Brown's lived.

FUND DRIVE BEGINS — Retail and commercial solicitations for the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation's 1966 campaign begin officially Oct. 17. Mrs. Douglas Hall of Kustom Kraft gives the drive an early boost as she hands over her check to retail chairman John Day. All local businesses will be contacted by John's committee sometime next week. Volunteers assisting in this division of the appeal are Bob Booze, Ric Creswell, Bruce Corley, John Howell, Tom Morgan, Dorothy Osborne, Frank Sandhoff, the Rev. Alfred Sheley and Ray Shelton.

Vocational Promotion Is Urged

Gordon Bogart of Jackson, District Director of Division I, explained the November theme, "One Nation Under God", before the Tecumseh Exchange Club Monday evening.

Guest speaker was the Rev. Julian Gresham, who urged the promotion and development of vocational education in Lenawee County.

Research over the past 13 months has indicated a need for such a program, he said.

Officers and committeemen were invited to attend the Division I workshop Saturday at Holiday Inn in Jackson.

Police Have Sudden Drop in Accidents

Accidents dropped sharply here during the past week with the Tecumseh police handling only six minor mishaps.

Oct. 9 — James Rodlund, 18, Adrian, bumped into Wendell L. Williams, 606 W. Kilbuck St., at the intersection of S. Pearl and W. Pottawatamie Sts. No charges were made.

Oct. 10 — Peter Michajlnko, 60, of 606 Occidental Rd., was cited for improper backing. He backed out of his driveway into Glen D. Benschoter, 23, Adrian.

Gideons Making Visitation

The Gideons will make their annual visit to the First Baptist Church Sunday.

During the worship hour, a representative will speak and a collection will be taken for the Gideon work, which includes the placing of Bibles in hotel rooms and schools.

Eighty-five attended the Baptist Youth Rally Saturday evening in the Youth House of the church. The local Youth Fellowship group were the hosts, serving cider and doughnuts after the program.

Nursery School Benefits Both Mother, Child

Ways in which both mother and child benefit from the child's participation in a nursery school program were outlined for members of the Child Study Club by Mrs. Claude Sebring.

Speaking on "The Development of a Pre-Schooler," at the Club's Oct. 10 meeting, Mrs. Sebring described a morning's activities at the Tecumseh Nursery Center, where she is a teacher.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Richard Gates and Mrs. Richard Chatters. Mrs. Robert Marsh and Mrs. Joseph Schneider provided Halloween cookie favors.

Planning Center Offers Drawings

Ideas, specifications and drawings of custom homes and remodeling, among others, are plans being offered by Milton J. Appel in his new business, The Planning Center.

Mr. Appel left the Tecumseh Products in Sept., 1965, to form Milton International, Inc., specializing in the design and construction of white rooms (air pollution contamination control) for the government and industry.

He has worked with the Army Corps of Engineers, NASA, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Navy and various industries.

He decided the job called for too much time away from home and has based himself in Tecumseh, where he has been a resident for 12 years.

He was in charge of heating, ventilation, air conditioning construction and underground systems during his employment with the Products.

Mr. Appel, 39, a native of Toledo, attended Stetson University in DeLand, Fla., and LaSalle University.

Janouseks Recover from Illnesses in Africa

(Editor's Note: Gerald and Charlotte Janousek were in Tecumseh in 1965 on furlough from the College of West Africa. A letter from them tells of the many happenings in the life of the family since their return to Monrovia. Prior to their missionary work, Mr. Janousek taught at Tecumseh Junior High School and Charlotte was a nurse in Dr. Richard Dustin's office.)

Dear Friends:

Far too many months have passed since we sent out a letter to all of you. Many things have happened to us since our departure from the U. S. in August, 1965 and we will try briefly to bring you up-to-date.

Upon our arrival we were happily surprised to be met by missionaries and several of our Liberian friends, and immediately we plunged into work awaiting us here.

In November Jerry was taken suddenly ill and was hospitalized. He is just now getting to the point where he is up to his normal energies. The doctor diagnosed it as a strange virus, plus a severe throat and inner ear infection that affected his equilibrium.

In February Charlotte was bitten by a rabid dog; and as the result of a severe reaction to the rabies serum, she was hospitalized with serum sickness.

We thank God for His many mercies and sustaining strength during these trying times. She is glad to be feeling up to correspondence again, even though not able yet to resume her duties at CWA.

This year has only been a time of testing and of drawing closer to the Lord. Out of fire comes strength, and we surely feel we are all spiritually stronger for having gone through these crises.

The girls have had a busy year, both academically and socially. They certainly are not lacking for friends. The house seems to be a gathering place for teen-agers and we are happy they desire to come here.

Susan is in the 10th grade and her closest friend is the daughter of the Israeli ambassador, who lives across the road from us. She has had the opportunity to learn many interesting things about Jewish religion through her friend, even attending a Bar Mitzvah, which is a special celebration given when a Jewish boy reaches the age of 13. She also has been able to share many ideas of her own faith with her Jewish friend.

Deb has reached an important time in her life. She graduated from the College of West Africa —the first missonary child ever to do so, as far as our investigations have revealed. We think this in itself is meaningful, of course, but also in another sense.

CWA was founded by Melville B. Cox, who was the first Methodist missionary ever sent out to a foreign country by the American Methodist Church. She has been accepted for Asbury College in Wilmore, Ky., where she hopes to prepare for early elementary education.

The College of West Africa continues to lead the secondary schools in this country. Other schools are being upgraded, making it necessary for us not to slacken in our scholastic endeavor.

Jerry has continued to put new emphasis on the daily chapel programs, with the use of occasional outside speakers that come for four and five days consecutively.

It has been a real burden on our hearts that Charlotte was unable to fill the vacancy for a Bible teacher due to her illness. This spot has remained empty for lack of personnel to fill it. However, it appears that we can expect an A-3 in September for which we are truly thankful, as this needs to be an area of our greatest emphasis.

The school health service is maintained by one of our students to whom Charlotte had given responsibilities last term. He carried on in her absense while we were home on furlough, and he has continued to do well during her long illness.

We are so thankful for those who are willing and concerned enough to accept their responsibilities.

We wish to thank all of you who have held us up in prayer during our illnesses, and for the many get-well and birthday cards as well as personal gifts and gifts for the work here that have come during the past months.

All are deeply appreciated and should (and would have) been personally acknowledged under different circumstances. We ask your continued prayer as we continue to labor for Him in these changing times.

Sincerely in Him,
The Gerald L. Janousek Family

TWO VIEWS OF BIG PLAY — Dean Hebb grabs touchdown toss — the play went 53 yards — from Jim Mobley and two Herald cameras snapped the action. From above, the rangy end is seen with the ball a scant few inches from his fingertips. In the ground-level shot at right, Dean has gathered in the ball and ready to blast off for pay dirt. All in all, she completed five aerials, good for 127 yards. Mobley was the THS thrower Friday, connecting on 7 of 9 tosses

2 Infants Baptized

Two infants were received through Holy Baptism into the Gloria Dei Evangelical Church Sunday, Michelle Renee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jennings and Daniel William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gamber.

Mrs. H. H. Hanna, director of the Protective Service, was the guest speaker of the LCW Monday night when 32 ladies welcomed her.

She explained the program's basic goal, the prevention of delinquency and neglect. Community organizations, including churches, are used in reaching the basic goal. She called for help from the different organizations of the community.

A question and answer period followed her speech which mobilized every listener to give a helping hand for developing the Protective Service in this community.

The Lutheran Church Women will have a two-day convention in Detroit, Oct. 18-19. World Day will be represented by seven members, Mrs. William MacBeth as delegate, Mrs. Dean Sheldon, alternate delegate and Mrs. James Tonneberger, Mrs. William Ferow, Mrs. Stan Rentschler, Mrs. Fred Weseloh and Mrs. Laszlo Gero as guests.

State Grange Convention

The Michigan State Grange will hold its annual convention Oct. 19-22 in Griswald Auditorium, Allegan.

Highlights of the Wednesday program are the annual address by Grover Grigsby, state master and the banquet; Thursday, elections; Friday, committee reports; Saturday, youth day.

Will you pay $600 more than necessary to do over your kitchen?

You could if you have to borrow the money, but not if you save ahead. Just make saving with us a habit. Then when you want money for something special, you'll have it. Your savings will work for you and earn excellent returns. This is a lot more profitable to you, than borrowing and paying interest on a loan. In fact, the difference between the earnings you get and the interest you'd pay on, say, a $2,500 kitchen (or attic or living room or whatever room) remodeling could add up to a new patio. See how the saving habit pays off! Saving makes the difference.

FALL FUN — The crackle of crisp leaves underfoot and bright skies make an afternoon of raking fun for Shanna Robinson and Jerry Marine. Huge piles of leaves are being gathered all over the city. The leaf sweeper will pick them up once a week in older sections of town, as needed in other parts. Of course, fall wouldn't be fall without a crackling bonfire, roasting marshmallows — but burning is not allowed in the streets because it ruins curbing and asphalt paving.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Surprise parties are in vogue this week. Friends and neighbors popped in on the Oscar Snyders to help them celebrate their 45th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Lyle Marine and son, Ricky, gave a bang up party for her husband Sunday evening to honor his natal date.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Marine and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Marine and family, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Goldsberry and James Clime of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wagner and family, Mrs. Josephine Marine of Britton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McGuire and Ken, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Demlow and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schultz and Lori and Fred Wegner, all of Palmyra and Mrs. Edna Staib of Manchester.

√

√

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Bihlmeyer surprised their daughter, Teresa, Friday night after the football game with a party of friends who hid in the garage.

Jeff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Baker, 5762 Rogers Hwy. Terry is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. William Fielder, 217 N. Pearl and Ken is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bagby, 1201 Murray Dr.

√

The Rev. and Mrs. Alvin Brazee write from Murfreesboro, Tenn., en route to their winter home in St. Cloud, Fla., asking that The Herald be sent to them.

√

Howard Hunt left Sunday accompanying his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hunt, and family to Arizona and California for a three-week stay.

√

Mr. and Mrs. George Meads and daughter, Georgia, entertained Sunday in honor of their son, Richard, and his fiancee, Wilhemina Schock of Mongaup Valley, N. Y. Guests included the G. E. Penrod family of Adrian, Mrs. Allen Abner and Mrs. Oscar Meads. Miss Schock returned to Mongaup Valley Sunday afternoon by plane. Richard is on leave from the submarine USS Jack at Portsmouth, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cornell and Mrs. William W. Grigg were in Mentor, Ohio last weekend as houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. David Patterson.

S/Sgt. Billy N. Maynard has been re-assigned to Korea where he will serve as Field Artillery Chief of Section. At the conclusion of a 13-month stint at Fort Carson, Colo., S/Sgt. Maynard recently spent three weeks in Tecumseh at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Maynard, 808 Shady Lane. His wife, Muriel, and 4-year-old daughter, Cherie, will reside in Pikeville, Ky., while he completes his service.

Discuss - Far East

Mrs. Theodore Johnson of Saginaw, recently returned from the Far East, fascinated those attending family night at the First Baptist Church Monday evening.

The state president of Baptist Women had the honor of presiding at a meeting of the Centennial of Baptist work in Angol, India.

In telling of the dire poverty there, she spoke of the hospital having no sterilizer and because of the lack of a resuscitator, the leader on the Mission Compound died.

In Calcutta, she said that she saw garbage men carry away two men who had died in the street during the night, because they had no home.

Poverty is so great that young people cannot afford $10 a month to keep them in school, which would also provide their food and housing.

Mrs. Johnson challenged those present to help more with World Wide Missions.

Mrs. George French presided and Mrs. George Burkhard gave the opening prayer.

Mrs. Blair Bashore dedicated the love-gift of $38.35. Ruth Daniels, retired missionary, gave the benediction.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fosbender and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Vincze were the hosts.

Mrs. Johnson was an overnight guest of the Fosbenders.

Mrs. Champanois will be in charge of the Baptist World Day of Prayer program, "Man Cries, God Answers" Monday, Nov. 7, in the Youth House.

BLOCKERS GALORE — No wonder Jim Mobley picked up 26 yards on this sweep late in the second quarter. He's got Buddy Work (36), John Anderson (34), Henry Mensing (63) and Randy Robinson (12) running interference for him. On the next and final play of the first half, Anderson ran for 15 yards to Milan's 24, and was hurt. Dr. Merlyn Blanden and others helped the fullback from the field. He's not expected to play against Grosse Ile Friday night, and Mensing is also a puestionmark.

Hey, Let's Get Going on Christmas Mailings

Postmaster General [illegible]ence F. O'Brien has sent a manual for winning the battle with the annual avalanche of Christmas mail to all area postmasters.

Mr. O'Brien also reminded mailers to shop early, mail early and use ZIP Codes.

"It definitely is not too early to start putting your mailing lists in order," he said.

- Domestic surface mail — gift parcels for distant states by Dec. 5, for near-by areas by Dec. 14. Greeting cards for distant states by Dec. 10, for near-by areas by Dec. 15.
- Overseas surface mail — should be sent no later than Nov. 10. Overseas air mail should be sent by Dec. 10. Domestic air mail is suggested for the tail-end of the mailing rush.

The Postmaster General reminded those mailing to servicemen in the Pacific area and Southeast Asia that small parcels weighing five pounds or less may be mailed at the domestic surface rate between the point of deposit and San Francisco.

The packages will be sent by surface to the West Coast and by air on a space available basis to their final destination. Heavy emphasis is placed on the use of ZIP Codes.

Tells About Buddhism

By KAY STEELE

In describing Buddhism to the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, Chintamani Piyaratna spoke of the ultimate reality or Enlightenment as the greatest desire of the true Buddhist.

A native of Ceylon, where he is Director of Health Education in Colombo, Mr. Piyaratna is studying for his doctors degree at the University of Michigan.

Prior to this he earned degrees from the University of Colombo and the University of London.

The speaker discussed his own youth, living with his grandfather, in explaining the simplicity of the Buddhist faith, which has a code of conduct similar to the Christian' Ten Commandments.

Mr. Piyaratna spoke of four noble truths and eight ways of attaining Enlightenment in explaining the foundation for the beliefs.

In addition to this, he touched upon the self-destruction of Burrhists in Vietnam, explaining that this is in opposition to the Buddhist basic belief, but he stated that it was a method of calling attention to the evils of communism in that part of the world.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. Carroll Sprague, Society president, announcements were made concerning the Fall Festival to be held Wednesday, Nov. 9, in the new educational building.

Committees were announced and the general theme, a turn of the century affair, was described.

Greeters for the evening were Mrs. Andrew Woodward and Mrs. Robert Cheers. Mrs. Lenore West, Miss Marvel Steinhoff and Mrs. D. J. Martin were hostesses.

Salvage Broken Lives

By CAROL HOWELL

For more than 70 years, the organization has offered refuge and rehabilitation to often neglected segments of mankind.

Working inside prisons, the group provides a program of religious and educational activities for inmates. Outside, it works with prisoners' families, supervises and counsels parolees.

★

SHELTERS OF the Salvation Army offer meals, lodging, clothing and medical aid for the transient.

Family welfare workers give emergency assistance to the needy in a variety of ways.

Eventide residences in Detroit and Saginaw provide happy places for the elderly to find companionship and the means to keep themselves occupied.

ONE IN A SERIES

Through a program of religious education, vocal and instrumental music instruction, handicraft classes, dramatic societies and the like, useful citizens arise from high-delinquency areas.

Because so much of its work is centered in the courts, prisons, hospitals and along Skid Row, the Salvation Army is in a unique position to assist in tracing missing persons.

★

ADDITIONAL services include therapy and counseling for the alcoholic, the maintenance of the Evangeline residence, a "home away from home" for working girls, and the operation of two emergency disaster canteens in the Eastern Michigan area.

The Salvation Army, a member of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, receives a portion of your contribution to the 1966 United Appeal.

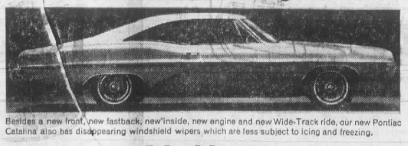
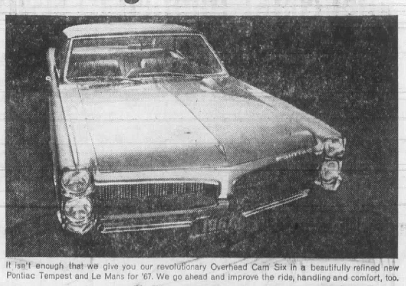
His-'n'-hers headlights, disappearing windshield wipers, a 350-hp, 400 cubic inch V-8 and a new convert. To make the Grand Prix more desirable than it's ever been—if you can imagine that.

An elegant way.



Besides a new front, new fastback, new inside, new engine and new Wide-Track ride, our new Pontiac Catalina also has disappearing windshield wipers which are less subject to icing and freezing.

A brash way.



It isn't enough that we give you our revolutionary Overhead Cam Six in a beautifully refined new Pontiac Tempest and Le Mans for '67. We go ahead and improve the ride, handling and comfort, too.

If we have to tell you about The Great One (otherwise known as the Pontiac GTO), maybe you just don't like cars. A new 335-hp, 400 cu. in. V-8 is standard. Or you can order 255- and 360-hp versions.

A bold way.

What else is new in Wide-Track Country? We've got brave new 400 and 428 cubic inch V-8s. Bold new interiors. A host of brand-new standard safety features such as folding front seat back latches on all two-doors, a dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, the energy absorbing steering column developed by General Motors, and a four-way hazard warning flasher. Options? Everything from front-wheel disc brakes to an eight-track stereo tape player. And, of course, all Pontiacs boast the road-hugging security of Wide-Track ride and handling. You say we've said enough and you're already on your way to your Pontiac dealer's? Well hurry. So are a lot of other excited Wide-Track lovers.

And a way that just won't quit.

OEP Still Owes County $108,000 Debt

Rep. Wes Vivian has called and written the Office of Emergency Planning in Washington urging release of $108,000 owed Lenawee County since last year.

One of the responsibilities of the OEP is to provide financial aid to communities struck by natural disasters. The monies in dispute were used to clean-up debris caused by the Palm Sunday tornadoes in 1965.

The Congressman said:

"I have been informed that the only apparent reason for the extended delay is that a dispute exists between your office and the Michigan State Department of Health, regarding what portion of the debris constituted a health hazard.

"If such a dispute exists, I urge you to resolve the specific question in issue expeditiously, in order that Lenawee County may receive the Federal monies due it."

Ethnic Club Gives Support to Romney

Lenawee Republican Ethnic Club, composed of all nationalities in Lenawee County, decided last week to support Governor Romney's Action Team.

The group endorsed Martin Esch for Congress and Robert Stites for state representative. Both made appearances prior to the official opening of the meeting.

Dr. and Mrs. DeLoss Bates, 808 River Acres, were host and hostess for the meeting.

The group will hold a banquet, commemorating its birthday, Oct. 16, with Gilbert Rodrigues as general chairman.

The group also has plans underway for its second annual Christmas Party. Last year over 600 Ethnic children attended. Toby David and Mrs. Romney have already consented to appear and entertain again this year.

Formerly Marian Comfort, Mrs. Neff told of the life among the Fulani tribe, who are herdsmen. She and her husband are the only missionaries there.

She said that the natives helped them build a grass hut in which to live. She showed pictures and souvenirs as she spoke and the group presented her with a cash gift.

Mrs. Bertha Hoag had charge of devotions with each one answering roll with a favorite Bible verse and then in unison they recited Psalm 23.

THE CLASS presented "Make It and Take It" gifts for the Harvest Home Sunday. Among the items were wash cloth slippers, pillow slips, huck towels woven with designs, and sponge soap sets plus aprons.

Many other gifts were gathered for the Friends Home in Columbus, Ohio — an Ohio yearly Meeting Outreach.

OES Elects Officers

The charter of the Tecumseh Chapter No. 51, OES, was draped in memory of Cecil Viele, past patron, at the meeting Oct. 6 when 60 members and guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger presided and Mrs. Ruettinger read a fitting memorial verse also honoring Vernon B. Pattison, past grand patron of the Grand Chapter.

As the verse was read, the conductress, Mrs. Calvin Dixon, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Manley, laid a fern and a yellow rose on the altar.

The Matrons Alumni dinner Nov. 10 will be held at the Methodist Church in Blissfield at 6:30 p.m.

The worthy matron honored the "Sideliners" and Mrs. F. S. McRae sang her own words to the tune of "Quilting Party". Each one present was given a hanger and ornamental clip from the Ruettingers.

Election of officers was held. Those elected are:

Associate Matron — Mrs. Calvin Dixon, Jr.

Associate Patron, James Tonneberger.

Conductress — Mrs. Charles Manley.

Associate Conductress — Mrs. Paul Gilliland, Jr.

Mrs. Glenn Driscoll was escorted to the East through an honor line of Past Matrons and honored by Mrs. Ruetfinger for her 21 years of service as organist of the Chapter.

The organist was presented a bouquet of yellow carnations. Mrs. Donald LaBounty gave her a decorated plate from the Past Matrons Club on her retirement.

Mrs. McRae sang her own words to "Do You Remember" using all of the Matrons names during the 21 years.

Frank S. McRae, father of Mrs. Ruettinger, was presented a ritual on becoming a member of Tecumseh Chapter.

Eight members with October birthdays were presented cup cakes and as the candles were lighted all members sang "Happy Birthday".

Mrs. Ruettinger gave her farewell in verse and thanked all who helped her and her husband during the year, especially her officers.

The officers were led in a semi-circle around the altar and Mrs. McRae sang "Always" and "Whither Thou Goest", as each officer was presented a gift from the Ruettingers. From the associate matron and patron, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, a ceremony, "Weaving A Dream", was given by the Star points and a decorated plate with all officers names on was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Ruettinger.

Doughnuts and cider were served in the dining room from tables with centerpieces of yellow and white chrysanthemums with musical notes in center of each. Mrs. Driscoll was presented the large centerpiece from the head table.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith had charge of the refreshments.

Milan Tumbles

Indians Now Face Grosse Ile

By JIM LINCOLN

Striking quickly through the air, Tecumseh rolled past Milan here Friday night, 26-6, to keep the Indians' Huron League mark unblemished.

Tecumseh's victory put the Indians in a tie for first place in the loop with Grosse Ile. Both clubs sport 2-0 marks and meet this Friday at GI.

★

COACH TOM FAGAN'S club had its troubles with Milan before breaking the game wide open. The Indians simply could not grind it out on the ground, although amassing 228 yards by rushing.

Midway in the second quarter, Tecumseh moved from its own 42 to Milan's 35. Mobley then dropped straight back, hit Hebb cutting to the left.

With just over three minutes left in the first half, the game combination clicked with Hebb all alone on Milan's 45. He raced down the sidelines untouched after Randy Robinson sprung him with a fine block at the Milan 35.

Tecumseh's third score came after Milan yielded the ball at its own 36. The Big Reds, apparently thinking they had about a yard to go on fourth down at their own 30, rammed through the middle for six yards.

Instead of fourth and one, it was actually fourth and 11.

★

MOBLEY AGAIN took to the air and completed four passes in the drive, the last one for nine yards to Hebb directly over the middle of Milan's line.

Hard-running Chuck Gillies tallied the first TD of his prep career one minute later. Taking a hand-off from Scott Edwards, Gillies started wide to his right, cut back and romped 35 yards for Tecumseh's final touchdown.

The Big Reds got on the scoreboard nine plays later after a series of passes carried them to Tecumseh's three. Dan McGovern plunged over. An attempted run for the extra point failed.

The Indians, who have had trouble picking up extra points after TDs, tallied twice with John Anderson running over after Hobb's first score, and Dave Kennel, after Gillies' run.

ANDERSON, Tecuseh's top running back, was injured on the last play of the first half and was helped from the field. He had gained 64 yards on the ground, over half of the Indians' rushing total for the first two quarters.

If Anderson is unable to play against GI, Tecumseh's ground game will be really hurt.

Coach Fagan has had to juggle his backfield since the Willow Run game when Roger Young was injured. Young has played little since and wasn't even dressed for the Milan tilt.

Buddy Work has filled in well for Young, but lacks Young's speed. Robinson took over Anderson's spot in the second half against Milan and ran well.

HERE COME THE INDIANS — Chuck Gillies (32), Gus Bishop (5) and James Upell (35) have Greg Keith (52) of Milan wondering which way there is left to go. Big Red Jim Ross (50) is coming up to help, but apparently he is arriving too late.

Knights Rumble to Fourth Win

By RICK CURRIE

Boysville cheerleaders placed a sign in the school hall last week reading "Undefeated Summerfield Must Be Defeated!"

Their command was carried out Friday as the Fighting Knights shut out the previously undefeated Bulldogs, 32-0.

With this fourth straight shut out victory, the Knights roll into first place in the River Raisin league.

THE BULLDOGS came onto the field chanting "Remember!" (last year they lost 40-0 to Boysville).

But the Knights took the Summerfield's opening kick-off and kept possession of the ball until Lenawee County scoring leader Don Chalmers plunged over the goal line for the first score.

In the second quarter Mike O'Dea went up the middle for a three-yard score and Chalmers made the extra point.

Again after the Boysville defense stopped the Bulldogs from making a first down, it was Chalmers turn to make the score for the Knights, on a brilliantly dancing 34-yard run.

At the beginning of the second half, Summerfield seemed to begin to catch fire. The Bulldogs drove deep into Boysville territory but a cheer rose from the Boysville bleachers "Get tough defense!" It did — on the 15-yard line.

★

THE FOURTH quarter was completely Boysville, as the Knights moved for two more touchdowns. Don Chalmers went over from the nine and then a 23-yard pass from Chalmers to O'Dea.

Chalmers kicked the extra point ending the score 32-0 and defeating the undefeated Summerfield team.

Don Chalmers led the Knights with a total of 202 yards in 24 carries. So far this season Don has totaled 602 yards.

As a team Boysville has scored 138 points while keeping their opponents scoreless. They have racked up 1,353 yards to their opponents 306, and have tallied 47 first downs, allowing their opposition only 16.

Boysville will attempt to make up for last year's defeat to Whiteford this Friday night at Britton. Game time 7:30.

Hoelzer Scores 3 TD's

By IVAN McKENNA

Clinton's Redskins, Lakeland C Champs for the past two years, moved another step closer to making it three straight as they handed Ann Arbor U-High a 36-0 defeat Friday.

It was the Redskins third league victory in as many games.

Clinton jumped off to an early lead and continued to add to it throughout the contest.

Halfback Butch Hoelzer carried the ball 25 yards to account for the initial six points.

Minutes later, it was Hoelzer again, this time taking it in from the 40-yard line.

ONLY THREAT by the Cubs came early in the second half. With the score 12-0, U-High moved the ball to the Clinton 15-yard line, but the Redskins defenders, aided by a penalty, held for four downs.

For the second straight week, Clinton did the bulk of its scoring in the second half.

In the third period Hoelzer scored his third touchdown on a 25-yard slant. Fullback Ivan McKenna capped a Redskin drive with a 4-yard plunge late in the third frame and scampered 20 yards around end for six more with about 10 minutes left in the game.

GUARD TOM WAHL was a standout both offensively and defensively for Ann Arbor.

The Clinton Redskins will have a real test Friday night. In a non-league contest they will face Class B power, Monroe Catholic Central.

Aerials Produce 4 Scores

This time, Hillsdale Frosh were the victims, 40-0.

Scoring came in the first and third quarters.

All three opening period TD's came on passes;

- Mike Kennedy to Ken Pieh for 23 yards.
- Bob Reed to Paul Burns for 61 yards.
- Reed to Paul Hamilton for 19 yards.

Reed also contributed two extra points and Tilton one after these scores.

★

IN THE FINAL quarter, Reed went over twice, once on a two-yard sneak and the other on a 48-yard roll-out.

Tree Champion

Michigan has more types of trees than all of Europe.

Scores Key TD

With a minute to play, Jim Johnson of Tecumseh took a 25-yard aerial in the end zone from Tommy Meyers, giving the Pontiac Arrows a 26-20 decision over Dayton Saturday.

Johnson also scored on a four-yard pitchout play, helping the Pontiac crew rebound from a 20-6 half-time deficit.

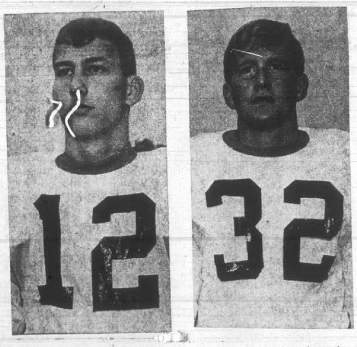
★

IN THE Arrow's five victories and one tie to date, Johnson has picked up 54 points, which puts him first in MFL scoring.

Following last week's decision Coach Lyle Wells asked Jim "How do you like Florida weather"

"Fine," he responded.

"You'll be going to Miami," Coach Wells countered, indicating the Tecumseh lad may be joining the Dolphins of the American Football League.



SHARE BACKFIELD HONORS — Hopping off the bench in the second half against Milan, Randy Robinson (12) and Chuck Gillies (32) turned in fine performances, giving them Tecumseh Backs of the Week honors. Randy gained 40 yards in five carries, Gillies sprinted for a 35-yard TD in one of his four running efforts.

Jim Hunt Scores 3 for JVs

Jim Hunt tallied three touchdowns.

Getting two TD's each were Larry Cote, Rick Steele and John Kennedy.

St Elizabeth Cubs Fall, 34 - 13

Camden-Frontier Junior High of Hillsdale County defeated St. Elizabeth, 34-13, Tuesday night.

One of the scores for the Cubs came when guard Kenneth Forgacs recovered a blocked punt in the end zone.

Halfback Roger Ashenfelter rammed over from the five-yard line for the other St. Elizabeth tally, set up by Bernard Riordan's 50-yard end sweep.

TV Crew Sees Hills

The Irish Hills was alive with activity Thursday as eight men and two women of the WWJ Channel 4 television crew of the "Living" program worked like demons to get a program together to be presented Wednesday, Oct. 19.

The Detroit News truck arrived with cameras, tripods, interior and exterior reflectors and lighting equipment, stage props and ideas galore.

Burton Wright — called "Seldom" by his crew — and assistant program and production manager, Johnny Rogers, kept up a fast pace.

They gathered pictures and information concerning interesting spots on US-12 beginning with the Irish Hills towers.

★

It features Ed Allen and his physical fitness exercises and Lorene Babcock, trained in sociology, who advises those writing in with problems.

The hostess of the show is Carol Duval, a most versatile young woman. She was game for anything Thursday including climbing the Towers and struggling through Mystery Hill.

Her astonishment as she encountered the strange magnetic pull at the Hill was duly recorded by Photographer Les Syler, as Robert McClellan coached his crew members not to tell her what was coming.

Sound engineer Al Skivarini caught Miss Duval's surprised shriek as well as the solicitous remark, "Don't be afraid, it's like floating on a cloud," by manager, Marv Grigg.

SCENES AT Bauer Manor, Stage Coach Stop, Irish Hills Sport Park and Hidden Lake Gardens and Keeney Orchards will be watched with enthusiasm by the natives come Oct. 19.

The magnificent autumn coloring in the Hills will certainly add to the live programming feature said by John Rogers to aim at bringing as many things of vital interest to people both of a light as well as serious nature.

Mr. Rogers, a part-time resident of the Hills, said that the program presents various types of creative projects, current events, both fashions and hair styling as well as bits of interior decoration, and items of a religious and political nature.

Another all-color-sound sequence of the Hills area is planned for springtime, along about Easter, Mr. Rogers said. Only one problem — "it's a tremendous undertaking in one day, we should have three days."

What's Going on at Boysville

By RICK CURRIE

Last Tuesday marked the first anniversary of Pope Paul VI visit to the United Nations. The student council, in honor of the event, sponsored a day of prayer for world peace. In the morning the Votive Mass for Peace was celebrated by school chaplain, Father Francis Juras. At the offertory of the Mass, Don Chalmers, president of the student council and Frank Klos collected pledges from the student body promising to do some spiritual act of prayer each week for world peace.

A little excitement was added to the campus when the Clinton Fire trucks came rushing onto the property. A spark from burning brush set a huge dead tree ablaze. Brother Thomas Scheurer, fearing it would spread out of control, called the Clinton Department. The students marveled at the efficiency of the fire fighters as they quickly brought the blaze under control.

Summerfield had to be beaten, so to stir up spirit in the team and student body, the student council held a bonfire pep rally Thursday night. The Drum and Bugle Corps paraded the students to the rally scene. Richard Kayl, vice-president of the council, also left end of the football team, led the night's festivities with responsive "would you believe" questions. Pep talks were delivered by captains Don Chalmers and John Yankoski and senior cheerleader Willie Dozier. The cheerleaders led the students into victory cheers that could probably be heard clear into Summerfield. The evening was topped by the huge pinnacle of fiery spirit, representing the team's desire to win and the school backing them. The night ended with the Knights enjoying a refreshing cup of hot chocolate and doughnuts.

The campus was saddened by the death of Wayne Lembrick who died of a heart attack Oct. 2 in a Toledo hospital. Mrs. Lembrick, who works in our dining hall, can be assured of our sympathy. Mrs. Santour of Clinton will take Mrs. Lembrick's place until she returns to work.

Brother Robert Fillmore, the school librarian, held a book fair Oct. 5, 6 and 7. The fair was geared for the students to purchase paperbacks of their own. Brother Fillmore said the excellent response show the students are interested in reading, especially good books.

The seniors are preparing to open a small canteen on campus in the old TV room from what was once DePaul Rec. Hall. Don Chalmers, senior class president, said they would sell soft drinks, popcorn, potato chips, ice cream and candy. They will open after school and after supper. Profits will go toward the senior class trip to Washington, D. C.

With mid-quarter comes the posting of the default list. Any student failing in his subject is notified by his teacher with a default. The teacher gives the failing student some suggestions of improvement. If a student receives more than one default, he is required to attend the 8 a.m. study hall until the end of the marking period. Only 32% of the student body received default notices, and only 22 out of the 170 boys at Boysville have to go to the required study hall. The seniors received a pat on the back from president Don Chalmers for being the only class not to have received one single default. He said he was proud of them and hopes they will carry on this record for the rest of the year.

Last issue I promised to write about our three campus dormitories: Holy Cross, St. Joseph, and Cardinal Mooney.

Both St. Joseph and Cardinal Mooney halls have four wings sleeping 20 boys to a wing. Each wing has a Brother prefect in an adjoining room.

St. Joseph houses the freshmen and incoming sophomores.

Holy Cross hall, the eighth graders home, has two wings with 12 boys to a wing.

Besides the Brother prefect, this hall is prefected by a senior. Each month a different senior takes on this responsibility, and, by the way, I am the senior prefect this month.

The dorms are no different than any boy's private room except you share it with 19 other guys. Each has his own locker for personal belongings.

The dorms are attractive, beds are comfortable and each wing has a bath.

We come into the dorms at 9 p.m., shower and get ready for bed. Except for Cardinal Mooney hall lights go out at 9:30 and that means silence in the dorm.

Usually the Brother prefect will allow some music to be played either from the radio or record player each dorm wing has.

Cardinal Mooney hall has individual lights for each bed which are allowed on for reading until 10 p.m.

Some wings have TV and on weekends and maybe once on a week day the set is turned on until 11 p.m.

When everybody cooperates, dormitory sleeping isn't bad.

The Homecoming Queen, elected by the student body, will not be announced until the half-time activities. She will reign with the 12th grade King, Kirk Crutchfield.

The half-time show will also feature a rerun of the parade floats and the winners in that contest will be announced.

Following the game, the Student Council will sponsor a dance in the study hall honoring the Homecoming Queen and her Court. The dance will conclude at 11:30 p.m.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Bright Future for Disc Brakes

Disc brakes have long been standard equipment on most European-built automobiles, due mainly to the narrow, twisting type roadways abroad.

In the past two years, they've started to catch on with American car manufacturers.

Gradually, the auto industry will apparently ease into disc brake as standard equipment.

This possibility is what apparently is behind Budd's erection of a new $6.5 million disc brake manufacturing facility in nearby Clinton — the only one by a major firm devoted strictly to building this product.

But the potential of disc braking is but one phase of the giant Budd Co. It manufactures many different automotive parts.

Budd's Automotive Division is one of the largest independent suppliers to the industry. Its customers include all of the major automobile, truck and bus manufacturers in the United States and in addition, the company has licensee agreements for the use of its patents and processes with 10 foreign automobile manufacturers.

In addition to its new Canadian and Clinton plants, the company has two automotive layouts in Philadelphia, one in Detroit and a fourth in Gary, Ind.

★

BUDD'S AUTOMOTIVE DIVISION produces automobile and truck body components and assemblies, chassis frames, passenger car and truck wheels, hubs and brake drums, drum brakes, dies, jigs and fixtures.

In other divisions, Budd makes railway passenger cars, laminated plastics, vulcanized fibre and cast nylon, non-destructive testing equipment, fine writing and printing papers.

READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

The idea of the bags for garbage may be all right if they will withstand the rain, snow, dogs and the occasional coon that roams and can tear things apart, but lets make everyone use them.

We live in an upstairs apartment and can tell just the time the neighbors three houses over start burning their garbage in the trash barrel.

The smell comes in our air conditioner and through the whole place. Not only is it a disgusting smell to come home to, but our dog wanders over and got in the garbage on the lawn there and was so sick we were ready to put her to sleep.

Let's end the garbage thrown on the highways and being burned and make it compulsory to be picked up.

Thank you,
Mrs. Arthur Sommers
107 S. Maiden Lane

PLANT SITE PREPARED — An army of earth movers was going full blast last week, leveling land at the site of the new Budd disc brake plant, next door to Peerless Gear in Clinton. Right now, 155 footers are going in, with structural steel work expected to begin in a few weeks. When completed, the layout will be worth $6.5 million.

Firm Believer in Gun Safety Shoots Nephew

Joseph Cadez, 38, of Melvindale, believes in gun safety.

At his Wamplers Lake cottage Sunday afternoon Cadez was conducting a lesson on that subject for the benefit of his wife, Helen, and his nephew, William J. Minghine, 19, also of Melvindale.

The gun fell from his hand, discharged, and shot Minghine in the lower leg.

Cadez, suffering embarrassment, still believes in gun safety.

45th Anniversary Couple Surprised

Twenty neighbors and friends of the Oscar Snyders surprised the couple Sunday evening on the occasion of their 45th wedding anniversary by dropping in for a buffet supper.

Mrs. James Hibbard invited the Snyders to her home while guests from Ypsilanti, Riga, Clinton, Adrian and Tecumseh gathered.

A three-tiered cake decorated with turquoise roses centered the dinner table and the group presented a gift to Mr. and Mrs. Snyder.

Through My Window

FROM THE READING TABLE

One of the great marvels in the world just has to be how so many newspapers, magazines and books can be stacked on my reading table. I love to read. Sometimes though it presents a problem, all sorts of interesting, but not terribly useful, facts present themselves and what should one do with them?

For example, the little tidbit that at birth a blue whale is 25 feet long is rather surprising but really now, just how useable is that type of information — who discusses baby whales at the dinner table?

Well, I have arrived at the partial solution to this problem. Instead of cluttering the deep, dark and probably cobwebbed corners of my mind with facts and figures, which once filed away will never again see the light of day, I shall foist a few of them off on you.

A rather cowardly way out but, at least I shall not feel half guilty about spending time reading something which will never serve any frightfully useful purpose.

Thanks for helping.

ITEM 1 — Have you ever thought much about lightning? In a magazine article written by a scientist specializing in "the stuff," he claims that at any given moment there are, around the world, something more than 3,500 thunder storms going on and all these fireworks add up to about 100 brilliant strokes of lightning per second.

In this country alone, lightning causes more than $20 billion worth of property damage each year.

One stroke may contain more than 15 million volts and lightning striking from one cloud to another has often been measured traveling 100 miles.

Flashing on to something else and I could thunder protest on this subject endlessly—but anyway, getting to cats.

It sometimes appears that we are over-run with the prowlers and, after reading a bulletin from the Humane Society, I see why. They estimate that in the United States there are 6,000 kittens born every hour. Just imagine!

★

IN THE SAME magazine, the next article dealt with maximum ages. With so many cats around it is hard to see how any bird life survives for long but they do claim that robins and starlings reach the ripe old age, if lucky, of 12 years.

(I really should not bear down so hard on cats because there are many people who are genuinely fond of them, but I just saw a tramp cat pounce at a sparrow)

Sparrows may reach 14, swallows 12, blackbirds 16 and certain owls 27.

Speaking of owls, and this is left over from last week's article, there are experts who believe that our little screech owls mate for life.

BUT BACK to ages. I was surprised at fish. Black bass have a life span of 11 years, whitefish 15, striped bass 20 and pike may perhaps reach 50.

One more thing, did you know that in Pacific Grove, Calif. there is a city ordinance protecting the monarch butterfly A $500 fine or a six-month jail sentence or both is the penalty for molesting them.

So it is that we wind up this hit and miss took at things from my reading table.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Holding up a box of costume jewelry, auctioneer Victor Scharp of Osseo told the spectators with a wry grin,

"This stuff is all imported. I can smell the salt water."

With this quip, the bidding was off and running once more at the Cooley sale Saturday, an event which attracted a record turnout of people and dollars in deals.

For years, my wife has been telling me how much fun auctions are and this was my baptism of fire. It turned out to be a blast.

Auction bugs are a breed unto themselves, from the fellow who brings along the step ladder so he'll get a clear view of everything to the lady with her magnifying glass for checking engraved marking on the bottoms of possible silver treasures.

Mr. Scharp has been at the podium 44 years now and he called the Cooley caper the biggest antique sale he ever held.

Prior to the 9:30 a.m. starting time, Bill Spycher, the administrator of the Cooley estate, estimated gross sales for the day at about $1,000.

When things were wrapped up at 5:30 p.m., the cashier's adding machine tape showed more than $4,000.

What impressed me most was the way people turned out. If you recall Saturday, it never dawned, just grew faintly light through a steady rain and low, angry clouds.

★

FRANKLY, as the Herald Econovan rolled along the country roads south and west of Tipton, I expected to see only a handful of folks.

My knowledge of auctions got a quick schooling. Narrow Teachout Rd. was jammed on both sides by cars and trucks, with a sliver of room down the center permitting one slow lane of traffic.

When we arrived about 10, the auction was going full blast, with the veteran Mr. Scharp cajoling the crowd to bid and buy—which they did with a passion.

Everything was bringing fat prices. There were bargains, of course, but many of the items could be obtained new at a dime store for less.

A bag of 47 old coins was closed out for $77, although two dealers declined bidding when they couldn't find out what the mint markings were.

"Who'll give me $1 for this?" the auctioneer asked while holding up a broken platter. Half a dozen hands shot up, the crowd caught up in the fever.

Half a dozen antique dealers were on hand. They carefully examined a myriad of china and glassware long before it went up.

It was fun to watch them bid, with casual calm, a nod when they went along with the auctioneer's suggestion to raise the offer another half dollar.

Old pros on the circuit say to keep watching the dealer's bid. They'll stop when they know an item can't be bought and then resold at a profit. This is when to add a buck or two and you'll know you've probably done the right thing.

★

RANK AMATEURS are afraid to scratch their forehead for fear it will be construed as a bid. I thought I heard the auctioneer

Mayor Says Best Way Is Compulsory Sack Pickup

By JIM LINCOLN

"We feel this is a better method of service and the city is doing the right thing."

This remark by Mayor Harold Easton summed up Council's thoughts Monday night about compulsory refuse collection in Tecumseh with the use of paper sacks.

His audience included approximately 20 residents, many of whom were against compulsory refuse collection and paper sacks.

During the question and answer period, Mayor Easton told the residents, "If it does not work, we'll have to change it."

He emphasized that a $30,000 performance bond was being required from Dependable Garbage of Napoleon. If the firm failed to collect the refuse according to the agreement, either the city would pick up the refuse and charge it against Dependable Garbage, or require the bonding company to have a collector in Tecumseh to do the job.

Most of the questions from the residents dealt with service and cost. They asked why the city didn't operate a sanitary landfill dump, about durability of the sacks, sturdiness of the sack holders.

★

RESIDENTS wanted to know if they would be given dates for their pickups, what to do in case they were missed, why they are being forced into compulsory pickup when they have garbage disposals.

City Manager Cal Zorn explained that the state rules cans and food wrappers as garbage, pointing out that there is usually enough food left on cans and wrappers to support a rat family.

Both Mayor Easton and Mr. Zorn said that the cost would be exorbitant for the city to operate a sanitary landfill. They said the municipality could not operate such a dump at its present location.

A resolution to adopt compulsory refuse pickup here was tabled to the next meeting.

After Clerk Naomi Sallows read the resolution, it was the general agreement of councilmen that there had to be some changes.

Minor questions still remaining for city officials to settle is the billing for the sacks and sack distribution.

Mrs. Gordon Gutowski, one of the residents present who spoke against compulsory pickup, presented petitions with about 700 signatures. The petition questioned the advisability of paper sacks and compulsory pickup.

★

IN REFERENCE to the petitions, a question was raised as to a referendum and placing the issue on the ballot.

City attorney James Beardsley said signatures of 10% of the registered voters in Tecumseh would be necessary to place the compulsory pickup question on the ballot.

Beauty Shop Is Pillaged

Tecumseh's Colonial House of Beauty was robbed late Sunday night, or early Monday morning, of a yet undetermined amount of cash.

According to the Tecumseh police, entry was made by breaking a pane in the rear door, and then sliding a knife through and unlatching another door.

Although police have a couple of suspects, investigation is still underway.

Tipton Woman Goes to Court Over Home Debris

A trial will be held here before Justice Ernest Oliver this Saturday over the failure of Caroline Baldwin of Tipton to clean up after a fire had wrecked her home there.

According to officials, she had been asked repeatedly since July to complete tearing down of the house and clean up the debris.

Miss Baldwin plead not guilty last Wednesday before the local justice. She said that attempts are being made to remove the gutted house and a worker had been employed for the job.

Fund Tally Nears Half

Tecumseh Community Foundation's annual drive for funds reaches the halfway point this week, with an estimated $21,000 of its $45,884 goal pledged to date.

Officers of the campaign hope to see contributions reach $60,000.

After fulfilling commitments to 12 member agencies, the Foundation will direct overage to its current community improvement project, the development of "The Pit" property into a 22-acre community park.

Neighborhood zone leaders are lining up volunteers for door-to-door solicitation. Canvassing in residential areas begins next week.

"Once again we are urging everyone who lives or works in the Tecumseh area to consider the widespread needs met by our Community Fund," said Carl Lamb, general chairman of the drive, "and to give generously when a volunteer calls."

Youngsters Collecting for UNICEF

President Johnson endorses the Trick or Treat for UNICEF drive currently underway.

The local campaign will take place Tuesday, with children begging from 6 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Carol Sprague and Mrs. Fred Feight, co-chairmen, ask that residents willing to give leave their porch lights on for the youngsters.

They also wish to ask drivers and children to bring flashlights.

Mrs. Sprague said that the children all will have properly marked canisters to identify them and will be under the supervision of an adult.

Scott Edwards' Leg Is Broken

He is now confined to a Trenton hospital and expected to be released later this week.

Football scores pages 5 & 8

Edwards had been counted on to hold down a starting guard post on the varsity basketball team. Whether he recovers in time for the cage season is questionable.

Joseph P. Hayden Joins Family Firm

The Board of Directors at the Hayden Flour Mills announced Tuesday the appointment of Joseph Perry Hayden as director of development.

Mr. Hayden attended Taylor University in Upland, Ind., Adrian College, and graduated from Malone College in Canton, Ohio with a bachelor's degree in business and economics.

He comes from Canton where he was formerly in the insurance business and most recently was a sales representative of General Foods Corp.

Mr. Hayden is the great grandson of William Hayden, who founded the mill in 1835 and the son of the former president, the late Perry M. Hayden and the present president, Elizabeth C. Hayden.

He and his wife, Michaele, have two children, Elizabeth age three years and Philip age four months.

They will be residing in Tecumseh at 205 W. Chicago Blvd.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hayden, chairman of the board, said Joseph will also serve on the board.

School Tells How To Reduce Costs

Joseph Hayden, new director of development at the Hayden Flour Mills, attended the 1966 American Feed Production Councils Regional Production School last week in Indianapolis, Indiana. It dealt with the subject "How to Reduce Costs," covering areas such as management of truck delivery systems and practical quality control for mills.

Test Wells Turn Out Hard Water

In a report to Council Monday night, City Manager Cal Zorn informed officials that the city's attempts to locate additional water north of town had been successful.

He said that test wells at several locations had been pumped and large quantities of water found.

However, all samples have been hard and the iron content high.

No action was taken since other test wells are being planned.

Attends National Park Conference

Don Moffat, director of parks and recreation, returned Thursday from Washington, D. C., where he attended the National Recreation and Parks Association conference.

He also spoke with Gerald Ford, house minority leader and Senator Phil Hart and toured the Capitol.

He attended the World Series in Baltimore, Md., as a guest of Phil Regan and Ron Perronowski, relief pitchers for the Los Angeles Dodgers, with whom Mr. Moffatt played ball in the past.

Rehearse Service

Practice for the installation of retiring and new officers of the Tecumseh Chapter No. 51, OES, will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Temple.

The installation service is to be held at 8 p.m. Saturday evening.

New Disaster Relief Act Should Clip Red Tape

It is designed to improve, simplify and expediate Federal emergency assistance when disaster strikes.

"A number of members of Congress, myself included, have found the past procedures for disaster assistance exasperatingly slow and unreliable," Congressman Vivian wired the Herald.

"Residents of Lenawee County will remember the problems they encountered with the Federal bureaucracy after last year's Palm Sunday tornadoes.

"Two important provisions of the new act, made retroactive to 1964, will be of interest, and possible value today to the individuals affected by that tornado.

"Under certain conditions, authorized payments will be made to farmers to compensate in part for losses suffered from destruction of crops and livestock.

"A second provision permits deferment by the owner of payments to the government of pre-existing loans held by Federal agencies, if the disaster victims would otherwise face severe financial hardship.

"If any residents desire to inquire into these or other provisions, I hope they will write to me." Congressman Vivian concluded.

Jane Street Sewer Line Costs $1,724

Council approved installation of a sanitary sewer on Jane St. and the installation of an eight-inch water main on Occidental Rd., from Willow St. to the old railroad right of way.

Brady Sand & Gravel Co. was low bidder for the job at $1,724. Selder's Excavating bid was $1,888.

Since bids for the water main were considerably higher than estimates, City Manager Cal Zorn told Councilmen that the city would install it.

Birds Run for Cover Thursday

Ringneck pheasant, grouse, woodcock, squirrel, rabbit and raccoon will become legal targets in this area.

Indications are that the pheasant supply may not be too good this year. Mail carrier brood counts, especially in prime Thumb area counties, are down.

Macomb County has the largest bird population, say the reports. St. Clair, Sanilac, Shiawassee, Ingham, Washtenaw, Lenawee, Monroe and Ottawa counties follow.

However, game men suggest that hopeful hunters check with local officials to learn the whereabouts of birds in each county. Concentrations are limited to small sections and are not present county-wide.

Mrs. Ed Rapin Wins Vacation at Pick Hotel

Mrs. Ed Rapin, 116 Maple, has won the free weekend in an Albert Pick Motor Hotel. Mrs. Rapin's name was drawn as a preliminary winner from Holme's Drug Store, then was picked in the final drawing.

"It's the first time I've ever won anything in my life," exclaimed the mother of eight children.

Seven more weekly prizes, sponsored by Tecumseh merchants, are to follow.

Long & Short

tell one fellow not to "move your head so loud or I'll think it's a bid."

Fellows like Victor Scharp and his son Burnell, who has worked with his dad for 20 years, know the psychological moment to cajol the spectators and keep things moving.

One such instance came as Vic and his assistant, Ralph Tillotson, were working hard to move a 50-year-old Co-Op tractor, which looked as though it hadn't been run in a dozen years.

As bidding lagged at the $10 mark, Vic told the cluster of fellows standing by it, "I'll tell you one thing, boys, if you get this, I'll guarantee that you're neighbor won't have one."

The ancient vehicle finally went at $14.

A 12x15 feet leaning shed, jammed with newspapers and an organ, among other junk, got $50. The buyer promptly hauled out the organ and then turned auctioneer himself, selling the remains for $2.

The second fellow rummaged through, extracted a few items, then bid off the remains for $5.

One man who knows his antiques, Harlon Boyes of Tecumseh, told me if the organ had been kept indoors and cared for, it would have been worth $1,000.

Mrs. Oberlin played as a piano solo Chopin's "Waltz in C Sharp Minor." Chopin is representative of many countries since he was born in Poland, traveled in Austria and England and spent most of his time in Paris.

To honor UNICEF, one of the most well-known branches of the United Nations, Mrs. Owen Merrill played on the piano six children's melodies from the Japanese composer Yoshinao Nakada.

College Representatives Visit

Admissions representatives have been frequent visitors to the Tecumseh High School guidance office during the past week, including the University of Michigan, Adrian College, Lake Superior College, Michigan State University and Humboldt Institute.

Many changes are taking place on these campuses.

The University of Michigan's new Residential College, a college within a college, will have room this year for approximately 280 freshmen representing a cross-section of student abilities.

It is not intended to be an honors college as the Justin Morrill college at MSU is.

The College of Literature, Science, and the Arts is staffing the new Residential College and will also award the Bachelor of Arts degree at the end of the four-year term. The advantage of this school is its smallness, with courses conducted in small seminar groups and a closer relationship with the members of the faculty.

Adrian College has waived its geometry requirement for admission in lieu of any other course of advanced math.

Lake Superior College, formerly the Sault Ste. Marie branch of Michigan Tech at Houghton, is now a four-year college. It is still affiliated with Michigan Tech but is striving to achieve its own identity.

It has added to its two-year Associate Degree program three new areas: Construction Engineering Technology, Architectural Drafting Technology, and a R. N. nursing program. The Associate Degree programs do not require a full high school college prep program.

Michigan State University is trying to interest more men to apply to its Justin Morrill honors college which was newly established in 1965. This past summer the first trip to Europe was taken by the students of the honors college.

A recent survey taken on the MSU campus revealed that the grade point average of the students who have jobs was higher than those who did not.

The representative from Humboldt Institute emphasized airline training and transportation program especially for women is more than just the short-lived glamorous stewardess training.

Young Farmers Receive Help from FHA Loans

Many young farmers in Lenawee County are finding the farm ownership loan program of the Farmers Home Administration an effective tool to buy the farms of their retiring elders or even to expand their own small operation, says Carl L. Robinson, Farmers Home Administration supervisor serving the area.

Family farmers may use FHA's farm ownership loans to combine small land tracts into economic units, establish permanent pastures, finance needed soil and water improvements, construct or renovate dwellings and essential farm buildings or take other steps to increase from income-producing capacity and efficiency.

Like other FHA loans, farm ownership assistance is advanced to qualified family farmers who are unable to obtain credit from conventional lenders. Farm ownership loans are advanced at five percent interest payable over 40 years.

Firemen Break In Front Door

Tecumseh firemen found it necessary to break two windows and a small glass from the front door of the Ralph Lockridge residence at 911 River Acres Drive Tuesday afternoon.

Smoke and heat from a fire in the family room were so great that the firemen had to ventilate before they could work.

No one was at home until the children came from school and notified neighbors that their home was filled with smoke.

Cause of the fire was thought to come from a cigarette or a short circuit in a lamp. Damages are estimated at $900 to $1,000.

Gale Hooton removed the family dog which was taken to the veterinary but a parakeet died from smoke inhalation.

Fire Chief Wallace MacGeorge said Wednesday that the smoke ceiling (so dense you can't see) was within two feet of the floor.

Facts about cleaning carpets with Blue Lustre

Traffic paths may be removed without cleaning wall-to-wall if rest of carpet shows no soil.

It costs only about 1c per square foot to clean your carpet. Blue Lustre electric shampooers may be rented for $1 a day.

Carpets stay new-looking if you keep Blue Lustre handy to remove spots and traffic paths as they appear. Since it contains no soap, there is no residue to cause rapid re-soiling. It dries to an invisible crystalline powder containing the soil, removed by vacuuming.

You'll be delighted by the way Blue Lustre restores forgotten colors in both carpets and upholstery. Des Ermia's Furniture, Tecumseh.

Chances of Homecoming Victory 'Never Better'

Tecumseh's chances of winning its third game of the fluron League were never better when they entertain visiting Airport here Friday in the annual Homecoming game.

Airport has been ripped several times this season, and last week, the Jets were bombed by Blissfield, 40-0.

Scott Edwards is through for the season with a broken leg, and Andersons knee injury has been a problem for both doctors and the coaches.

It's an injury that could come along quickly or keep him out for the season.

Dave Kennel will take Edwards' place in the backfield, and either Chuck Gillies or Randy Robinson will run in Anderson's spot.

If Tecumseh wins, they'll hold second place in the loop, one game behind front-running Grosse Ile and even with the Blissfield Royals. Both the Indians and the Royals sport 2-1 league marks.

Whiteford Takes Knights

By RICK CURRIE

It happened again!

Boysville, undefeated, unscored on — then upset by the Bobcats of Whiteford.

Whiteford has now beaten Boysville for the past six years, doing it Friday night, 13-6, throwing the River Raisin League into a three-way tie.

Boysville, Summerfield and Sand Creek are knotted for the lead.

The Knights' powerful offense was stopped cold by Whiteford's eight-man line. Neither team even threatened to score in the first three quarters.

In the fourth period, the action began.

Later in the quarter a bad punt by Mike O'Dea set up Koppelman's second score.

Friday the Knights will travel to Sand Creek.

Injuries Sideline Two, Frosh 11 Still Wins

Jack Greenfield led the pack which intercepted six Clinton aerials and refused to let the visitors inside the 20-yard line.

Greenfield picked off four Redskin passes, broke up numerous others and accounted for 12 tackles.

★

ON OFFENSE, the freshman Indians received outstanding blocking from end Paul Burns, tackle Bob Hackett, guard Greenfield and fullback Tilton.

The winner's first score came in the second quarter with Bob Reed going in from 10 yards. Mike Kennedy got the extra point.

In the third period, Reed tallied again on a 21-yard sweep and Kennedy tossed to Burns in a scoring strike that went 63 yards.

Paul Hamilton raced 24 yards around end for the final tally in the last quarter to climax the scoring parade.

Junior Knights Take Whiteford

John Waldron went over fro two touchdowns and Arnett Summers picked up the other Boysville tally.

License Sought for Landfill Dump 'Under Protest'

Upon the recommendation of James Beardsley, city attorney, Council approved applying for a license to operate a sanitary landfill under protest.

It was his opinion that the present dump is not a menace and the state was forcing a problem on the city, which it otherwise does not have.

State regulations now require cities to cover refuse daily. Tecumseh covers its dump about twice a week.

Nancy Elizabeth Drefke and Harry Teets Exchange Nuptial Vows

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Drefke of Adrian. Mr. Teets is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Voyle Teets, 304 E. Pottawatamie.

MRS. HARRY THOMAS TEETS

Approaching the altar on the arm of her father, Nancy was radiant in a gown of Belgian lace. The circlet neckline of the fitted bodice was embroidered with sequins and the long sleeves ended in points over her hands. A matching chapel train fell from her waistline.

Petals of lace held her elbow-length veil. She carried her Confirmation Prayer Book covered with streamers of stephanotis. A cultured pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom, was her only jewelry.

The Rev. G. P. Debberfuhl performed the ceremony. Barbara Luke of Ann Arbor and Everett Waugh were soloists, accompanied on the organ by Karen Hansen.

Kathy Saylor of Kalamazoo was maid of honor. Her bronze gown was styled with an empire waist. Bridesmaids, in gold, were Mrs. Robert Sullins of Jasper, Mrs. Keith Broschke of Midland and Darlene Drefke, sister of the bride.

All of the groomsmen were classmates of the bridegroom, graduates of the Tecumseh High School class of 1957. Patrick Fero of Washington, D. C., served as best man. Ushers were Scott Harvey of Washington, D. C., John Nasser of Albion and Allen Dickinson of Ann Arbor.

After a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple will make their home at 174½ N. Scott St., Adrian.

Nancy Ellen Cowen Weds William Work

Marriage vows were exchanged by Nancy Ellen Cowen and William James Work in the First Baptist Church Oct. 8.

The Rev. Blair Bashore performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cowen of 4578 M-50, Tipton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cary Work of Pennsylvania.

Glen Work, brother of the groom, was the best man and Don Work, brother of the groom, was the usher.

A reception for 100 guests was held in the Eagle's Hall in Tecumseh. Pink and white flowers centered the bride's table.

The groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at the Corrugated Box Company.

THS Forgets Basics - Blocking and Tackling

Tecumseh had none of these Friday night at Grosse Ile as the Indians went through the motions in a losing cause, 13-0.

GI tallied in the second quarter after a 14-yard punt from the Indians' 16 to the 30. Two plays then lost two yards, but the Flyers skirted Tecumseh's left end to the 19 for a first down.

★

AGAIN, ON a third down and long yardage at the 16, GI picked up the first down with a scamper to the six. Three plays later Bob Wischer found an opening through the Indian line for paydirt.

Midway in the final quarter, GI iced the game after intercepting a pass and running it back to Tecumseh's 19.

After reaching the five, the Indians stopped the Flyers on three line plays, actually forcing GI back a yard to the six.

On fourth down, Wischer connected on a pass to Don Dailey for the final score.

COACH TOM FAGAN'S club missed a golden opportunity to put six points on the scoreboard in the opening minutes of the game.

On the third play after kicking off to GI, Gary Dauber picked off a bouncing fumble near midfield and ran somewhat hesitatingly to GIs 14 where he stopped completely, and was tackled.

He apparently heard a "whistle" or thought the play was dead where he picked the fumble out of the air. Regardless, GI stopped the early threat after an apparently easy Tecumseh touchdown.

★

IT WAS the worst Tecumseh performance this year, as blocks were either missed or not thrown and the backs failed to hit their holes.

Scott Edwards suffered a broken leg in the first quarter, Randy Robinson sustained a slightly sprained ankle and Roger Young limped off the field shortly before the final gun.

Offensively, the Indians did nothing, although threatening twice in the second half when they reached GI's 30 and once to the 26.

KEY TO BULLDOG SUCCESS — Larry Merx is one of the Adrian College veteran linemen, helping the Bulldogs to one of their finest seasons, three wins and one loss to date. Merx got his experience at Tecumseh High School and was a letter winner as a freshman at Adrian. Because of his stamina and ability, Coach Chappy Marvin has Merx playing both ways this season. His fine blocking could help Adrian College post its first winning season since 1949.

Redskins Scalped by MCC, 32-18

By IVAN McKENNA

Clinton suffered its second setback of the season Friday at the hands of Monroe Catholic Central, 32-18.

Clinton started strong, but lost momentum as the game progressed. Halfback Butch Hoelzer returned the opening kickoff to the Falcon 40-yard line.

A few plays later, he scampered across the goal from eight yards out and the Redskins jumped to an early 6-0 lead.

It was short-lived, however, for on the next series of downs, Falcon halfback Tony Volpi sprinted 77 yards to pay dirt.

THE INJURY-plagued Clinton offense could not come up with another touchdown in the first half. The defense tightened up in the second frame, but a 24-yard pass from Falcon quarterback Tony Defiore was batted around in the endzone and finally ended up in the hands of Catholic Central's Dave Jarzynak.

It was good for six points and the Falsons went off the field with a 14-6 halftime lead.

Clinton's ace, Hoelzer suffered shoulder separation in the first quarter and was sidelined for the remainder of the game. He is not expected to be out of action long.

The Redskins, also played without injured slotback Gene Brow, did manager to come back with two touchdowns in the second half.

Fullback Ivan McKenna carried the ball 30 yards for one TD. A 17-yard pass from quarterback Doug Wight to McKenna accounted for the Redskins final six points.

The Falcons were not idle in the final half, either. They came up with three big touchdowns to hand Clinton its second non-league defeat of the season.

★

It's Homecoming and Coach Snyder's outfit will be seeking their fourth straight league victory.

Dig Those Crazy Kids

Under tutelage of Coach Bob Kiebler, the boys practice every day on a two-mile course at the Tecumseh Country Club, building up speed and endurance on the hilly terrain.

Although the thinclads have yet to win a meet, their times are improving steadily against stronger and more experienced competition.

They started at an average of 13 minutes, now varsity average is 11.

They can be seen in meet action Thursday, Oct. 20 at 4 p.m. when the Indians host Grosse Ile runners at the Country Club in their final home contest of the season.

The boys meet Madison at Adrian Oct. 25 and will participate in a regional meet Oct. 29.

APACHE OF WEEK — Lee Hannibal's savage defensive work earned him ranking as Tecumseh's outstanding player in the Grosse Ile battle. From his right end position, Lee made 17 tackles, some coming from second efforts on his part. Lee's main job was to contain the Islanders' speedy Bob Wisher and he performed it well, said Tecumseh Coach Tom Fagan. This was the second time in the current season Lee was singled out for Player of the Week honors.

Family Breakdown Is Major Problem of Today

By CAROL HOWELL

Family breakdown ranks as one of society's major problems.

Couples who find their marriages in jeopardy head the list of those who seek the help of the Family Counseling Service and the Catholic Social Services of Lenawee County.

Others visit these agencies for professional guidance in improving parent-child relationships, resolving in-law difficulties or meeting the responsibilities of unmarried parenthood, housing, finances, mental illness and retardation.

One In A Series

They are referred to these services by friends, clergy, physicians, attorneys, schools, courts, welfare agencies and employers.

The Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic is another agency offering professional counseling of much the same type. The Clinic's specialty, however, is the emotional problems peculiar to children and adolescents.

Family Counseling Service, Catholic Social Services and the Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic are three more of the 12 charitable agencies that share in the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

School Enrollment Figures Increase

BRITTON — The official enrollment for Britton-Macon Area School is up slightly over last year, according to Principal Charles Schankin.

The biggest increase is in the high school, which shows a net gain of 10 in the four grades. This is due partly to the graduation last year of 33 seniors, while 52 freshmen have moved up from last year's eighth grade class.

The elementary and junior high remain about the same, or a bit lower.

Britton now has a full elementary staff of 13 teachers, with the 43 kindergartens split up into morning and afternoon sessions, and grades one through six each having two teachers.

New teachers include Mrs. Ethel Miller, third grade; Mrs. Nelson Berry, home economics; Irene Mattern, high school English and journalism; Paul Palka, football coach and seventh grade reading; and Donald Morrill, high school mathematics.

Bluebirds Will March in Parade

BRITTON — The Bluebirds and Campfire girls will march in the Homecoming Parade Friday, Oct. 28, announced Mrs. Jerry Benedict, president of the local leader's council.

2nd grade — Mrs. Gerald Price and Mrs. Frank Vallie.

5th grade — Mrs. James Arft and Mrs. Elmer Gubbe.

10th and 11th grades combined — Mrs. Jerry Benedict and Mrs. Leslie Downing.

Receive Serious Injuries

BRITTON — The Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Bearinger of Lapeer, former Britton residents, were seriously injured in a head-on collision last October 4.

The Bearingers were on their way to visit their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Bearinger of Britton, when they met another car at the crest of a hill on a country road, a few miles from Lapeer.

They were both taken to Lapeer Hospital. Rev. Bearinger was treated for shock and mouth and leg injuries. He remained in the hospital until Saturday, Oct. 8.

Mrs. Bearinger is still hospitalized. She suffered eight broken and several cracked ribs, a broken leg, and required 35 stitches to close wounds in her forehead caused when she struck the windshield of the car.

ORTHO UNIPEL High Analysis Fertilizer

It doesn't make sense to fertilize hit or miss when you "plow-down." This is an important time, and what you put into the soil now may make all the difference in your crop when you harvest. That's why we recommend an ORTHO Program using High-Analysis Fertilizers — the famous UNIPEL Pellets.

We have a wide range of analyses so we can help you choose the right one for your soil, your crop. When you plow-down with ORTHO UNIPEL Fertilizer, you get more "grow power" per pound and higher returns per dollar invested.

If you haven't been using a fertilizer when you "plow-down," you'll want to hear the success the other growers around here have had. Come in now and let's talk about your crop — and what an ORTHO High-Analysis Fertilizer Program can do for your profit picture. Our field man has plenty of information for you.

Today, Tomorrow Studied by Girls at Horizon Meeting

BRITTON — Shelly Saxton, Stephanie McMahon, Dianne Downing and Dennise Ivan, accompanied by their Horizon Club leader, Mrs. Jerry Benedict, spent the past weekend in Cleveland where they attended a Horizon Club Convention.

Over 700 girls from seven area states which compromise Region Two were in attendance. The girls and leaders stayed at the Statler Hilton Hotel.

The theme of the convention was "Today versus Tomorrow." Friday evening the girls attended a get-acquainted party which featured a "Battle of the Bands."

Saturday, they attended the work shop meetings and toured downtown Cleveland. Saturday evening they were treated to a banquet and movie.

Sunday morning at a breakfast meeting, they heard a panel discussion on the three major religions by a Catholic priest, a Protestant minister and a Jewish rabbi.

The Region Two convention will be held next year in Grand Rapids, and it is hoped that more local girls will be able to attend.

Spirits Stir Past

By MAXINE CALHOUN

All that remains of the once bustling industrial community are a dozen empty frame buildings, still intact, and the crumbling limestone ruins of two smelting furnaces, to remind us of a nostalgic past.

From 1867 until 1892, some 500 inhabitants lived and worked in the settlement of Fayette, then it was completely abandoned until 1959. At that time the Michigan Department of Conservation acquired the property and created Fayette State Park.

Tourists are beginning to find the out-of-the way spot near the tip of the Garden Pennsula, just off US-2, beside Bay de Noc in the Upper Peninsula.

Midst the flaming foliage of autumn, one can wander alone to the abandoned hotel, opera house, doctor's office and several homes along the grass-grown pathway which was once the busy main street of the little town.

Only the foundations remain of many more homes, testifying to the numerous residents whose livelihood came from the smelting furnaces.

Early experimentation with iron smelting equipment and techniques such as were used in Fayette may have been the forerunner of America's great steel industry.

Peer into the window of one of the houses and notice a newspaper dated Nov. 4, 1881, spread out to read. One can only speculate that the "Help Wanted" ad, in the topmost corner of the front page of the Detroit Free Press, may have triggered the exodus of workers from Fayette when the demand for the charcoal iron decreased. Whatever the cause—all community life ended there in 1892.

Now the only sound is made by the gentle slap-slapping of the waves against the rotted pilings which still outline the little cove harbor. A towering cliff of limestone protects the village from the elements of time.

So—the ghost town of Fayette is being preserved for another, busier generation to marvel over.

It's worth a visit when you're up that way.

Hog Cholera Disappearing

Michigan has extended its record to 12 consecutive months without a confirmed outbreak of hog cholera.

The state can be officially declared as being "free" of hog cholera if no outbreak of the disease is reported in the state for at least one year after all vaccines except "killed virus" have been prohibited for a year.

Last year, Michigan marketed slightly less than a million head of swine for which owners received a little more than $42½ million.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books ready for you to borrow at your Public Library:

THE PERSECUTION AND ASSASSINATION OF JEAN PAUL MARAT AS PERFORMED BY THE INMATES OF THE ASYLUM OF CHARENTON UNDER THE DIRECTION OF THE MARQUIS DE SADE. (1) a play by Peter Weiss.

LAST CRUISE OF THE EMDEN by Edwin Hoyt. This is the true story of one of the most extraordinary and little-known escapades of World War I.

GUIDE TO ARMY POSTS, a new and revised Army Times directory; what to expect and rules to follow for easier living on and around Army stations, U. S. and overseas.

AMERICAN POLITICAL DYNASTIES, from Adams to Kennedy; the American families who have, through several generations, been prominent in political life, by Stephen Hess. It has been stated "As a democracy the United States ought to be able to dispense with dynastic families." But they are still with us, and this is their extremely readable story.

THE CRUSADES by Zoe Oldenbourg. Here is an immensely exciting romance, in the highest sense, which has at the same time an unsparingly realistic approach to the Middle Ages. This is a book for the many who have enjoyed this author's novels and previous historical books.

A HISTORY OF AMERICAN ACTING by Garrff Wilson. The author presents a detailed analysis of the careers and acting styles of outstanding performers from the colonial period to the 20th century, using contemporary comment to show how these actors appeared to the critics of their day.

Students Consider Colleges

College Night for all Lenawee County juniors, seniors and their parents sponsored by the Lenawee County Counselors Association, will be held next Monday night, Oct. 24, in Blissfield High School at 7.

Technical and trade school representatives will be available through a similar program to be held Nov. 14 at Adrian High School.

Parents are invited to attend and learn about the costs and policies of the schools. The schedule is similar to that of the past years.

Public AUCTION

Americans are born gamblers. That's why the custom of selling things at auction is so popular in this nation. From near and far they'll come, answering the siren call of the shrill-voiced auctioneer. There was an unusual sale Saturday, when the property of the late Cora and Harry Cooley, who lived south and west of Tipton on Teachout Rd., was disposed of at auction. The weather was nasty, wind and rain whipping out of a murky sky. But that didn't faze the Old Tigers, who are ready in the search for bargains at the first sight of a sale bill. Auctioneer Victor Scharp of Osseo, called it the hottest session he had conducted in 40 years.

CONGRESSMAN WES VIVIAN

No. 5: Farmers' Tax Relief

CONGRESSMAN WES VIVIAN

Congressman Wes Vivian worked for and VOTED FOR H. R. 10, in the U. S. House of Representatives this year. This bill provides farmers with additional income tax credits toward their retirement funds, as self-employed businessmen. (This was the ONLY bill endorsed by the American Farm Bureau Federation during 1965-66.)

His opponent was ABSENT when the Michigan House of Representatives passed a law removing the $1,000 limit on personal property tax exemption, and allowing, instead, an exemption on ALL property actually being used for agricultural operations.

No. 6: Day Care Centers

Congressman Wes Vivian supported and VOTED FOR legislation, in the U. S. House of Representatives, which provides Federal assistance to day care centers being used to teach pre-school children from poor families.

His opponent was ABSENT when the Michigan House voted to provide State assistance for day care centers, to assist working mothers.

(He was ABSENT on over 40% of ALL roll call votes!)

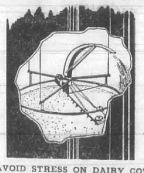
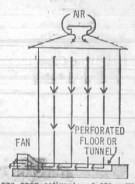
DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.



SILO UNLOADER CAPACITY is too slow to suit many farm and feedlot operators. Problem is felt most by those who must wait at the silo for wagon or truck to fill at a typical rate of 50 pounds per minute. One reason for lower capacity in many unloaders is that they use one auger for gathering the silage. Cornell engineers state that some newer unloaders feature twin, counter-rotating screws that increase capacity 40% to 95%. However, they require greater horsepower.

AVOID STRESS ON DAIRY COWS freshening this fall. Top dairymen milk their highest producers first in the morning and last at night. This relieves stress on the udder by equalizing milking intervals and saves more milk for the tank. Stalls in many older barns are too small for large, high-producing cows. They generally respond to a larger stall with higher production.

SHELLED CORN AERATION equipment is necessary if you plan to store corn on the farm. A fan powered by a small electric motor pulls air downward through the grain to keep it cool and prevent spoilage. If a bin holds 1,000 bushels or is 8 feet deep, aeration is necessary. Fan capacity is important. Trend is to use 1/10 to ¼ cfm (cubic feet of air per minute) per bushel. Some use ½ cfm to cool wet corn fast and hold it until the dryer has caught up.



STORE SOYBEANS even though the large crop estimate of 926 million bushels caused a sharp price drop. Demand will be strong and farmers are expected to be right holders. Market will regain losses by winter.

SAVE ON FUEL — Full Fiberglas insulation in ceilings and sidewalls will help cut fuel bills and increase comfort. Tests conducted by Owens-Corning Fiberglas have shown the six inches of insulation in ceilings and three inches in sidewalls will pay for itself in a few years and continue to save money by reducing heating and cooling costs.

Wintry Breezes Stopped

The coming winter will mean another long season of uneven temperatures throughout the house, drafts, cold spots and high heating bills for many homeowners in this area, but steps taken in the next few weeks can eliminate much discomfort and expense.

In this area, a homeowner will be sure of having full insulation by following the six-and-three formula, according to tests conducted by the Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation. This means insulation six inches thick in ceilings and three inches thick in sidewalls.

Where insulation is exposed — in attics, for instance — insulation can be measured with a ruler. If it measures six and three, it's okay.

If it doesn't, more should be added.

New Fiberglas Friction Fit insulation batts can be pushed into place without the arduous chore of stapling or tacking.

In the attic, the Friction Fit is used without a vapor barrier to eliminate any moisture problem.

Walls or partitions between the house proper and unheated areas such as storerooms or attached garages, should be checked for sufficient insulation. For crawl spaces, three inches of insulation should be under the floor.

Determining the amount of insulation in finished walls and ceilings and remedying any deficiencies is a job for an insulation contractor.

Older houses or those built to FHA minimum property standards usually have a lower "R" value than the six-and-three formula calls for.

In addition to keeping out cold, fuel bills can be reduced by as much as 35 percent with adequate insulation.

In summer, a house with full insulation can be from eight to 15 degrees cooler than a house with less insulation.

Methodists Will Hold Quiet Day

A Quiet Day program will be held in the Tecumseh Methodist Church on Thursday, Oct. 27, as a part of the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial.

Sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service, the event is being planned by Mrs. Carl Hale and her committee.

Women from Methodist Churches in Britton, Ridgeway, Clinton, Macon and Springville have been invited to the service which will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Quiet Day offerings are used for community centers around the world — Korea, Africa and South America, two in the United States — work with the Indians, social centers in large cities and rural areas as well as other services are provided by the deaconesses of the Methodist Church.

A nursery will be provided.

Siena Book Series Starts

A review of "The Square's Progress," written by Wilford Sheed, will highlight the Book Review Series sponsored by Siena Heights College on Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Archangelus Lounge.

'Shine On'

The bright moonlight of the Hunter's Moon in late October will compensate for the shortened days, says University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

The full moon of October 29 will furnish "plenty of light throughout the whole night," several nights in succession.

"Dropping from somewhat less than 12 hours at the beginning of the month, the daylight period will last only about 10 hours and 20 minutes by the end," said Losh.

During these longer nights of fall, as one faces north a bright star in the northeast commands attention. This is Capella, in the constellation of Auriga, The Charioteer, rising around sunset, the brightest star in that direction in the early evening in mid-autumn.

Emily Michaud is the Goddess Iris who invades Birdland in "The Birds," the Greek Comedy by Aristophanes, to be presented by National Players.

'The Birds' Presented at Siena

National Players, the longest running classical repertory company in the United States, and now in its 18th consecutive year of touring, will present Aristophanes' "The Birds," at Siena Heights College Thursday, Oct. 27, at 8 p.m. in Walsh Hall.

"The Birds" abounds with comic incidents: the story of two Athenians who are fed up with society and hope to found a better world among the birds contains many satirical comments without ever lecturing or sermonizing.

In an up-to-date acting version by Walter Kerr, the Players offer a gorgeously-costumed rendition of the hilarious, always theatrical, ancient Greek classic.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

The science club begins its activities with two main projects. Ham radio operation seems to be taking the forefront of interest. Several of the members are working for their Federal Communication Commissions License. Others are busily working on the lens for a telescope.

√

The juniors will be selling Christmas cards. They have 500 boxes of cards and will sell them for $1.50 and $1.75 a box. The profits from their sale will go to finance the Junior-Senior Prom this spring.

√

Preliminary scholastic aptitude tests were administered last Tuesday to selected members of the junior-senior class. The tests are designed to give an honest evaluation of student aptitude in different academic areas and also possible scholarships.

√

Three new clothes dryers were purchased for the campus laundermat. Each boy at Boysville is responsible for getting his own clothes clean. Trouble getting a dryer that worked is solved with the addition of the new dryers.

√

Moe Jacobs and his coach, William Morely attended last Friday night's game against Whiteford. Moe, a 1966 graduate, now plays for Findlay College as halfback. Moe looked bigger and better than he ever did. Mr. Morely accompanied Moe to look at some of the other Knight players. He is particularly interested in Boysville captains Don Chalmers and John Yankoski.

√

Sam Kirkland and Bill Kayl have ended their football season with injuries. Sam, on a long pass from Rockwell during the Summerfield game, was tackled on the 10-yard line. He suffered a fractured ankle as a result of the tackle. Bill was blocked hard by a Whiteford player, tearing ligaments in his left knee. Frank Kiss is still nursing an injury from a scrimmage game with Clinton when he received a badly bruised leg.

Boysville was represented at two school conventions in Detroit. Brother Robert Fillmore took William Dozier, Nick Jurozak and Pat McGovern to the Catholic Librarian Assistants of Michigan convention at Marian High School in Birmingham.

The head librarian at Harper Woods spoke on librarianship as a career to 150 delegates.

The University of Detroit was the sight of the Detroit Student Press Association convention. Paul Winter, radio announcer for WTAK's Sound Off addressed the delegates with a talk on "What Teens Are Talking About." Delegates could attend sectional meetings on newspaper writing, yearbooks or photography. Delegates from Boysville included Rick Currie, Campus Info editor Joe Gordon, Photo Club members Bill Kostka, Don Lowe and Ray Butterworth. Guest delegate Larry Heibel and advisors Brother Thomas Friel and Brother Aloysius also attended.

Brother Majella Hegarty, CSC has been at Boysville this past week visiting different classrooms of the teachers. Brother is the supervisor of instruction for the Holy Cross Brothers Midwest Province. After visiting one or two classes of each faculty member, Brother gives each teacher some helpful ideas for bettering his teaching.

Through My Window

IT MADE OUR DAY

It started out to be a not very pretty day, definitely not one of October's better efforts. The sun was shining and the sky was blue, but the clouds were ominously heavy-looking and black-bottomed.

The fall show of color was in the early stages of rehearsal, a goodly amount of pale yellow was visible, but there was nothing much to get excited about yet.

All of this, however, would not have made for a bad day had it not been for the wind. A regular gale was screaming. From the way the temperature skidded, it must have been blowing right off an iceberg.

★

ELIZABETH AND I agreed that is was just not the kind of day which held much promise. With little expectation of any bird business, we decided to concentrate on inside type things.

I was in the middle of dictating a letter when suddenly I realized that something was going on in the back yard. Isn't it strange how long it takes for a background noise to soak in?

The noise was definitely being made by birds and it sounded as though there were quite a few of them. Well perhaps it was not going to be such a dull day after all.

The noise we heard was not loud or raucous. It was almost a busybody type of chit-chatting. Please don't laugh at my descriptions, one of the bird books describes our visitors as conversing in" — high-pitched whistled hisses or wheezy lisps and a somewhat louder, more rattling or broken hiss."

THEY WERE chit-chatting—a flock of birds was milling about and pleasantly exchanging the latest gossip, but it was all friendly and their voices were soft. At least, this is how it sounded to us.

Elizabeth went out on the porch to see what was happening. When the strong wind blew her back in, she reported that the trees were full of birds, dark in color and a little larger than sparrows.

We were speculating as to just who our callers were when the sound of a bird fluttering at the window attracted our attention. The outside window sill is quite narrow and the occasional bird who tries to perch there has trouble.

It is always fun to see them frantically fluttering their wings in an effort to maintain their balance while peeking through the window to see what is going on inside.

IN JUST the few seconds that our Peeping Tom was at the window we had a good look at his light brown, heavily-streaked with darker brown breast, his white facial markings and the beginning of his black eye patch.

My mouth flew open to exclaim that it must be a young ceder waxwing. Before the words came out though, the bird had flown over to the feeder and Elizabeth was excitedly talking about the bright yellow band at the tip of his tail.

That cinched it—we were entertaining the pretty and always lovely ceder waxwings.

Actually, the noise should have given us a clue. Once the serenading of the courting and family raising season has ended, there is not much bird singing. The waxwings, however, are year round chatterers.

It almost goes without saying that we spent the rest of the day watching for the birds to come into our view. They hung around, but apparently the eating was so good in the back yard that they did not find it necessary to look elsewhere.

So it is that a little thing can work wonders. We had one little look at a ceder waxwing and just think, it made our whole day!

TO THE EDITORS!

Having lived in Tecumseh about one year, I received my first summer water bill of $44.90. Not being able to believe that this was correct I called the City Office only to be told it was probably correct. They would check the meter, but four immediate neighbors received bills in about the same amount. Our five bills totaled over $175, the reason being we watered our lawns and you just don't do this in Tecumseh because water costs are more than electricity or heat. (Water, your cheapest commodity?)

The gentleman I spoke with said he didn't water his lawn at all—but then his bill was only approximately one third of mine. I then asked about the sewage charges and since my water did go on the lawn what part would be charged as sewage; yes you guessed it, the whole bit or $27.-50 on my next water bill.

I told them I thought this was really ridiculous, but was informed they realize only about 50% of our water in the summer goes into the sewer, however they must charge or they just couldn't keep the sewage disposal plant going.

Now I ask, don't you think its about time the City Council start looking into this. The only fair way would be to charge sewage on our winter water which goes into the sewers.

TO THE EDITORS:

I have heard that one of the major difficulties in getting decent garbage pickup service in Tecumseh is the fact that no one but Dependable Garbage is interested in the business.

Perhaps this is true — at the price we have been paying.

However, now that costs are to be almost doubled anyway, Council might look around again for a dependable company to do the job at the new price.

I don't object to increased costs of garbage pickup, but I do take issue with a situation that forces me to pay an unreliable company for service I will not recieve.

Hurrah for Councilman Puffer, at any rate! He tried.

My Name is Legion
Seminole Dr.

I say almost doubled because I found, during the trial period, that one 30-gallon bag does not have the capacity of a 20-gallon garbage can. (Have you ever tried to jump in a paper bag in an effort to squash a bulky milk carton?)

Therefore, the figures based on one-can, one-bag are inaccurate. From $21 per year for cans, we will go to at least $39 — and that is a conservative estimate.

TO THE EDITORS:

As a Seminole resident who participated in the garbage bag trial and registered disapproval of it on the questionnaire, I would like to give you my viewpoints.

1. My family uses one can for two weekly pickups, at a cost of $21 per year. We used two bags per week. Thus, our cost per year will rise to at least $30 (for 50 weeks—plus $1.20 for four more bags to cover remaining two weeks of the year). Then, we must pay for a bag holder if we do not use the "free" one.
2. We have to remove our own bags from the holder for pick-up. I found a full bag difficult to remove and move out of the way so I could attach a new bag.
3. The dogs then got into the full bag!
4. Our bag holder did not close tightly so we had gnats, flies and ants.
5. Anything greasy soaked through the bag, drawing still more insects.
6. Since service is rarely on schedule, twice during the trial period I did not have the almost-full bag off the holder before the pickup was made. If I was not at home when the truck did come, I was stuck with the full bag for another few days.
7. For the price they ask, they still do not take any other trash — grass clippings, etc.— so we have to use the dump anyway.
8. Where, may I ask, does one put a wall mount? Certainly not on our aluminum siding, not on our friends' brick house, and most assuredly not in our locked garage (where we don't have room anyway!)
9. Finally, I have talked to many of my neighbors here on Seminole, and not one of them approves of the bag proposal. Just where did Council get the idea that we were in favor of it???????

Mrs. Wendell Disbrow

DOWN SHE COMES — The one-time Patterson House at 210 E. Chicago Blvd., is at long last coming down — brick by brick. Erected in 1884, it actually is two structures, the original two stories in the rear and a three-story addition out front. Prior to World War I it was an unsuccessful hotel, later turned into apartments. The once gallant old structure has been decaying for the past 30 years.

Ministers Endorse Assistance Program

At the October meeting of the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association, Mrs. H. H. Hanna presented the aims and objections of the Tecumseh Parent-Youth Assistance Program.

The service will minister in humanitarian ways to all people without partiality.

"Therefore, be it resolved: To further the good ends of the Tecumseh Parent-Youth Association, the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association asks that the members and friends of the Tecumseh area churches contribute their time, talent, means and prayers in support of this work and ministry."

One Suggestion Pays $29,200

How to stimulate new ideas that will lower the cost of doing things in industry and government, thereby benefiting American consumers, stockholders and taxpayers.

Mr. Shortt is employment supervisor, chairman suggestion plan, for the Tecumseh Fisher Body.

Theme of the convention is cost reduction and how employee suggestion programs aid in the vital work of cutting expenses in government and industry.

Employee suggestion programs have progressed far beyond the once popular image of a wooden box outside the boss' door.

Today they are big business, and they produce significant savings where they are used.

Workers turned in 2,477,539 ideas and had 575,062 adopted, or about one in five. Some of the awards were astronomical. In 1965, the highest individual award was a whopping $29,200 payoff to an employee of IBM.

City Officials Seeking Improved System in Compulsory, Paper Sack Garbage Pickup

By JIM LINCOLN

For the past several weeks, there's been a controversy in Tecumseh — metal cans and the present system of garbage and trash pickup versus compulsory refuse collection in paper bags.

Last month, Council approved compulsory collection via paper sacks. Some residents approve the adoption, others don't.

This question-and-answer series with city officials should clarify most of the problems surrounding the new system.

Q. What is the paper sack, refuse collection system?

A. It's a system involving 30-gallon-size paper sacks, hanging from special holders. The sacks have been used in other cities and have proved successful.

Q. When will the new system start and will it be compulsory?

A. Plans call for the system to be activated about Jan. 1, and it will be compulsory for every Tecumseh household. The city not only wants to eliminate backyard garbage burning, but also to have all garbage taken out of the city. No garbage can be accepted at the dump.

Q. Where are the sacks to be located at the houses?

A. Anywhere the owner wishes. Only stipulation is that the resident place bags for pickup outside the home or garage and off the holder. A resident will receive a free wall-type holder, which can be fastened to a building, or he may receive credit of the wall-type holder for a free-standing model.

Q. Will the sacks hold up in bad weather and from animal attacks?

A. According to the supplier, St. Regis Paper Co., the sacks are specially treated to hold up under bad weather and to repel animals, such as dogs. However, some dogs could break the sacks; therefore, the company has available animal guards.

Q. Where do the residents get the sacks?

A. When the system's activated, 50 sacks will be distributed to each house. Thereafter, sacks at 30c each may be purchased at designated stations.

Q. Will the sack system cost more money?

A. In some cases it will cost less. Only if more than one sack a week is used will the system cost more money.

Q. Why does the resident have to take the sack off the holder?

A. The city does not want the collector taking sacks off holders for two reasons — possible damage to the holder and picking up a sack the resident may deem not full.

Q. How are the residents to pay?

A. Each resident will be charged $15 when the 50 sacks per residence are distributed. He will be billed for the $15 by the city with the quarterly water and sewer billings, spreading the $15 charge over four payments. The charge for the sacks also includes the cost for pickups.

Q. What if a resident refuses to pay for the sacks?

A. Council and city officials sincerely hope that residents will cooperate. It's not the city's desire to place a hardship on anyone, but to provide a workable refuse collection service. If an unfortunate situation arises and a resident is delinquent, the city will have no other alternative, except to shut off his water, or assess the charges against the property.

Q. What if the collector provides poor service?

A. Poor service will not be tolerated. The present collector — Dependable Garbage of Napoleon — has been required to furnish a performance bond. The city will ask the bonding company to pick up the bond and have another collector service residents, if Dependable Garbage regularly misses homes or provides poor service.

Q. What do residents do when they're missed?

A. Call city hall and the city will pick up the sack. Every attempt is being made to provide good service. When the city picks up, this cost will be levied against Dependable Garbage. Each section of Tecumseh will be notified in advance as to the day when pickups are scheduled.

Q. Why has the city continued its franchise with Dependable Garbage?

A. Officials want garbage taken out of town and Dependable takes it to Napoleon for burial. In June, Dependable was the only bidder for refuse collection. This collector has been warned that service must improve, or it will lose its franchise here.

Q. Why did Council drop the six-month experimental plan for paper sack pickup?

A. St. Regis told the city in September that it was ending its test program for instituting paper sacks in various cities. The city had to accept the program or lose free wall-mount holders for the residents. Council accepted, believing the service superior to the old system.

Q. If the new service is unfavorable, will Council take other action?

A. Some residents already have been told that if the program does not work, something else will be done — possibly return to metal cans, hire another collector, or the city take over the pickup service.

Q. Can residents continue to use the local dump?

A. Yes, it may be used for trash, but not garbage.

LONG & SHORT

By TOM RIORDAN

Coaching football in the Big Time, especially when your team is rolling up a string of victories, seems like the most glamorous position imaginable.

Big salary, big writeups, big adulation.

Duffy Daugherty is a jovial, smiling guy. His Michigan State crew has posted 16 straight regular-season wins (let's forget about that scrimmage on Jan. 1.) From every outward appearance, he seems to be living it up.

★

TAKE THAT PURDUE game Saturday. His lads were at their ferocious best, battering the Boilermakers into the luscious Spartan Stadium to the delights of a 78,000 Homecoming crowd.

Duffy and his staff were walking on air — as far as anyone from the stands could see.

As you probably have already noted, if you looked at the four-page picture section, The Herald 35mm Nikkorex was present to capture the action on film.

Following the route, I joined a crowd of newsmen who hustled into an equipment room under the stadium stands to huddle with Duffy.

Duff didn't munch his usual post-game apple — he probably was just too fagged. He answered questions for about 15 minutes, going into great detail for the writers, smiling and joking as he went.

★

AS THE INTERVIEW broke up, I strolled forward and offered my congratulations on the win. Duffy grinned his thanks, but you could tell the way he spoke and looked, the guy was really beat. Ten hours behind a punch press couldn't have made him any more tired.

So don't be too envious of Duffy, his fat contract and apparent glamour job.

Boy Loses Eye in Gun Tragedy

A tragic hunting accident involving father and son Saturday morning has cost 12-year-old Carson Murphy the sight of his left eye and severe facial injuries.

He's in serious condition at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, and hospital authorities have asked the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carmon Murphy, 206 E. Pottawatamie, to stay with their son around the clock.

The mishap occurred on Mitchell Rd., south of Tecumseh near Holloway, just before the family's hunting venture started.

They had parked the car, released the dogs, when Mr. Murphy dropped a shell in his borrowed single-shot shotgun.

He was standing about 18 feet from his son at the time. The gun accidentally discharged, the blast striking Carson in the left side of his face.

An uncle, Hermon Murphy, 828 S. Union, rushed the injured lad to Herrick Hospital. He was immediately transferred to Ann Arbor.

State Police from the Blissfield Post report the shotgun was in poor condition and had a defective firing pin.

His facial injuries are expected to result in further operations.

Britton Woman Wins $1,000

"I still can't believe it" she exclaimed Monday morning, when asked how it felt to be a big winner.

Still dazed by the happy event, she stated she has no definite shopping plans yet, but is sure the money will be put to good use.

Mr. and Mrs. Osterhout live at 230 North Main Street in Britton with their two children, Julie, 8, and Jeff, 5.

He is a Tecumseh Products Co. employee.

Hunter, 17, Accidentally Shoots Hand

Douglas Skinner, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Skinner, 611 N. Union, accidentally shot himself Monday afternoon while hunting near Holloway with three other youths.

Young Skinner was sitting on the ground with his 16-gauge shotgun across his lap. He reached out to pet his dog and the gun went off, shredding one finger and breaking bones in two others.

He also suffered powder burns on his face.

The other three youths rushed him to Herrick Hospital. He was released Wednesday.

Indian Fan Club Calls Important Special Meeting

The Indian Fan Club will hold a special meeting, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school gym.

"This is one of the club's most important meetings," a spokesman states, "and it is imperative that all of the real fan club members show up."

Plans have been made for a big city-wide campaign which will finance the clubs first major project.

Although the club has completed several smaller projects, among them being a "training table" for use prior to varsity games and the purchase of blouses for "the chain gang," the club has not been able to tackle anything of any great size.

"Tuesday evening should change that," said Stuart Costigan, a member of the board of directors.

It was also announced that movies of the remaining football games will be shown in Room 38 on the second floor of the high school.

Coach Fagan explained that 'the gym is being used on Monday evening by the GAA. So, Room 38 has been set aside for movie time."

New Employee

Mrs. Roger Bortel (nee Ann Robbins) is a new employee at Ousterhout's Flower Shop. The bride of a few weeks formerly was employed at Van's Flower Shop in Lansing.

Unknown Flying Object Is No Silent Parachute

"There were no wings, no wheels and no noise," said Mrs. John Colson, 1017 River Acres Dr., as she told about the unidentified flying object she and her aunt, Mrs. Walter Dailey, 613 W. Kilbuck St., saw Oct. 20.

Mrs. Dailey had just left her car, about to enter the home of her niece when she spied the shiny ball in the sky coming from the west.

She thought at first it was a parachute, but there was "no man below it."

Calling Mrs. Colson, the women watched as the huge white ball made an arch.

"Look at that," they exclaimed to each other as the UFO appeared more in a cigar shape.

"It was something different, something I've never seen before. I have seen weather balloons so I know it wasn't that or a helicopter or a jet. It was close enough so that we got a good look.

The object came from the west over the Milton Meyer residence and continued east, leaving the astonished women still wondering what it was they had seen — in broad daylight, too.

Spooks Will Howl Halloween Night

Watch out for goblins, witches, and all sorts of strange little creatures who will be racing about the streets this Halloween weekend.

Householders may want to turn on their porch lights to welcome the youngsters who will be trick or treating or canvassing for UNICEF.

Drivers are asked to take extra care for the safety of children whose vision may be impaired by their costumes.

Halloween party schedules in Tecumseh, Clinton and Britton are listed:

TECUMSEH

Prizes will be given for the dressiest, spookiest, most original and the funniest, judged by Senior Citizens. BEHIND PAGE ONE

Intrepid duck hunter D. J. Martin bagged one last week, according to reports received at our wildlife desk. Catch was fat and colorful — also inedible. It was a decoy.

Well, the fellow (or gal) who wrote and questioned if we had enough "intestinal fortitude" to print his (or her) letter, never did identify himself (or herself) so that we could run it.

Now along comes another unsigned note, this one berating us about a choice in headlines namely, "THS Forgets Basics: Blocking, Tackling and Desire."

Again we remind readers who wish to write — we have to know from whom the letter comes before it can appear in print. Given a good reason, we'll use a pseudonym.

Hear that "A Tecumseh Herald reader and Football Fan?"

"Shade of Lincoln and Douglas," exclaimed Gerald DeYoung of Fisher Body when announcing a bit of news — his Tiger, Marvin Esch will debate Congressman Ves Vivian. The affair is being sponsored by the Tecumseh Jaycees and will be held in St. Elizabeth School auditorium on Thursday, Nov. 3.

Which reminds us, don't forget to vote come Nov. 8. Some interesting battles shape up.

Howard Wilson Sr. of Ridgeway identified the 1913 football team of Tecumseh High School printed in last week's issue of The Herald. He said that the team won all but one game that year and that was a 7-7 tie with the second team of Adrian College. Top row left to right — Principal Jim Cook, Harold Kay, Russell McNeil, Floyd "Boone" Heesen, Louis Schneider, Fred Hendershot and Karl Schneider. Bottom row — Russell Blessing, Alvin Hunter, Don Hall, Harry Rodgers, Seymore Orr, Lloyd Aebersold, unknown and Howard Wilson Sr.

"The Birds," famous Greek comedy adapted and modernized by Walter Kerr, well-known drama critic and writer, will be presented Thursday at 8 p.m. at Siena Heights College on the Master Arts program.

Sky-divers just couldn't resist stealing the man's pants when they came down in the bean field. After all, who would expect to be spied on from the skies. The sun was warm, work was hot, the trousers came off. Anyway he has $15 to buy a new pair.

After almost a quarter century serving as organist for Tecumseh Chapter OES, force of habit made Mrs. Glenn Driscoll repeat the officers obligation Saturday evening while watching from the sidelines. Mrs. D. just retired Oct. 6.

To get those Christmas gifts to the boys overseas, parcels should be sent no later than Nov. 10. Airmail overseas should be sent by Dec. 10.

It's difficult to know from week to week who my opponent is. One week it's Hubert Humphrey, then the Secretary of the Interior, then the Secretary of Agriculture. Who's coming next?" asked Marvin Esch, Republican candidate for Congress.

Small world isn't it? Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Helzerman happened to stop in Wauseon, Ohio recently and were surprised to see Stewart Allen, former Tecumseh pharmacist who was employed in Hodges Drug Store during the mid-50's. He now owns and operates his own pharmacy in Wauseon.

Republican congressional candidate Marvin Esch and William Milliken incumbent lieutenant governor will be in Tecumseh Friday at 3 p.m. to visit Fisher Body Plant, Gate 4, Tecumseh Products Co. and the Republican Headquarters.

Fast working towards goal as Tecumseh's No. 1 auction buff is Mrs. Robert Manchester. She has a lot of competition, but Elizabeth can be seen on almost every occasion that a leather-lunged fellow asks, "How much am I bid for this fabulous item?"

Membership chairmen may obtain a 24-page handbook with step-by-step instructions for recruiting desirable members and stimulating active participation and cooperation of existing members. They're free to those addressing requests to Consumer Relations, The Sperry and Hutchinson Co., 3003 E. Kemper Rd., Cincinnati, Ohio 45241.

'The Spanish Flea'—So Does Festivity

Theme of the Tecumseh High School Homecoming parade was "Song Titles" with the Class of 1968 capturing first prize with "The Spanish Flea — and So Do the Jets."

Third place—Class of 1967 — "Get Off My Cloud."

Fourth place — Class of 1970 — "These Moccasins Were Made for Stompin'."

★

IN THE club division:

First place — Science Club, "Stomp and Circumstance."

Second place tie — Spanish Club, "Red Roses for a Blue Jet" and GAA — "Cry Me A River" and Art Club, "What Becomes of a Broken Jet."

★

A PEP RALLY on Thursday night was sponsored by the Pep Club and Cheerleaders and the class participation and spirit trophies went to the class of '69 following the bonfire.

Dance was "Moods of Music," featuring the Lamplighters with favors made by the Spanish Club. The Latin Club had charge of tickets.

Future nurses decorated the gym and posters were made by the Art Club. Future Homemakers served refreshments of cider and donuts.

★

NATIONAL HONORS Society made the float for the queen and her court with Mrs. Sally Pope of Gaston's Jewelry donating the queen's crown.

Eggleston Jewelry gave a bouquet of roses.

BUSY, BUSY — Everybody's hustling around at Van Mer's Department Store these days getting ready for their big anniversary celebration, which is doubly special this year with the opening of the 2,400-square-foot addition. This brings the store's merchandising space to 7,500 square feet, allowing a much larger inventory for their customers. Featured is a striking new rear entrance opening onto the off-street parking lot. The sale will include a giveaway with 22 items, including shoes, men's insulated underwear and work pants, women's blouses and skirts, boys' shirts and girls' wranglers.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gerald Ford, Mrs. Norbert Mauer and Mrs. Gerald Harris.

Thieves Go Whole Hog, Steal Safe

Tecumseh police night patrol discovered the break-in early Sunday morning. A rear window had been broken to get in.

Expensive Cigarettes

Cigarettes are about $1 each at Lamb's Rexall Pharmacy — if you steal them.

Two Tecumseh 18-year-olds discovered the high cost of living last Wednesday when pharmacy owner Carl Lamb nabbed the youths after they pilfered two packs of cigarettes from a rack.

Friend Opal Is Great Collector

By JUDY VANZO

Maybe Tecumseh's problem is solved.

Opal Kronkie is an experienced collector and if you'd like to meet her, drop in at the Community Center either Nov. 3, 5, 9, 10 or 12.

You'll find yourself in a cluttered, broken-down home right out of the Victorian era, located next to the city dump.

Opal lives alone with her cat, believes friends are important and she likes everybody and everybody loves her, at least until a trio of small-time crooks arrive on the scene.

Involved in a bootleg perfume business, they have been buying old bottles from Opal. Later they try to rent part of her house as a hideout. From that point the plot goes real zany.

Tickets may be purchased at Flanders Music and Wright's Drug. Students may attend the Nov. 3 or 9 performance for $1.

Pvt. Charles Saling, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Saling, 210 S. Oneida, completed a radio maintenance course at Ft. Benning, Ga., with graduation Oct. 11. He was sent immediately to Ludwigsburg, Germany, just outside of Stutgart. Mr. and Mrs. Saling and son, John, went to Fort Benning for the ceremonies and to see their son and brother before he left for overseas.

W. E. Haselwood Named Trustee of Council

Willis E. Haselwood of Tecumseh was elected to the Board of Trustees of the Citizens Research Council of Michigan at its 50th anniversary meeting held in Detroit's Cobo Hall on Oct. 21.

Citizens Research Council is a privately - supported, independent organization which conducts factual studies of state and local government problems in Michigan. Main speaker at the dinner was Congressman Wilbur D. Mills, (D., Arkansas) Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the United States House of Representatives.

Plan Ye Olde Fall Festival

A turn of the century theme will highlight this year's Fall Festival Wednesday, Nov. 9, at the Tecumseh Methodist Church sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service. A unique display of old time items will create a touch of the past in each area of the bazaar and turkey dinner.

The bazaar, opening at 10 a.m. will feature:

Candy booth — Mrs. John Garth, as chairman.

Needlework booth — Mrs. Dale Perry, chairman.

Party shop — Mrs. Raymond Nichols, chairman.

Country store — Bertha LaPointe, chairman.

Children's booth — Mrs. Norman Jolliff, chairman.

In addition, Mrs. Reed Nash will welcome guests in a coffee shop, open from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

In the evening from 5 to 7 p.m. the turkey dinner will be served under the direction of Mrs. Richard Eggleston with Mrs. Robert Bonner in charge of the dining room.

Mrs. William Steele Jr., general chairman for the event, states that tickets are readily available at a cost of $1.50 for adult and $.75 for children 12 and under by calling Mrs. Carlos Jones, 423-4732; Mrs. Harry Farley, 423-4741; Mrs. William Norris, 423-3509 and Mrs. Erwin Bkuss, 423-4515.

Facts about cleaning carpets with Blue Lustre

Blue Lustre raises beaten-down nap at doorways, leaves pile open and fluffy.

It costs only about 1c per square foot to clean your carpets. Blue Lustre electric shampooners may be rented for $3 a day.

Carpets stay new-looking if you keep Blue Lustre handy to remove spots and traffic paths as they appear. Since it contains no soap, there is no residue to cause rapid re-soiling. It dries to an invisible crystalline powder containing the soil, removed by vacuuming.

You'll be delighted by the way Blue Lustre restores forgotten colors in both carpets and upholstery. Des Ermia's Furniture, Tecumseh.

1,000 Attend Banquet

He described it as "the Climax Congress" for its landmark legislation in the fields of education, water and air pollution control, medicare, civil rights and housing.

Udall praised Mr. Vivian as "not only not a rubber-stamp Congressman, but one of the few first-term Congressmen who has had a leadership role in passing major national legislation."

He said that when the President advised the suspension of the busines investment tax credit, Vivian "embarassed the Administration" by leading the successful fight for the continuance of the tax credit for the continuance of the installation of pollution control equipment.

★

In his remarks, Mr. Vivian discussed the domestic achievements of the Congress, but then commented that "there are those persons in Washington today who would say 'look inward only.' They are the latter day isolationists.

"And they are wrong. We must seek not to dominate nor to control the economic markets of less fortunate nations. Rather we must help them build to their economic capacities," he said.

Everybody Shows Up --Except the Hostess

The only surprise of the event was the absence of the hostess, who had mailed the invitations then was hospitalized with accident injuries.

Mrs. Keith Waters of Clinton assisted Mr. Koons with the refreshments for the seven guests.

The bride-to-be received a variety of handsone gifts.

Miss Randolph and Richard Waters of Clinton will be married Oct. 29 in the Clinton Methodist Church.

Mrs. Koons has since been released from Herrick Memorial Hospital and is recovering at home with a neck support for whiplash injuries she received in an auto accident on Oct. 13.

She was a passenger in a car, driven by Mrs. Bonnie Echelbarger of Onsted, which was involved in an accident in Brooklyn.

Tecumseh Acres Fun Nite To Feature Country Store

The event will be held Nov. 5 from 4 to 8 p.m. at the school with Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Turner and Mr. and Mrs. William Morris as co-chairmen.

The turkey shoot will feature turkeys made from pumpkins and feathers.

Another interesting spot will be the Win-a-Pet booth where customers may throw ping pong balls at fish bowls and scorers will take home a gold fish.

Other booths featured will be a donkey ride, miniature golf, skill games, cake and candy walks, fish pond, sock hop and refreshments.

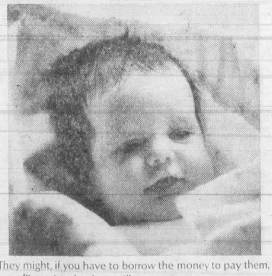
Will the bills cost you $175 more than they should?



They might, if you have to borrow the money to pay them. (Repaying that loan will cost you a pretty penny in interest charges.)

But if you make a habit of saving with us, with the people who specialize in saving, you will have the money when you need it. The difference between borrowing to pay the bills for your baby or saving ahead and getting earnings on your savings could furnish the nursery. Saving makes the difference.

Dogs Don't Bother His Metal Garbage Can

TO THE EDITORS:

I have been a resident of Tecumseh for four years. In that time I have not had any trouble with garbage other than the infrequent pick-ups.

We have a metal garbage can which is kept covered and therefore have no problems with rats or mice. The dogs, and there are several running loose, never bother our garbage.

Since we pay for one can, which is supposed to be picked up twice a week, we would probably not be affected too much by the price change, but I am thinking of those who have more cans of garbage to worry about. Their charge would be higher and I do not think the convenience will be as adequate with paper bags as now with metal containers.

Definitely I oppose the change to paper bags for garbage pick-up. The garbage, if not picked up regularly, will create a health hazard for the whole community. There will be odors, rats, mice, etc. Also there are many people who do not have protective storage for garbage until it is picked up.

Please do not force this issue on us as a result of a few test cases. Let the majority decide what is best.

Since writing this letter I would also like to point out that our garbage was picked up only once last week. Evidently the collectors must already know that the issue has been decided in their favor and are falling back into the old routine.

Very truly yours,
Charles H. Tipton
505 W. Brown St.

Blesses Are Westbound for Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bless and daughter, Susan, left Sunday by train. Susan was to meet her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bless of Madison, Neb. and remain with them while her parents went on their way to San Francisco, Calif.

In California, Mr. and Mrs. Bless joined a group of Michigan Extension agents who will fly to the National Conference of Extention Agents in Hawaii, Nov. 1-5.

The exciting trip by the Blesses is also in observance of Mrs. Bless's birthday Oct. 29. They plan to return to Madison, Nebr. and to drive home from there about Nov. 13.

TO THE EDITORS:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the numerous organizations in Tecumseh area who have been kind enough to extend invitations to me to appear before them during the past several months.

As many of your readers are aware, the United States Congress has held an extraordinarily long session this year. To transact this business, I have been obligated to remain in Washington weeks longer than earlier anticipated, and as a consequence, often at the last minute, have been obligated to cancel commitments to attend events which I had accepted earlier in the year.

With the 89th Congress now about to adjourn, I am pleased to be able to report that I shall be in the District full time during the coming weeks, and look forward to meeting with those of your readers with whom I have not been able to meet to date.

Sincerely,
Weston E. Vivian
Member of Congress

Methodist Church Loyalty Sunday Is November 6

Loyalty Sunday in the Tecumseh Methodist Church, Nov. 6, is the highlight of the Every Member Visitation effort conducted annually.

During Sunday morning services several lay speakers will present their views on stewardship to the congregation.

Harry Snyder spoke last Sunday, Carl Hale and Aden Mead will speak in the two weeks prior to the canvass.

'Have Mercy Upon Me, O God'

"Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving kindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions."

This verse from the 51st Psalm is a part of the responsive reading in this week's Lesson-Sermon titled, "Everlasting Punishment," to be read at all Christian Science services this Sunday.

1833 Cornerstone Laying Being Recalled on Sunday

The proper prayers and lessons for Sunday at St. Peter's Episcopal Church will be for the 133rd anniversary of the Dedication of the Church.

The day is an observance through worship of the founding of the buildings of the Episcopal Church in Tecumseh.

The first St. Peter's was built from 1832 to 1835 with the cornerstone being laid by the Rev. William N. Lyster Oct. 10, 1833.

"Priest" Lyster, as he was known in Lenawee County, preached a sermon on the occasion using the text "A city set on a hill cannot be hid."

He recalled to the congregation the meaning of the history of the parish and the importance of having a beautiful house of worship dedicated to the glory of God.

CLINTON HOMECOMING

Senator Bursley's LANSING REPORT

Let's review the progress made in Michigan so far in the sixties.

We started with a reputation as a bad state in which to do business. We had much unemployment and a $90 million deficit.

Today we have an accumulated surplus of over $100 million.

Big business in Michigan has spent hundreds of millions for plant expansion inside the state.

Our Legislature has appropriated record sums for educational and health purposes.

In the past six years state support to the School Aid fund has risen from $36 millions to $238 millions; appropriations to the University of Michigan have gone from $35 to $58 millions; for Eastern Michigan from $3 to $8 millions; money for new buildings has gone from $8 million in 1961 to $42 this year.

All this has taken place while we balanced our budgets and operated in the black.

Population rises with 50,000 more children in our public schools each year. The number in our state colleges and universities has doubled during the decade.

Our tax base is growing with statewide property assessments rising from $25 to $28 billions. Total personal incomes of Michigan residents is now close to $25 billon annually and the value of goods and services exceeds $31 billions. This would make us rank 11th abong the nations of the world in productivity.

★

LETS LOOK at the mental health picture. We've increased appropriations from $75 to $115 million during the six-year span, but with greater emphasis on home and community care we've been able to reduce the hospital population of mentally ill from 21,000 to 16,000.

The figure for the mentally retarded has risen from 11,000 to 12,000.

Since 1962 we've had no significant changes in tax rates, but our revenues have nearly doubled as a result of high employment and general prosperity.

Automotive manufacturing is still our principal economic factor, but incomes from agriculture and tourism are now both in the billion dollar a year category.

Exports of Michigan products from farm and factory total $1.5 billion annually and we can push that figure up.

Michigan has truly made a lot of progress and our government has acted responsibly when weighing all factors. Michigan is on the move and Republicans and Democrats in Lansing can both take credit for achievement.

It would be partisan, petty and inaccurate to say one party deserves all the credit.

To keep moving we still need to generate 100,000 new jobs annually. We need fiscal reform and other legislative actions.

14 Are Selected Players of Week

Coach Tom Fagan doesn't have a Player of the Week — instead he selected 14, his entire defensive alignment.

In the tight 7-6 victory over Airport, the defense was outstanding.

Included for Coach Fagan's praises are:

► Ends Barry Williamson and Lee Hannibal

► Linebackers Henry Mensing, Chuck Gillies and Doug Luce

► Halfbacks Steve Dalton, Buddy Work and Gus Bishop

As a unit, the crew gave up 150 yards to Airport, with two plays accounting for 71 and 24 yards.

McClain Family Wins Weekend

Mrs. James E. McClain, 709 Ferries Rd., was winner of this week's free weekend in the Albert Pick Motel-Hotel contest.

Her name was drawn from among those deposited at Western Auto and again at the final drawing of all 17 store winners.

"I've never won anything in my life," said Mrs. McClain when told of her good fortune.

"I would kind of like to go to Cleveland since I have never been there but I will talk it over with my husband and the children.

Mr. McClain is a foreman at the Tecumseh Products Co.

Red Cross Supports Refugees

American Red Cross chapters, including the Lenawee County chapter, have contributed nearly $50,000 toward meeting the immediate needs of 8,000 South Vietnamese displaced civilians in a refugee camp in Quang Ngai Province.

Lenawee chapter's share was $25.00.

At the request of the Agency for International Development, the Red Cross has sent a team of seven specialists to supervise the camp for one year.

They are also training a staff of seven South Vietnamese Red Cross workers, who will direct camp activities when the American team leaves.

About 60 percent of the refugees in the camp are children. Red Cross youth members are contributing large supplies of school, hygiene and recreation items for the schools being built for the youngsters.

Farewell Party Given Families

A farewell get-together was held Monday evening at the Tecumseh Methodist Church in honor of the Maynard Lucas family, which is leaving the community for Atlanta, Ga. in the near future, and the Lynn Noble family, which is moving to Wheaton, Ill. Nov. 1.

During the evening members of the congregation had an opportunity to talk casually with the honored guests before a short program was presented.

Mrs. Carlton Cushing, chairman for the event, gave a "Do You Remember" reminiscence for the Lucases with the use of a flannel board.

Group Tours Cass Center in Detroit

MACON — Several people from the Methodist Church toured the Cass Community Center in Detroit Saturday afternoon.

Those making the tour were the Rev. Ronald Corl, Mrs. Ray Williams, chairman of the Commission on Christian Social Concern; Pamela Haines, president of Macon Youth, Judy Mueller, Roxie Hover, Lorraine Ruhl, Robert Haines and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore.

The Cass Community Center is an inter-city church project that is in use every day and evening of the week. The center was organized in 1932.

It administers to 65% from the Appalachia area, 30% negro and the rest are mostly Oriental, with 100% change over each year.

Among the things they are in need of are teen age table games, Golden story books for children, dart boards, toys of any kind for 5 to 11 year olds, any Scout handbooks, uniforms for Cubs, Brownies, Junior Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, mittens, stocking caps, roller and ice skates.

Anyone having any of these items to donate, may contact Mrs. Ray Williams, Mrs. Truman Jordan or Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore.

Has Birthday

Mrs. Howard Kronbrg of 415 Center Dr. entertained Saturday for her son, Mike, on the occasion of his 11th birthday.

Guests at the celebration included Paul Lemanski, John Frownfelder, David Wilson, Colby Welch, Ricky Vealey, Larry Bird, Doug Eggleston, Scott Lask, Randy Beckey, Frank Bock, Bobby Kurietz, Mike's sister, Karen.

Games were played and Mike received many fun gifts.

Each guest was presented a Batman ring and pin set favor.

MISSING ACTION — Dean Hebb, lanky senior end, will miss Tecumseh's encounter with Blissfield Friday night. The 6'3", 185-pounder has been the Indians' top receiver. He is out with a thigh injury that may keep him out for the remaining three games.

4th Quarter Score Nips Airport, 7-6

By JIM LINCOLN

For three quarters, Tecumseh stuttered and stumbled against a mediocre Airport eleven before rallying for a 7-6 victory, its third in Huron League play against one loss.

Fortunately for the Indians, the Jets didn't realize that they could not run against Tecumseh until midway in third period. If they had started passing earlier, the outcome could have been different.

Airport broke a scoreless deadlock with 6:55 left in the third quarter when Bill Frankhouse passed long to end Randy Antcaut who got beyond Tecumseh's secondary and raced untouched for the tally.

The TD play covered 71 yards. An attempted place kick for the extra point was messed up when the pass from center was fumbled.

TECUMSEH TOOK the ensuing kick-off on its 35 and in 10 plays reached Airport's 10 and a first down. Two of the next four plays resulted in losses, and the Indians gave up the ball on Airport's 13.

On the first play, the Jets fumbled and Tecumseh recovered on the 11. After Randy Robinson picked up two to the nine, Chuck Gillies broke loose over left tackle on the first play of the final period to even the count at 6-6.

Twice in the final minutes, Airport threatened. Once the Jets were just inches short of a first down at Tecumseh's 30, and with just over a minute left, they reached Tecumseh's 17.

At this point, he ding three yards for a first down, a jump pass over the middle was deflected by linebacker Henry Mensing. The Indians took over, running out the clock and running on fourth down at their own 12.

★

THE HOMECOMING game victory was far from being impressive. Again, Tecumseh showed no offense, and only for a stout defense did the Indians squeak out a win.

Mensing, Doug Schwartz, Lee Hannibal and Gary Dauber led a defense that yielded 23 yards rushing in the first half. All three first downs by Airport in the first two quarters came on penalties against Tecumseh.

The Jets picked up three more first downs in the second half, two by passing and one by rushing, when a pass play misfired and the Jet quarterback had to run.

Airport tried few running plays in the second half, gaining only seven yards for a total 30-yard rushing offense for the game.

Although the Indians' attack was rather futile, Airport's running game was worse. Tecumseh's drive just before its TD was engineered primarily through the air with Jim Mohl y hitting Work once and Carl Mobley twice.

Royals Favored To Trim Indians

Unless there's a complete reversal in form, the Tecumseh Indians have little chance of whipping Blissfield Friday night.

The Royals have jelled, and the Indians have not.

Blissfield, easy winners in recent games, such as a 60-0 pasting of Milan last week, will be big favorites to clobber Tecumseh and knock the Indians out of second place in the Huron League.

Both teams boast 3-1 marks in the league, but that's not the whole story. Since losing a 6-0 decision to Grosse Ile, Blissfield has turned its offense loose.

Coach Tom Fagan has the nucleus for an offense, but he can't get them on the field. Speedster Roger Young has suffered both a knee and ankle injury and has seen practically no action since the season's opener.

John Anderson has a bum knee, did not play against GI or Airport and is apt to sit out this one against Blissfield.

End Dean Hebb, top Tecumseh receiver, missed the game against Airport and may be through for the season. He has calcium deposits in his left thigh.

★

Except for Buddy Work, Fagan does not have a back in the lineup which started the season against Willow Run. Several backs — Jim Mobley, Randy Robinson and Chuck Gillies — have shown potential, but simply haven't been able to click consistently.

Except for a tough defensive line, the Indians have slipped considerably since the WR clash, and two losses in the final three games of the season would not be surprising.

Coin Collectors' Dinner Is Nov. 4 at Country Club

The Maple City Coin and Stamp Club will hold a Banquet and Educational Forum at the Tecumseh Country Club, Friday evening, Nov. 4.

This program will be followed by the club's two-day Coin Show and Bourse, Nov. 5 and 6, in the Eagles' Hall, 205 North Winter St., Adrian.

The program will feature three of the most prominent men in the Numismatic field.

C. C. "Tim" Shroyer, professional numismatist of Fremont, Ohio will speak on Lesher Referendum Dollars. His topic may surprise collectors, since Lesher Dollars are seldom seen or heard of. However, Joseph Lesher, who coined these dollars, lived at one time in this area.

Sol Kaplan, professional numismatist of Cincinnati, Ohio will discuss, "Investment and Tax Advantages in Numismatics."

Indian JV's Score Win Number Five

Ends Dan Anderson and David Laidlaw, tackles Burl Ives and Joe Conklin, along with linebackers Larry Cote, Dennis Lewis and Rick Steele were outstanding, the mentors said.

Tecumseh scoring:

► Steele on nine-yard run to cap a 61-yard drive.

► Conklin, on tackle eligible pass, good for 65 yards.

► Steele on five-yard burst.

► Laidlaw on 25-yard pass from Jack Kennedy, set up by tosses to Brad Brown and David Lord.

Extra points were tallied by Jim Collins (run), Brown (pass) and Anderson (pass).

Frosh Rally To Win

On runs of 92, 63 and 17 yards, Ken scored three of four TD's.

Twice Tecumseh punted and each time Manchester blocked the kicks and recovered the ball in the end zone for scores.

But the Indians fired back in the second quarter with Pieh going 63 yards for a score, followed with Bob Reed running back an intercepted pass 27 yards to paydirt and then Pieh going off tackle for 17.

In the third stanza, Pieh took a quick pitchout on the Tecumseh eight-yard line and sprinted 92 yards for his third tally.

Manchester picked off a THS aerial and scored for its third score.

Fine blocking jobs were turned in by Jack Greenfield, Paul Burns, Tony Nyodym and Bob Hackett.

Redskins Blank Eagles

By IVAN McKENNA

CLINTON — With a brilliant defense and an adequate offense, the Clinton Redskins recorded their third shut-out in four league games Friday night by blanking the Brooklyn Eagles, 25-0.

Neither offense could sustain a drive long enough to score in the first half. Brooklyn came the closest, however, as they fought to the Redskin 8-yard line in the second quarter.

A recovered fumble on the Brooklyn 25-yard line late in the third frame set up Clinton's first touchdown. Fullback Ivan McKenna cappéd the drive with a one-yard plunge.

Two minutes later it was the Redskin's defense again that set up a scoring opportunity. Guard Sam Sparks blocked a punt on the Eagle's 20-yard line and a few plays later quarterback Doug Wight took it in from three yards out to give Clinton a 12-0 lead.

★

With less than two minutes left, guard Roger Walden picked up a fumble on the 22-yard line and scampered to paydirt. A pass from Wight to Doug Brown for the extra point provided the 25-0 margin.

What started out to be a scoreless battle ended up in a lopsided Clinton victory as the Redskin defense played brilliantly throughout the game.

The Homecoming victory gave Clinton a 4-0 league mark. Brooklyn is now 1-2-2 in league play.

The Redskins will face Grass Lake there in a crucial contest Friday night. The Warriors, with a 3-1 record, pose as the biggest threat to Clinton's third consecutive Lakeland C Championship.

Parade Saves Best Until Last

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Saving the best until last, Clinton's Homecoming parade of floats was climaxed Friday afternoon by the senior class float, which was awarded the $10 first prize in the contest judging at the football game later in the evening.

The senior's float featured two eyes on a huge brown crepe paper football and the slogan, "I Spy Victory."

Choosing float themes from TV commercials, the classes used considerable ingenuity and many hours of work to produce their offerings.

Led by the high-stepping marching band, the floats shown were:

Second prize, $5 winner, the shophomore class float was a large simulated tube of crush toothpaste, with the slogan, "Our team has 100% more victories with Crush."

Third place, $3 winner, the junior class float was a large simulated Raid spray can and the slogan, "Knock 'em Dead."

The freshman float was a giant fist arising from a crepe paper washing washine and the slogan, "We Want Action."

The eighth grade float featured a large crepe paper globe with the theme, "Wonderful World of Redskins."

The seventh grade float showed the White Knight with its white paper charger and the theme, "Clean 'em up."

The team mascot was a larger-than-life-sized Redskin warrior standing menacingly in the rear of a pickup.

★

She presided at the dance after the game in the cafeteria. Gerry Eddy, the 1965 Homecoming Queen, now a freshman at MSU, was present to participate in the crowning ceremony.

Clinton's Redskins must have gotten the message because they trounced Brooklyn, 25-0, for a perfect ending.

Gun Blasts Left Foot

CLINTON — Charles R. Rynd, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rynd of 13580 Bartlette Rd., received injuries to his left foot whn a shotgun discharged, which he had placed muzzle down on is foot.

The mishap occurred at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, while he was hunting with Robert Bivins, 15, in Washtenaw County. Charles was treated by a local physician.

Clinton State Police who investigated the incident said the boys may be cited for violation of conservation laws which require juvenile hunters to be accompanied by an adult.

Lutherans Study Modern Changes

At its 1964 convention, the Lutheran Church in America became concerned that some of its congregations may have lost touch with modern changes in private and community life.

Leaders ordered a study of the nature and mission of the congregation.

This document, called "Manifesto" was read last Sunday and will be read again on Reformation Sunday, Oct. 30 from the pulpit of 6,217 congregations of the LCA including Gloria Dei, of Tecumseh. There are 3,265,000 members in the congregations.

AMONG OTHER points, the manifesto urges the congregations to greater cooperation with other Lutheran and non-Lutheran bodies.

Congregations are told to increase efforts to "promote justice, relieve misery and reconcile the estranged."

The manifesto also demands a thorough examination of the congregation's inner, spiritual life, urging members "to be the family of God in which those who suffer the bruises of life can find support and help, the complacent are stirred, and the creative and venturesome are encouraged."

FINALLY THE MANIFESTO calls for regular examination of the congregation's organizational life "to make sure that every part of it is an authentic expression of the Gospel and contributes to the fulfilling of its mission."

"The Manifesto is part of a church-wide look at itself", said the Rev. Dr. Franklin C. Fry, LCA President. "I hail it with joy and gratitude. It has the potential for immeasurable good".

Churches will be encouraged to fit themselves into needs of special groups, even" if outside the normal pattern of congregational life."

Last Sunday this tremendous new voice of this new generation was brought to the congregation in the sermon of the pastor, Dr. Laszlo Gero, who explained its effects, which is to change our Christian attitude toward mankind.

Next Sunday, he will continue to meditate on the manifesto, which is the echo of the Reformation.

After the regular worship service Holy Communion will be offered.

A world traveler who does extensive research, he spent several months in 1965-1966 developing data for this lecture.

The public is cordially invited to attend. There is no admission charge.

TRY THE WORLD'S TOUGHEST 2-DOOR

This new Chevy pickup looks so good you could call it a 2-door. (You could also call it the toughest Chevy pickup ever built!)

This Fleetside pickup's got a lot more than good looks going for you.

It's got new construction to bring you more durability, working ease, comfort and safety. Check that new all-steel pickup box, for example. New full double-wall side panels and tailgate keep your load from leaving its mark on Chevy's good looks. And new measures have been taken to help keep out rust and corrosion. Like the one-piece wheelhousings that now protect sheet metal against tire splash.

Inside, the color-keyed cab looks and feels like a pleasant place to work. There are a number of new safety features, too: an energy-absorbing steering wheel and a dual master cylinder brake system, to name two.

And here's another thing the new Chevy pickup's got going for you: it rides better than some cars. Choose from 26 Fleetside and Stepside models now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

In cooperation with your lawyer, accountant, and trust officer, your New York Life Agent can provide many valuable services.

Conserving your estate to the best advantage requires careful planning by a team of experts. Possible tax saving agreements as well as the most beneficial means of distributing your estate must be thoroughly explored.

The key man in developing a sound program is your lawyer. Only he may give you legal counsel. The specialized advice of your accountant and trust officer can also be invaluable.

An important contribution can be made by your New York Life Agent, too. Every estate must have liquid dollars to meet death costs and preserve estate assets. Buck Antelope Bows to Helzerman Arrow

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"I knew the men wanted me to shoot one, that's why I did it," said Mrs. Ralph Helzerman as she told about the exciting experience of bagging a buck antelope with bow and arrow.

Dr. and Mrs. Helzerman go to Bill Maycock ranch, west of Gillette, Wyo. every fall for the bow and arrow season.

This year they were joined there by their son, Ralph, and his wife, Marilyn, who were returning from a 18,000 mile tour of the west coast states where he had been interviewed for internship.

MRS. HELZERMAN was referring to her son and husband when she spoke of the "men." They know a bit about it.

Dr. Helzerman won the national Pope and Young award for archers in 1961 with a record animal. This is the second year for Ralph, Jr. to shoot an antelope and the head measured 13 inches from the base of the horn to the tip, almost a record.

Mrs. Helzerman's animal was not so large, but she is apparently the first woman to shoot an antelope with bow and arrow according to conservation records.

★

THE CASPER Star-Tribune's story of Mrs. Helzerman's successful hunt read this way:

"Bow hunting involves more 'sit and wait' than rifle hunting, because of the limited range of the bow.

"A blind is constructed, usually near a watering place and the hunters must be in place before daybreak and remain concealed for hours.

"The arrow must hit a vital spot, so that the animal is killed quickly and doesn't run away and die where it cannot be found."

★

MRS. HELZERMAN did the deed perfectly. She waited patiently for many hours and then shot the buck antelope in the jugular vein, at a range of about 25 yards.

Not to be outdone, Dr. Helzerman shot his antelope from the same blind that afternoon and young Ralph still later in the day.

Meat from these animals is delicious, Mrs. Helzerman said. They have it processed in Wyoming and shipped home in dry ice.

Governor Adds Praise to Committee

Gov. George Romney has added his congratulations to the praise already heaped on Tecumseh Rotary Club members who helped with the 1966 Vehicle Safety Check.

In a letter to Chairman Charlie Beder, the governor said:

"The program of volunteer vehicle safety inspection performed by your committees of citizens is an excellent example of what can be done when a group of dedicated leaders make up their minds to act.

"You reflected credit on your own community of Tecumseh and on the whole State of Michigan. I am aware that you have developed this activity over a terms of years under sometimes adverse circumstances.

"As you know, I have gone on record strongly in favor of vehicle inspection and have asked our state legislature to produce an effective official state program. So far we have all been disappointed.

"The work of your committee and others like it should do much to inspire continuing efforts to accomplish this goal.

"Please express my sincere good wishes to all your associates in this recent campaign and accept my thanks for your consistent leadership," he concluded.

Cards Sent to Members on Sick List

Mrs. Lynn Harris entertained the Tecumseh Past Chiefs' Club in her home Thursday evening for the October meeting. Mrs. Cecile Smith presided at the meeting.

For the November meeting members will meet in the Pythian Hall for a potluck supper.

Following the business session, cards were played with prizes being presented to Mrs. Harry Schuch, Mrs. Verdi Skinner and Mrs. Duncan Oliphant.

You don't believe
a 6 can act anything like an 8?

GM
Pontiac Motor Division

With our new Overhead Cam Six you'd better believe it.

A few short years ago automotive engineers were struggling to coax 165 hp out of a four barrel V-8 using premium gas. Remember? Our single barrel OHC 6 gets 165 hp on regular. And 215 from the premium gas four barrel option.

Most American sixes (and some underprivileged V-8s) don't even come close. Expensive European sports machines do. But they're overhead cams, too. In fact, they inspired us. But we like to think ours is better.

Our OHC 6 is standard on all Tempests and Le Mans. To say nothing of new styling, new interiors, new colors, new options (like that hood-mounted tach) and new standard safety features (like passenger-guard door locks, General Motors' new energy absorbing steering column and a four-way hazard warning flasher).

We've said enough. If a test drive won't convince you, nothing will.

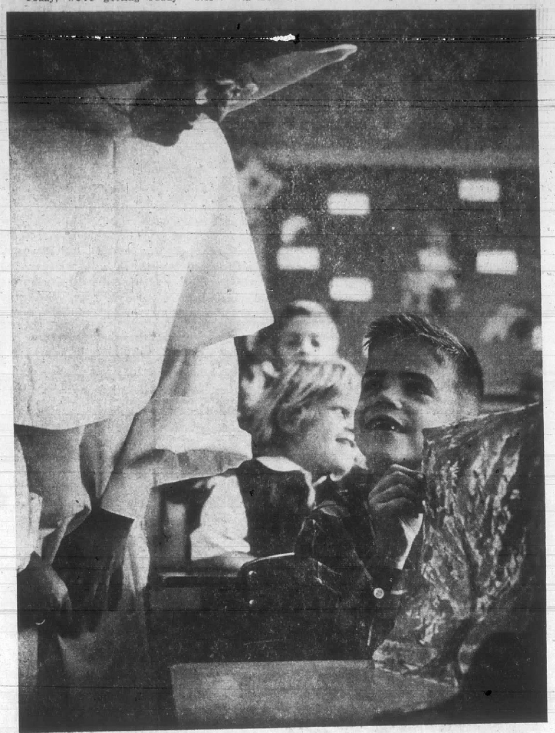
Students Look Forward to Their TV Classes

By JUDY FIELDER

"There's something moaning in the old oak tree," sing the children at St. Elizabeth School. "Today, we're getting ready for Halloween," says their teacher, Mrs. George Ann Wolf.

Mrs. Wolf teaches music at the school every Tuesday for 15 minutes — via the classroom's newest tool, educational television.

St. Elizabeth became the first school in this area to use the revolutionary system by installing it in 1965.



SEE MY TREE — David Rapin shows Sister Ellen Leo the tree he created after his TV art lesson. Ablaze with color, the picture was made by drawing the tree in crayon, then painting over it with water colors.

KLA Laboratories of Detroit, the largest sound people in Michigan, according to the Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins, installed the antenna, distribution and convertor and amplifying systems for $1,660.

The six General Electric television sets specially built for classrooms were all gifts of parishioners.

The antenna system consists of two UHF antennas and the VHF antenna, which the school utilizes most through the Michigan State channel 10 educational system.

Transistors supply the small amount of current necessary for the convertor and amplifying system. The transistors are turned on in September and off in June, a method cheaper than turning them off and on each day.

Purdue University's flying transmitter via airplane, which covers a 300-mile radius, is also used on a limited basis, because "the cost is much greater than the Michigan State system," said Fr. Collins.

Channel 10 television and manuals to help the teachers at St. Eylizabeth costs 90c per child, about $225 per year, according to Fr. Collins.

All classes at the school use the television, mostly in modern mathematics, science, music and art.

Sister Mary Kieran, principal, calls the system "marvelous. Presentations are excellent, offering lessons in a fashion so interesting that the children look forward to them."

"The children see things on television that can't normally be given in regular classroom procedure," she added.

Highly qualified teachers conduct the courses, with the additional help of television technicians and directors to keep student interest high.

"The children are anxious to see each lesson," said Sister Kieran.

When Mrs. Wolf says, "Good morning," the personal feeling is conveyed so strongly that the children reply directly to their TV teacher's questions and addresses.

TV TEACHES — First graders at St. Elizabeth School listen intently to their TV music teacher, Mrs. George Ann Wolf as Sister Ellen Leo handles set. The 15-minute period included learning two new songs and interpreting music played while they closed their eyes.

Ridgeway School Forms Blue Bird Group

The newly organized Blue Birds of Ridgeway School are in full swing. They have selected the name "The Busy Bees" and have now completed registration with the Campfire office in Adrian.

Two new members secured this month are Debbie Cote and Sharon Robison, bringing the membership to 10 girls.

Elected officers for the first quarter are:

President — Meg Moore
Vice-president — Sherry Hover
Secretary — Vicki Cook
Treasurer — Debbie Cote

Mrs. Dean Moore has agreed to be the group's sponsor for the year.

Last week the girls enjoyed a leaf hike collecting fall-colored specimens which were dried and made into place mats at this week's meeting.

The group is planning a sack lunch hike for Nov. 4 at the Adrian Campfire Girls cottage since there is no school that day.

The girls will soon begin to work on a Christmas project for the Chelsea Methodist Home at Chelsea. They will box and wrap gifts for the aged.

These gifts will be supplied by the members and the WSCS and Circles of the Macon Methodist Church.

The gifts, mostly personal toiletries, will be chosen from the suggested gift list by the Rev. John Fall, director of the retirement home.

Any person, groups or businesses interested in contributing gifts for the girls to wrap for Chelsea may contact Roxie Hover for further information, 423-7310.

Humane Society Rummage Sale

The Lenawee County Humane Society will sponsor a rummage sale Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 102 E. Logan. Anyone wishing to donate articles or have them picked up may call Mrs. Albert Caesar, 423-7228.

Our Readers Write

Dad Irate Over Lack of Substitutions

TO THE EDITORS:

It usually takes something of great magnitude to cause me to rise to the occasion of writing you a letter.

Last night I awakened during the wee hours as a result of the game at the athletic field last evening. I know I was awake for more than an hour thinking of the two ignoramuses who are called coaches of the 7th and 8th grades, namely Poley and Crocker. (I had to take sufficient time to clean up the pronouns and adjectives so that the words would be suitable for print.)

Win-win-win!, at any expense but WIN! This seems to be the attitude of those so-called coaches.

The idea of having or allowing about 40 boys to practice for weeks so that their efforts can be rewarded by playing two inter-squad football games and then not letting about 15 of them play is for the birds — the bird brained coaches!

What kind of characters are they trying to build? They start out by assigning uniforms to each participant as one must have a uniform and equipment if he is to participate in the play of the game. These fortunate children must practice in the rain and cold if necessary and if they catch cold or develop strep throat and miss school at the request of their family doctor as a result of all of this fine practice, that is only a part of the game. (Keep in mind that these are 7th and 8th graders rather than the Packers or even Juniors or Seniors.)

The day before the game our brave young charge brought home a dirty, muddy uniform that someone else had gotten that way, for his mother to wash for the big game. (The soap company would have liked this one for a new commercial.) He explained of course, that this was necessary so that he could participate in the final game of the two game season. So, the football pants got laundered.

The boys, all members of the squad, were allowed to wear their jersey, with much pride, to school the day of the big game to show that they were squad members and as an acknowledgement of their participation on the practice field for their hard work. This makes the boys feel elated for tonight they play the big one — the final game of their Tecumseh Junior High career.

THE GAME is scheduled for 6 p.m. and the boys are excited as they run down to the freshly lighted Senior High Football Field which is theirs for the big one. They are so proud with their sparkling clean uniforms as they go into their pre-game warm-up exercises.

Finally the field lights are turned on and the game gets under way. Naturally since only 22 players are allowed on the field of play at any one time during the game, some of them must wait for their turn to play. However, it turns out that the coaches are apparently taking pity on the mothers, for they do not see fit to let all of these freshly-laundered pants get soiled. For those who do not get to play, there is always the bench to warm. The temperature is in the 40's and fortunately it is not raining as it was during some of the practice sessions. Well, the boys should be up to warming the bench.

The fact that the pros — the high school players have extra jackets or blankets to help keep benches warm does not deter our stalwart youth because they are still wearing the thin jersey they have had on all day.

So try to keep themselves warm until it's their turn to play they do, but alack and alas, time is running out and the long-awaited contest will be over.

But wait, there is still 45 seconds on the clock and the play is at mid-field. Surely at this point neither coach can be hurt by clearing the benches. So, while the next play is on, clear the benches they do.

At last, now comes the big moment and reward for these 12 or 15 players to get into the thick of it and get their uniforms soiled. They jump up for joy to run onto the field of battle for the last 26 seconds of play.

However, for the lack of a time-keeper, and before play can resume, the clock runs out and the contest is over.

What irony, after all of the disillusionment of practice, wearing of coveted jersey to school, the self-laundering of the school equipment and the shivering and waiting during the final culminating hour of the big game, these forlorn dozen or so players must have felt like the ones who find an empty stocking on Christmas morning with a lump in their throats as big as the football with which they did not get to play.

Perhaps it is fortunate for the writer or the coaches that the ball field is not just a little more easily accessible from the stands. Otherwise, someone would probably have gotten a good stiff punch in the nose.

On the other hand some good could come from all of this, however. We could send these kind of people to Vietnam to train the North Vietnamese. Then the free world would have only a little more than half the number of enemy to fight as the coaches would send only that number into battle.

An irate parent.

Board Borrows from State Aid

BRITTON — The board met Thursday evening with all members present.

Supt. William Saxton reviewed bills to be paid and gave a report on school activities.

Advanced State Aid totaling $35,000 will be borrowed by the School Board to meet current expenses.

A cafeteria report prepared by Mrs. Forrest Barrett was read. Total lunches served in September were 7,432, as compared with last year's September total of 6,940.

One hundred combination locks have been ordered for the lockers. Fire doors are to be installed Nov. 3 and 4 while school is closed for Teacher's Institute.

Ron Shows Tour Slides

BRITTON — Ron Heiden, a senior at Britton-Macon High School, presented the entertainment when the Christian Duets met last Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks.

Ron narrated a slide showing of his trip last August to several European countries with the Michigan FFA group. He had some excellent views of Belgium, Germany, France, Switzerland and Sweden.

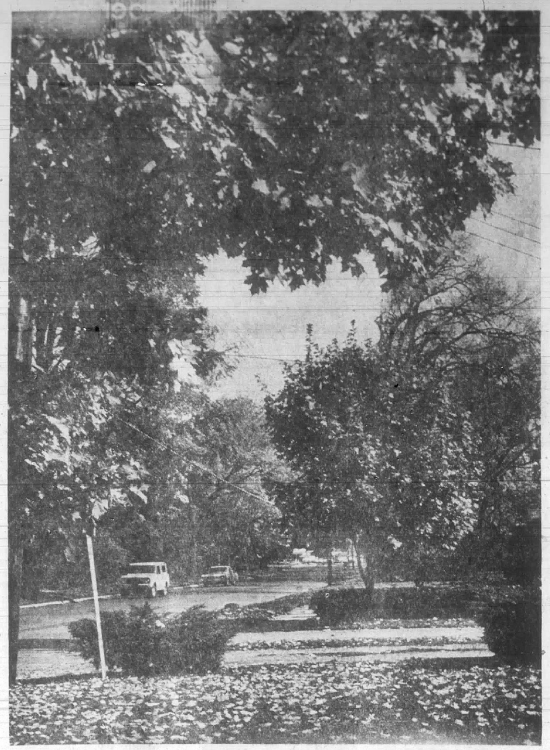
The trip was largely agriculturally centered, with tours of outstanding form and agriculture colleges in the various countries featured, but the boys had some time off for just plain sight-seeing as well, and Ron had some interesting experiences.

The group of 23 FFA boys and their advisors toured farms in the countries mentioned as well as in Communist-controlled Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

In Berlin, they took a side trip to East Berlin across the Berlin Wall. The audience was particularly impressed with the views of the wall, memorials to escapees and the obvious differances between East and West Berlin.

Nineteen were present to enjoy the potluck dinner. President Elwood Tucker conducted the business meeting.

The Duets will meet next month with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ash.



AUTUMN NEVER MORE LOVELY — Many Tecumseh residents agree that Autumn was never more gorgeous than it has been this year but they won't agree on whose street was the most beautiful. This picture was taken on W. Brown, but W. Logan, N. Union and numerous others were also gayly decked out in reds and gold. Some said the most brilliant tree in town was a maple next to Dr. M. R. Blanden's office on E. Pottawatamie.

Children Will Collect Funds

BRITTON — Plans for the annual UNICEF collection and Halloween Party, which is sponsored by the PTA, are well underway. Mrs. Richard Vallie and Mrs. Robert Osterhout are chairmen of the event, which is Monday.

The UNICEF canisters will be distributed to grade school children Monday afternoon.

The fire whistle will sound in Britton at 6 p.m. to commence the collection, and again at 7 p.m. to signal the ending.

The children will then bring the UNICEF canisters down to school to be turned in and costume parade will form.

The high school band will lead the parade of spooks and goblins through the business district and back to the school.

Refreshments will be served in the gym and prizes awarded for costuming in several different catagories.

A special effort is being made this year to get a more complete UNICEF collection taken in the entire area.

The committee is sending home notes with the school children, requesting that the children collect for UNICEF in their own neighborhood, especially in the rural areas.

Many people in the country are willing to give, but the children never come around to collect.

Also, this will relieve the townspeople, who are confronted with the entire burden of the UNICEF collection as well as Trick or Treaters. Rural parents are urged by the chairmen to give this special consideration next Monday evening.

Guest Speaker Is Ann Arbor District Superintendent

BRITTON — The Rev. Joseph Edwards, Superintendent of the Ann Arbor District, will be the guest speaker at Grace Methodist Church in Ridgeway Sunday morning.

Not much!
In fact, we think just enough to hold the fruit and nuts in place.
You see, our Jane Parker Fruit Cake is over 2/3 fruit and nuts.

Every cake is just bursting with cherries imported from France, pineapple from the Far East, citron from Italy, sun-drenched raisins from California and meaty pecans from the South.

AND ONE OTHER THING YOU SHOULD KNOW:
It's the same wonderful cake... at the same low price as last year.
Isn't that good news?

Is it any wonder Jane Parker Fruit Cake is America's most popular Fruit Cake?
Is it any wonder it's become such a favorite gift item?

It's one of many.

Through My Window

OCTOBER, A MONTH OF IRONY

October is many things to many people. Fortunately, most of them are good. Here in Michigan the 10th month is always one of Mother Nature's better efforts and many say, without the slightest hesitation, that October is their favorite time of year.

I cannot quite go that far, I cannot exclude May and I say that October is one of my favorite months.

However, one thing upon which I feel everyone will nod their head "yes" is the October's show of fall colors is something special. This year it seemed even better than usual, don't you agree?

The reds seemed more brilliant, the yellows more golden, the bronze more burnished.

And so much of the color came all at once — for a few weeks the streets of Tecumseh were breathtakingly beautiful, the impact of the brightly "colored up" leaves was almost shocking.

★

WE MAY BE slightly prejudiced, but the west end of Logan St. seemed especially lovely — no, lovely is not vivid enough, our street was gorgeous.

Through my south facing window, I see huge maple trees and wow! There isn't a word to describe their color. At the height of their splendor, the gold and scarlet leaves actually glowed. The intensity of the color was haunting.

With the out-of-doors going wild in its last fling before settling down to a long and dreary winter, we were anxious to get out for some rides.

Sunday, Oct. 9, was to be the day. With a fresh supply of color film we took off for the Waterloo Area. An overcast sky and a few sprinkles on the windshield did not dampen our enthusiasm a bit, we optimistically hoped it would clear up.

★

TO MAKE A long story short, it didn't. The colors, what we could see of them, were spectacular. However, with no sunshine, there was no opportunity for any picture taking, the colors simply would not show up.

Even worse than the lack of sunshine was the haze, at times it was almost bad enough to be called fog.

How terribly frustrating — a Sunday picture-taking expedition and we wound up with no pictures. Of course, the Waterloo Area itself is always a joy to drive through.

It is a hilly country with many twisting roads and an uncountable number of pretty little lakes some of which aren't so little, either.

★

WE HAD EVEN greater plans for the next weekend. A new legal holiday had been declared, the bank would be closed Saturday, and we would have two days to play.

Just discussing the possibilities was fun. Hidden Lake Gardens is a must in the fall, roaming through the rest of the Irish Hills is another jaunt we always try to do at this time of year.

Not only were the colors better than usual, they were different. At least, none of us remembered so many oak trees turning so early — their rich, dark, almost maroon color was a marvelous background compliment to the bright hues of the other trees.

Suddenly two complete new ideas popped up. On the western side of the state, is the Swan Creek Wildlife Refuge, affording excellent water fowl veiwing we were told. In Canada, there is Jack Miner's famous sanctuary for Canada geese.

★

AS IT TURNED out, we did nothing, didn't even get out of the house. It rained, rained, rained!

So it is that the color was here, the birds there and we had the time, but the weathermam did not cooperate — see what I mean by October, the month of irony.

The Least Bit

READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

Here we go again! Hunting season is here and guess what? We have had to chase no less than five hunters and one dog from our farm.

I don't even know but what these men were from a local area, perhaps even people we know because they parked along the road some ¼-mile from the house an dtramped right through a soya bean field, dog and all.

But if they are people we know and they are angry because both my husband and myself shouted at them, I'm not apologizing, they should be the ones who apologize.

They know they should ask permission, also they should know farmers take a dim view of having soya beans tramped on.

When will hunters ever learn to ask permission to hunt?

We have two sons who like to hunt and they know enough not to tramp down crops and we would like them to hunt on our home farm, so you see hunters, we have a couple of good reasons for shouting at you when you invade our property.

Thank you for allowing me to sound off.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Walter Prill

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By RICK CURRIE

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders were picked last week. Fourteen boys from the eighth, ninth and tenth graders tried out.

They were tested for coordination, personality and audibility.

Under the direction of varsity cheerleaders Paul Dewealsche and Bill Kostka the JV cheerleaders will yell at all the JV basketball games and will begin training for potential varsity leaders.

Richard Kayl was operated on for the knee injury he suffered during the Whiteford game. Rich spent a week in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

He is back at school now wearing a cast the length of his leg. Another end, Tim Collins, broke his are in practice and will be sidelined for the rest of the season.'

The Boysville Campus Info made its first appearance on campus this week. "The Info" is Boysville's own little newspaper.

If the first issue is any indication, it looks like the paper is going to have a good year. The paper is edited by Joe Gordon and John Borczak, Ralph Cesnick, Rick Currie, Paul Deaweelsche, Mike Gaudreau, Greg Kovacs, Pat McGovern and Tom Mullen are its reporters.

"Muscle Beach" is growing in popularity with the Knights. The old eighth grade rec hall which has been done away with this year as been turned into a weight lifting and wrestling room.

It almost immediately got nick named "Muscle Beach". Here the proper use of weights is taught, and bodies are beginning to take tone as a result.

St. Joseph Academy hosted a record hop for Boysville last Saturday night. The seniors, juniors and Sophomores traveled to Adrian to attend the affair sponsored by the Student Council at St. Joseph Acedemy.

This was the first of several dances scheduled between the girl's academy and Boysville.

Lenawee's 30th Death in Traffic

Mrs. John Florian, 23, of Detroit, became Lenawee County's 30th traffic fatality Sunday when she died of injuries received when she was thrown from a car.

Mrs. Florian's husband, John, 24, was the driver of the Volkswagen which missed a curve and overturned, throwing Mrs. Florian into a woods, as the car rolled over three times.

The accident occurred at 4:20 p.m. on Laird Rd. south of M-50 in Cambridge Township, and Mrs. Florian died at 7:30 p.m. of head injuries in St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. Florian was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital with severe cuts and bruises and suffering from shock.

The accident is still under investigation by Clinton State Police.

Horton Trial Is Tuesday

The long-delayed trial of the city versus Frank Horton will be held next Tuesday morning at 9:30 at the city hall.

Mr. Horton started a porch addition to his home on N. Union St. and the city stopped construction, saying the porch did not comply with city ordinances.

Early this summer Lynn Noble, city engineer and building inspector, signed papers bringing Mr. Horton to trial.

Justice Leon Van Duesen of Clinton will preside. Local Justice Ernest Oliver disqualified himself early in the case.

Opens Eyes of Youth

By CAROL HOWELL

"Scouting opens the eyes of the young to the wonderful kaleidoscopic world we live in . . . through an ordinary hike to look for animal homes and wild flowers, or a trip to the local newspaper or radio station."

A young mother gave this reply when asked her reasons for doing volunteer work in Girl Scouting.

It might have been said by any one of the dozens of volunteer leaders who promote the Scouting movement for both boys and girls in Tecumseh.

Scouting offers specialized training, a chance to discover and develop a number of skills.

The scope of friendship broadens as the Scout investigates common interests with companions from neighborhoods and communities other than his own.

The Wolverine Council, Boy Scouts, serves 3,100 boys in Lenawee and Monroe Counties. Of that number 197 are Cubs, Scouts and Explorers from the Tecumseh area.

The Irish Hills Council, Girl Scouts, is comprised of about 5,400 Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes and Senior Scouts from Jackson, Hillsdale and Lenawee Counties. Approximately 300 of them are from the Tecumseh area.

ONE IN A SERIES

Annual budget requests submitted by these groups are based on the total number of Scouts in the area they serve. Thus, the benefit per Scout is the same, regardless of the number of Scouts in any particular community.

★

A portion of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation's annual budget goes toward its maintenance. This contribution is its only support.

Visitors

Raymond McConnell and son, Steve, of Mason, were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell, Thursday.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Artist Russ Steinke is "on location" in Glouchester, Mass., doing some New England oils.

A letter arrived from him and I thought his jottings would make an excellent column for the week, so here's Russ:

"I am sitting here a few feet from the wild Atlantic Ocean, actually Ipswich Bay, in a very cozy little house which is glass on three sides so I get the whole scene.

"Until now, except for one other day, the sea has been about as menacing as the dear old Red Pond. No lobster boats out in front today, and none of the beautiful sailing boats that really belong to the sea picture.

"One brave craft just went by with not a shred of sail showing on her two masts — strictly motor-powered. It is very wild, high tide and sending a fine sprav upon my windows.

"We had our first cold night last night — water froze, but oddly enough none of the flowers are gone. I arose early as it was too fresh and clean outside to stay abed and miss."

★

"AFTER breakfasting I realized we were to set our clocks back an hour today which gained me some time. I went out for a paper, and since it was such a superb day I took a fast ride in the country to see the remains of the color season.

"There isn't nearly the amount of color here, nor are the trees of any size-too near the ocean, I suppose. But it was still very beautiful and I could see for miles.

"It is the kind of day to take pictures, although I find that color pictures are better on overcast days. These will be black and whites and I will use the adapter you so kindly lent me.

"I have already taken quite a few. In my case the splendor of color slides has leveled off and I find others are as interesting in their way as etchings are in theirs, compared to oil paintings.

★

"WENT TO a very gay little Hallowe'en party last night given by mein host. Not having the foresight to bring along a costume, I had to improvise. I had a black turtleneck sweatshirt, a beret, corduroy pants, and a pair of wooden shoes.

Come to think of it, it does rather sound like a costume doesn't it.

"The wooden shoes, I agree, may sound a little "out" but I bought them in Holland, Mich. some time ago and what is more I use them in my yard when it is muddy — which can be often in my yard. I thought they would be useful here!

"The beret is an honest-to-goodness Paris model and is really one of the most practical pieces of man's headgear I own, and most men would agree once they wore one. I don't like to wear hats of any kind but this one serves all my needs.

2 Townships Vote on Liquor by Glass

Voters in five Lenawee County townships — including Tecumseh and Clinton — will find a liquor-by-the-glass proposal on their ballots at Tuesday's general election.

Rollin, Medina and Hudson townships will also decide the same question.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Petitions were circulated last summer by private citizens to have the liquor item placed on the ballot.

★

IN TECUMSEH Township, Del King, 800 River Acres Dr., said he had no trouble getting the required several hundred signers. If the issue is OKed, there probably will be a large restaurant erected west of the city, he said.

Clinton Township clerk Thomas Pence said apparently no organized group was behind the liquor issue in that area.

Opposition sprung up to the proposal from the United Church of Christ in Clinton, which cited in its weekly bulletin that after liquor by the glass was approved in Kalamazoo drunk driving and liquor law violations increased from 14% to 55%.

The WCTU in Tecumseh is also opposed to the possible change.

At present, beer and wine may be served in taverns. Private clubs can now dispense liquor to members.

★

VOTERS WILL be balloting on governor, secretary of state, attorney general, United States Senator, 2nd District Congressional representative, state senator and state representative, two justices for the Supreme Court, members to three major universities governing bodies.

They'll also consider the proposed amendment to lower the minimum voting age to 18.

HE PLAYED VITAL ROLE — Tiny Joseph Rumsey, Jr., helped cause a stir last Thursday when he arrived at 3:25 a.m. in Herrick Memorial Hospital. His great-grandmother, Mrs. Floyd Reid (right) of Munith, is now apparently Michigan's youngster at 52. Joe's birth makes Mrs. Lethia Rosenberry (center) of Coldwater a grandmother at 36. Mom is Mrs. Joseph Rumsey, 19. She and her husband, an employee at Tecumseh Fisher Body, reside at 600 N. Union St.

Vivian-Esch Will Clash in Debate

A public debate between Congressman Wes Vivian and his opponent Marvin Esch will be held Thursday at 9 p.m. at St. Elizabeth School.

It is being sponsored by the Tecumseh Jaycees.

Each candidate will have 15 minutes to state his position and following that, both candidates will be open for questions.

The program will be moderated by Charles Latham. It was organized by co-chairmen Don Dobrosky and Ric Creswell.

No charge will be made.

Post Office Is Closed Veterans Day

The Tecumseh Post Office will be closed Veterans' Day, Nov. 11 but the lobby will be open for the convenience of box patrons.

All special delivery mail received that day will be delivered.

There will be no city or rural delivery mail and no window service.

Ordinance Challenged

Validity of Tecumseh's new ordinances, pertaining to setback requirements for houses and additions, is to be tested before Judge Rex Martin in Circuit Court.

Robert Baker, Adrian attorney for Frank Horton, who was stopped by the city from completing an enclosed porch addition to his home on N. Union St., said Tuesday morning that he has papers prepared for filing in Circuit Court.

Both Baker and Gregg Forsthoefel, lawyer representing the city, asked Justice Leon Van Deusen of Clinton for a continuance of the trial held at city hall.

Baker said it was his opinion that certain provisions in the ordinance are not valid, or reasonable.

The trial, now seemingly destined for Circuit Court, will undoubtedly be held sometime next year.

Horton started his porch in August, 1965 and was stopped shortly after he commenced work by Lynn Noble, building inspector. The porch is still unfinished.

Post Office Employees Are Guys in White Hats

Tecumseh to the rescue.

When the Jackson sectional center of the post office system became bogged down with a backlog of unsorted third class mail, a big portion of the mess was dispatched to the Tecumseh Post Office. Here it was sorted and sent on its way.

Crisis averted, the local post office is operating on a regular time and staff basis.

Boy Scout Roundtables Will Be Held

All den mothers, cubmasters, scoutmasters, explorer advisors and their assistants or associates from Lenawee County are encouraged to attend by Leonard Gamber, district scout executive.

The Cub Scout round table will be led by Phyllis and Bob Comar of Adrian.

Garth Gottschalk, Sr., Madison, will be in charge of the Boy Scout will be in charge of the Boy Scout roundtable.

The Explorer roundtable will be conducted by Roger Secor, Brooklyn.

The roundtables are workshops conducted to assist the leaders in planning and executing their scouting program for the next month.

'Opal' Plays for 5 Nights

Their fall offering, "Everybody Loves Opal" opens this week with performances Thursday and Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. in the Community Center.

Three stagings are also slated for next week, Nov. 9, 10 and 12.

Mrs. Melvin Wegner has the starring role, portraying a collector of "antiques" caught up in a series of zany happenings.

Behind the scenes is a lineup of hard-working theatre lovers—headed by Thelma Hollenbeck of Adrian, a legal secretary by day and part-time director by night.

"Opal" is her first assignment with the Tecumseh group. Previously she handled four shows for the Lenawee Theatre Guild, an Adrian group active some years back.

She is assisted by Mrs. Richard Egli.

★

OTHERS on the crew:

Mrs. Frank Dalton, technical director.

Fred Ward, set chief, assisted by Bill DePuy, Ray Aylesworth, Ed Mengerink, Bill Frownfelder and Preston Caswell.

Mrs. Frownfelder, properties, assisted by Mrs. Caswell.

Rick Skinner, lights.

Mrs. Duane Steele, house.

WINS WEEKEND — "My husband didn't believe me," said Mrs. Dave Criss, 313 W. Pottawatamie, about telling her husband that she is this week's winner of the all-expense paid weekend at an Albert Pick hotel or motel. Dorothy, Dave and their three children, Denise, 14, Catherine, 10 and Mark, 4, plan to spend their two nights with posh accommodations and free meals in either Cleveland or Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Criss is a director of Proctor Funeral Home.

Federal, Local Funds Will Develop Pit

Further development of The Pit is favored by 93% of 423 city families, according to questionnaires returned to the Pit Advisory Committee of Tecumseh (PACT).

The 22-acre recreation area was purchased in 1964 by the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation and has since been leased to the city.

Tecumseh has received a $17,500 federal grant for development of the park, which will be used in conjunction with the Community Fund financing.

Projects receiving the greatest support on the questionnaires were shower and rest room facilities, a concession area and an improved picnic area.

Answers on the questionnaires also indicated that residents are in favor of having the projects paid for with Community Foundation dollars.

Although the federal grant will help the park improvement, the main burden still lies with the Foundation.

The committee has picked up the majority of the surveys, but some have still not been handed in. PACT asks that they be turned in at City Hall.

At present, the committee is in the process of hiring an architect to draw up primary plans for the main recreation building.

Upon completion of the plans, a town hall type meeting will be held to gain more public opinion.

Drive Reaches $35,000 Mark

Midway through the final week of the 1966 campaign, Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation pledges have reached $35,000.

Volunteer workers continue to make last-minute calls in an effort to reach the $60,000 mark.

Carl Lamb, general chairman of the drive, asks that solicitors turn in kits as soon as possible to Mrs. Chauncey Harrison at the United Savings Bank.

Banks Close for Holidays

The Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Association and the United Savings Bank will both close Nov. 8 for Election Day and Nov. 11, Veteran's Day.

Both dates are legal holidays. The United Savings Bank will be open until 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 10.

Tipton Gives UNICEF $62

The Pythian Sisters, Tipton Grange and the Community Church Sunday School sponsored the event.

Mary Seager Back

Mary Seager arrived home from Venezuela Sunday with a guest. More about her experiences in next week's Herald.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Norm Bless, Lenawee County Agricultural Agent, had an interesting thought in his newsletter to the dairy farmers this month. He said, "The reason a dog can be called man's best friend is probably because he gives no advice, never tries to borrow money and has no in-laws."

There were seven people in the picture, which adorned Van-Mer's bright two-color ad last week, with only six names. Missed on the identification was Mrs. Sam Hamilton. A single yellow rose was presented to Mrs. Hamilton with regrets of the forgetful caption writer.

Rather than risk a cold, Mrs. Paul Hover passed up the recent Cooley auction, then was glad to see The Herald's account and pictures, so called to say so. Which makes us happy we faced winds and rains with about 300 other nuts to bring the report.

This is the striking photo shot by patrolman Don Rodehaver of the Tecumseh Police when a young frightened deer sprinted around city hall Sunday evening.

The 18-year history of the National Corn Picking Contest came to an end Oct. 14 when the association announced that no more contests would be held after 1966, because sponsors feel the contests have served their purpose of education in the increase of operating safety and harvest efficiency.

"The Diary of Ann Frank" will be presented Nov. 11 and 12 at the Stone Village Theatre, 1701 Probert Rd., Jackson with Virginia Murray appearing as Peter's mother, Mrs. Van Daan. She's really hysterical.

Tecumseh High School boys in the "Don 'N Danny and the Midnight Hours" combo furnished music for dancing at the Goodwill Industries Halloween party last Thursday. Kenneth Erwin, director of the company, compliments the boys for giving their time for the handicapped people's enjoyment. All right, men, who are you?

A pe—lunker. Just take a look at the tremendous rutabaga, 6¾ lbs., Ira Manwaring grew in his garden at 9869 Tecumseh-Macon Rd. It's on display in Mike Hite's window. Ira had 12-pound cabbages from that same garden along with oodles of other vegetables too.

"What the heck am I doing here? said the Bedraggled Little Robin on Murphy Hwy. as he struggled to maneuver in the near-blizzard that hit the area Wednesday. "It's not supposed to snow on Nov. 2?!" he exclaimed.

"At the party there was a wonderful contraption made of cans, broomstick and bottle caps that required little technical skill in order to knock out a real beat.

"So with piano, a set of child's drums and the 'thing' we made up a real going combo. Why don't people have costume parties any more? This was fun. One consolation may be the awful trek back into old age the next morning.

★

"LANESVILLE, which is an area of Gloucester, is a delightful place. As I have said, I am only a few feet from the sea which I like. The coast is the same 'stern and rockbound' as Maine, and is teeming with lobsters. The water in front of my house is dotted with hundreds of colored floats marking the owners lobsters pots below.

"I haven't nearly had my quota of lobster yet, but there is still time.

"Next door is Lane's Cove, a tiny harbor for the lobstermen, and on a day like today I can see the nedd. Many, many years ago granite was quarried here. The quarries still exist but are no longer used.

"Huge blocks of this granite were used to form a stout seawall at Lane's Cove and it looks not unlike an old Norman Ruins. It is my favorite spot here, and I go almost once a day.

"It is peopled by some really salty old characters. Some as silent as the rocks surrounding them, many who are there to finish off a jug of vino, kids repairing cars, etc.

"It is picturesque in its own casual way and there is a movement afoot, with bitter opponents who belong to the old school, to clean up Lane's Cove.

"What I have seen of that kind of 'clean-up' program puts me categorically in the camp of the old school. It would probably be raked, pruned, mowed, bull-dozed until not a trace of character or distinction or experience would be left: only picnic tables and un-used trash cans.

"I'm sure even the malodorous lobster-pots, nets, floats, etc would be verboten. There is an interesting plaque set in one of the rocks there stating that the Cove was left for use by the people of Lanesville. We'll see.

★

"ON THE FAR side of Ipswich is a place called Crane's Beach. Near it a place called Castle Hill which I visited as a lone intruder one day. It is closed for the season but I went anyway.

"It was very strange to climb the hill through beautiful woods and come upon a wide, carefully mowed mall lined on both sides with large statues. One could almost see Louis XIV strolling about.

"The castle itself didn't quite come up to the grandeur of Versailles, but a pleasure none-the-less. The whole place is a contribution of the Crane of the plumbing fixtures business.

"On Wednesday I am expecting a visitor from home, Jeff Shelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ray Shelton and a good friend of mine is flying to Boston and will ride back to Tecumseh.

"Together we will explore Boston et environs to see for ourselves where it all hoppened. I was near Boston for a long time during the war, but never quite got around to doing the Old North Church bit —so it will be fun for me too.

"American History will be coming up for him in school soon and I think it will make more sense after he has seen some of the important spots.

"As much as I like it here, I will be glad to get back and find out what's going on on the Pond. It will soon be time to inform worried phone callers that my ducks are not frozen in, or if they are to have that hardy rescue squad chop their way to their salvation.

Sincerely,
Russ Steinke

Humane Society Aided by Fund

By CAROL HOWELL

Between 3,000 and 4,000 animals each year find themselves sheltered by the Lenawee County Humane Society.

Almost one-half of them are returned to their owners or find new homes through the agency.

Cruelty to children, as well as animals, was an early problem of the LCHS. With the advent of other authorities for juvenile protection, however, its work in this area has become almost non-existent.

Lost pets, mostly dogs and cats, make up the largest part of the Society's boarders. If not claimed — and if efforts to find their owners fail — they are put up for adoption.

Occasionally cattle and horses, too, are aided by the LCHS. The organization is authorized to investigate complaints of cruelty to animals of all kinds.

When an inhumane condition exists, the Society first consults the animal's owner.

If attempts to improve the situation are rejected, the prosecuting attorney's office is brought into the case. State Police assistance is available to the group, also, when required.

No one in the Society draws wages, with the exception of the full-time employee who runs its shelter.

Money for necessary supplies, food, insurance, vehicles and maintenance of the shelter is provided by donations.

A portion of your contribution to the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation goes to further the work of the Lenawee County Humane Society.

Motorists Cited Following Crackup at Pearl Street

Only one motorist was cited in five accidents investigated by the Tecumseh police during the past week.

Two of the mishaps occurred on private property and all but one resulted in just minor damages. No injuries were reported.

A resume is:

Oct. 26—Frances V. Munger, 58, of 2170 Munger Rd., backed into an automobile driven by Shirley J. Herrick, 45, of 713 Red Mill Dr., in the S. Ottawa St. parking lot.

Oct. 28—Mary C. Spees, 41, Adrian, reported her car hit from the rear by a Selders Excavating Co. truck on W. Chicago Blvd. Truck driver was Harold Sussex.

Oct. 28—Lloyd Everingham, 44, Curtes, O., driving a large semi-trailer truck, scraped a passing auto driven by Orville Hughes, 47, Manchester. Damages were minor.

Oct. 29—Theodora T. A. Cox, 24, Adrian, backed into a parked car owned by Robert K. Rinehart, Manitou Beach, at the Fisher Body Plant parking lot on Occidental Rd.

Oct. 29—James Cottrill, 41, of 1175 Shepherd Rd., was cited for defective brakes when his car failed to stop at Pearl St. and hit Ivan E. Sunque, 44, Cement City, on W. Chicago Blvd.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

"It happened on Rogers Hwy., a long time ago." A little like the song but right here on Rogers Hwy. not in Santa Fe. Ted McConnell was born Oct. 30, 1886, the same day as Ty Cobb. Maybe that is why our favorite uncle is such a sport's fan.

It was a memorable weekend for friends and relatives as well as for Ted. His beloved wife spared no effort to make it so. Saturday evening 24 people whom Ted has known, with the exception of one or two, for 71 years, arrived at the McConnell Centennial Farm as a surprise.

Ray Puffer and Alvah Knight of Adrian arrived early, but Ted was none the wiser for they often stop for a chat. Then came all the friends of many years, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Van Valkenburg, Mrs. Herbert Munger, Del Finch, Lillian Hoagland, Mary and Ellen Snedecor, Clara Waldron, the Ned Lannings, Mrs. Ernie Van Vleet, Mrs. Dale Tingley, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron and Llewellyn Treat.

Mrs. Dean Van Valkenburg read an excellent original poem she had written entitled, "This is Your Life" highlighting an evening of reminiscing. The group munched cider and doughnuts as they talked of the fun at the Waldron Cottage and, years ago, Sunday School class parties.

Sunday, a phone call from son Russ in Eliot, Me. got the birthday off to a flying start with the rest of the family gathering at the farm for dinner. Guests included another son, Ray, and family from Mason, a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wyman Campbell and family of Milan and Ann Arbor, nieces and nephews, great nieces and nephews — yes — great, great nieces and nephews, like little Mike and Lisa Munger and Michelle and Scottie Woodbury. Oh, a great,great grandson, Jack McConnell III was there too. What fun they all had and decided to celebrate many more birthdays with jovial Uncle Ted.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barrett and Mr. and Mrs. Dow Bilby attended State Grange meetings in Allegan recently. Sunday guests at the Bilby residence were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nagorsen of Mt. Clemens, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wilt and daughter of Lansing and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bilby.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Loveless left this weekend to visit their daughter, Mrs. Les Middlebrook in Garden Grove, Calif. and their son, David Loveless in San Bernardino. Mrs. Loveless will remain for the winter and her husband will fly home.

√

Mrs. E. C. Heilman and family received a card from Geneva Satterthwaite and her sister, Alice Wood, from Hong Kong. The two are enjoying a tour and "people watching." They mailed the card from Honolulu, Hawaii.

√

Mrs. Archie Conkey and three children, Cindy, Paul and Jody, of Grand Rapids spent a long weekend at her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Boltz. Mr. Conkey attended a veterinary's convention in Detroit Sunday and Monday.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen entertained at a family pre-Thanksgiving dinner Sunday in honor of their grandson, Charles Edward Boussum, who was visiting his home in Bay City, before his next assignment in Alaska.

Guests included Charles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Boussum and daughter of Bay City, Mr. and Mrs. Oral Boussum and sons of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen and Mrs. Viva Riker, Albert and John Dorr of Clinton, Stephanie Reynolds of Lake Orion, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Callihan and daughter, Lana, of Tecumseh.

A feature of the dinner was the handsomely decorated cake in the shape of Alaska, made by James Boussum.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Every Vote Is Needed

For goodness sakes, if you're registered, get out and vote next Tuesday.

Michigan has seen few top state executives to rank with Gov. Romney. While some feel he should tend to that job alone, we figure if he can make a run for the presidency, he should. A landslide vote will help toward this objective.

Senator Griffin is an experienced, mature Congressman. Besides that, we think his opponent, G. Mennen Williams, could wreck considerable havoc—as he did while Michigan governor — if he should ever be given the Senate seat.

Granted, Soapy has vote appeal, but that's about all. His tie with organized labor is too much.

One of the most interesting races on the ballot is between Democrat Congressman Wes Vivian and Republican Marv Esch, a state representative who'd like to go to Washington.

Both men offer unusual backgrounds of private and public service. Each has a doctorate degree.

We'd be less than honest if we didn't state that Mr. Vivian has done a fine job of representing the 2nd Congressional District. This record has already won him endorsements for re-election from several major state newspapers.

On the other hand, Mr. Esch is also well-qualified and would certainly make an excellent representative — plus help to offset the Congressional strangle-hold of the Democrats.

Area residents will have one last opportunity to compare Messers Vivian and Esch, if they haven't already made up their minds for whom they'll be voting.

The two are meeting in a debate Thursday evening at 9 in St. Elizabeth auditorium, a session being conducted by the Tecumseh Jaycees.

PRETTY DOLLS — Laverna Hemphill, 13, daugh ter of Mr. and Mrs. Estill Hemphill of Ridgeway, is holding the bed dolls, "Sweetheart" and "Miss America", made by members of the Church of God to raise funds for a new church location.

Dolls Help Finance Church

More than 100 "Miss America" and "Sweetheart" bed dolls have been made by the Ladies Willing Worker Band of the Church of God.

Mrs. Estill Hemphill, chairman of the craft project, is using her home at 8163 E. Monroe Rd., Ridgeway, for a factory. The group is planning to produce about 200 of the dolls as a Christmas fund-raising project.

"Miss America" is decorated of hand crocheted lace over taffeta, interlaced with ribbon and stuffed with plastic foam. The "Sweetheart" doll is made of polyurethane sheet plastic and decorated with lace and netting.

Both dolls are about 12 inches in diameter and nine inches in height, and they are in almost every color.

The Plastoamer Corp. of Livonia donated over 2,500 square feet of material for the project.

The LWWB is also manufacturing about 200 circular smocked hand made corduroy pillows in three sizes.

The profits from the project will be used for the building fund to purchase land in the Tecumseh vicinity for the relocation of the Church of God, which has outgrown its facilities at the present location at 605 S. Pearl.

The Rev. Alfred C. Sheley Sr., pastor, recently resigned from 15 years service with the US Government to devote full time to the ministry.

Pastor Sheley has vowed that if the doll and pillow project does not produce $1,000, he and his family will not purchase Christmas gifts, but instead will donate the money to the building fund.

Not Coaches' Fault

Blame, charged by a parent last week against two Tecumseh Junior High coaches for failure to play every lad in a football game, was not entirely the coaches' fault.

Some youngsters on the losing team did not want to go in as their team was behind. And, due to unusual circumstances, some boys did not see any action as officials were letting the clock run in the fourth quarter through timeouts and other occasions when the clock would normally be stopped.

The game had started late and was delaying a pep rally scheduled by the high school. The rally had to end by 9 p.m., the curfew time for the varsity players.

Both Dermont Poley, a veteran Tecumseh teacher and coach, and Gordon Crocker, a relatively newcomer here, have fine reputations as instructors here.

The parent's letter upset both the administration and the Tecumseh Education Association with officials feeling its contents hurting the two coaches, the schools and the boys themselves.

Children Collect $704 for UNICEF

Tecumseh's UNICEF drive was a huge success last Tuesday, with $709.14 collected for the world's needy children. This exceeds last year's collection by over $100.

Responsible for the successful canvass were 200 children and 53 drivers and the generosity of area residents.

"All are to be commended," said Mrs. Fred Feight co-chairman.

Churches participating were Gloria Dei Lutheran, Grace Lutheran, First Presbyterian, Methodist, First Baptist, St. Elizabeth, St. Peter's Episcopal and the Missionary Baptist.

Married 25 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Withrow Sr. of Tipton will observe their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday as guests of their family for dinner at Carmers Restaurant in Brooklyn.

Edna Tirb and Harry Withrow were married Nov. 5, 1941 in Ann Arbor. They lived their entire married life in Tipton.

They are the parents of nine children, Mrs. Harold Kopka of Britton, Mrs. Stanley Dermyer, 905 Sunset, Donald and Eugene Withrow, Adrian, Arnold Withrow of Clinton, Harry Withrow Jr., 737 S. Union St., Jack Withrw, Addison, Mrs. Richard Herriman, Hudson and Frederick Withrow, Bainbridge, Md.

★

Other guests will be Mrs. Withrow's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Tirb and their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Papsdorf and the wife's father, Fred Tirb, all of Clinton.

Blissfield Rolled Over by Jayvees

The victory, sixth straight this season, proved easy as Coach Vic Lawson's club tallied 28 points in the first half.

Rick Steele scored three times on runs of 25, 10 and two. He picked up two extra points on runs.

Jim Collins tallied one TD on a 47-yard romp and John Kennedy, behind the key blocking of Dan Anderson and Joe Conklin, scooted 65 yards with a pass interception.

Extra points also were picked up by Anderson, twice on passes from Kennedy and by Collins on a run.

Blissfield managed one consolation. It was the first time the Jayvees had been scored on. The Royals hit paydirt in the second quarter and again with just six seconds left in the final period against the second string.

Lawson says the Jayvees have proved exceptionally tough on defense this season and only this Thursday evening's game with Dundee bars another undefeated record.

Lutheran West Is Out for Blood

Lutheran West makes its first trip to Tecumseh Friday night, and the tough Detroit suburban school will be out to avenge last season's loss.

LW boasts a 5-2 mark with just two losses to state-ranked Riverview and Ecorse, and is in second place in the Tri-River League.

Coach Tom Pagan has 14 senior gridders playing their last game before a home crowd. Another, Scott Edwards, will be on the sidelines with a broken leg.

Seniors are Gary Dauber, Tom Feight, Doug Haines, Lee Hannibal, Dean Hebb, Rick Jackson, Dave Kennel, Mike Kossey, Greg Luce, Henry Mensing, Richard Sweet, Joe Vargo, Barry Williamson and Roger Young.

Manager Keith Schmidt also will be working before the home crowd for the last time.

Parents of the players will be honored before the game with the traditional walk across the field.

NEIL SANG IT IN 1911 — Neil DePuy sang "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" before it was published in 1912. Mr. DePuy sang in a quartette in Albion College at the time that F. Dudleigh Vernor and Byron D. Stokes composed words and music. Vernor asked for an opinion from another member of the quartette and Neil accompanied him to hear the song. "It's been my favorite song since," said the veteran quartette lead. Mr. Vernor frequently used the song to close his recitals and did so when he appeared here in the late 50's. Later that evening he told Neil that had he known he was in the audience, Neil would have been asked to sing "Sweetheart." The fraternity house regarded as the birthplace of the song has been closed and will soon be torn down on the Albion campus.

Students Take Test in Math

John Pobuda administered the test.

Sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America, awards of $4 000 in yearly scholarships are awarded.

In addition, colleges in the state award numerous scholarships to students who qualify in the test.

The examination, based on the subject matter of the high school mathematics curriculum, is in two parts.

The first is multiple-choice designed to test the general mathematical background of the contestant.

Facts about cleaning carpets with Blue Lustre

Traffic paths may be removed without cleaning wall-to-wall if rest of carpet shows no soil.

It costs only about 1c per square foot to clean your carpet. Blue Lustre electric shampooers may be rented for $1 a day.

Carpets stay new-looking if you keep Blue Lustre handy to remove spots and traffic paths as they appear. Since it contains no soap, there is no residue to cause rapid re-soiling. It dries to an invisible crystalline powder containing the soil, removed by vacuuming.

You'll be delighted by the way Blue Lustre restores forgotten colors in both carpets and upholstery. Des Ermia's Furniture, Tecumseh.

900 Attend College Night

Blissfield High School was host to nearly 900 people at the Lenawee County Counselors College Night last week.

Of these, approximately 180 were from Tecumseh. They heard presentations of 35 college representatives.

This is the largest attendence in the five-year history of the event both in number of people attending and number of colleges represented.

At Tecumseh High School, counselors recommend that a student apply to only one college unless rejected by his or her first choice college.

It is felt to be only fair not to hold a place on more than one college freshmen roster and therefore excluding some other worthy student from a place.

It also saves application fees which are generally from $10 to $25.

Now that you've seen all the daring new things our stylists did, get in and sample some of the safest, soundest ideas on the road!

What you feel is as new as what you see—thanks to all the fresh thinking that's gone into the way it rides, steers, stops and looks after your safety.

And there's a new SS 427 performance package—complete with 385-hp Turbo-Jet V8 and flat-cornering suspension. You can order it for either the Impala Super Sport Coupe or Convertible.

Of course, there are all sorts of new custom features you can add, too, such as tape or FM stereo. But if you find so much that's new a bit too much to remember—drop down to your dealer's and take a drive. It'll all become unforgettable.

Choir Presentation

CLINTON — "The Pirates of Penzance", a Gilbert and Sullivan musical, will be presented by the Clinton High School choir Nov. 18 and 19.

Among them are: Brad Bihlmeyer, again in the lead tenor role, as Frederick an unwilling pirate; Tom Young as Samuel; Don Steffens, the Pirate King; Chuck Wilder, Major General Stanley and Linda Corwin as Kate.

Minota Fox will play her first lead as the comic Ruth and a freshman, Marilyn Girbach, will play the romantic role of Mabel. Mary Rynd as Edith and Rebecco Scovinc as Isabel, complete the feminine cast.

Sam Sparks, is Sergeant of Police.

Ivan McKenna will assist Mrs. Don Geiger as student director and Barbara Bowman will accompany the choir.

Catherine Bauer Weds John Young

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bauer, 11060 Clinton Rd., entertained at an open house for their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Young, who arrived by plane Friday from Inglewood, Calif.

Catherine Ann Bauer, 518 Evergreen, Inglewood, Calif. exchanged nuptial vows on Oct. 8, with John E. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivar K. Ljung (Swedish spelling of Young) of Inglewood.

The ceremony was performed in the St. Jerome Catholic Church in Inglewood, by the Rev. Fr. Charles Ara, pastor of the All Saint's Catholic Church in E. Los Angeles.

★

The bride's gown of white silk organza and taffeta was fashioned with a bodice of Alencon lace appliqued with pearls and crystals and the sheath skirt had a detachable train of frosted organza.

Alencon lace petals held her tiered veil of silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was formed of sweet peas circling an orchid.

Sally McKenzie of Inglewood was the maid of honor. She wore an aqua organza gown featuring a Watteau back, and carried a bouquet of matching aqua carnations.

William Hamor of Inglewood was the best man. The ushers were Danny Barkwill and Dennis Harding, both of South Gate, Calif.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Clinton High School. She attended Siena Heights College for one year, then trained as a medical secretary in Ann Arbor before moving to California two years ago. She is employed as a medical assistant to a physician in Los Angeles.

★

MR. YOUNG is a junior at El Camino College in Torrance, Calif. and is employed with the Department of Water and Power in the City of Los Angeles. He is a member of the California National Guard.

PACE SETTERS — What greater thrill to behold in the crisp autumn air under a sunny sky than the clear notes of the Tecumseh High School senior band, as members play a festive march to set the pace of the Homecoming parade. The senior band, composed primarily of sophomores, juniors and seniors, leads all local parades under the direction of Don Johnson. The snappy tunes and brisk footwork are also a traditional feature at all home football game half-times.

Bursley Seeks Aid for Small

State Senator Gilbert Bursley has proposed creation of a standing Senate Committee for Small Business.

"The small businessman, including the merchant, contractor, tradesman, farmer and professional man is the forgotten citizen in this area of big business, big labor, big government, and big spending," he said.

Regulations and red tape are strangling him. Even the small farmer is being squeezed out by big operators."

"Legislative committees study proposals for new laws without any particular focus upon their impact on the small businessman. Big business can afford lobbyists to plead its case. The loosely organized and less affluent small independent businessman has no effective spokesman.

"I propose a standing Committee on Small Business to be established in the State Senate.

"We have hundreds of thousands of our Michigan citizens associated with small enterprises. They are the backbone of our free enterprise system.

"We must preserve a climate where private initiative can flourish and where small enterprises can be successfully started and continued. I would like to consider myself as a legislative watchdog for the small businessman in Michigan," he concluded.

400 Families Are Loaned $4 Million

More than 400 Michigan families — some 77% more than that of the previous year used $4,180,000 of Farmers Home Administration credit for construction and improvement of homes during fiscal 1966.

Some $132,000 of this amount was advanced directly to Michigan senior citizens for improved housing facilities. This was 140% increase over credit extended the previous period to rural residents of 62 years or over.

Tuttle Promotes Two Men

H. W. Tuttle & Co. announce promotions of two key personnel.

Montes Merrital, who has been with the company for 20 years, will move from Plant Superintendent to Personnel Manager.

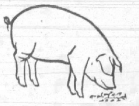
"Monty" began with the Tuttles as a tool and die maker and served in a number of capacities before becoming Plant Superintendent some years ago.

To take over as Plant Superintendent, the company is promoting Vale Venia, who, for the past year, has been Assistant Superintendent.

Mr. Vale has been employed for the past 12 years and also started as a tool and die maker.

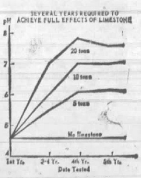
Both men live in Adrian.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.



FURTHER HOG PRICE WEAKNESS is expected this fall with the probable low in November a little above $20. November-December prices should average $21 to $22 compared to about $18 last year. After moderate December-January price recovery, prices may slip below this fall's low. Competitive meats are currently plentiful and slaughter will remain heavy through spring. Projected slaughter is up 10% in November, 10% in December, and 11% in the first quarter of 1967.

BUY AND STORE HERBICIDES now for use next spring to make sure you have the kind and amount you want. Supplies of popular herbicides may be short next spring if acreage of corn and soybeans increases. Store herbicides where they won't freeze this winter. Freezing will cause some chemicals to crystalize or "salt out" which reduces their weed control ability. Store in a cool, dry place.



WATCH SOIL LIME NEEDS CLOSELY. As the chart at right shows, it takes several years to raise the pH of acid soils when they drop too low. Applying it this fall is not too soon if soils need it. When the correct pH level is reached, consider adding lime more frequently but at lower rates to maintain the right level. Heavy use of nitrogen fertilizers tends to make soils acid and increase the need to apply lime more often.

HEATED MILKING PARLORS. Cornell studies show that overhead quartz heat lamps are more practical for heating parlors than electric heat panels. Space the lamps 14 inches apart for best head and shoulders heat. For insulated parlors 3,000 to 4,000 watts is adequate; uninsulated — 4,500 to 5,000.

BRITTON — The weatherman smiled on the students of Britton-Macon school Friday producing ideal temperatures for the Homecoming parade and football game, but Dame Fortune looked the other way when the football game was played, the Tories losing to Whiteford, 36-19.

The Homecoming parade was watched by a record number of people Friday afternoon, as the bandsmen, resplendent in their new uniforms, led the floats and marching units through the business district.

Floats were entered from each class, eight through 12.

Between each float were the class kings and queens, the Homecoming Queen candidates, the FHA princess and FFA prince, and the marching units of Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Bluebirds and Campfire Girls.

A GOOD CROWD attended the football game, which saw the Tories make a valiant effort to get that elusive win, only to lose to Whiteford 36-19.

Vershum also scored a three-yard run to score and kicked an extra point.

★

AT HALF-TIME festivities, Linda Mann was crowned Homecoming queen. Pam Judkins and Jill Cunkle attended her. Kirk Made for Stompin'," which featured a big red pair of animated boots, stomping on some helpless "Bobcats".

Crutchfield was the King.

The class kings and queens were presented, as well as the FHA princess Diane Lake and the FFA prince Steve Eldred.

The band serenaded during the presentations.

★

FLOAT CONTEST winners were also announced at half-time. Theme this year was "Record Titles."

First prize and $15 was awarded to the Junior class for its float entitled "These Boots Were

Second prize of $10 was won by the freshman class for the float entitled "King of the Field."

Homecoming queen Linda Mann is the third sister in her family of four girls to be nominated for the honor.

Baby sister, Shelly, a third grader, may carry on the tradition in another nine years.

The Homecoming dance, sponsored by the Student Council and featuring the "Contemps" from Tecumseh, was held in the study hall after the game until 11:30 p.m.

MONARCHS — Britton Homecoming King and Queen, Linda Mann and Kirk Crutchfield were crowned at half-time ceremonies Friday night. The queen's ladies-in-waiting were Pam Judkins and Jill Cunkle.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By RICK CURRIE

First Boysville Homecoming Queen was crowned at the pep rally that prefaced the Knights big game against Ida.

The Student Council sponsored the "Homecoming" in back of Dettman Rec Hall atop a huge hay wagon procured for the ceremony by our good neighbor Harold Ruhl.

George Daly introduced the candidates for queen Mike "Peaches" O'Dea, Joe "Marianne" Gordon, and Ken "Sweetwater" Atkins as they rode to the platform in the trash wagon pulled by a tractor driver Larry Heibel.

"Peaches" O'Dea was announced queen and was given the traditional queen and was given the traditional kiss by team captain John Yankoski. The queen and her court wore white knee length formals.

Representatives from Ford Motor Co. donated an automobile engine for educational purposes in the industrial arts department. Brother Thomas Scheurer, shop teacher, and several boys from the metal class accepted the motor.

Air hammers blasted away at campus sidewalks as several sections are being replaced. This will end the Maintenance Department's outside work.

William Dettman, John Milner and Art Lipps will next begin working on the renovation of the sanctuary in accordance with the new liturgy.

John Borzac was elected by the eighth grade class as their representative voice at the Student Council.

Boysville News Bureau add Nick Orlando and Greg Kovacs to its staff. The Bureau writes primarily for The Herald. Nick and Greg will serve as reporters. They will next year and the year following take over the Boysville column in their respective senior years.

The Campus was lifeless last weekend.

Another vacaton was enjoyed Tuesday by the students as the feast of All Saints was observed by the Catholic Church. The Holyday was celebrated on campus by a free day and a Halloween party in the gym.

Shopping time in Tecumseh on Saturday has been lengthened from 30 to 45 minutes.

Perhaps now Mrs. Thomas Riordan won't have to chase the bus with a carload of late Boysville shoppers.

An additional telephone booth has been placed on campus outside of Dettman Rec Hall.

Brother Donatus Schmitz made a visit to Boysville this past week. Brother Donatus is the Provincial for the Midwest Brothers of Holy Cross. Once each year he visits all the houses of the Province.

Boysville's Homecoming queen was "Peaches" O'Dea, shortly after being crowned. "Peaches" also goes by the name of Mike and currently leads the Lenawee County high school scoring parade.

The comedy-drama is set on the stage of an actual theater, and its characters, for the most part, are entertainers.

The stage in this case is Saroyan's symbol of the arena of life, and the players are former stars who have fallen on hard times.

DON CHAMBERS

KNIGHTS WIN SHARE OF CROWN

Don Chambers Stars in Victory

Boysville won at least a share of the River Raisin League grid crown by overpowering Ida 27-7 last Friday night at Tecumseh Athletic Field.

The Knights showed their strength early as Don Chalmers, the leading county scorer by 32 points, brought the opening kickoff back to Ida's 22-yard line.

Final score, in the closing minutes of the first half, was set up when Chalmers threw a 20-yard pass to Mike O'Dea.

Then Allen Rockwell hit on a jackpot aerial to Chalmers.

The second half found both for his second touchdown. Don again bonused the score with a plunge.

★

IDA PICKED up a fumble shortly after that drove to the five; where John Raiser took the ball over for Ida and ran into extra point.

It then took Boysville only six plays to burst Chalmers four yards for the first score. Don ran the extra point.

Allen Rockwell passed to his brother, David, for 30 yards and Chalmers took the ball on the next play around right end for teams continuing to fumble at crucial points and exhibiting fine defensive playing.

★

WHETHER Boysville captures total reign over the River Raisin football league will depend on the results of Friday's game between Summerfield and Whiteford at Petersburg.

Summerfield like Boysville has only lost one league game.

If Whiteford beats Summerfield Boysville will be sole champions, a title the Knights have not had since 1960.

Hard-Hitting Game Goes to Blissfield 11

By JIM LINCOLN

A real tough Blissfield 11 whipped the Tecumseh Indians Friday night in what could have been the hardest-hitting contest for either club this season.

The Royal's 20-0 victory hides the true story of the game, although there's no question Blissfield deserved to record the win.

A break or two for Coach Tom Fagan's team could have easily resulted in only a one TD loss, or even a scoreless tie.

Blissfield caught the Indians napping in the opening minutes when they poured through Tecumseh's line to block Mike Allen's punt, pick up the loose pigskin and ramble 35 yards to paydirt.

It appeared the play had been stopped near the sidelines and a whistle ending the confusion would not have been out of order. Instead, Blissfield's Tom Sauter finally broke free for the TD.

Late in the third quarter, Roger Young attempted to catch a Royal punt on Tecumseh's 23. He fumbled and Blissfield recovered to set up its second score, in the opening seconds of the fourth period.

Ahead by two TD's, the Royals got on the scoreboard again with just over two minutes left. On third down and nine yards to go at Tecumseh's 44, a high floating pass was grabbed by both a Tecumseh and Blissfield player at the Indians' 16.

Officials were correct in giving the catch to the offensive player — and to Blissfield.

But in both of Blissfield's final two scores, the Royals got a break — when Young attempted to catch the punt and was hit imediately, and when a Tecumseh defensive back failed to knock a pass down.

★

DEFENSIVELY, both teams were excellent. Blissfield had been rolling up 300 yards a game the past few weeks, but found the going tough against a strong, local defensive club.

Tecumseh yielded just 109 yards on the ground and 66 passing. The Indians — not noted for a good offense — netted 106 yards on the ground and 30 via the air.

If Tecumseh had played as well against Grosse Ile, Friday's game with the Royals could have been for the Huron League title.

Blissfield is probably the best in the league now, although the Royals finished second behind GI, which nipped Blissfield, 6-0, before Coach Jack Hepinstall's team jelled.

Henry Mensing, Barry Williamson, Lee Hannibal and Gary Dauber were Tecumseh's top defensive stars. Except for some Indian penalties, THS would have stopped the Royals cold on the ground.

Three times in the first half, Blissfield picked up first downs on 15-yard Indian penalties. Royals sustained only one penalty in the entire game, that late in the final stanza.

John Anderson, returning from a leg injury after missing three games, sparkled on offense, picking up 72 of Tecumseh's 100-yard total by rushing. He averaged 5.5 yards per carry.

A little more offense and Tecumseh could finish the season on a winning note with victories over Lutheran West, here Friday night, and in the finale at Adrian, Nov. 11.

Maple Lane Gift Items Suggested

Mrs. Joe Rice read a communication from Maple Lane Manor at the meeting of the Monday Club Oct. 31 in the Youth House of the First Baptist Church.

The letter contained a list of suggested gift items for patients at the Manor such as toilet articles, stationery and other items for personal needs.

A letter was read from Mrs. Archie Dunsmore tendering her resignation as secretary.

An informative program with slides of the Belgian Congo was presented by Senator Gil Bursley. He was introduced by Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett, program leader.

Mr. Bursley served in 1955-57 as representative of the American Council in charge of the U. S. information agency program.

He especially mentioned the school system as favorable comparing it to the one here.

Announcement was made of an executive board meeting to be held Nov. 8 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Rice.

Tea was served from an attractively appointed table in the Halloween theme with Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Walter Prill presiding.

Grass Lake Falls, 7-0

By IVAN McKENNA

GRASS LAKE — The Clinton Redskins maintained their domination of the Lakeland C League by winning their third straight championship Friday night with a 7-0 clipping of Grass Lake.

The victory did not come easy, however, as the Warriors kept the pressure on throughout the contest.

This was a "must" game for the Redskins as a loss would have placed them in a tie for first place with Grass Lake.

★

THE DEFENSE came through when it counted. The Warrior offense threatened several times throughout the battle, driving to inside the Clinton 20-yard line on three occasions.

In the third quarter, they advanced as far as the seven-yard line where they were contained for four downs.

★

The tough Redskin defense, led by linebacker Sam Sparks, has yielded only seven points in five league games.

Clinton staged its only scoring drive midway in the second frame. Halfback Gene Brown pulled in a Warrior punt on the Redskin 47-yard line and returned 20 yards to the Grass Lake 37.

★

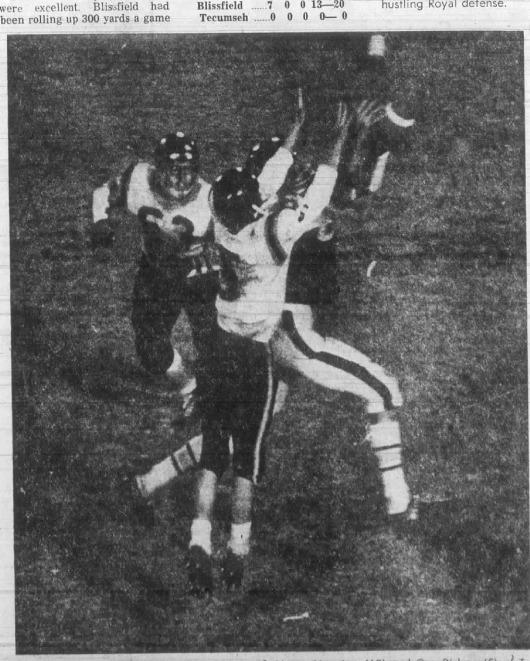
MEL PARDEE blasted seven yards on the first play and Doug Wight picked up the first down on a quarterback sneak.

Fullback Ivan McKenna then carried for 13 yards and another first down. Two plays later, Brown scampered eight yards into the end zone on a reverse.

Pardee ran the extra point.

Clinton's record is now 5-0 in the league and 5-2 overall.

The champions of the Lakeland C have one league game remaining with the Flying Dutchmen of Manchester on the Clinton gridiron Friday.



HE GOT IT — Despite the double coverage of Henry Mensing (63) and Gus Bishop (5) of Tecumseh, an unidentified Blissfield end managed to snatch a second-half pass for a Royal gain.

Knight JV's End 16-Tilt Win Streak

The Junior Knights posted a 12-7 victory last week, first time THS frosh had fallen in two seasons.

Boysville came from behind with second-half scores by Arnett Summers and a pass from Summers to Jim Kayl to spring the upset.

The loss of guard-linebacker Jack Greenfield with a leg injury also hurt, he added.

★

THINGS WENT Tecumseh's way the first half.

The Boysville drive was halted at the Indian four-yard line, from where the Toddmen took off on a 96-yard junket, capped with a five-yard burst by Gerald Girbach for the tally.

Mike Kennedy scored the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

Good blocking jobs were turned in by Bill Gibson, Mervin Maynard and Bob Hackett, said Coach Todd.

Herald Not Square with Britton: Cheever

TO THE EDITORS:

When something bothers me, I believe in telling to whom it concerns. I can not understand why you delight in "knocking Britton down" every chance you get. It seems to happen quite often. We feel we have a very fine school and community. We have many things even you do not have and we are very proud of our school.

Today, I could not see why the big headlines, "BOARD BORROWS MONEY" Many people think this to mean we are on the "rocks" Why did this have to make the big headlines? We are not too bad off. Our school head watches our dollars.

I recall, when you ran the big headlines on the front of your paper about our school haircuts.

Why, you like to do things like this, I do not know. We can solve our own problems and do. Why this rates front page, I do not know.

I think our school has done well by you, selling your subscriptions and other things. Why do you enjoy "tearing us down" You keep saying "Britton loses 25 straight." So — We have a game every Friday night. It isn't if you win or lose but how you play the game. Britton has always been good sports. We have had our wins and we will again.

Why don't you try to give us credit for something? Say something nice once in awhile. Did you see our band at the festival? We did not have to take the back seat for ANYONE.

I do not mean this as an editorial. Just want to remind you that we love our school and community. Sometime give us a little credit.

Sincerely,
Ron Cheever

P. S. I did not vote for Reorganization either.

'Land of Brave. Ha!'

TO THE EDITORS:

Home of the free.—Land of the brave. Ha!

The latest issue of The Tecumseh Herald makes it plain just how free you are. In spite of years of protest and complaint against Undependable, Council has continued to deal with them.

Now we are told we MUST comply or our water will be turned off. I don't believe they can do this as they would be creating a health hazard, but nevertheless they are THREATENING the citizens of Tecumseh and when this happens I, for one, shall stand up and be counted.

Undependable knows they don't have to give better service because the crux of the matter is here: "Undependable was the only bidder for refuse collection."

Home of the brave — I want to congratulate the brave hunters, who with one foot inside the city limits, have shot all the half tame ducks on the river behind Red Mill Dr., while the police department ignores calls from area residents even when they are on the pond at the bridge.

This is Sportsmanship?
This is Tecumseh?

Mrs. Hugh Walter

Donors Are Given Thanks

TO THE EDITORS:

I want to thank all the kind Chrsitian people in the area who have donated their used clothing, jewelry, cosmetics, shaving needs, used toys, (especially the dolls) that we take to the Bethesda Lutheran Home for the Mentally Retarded and physically handicapped children and adults there, 650 in all, at Watertown, Wisc. A special thanks to Mrs. Jean Hall at the Kustom Kraft drapery shop for the material she gave me that dressed so many dolls.

Anyone still having things they wish to send, drop them off at 107 Maiden Lane in the front hall. Put your name and address for your credit from the Home, or call us and we can pick them up any evening after 4 p.m.

Does Not Like St. Regis Plan

TO THE EDITORS:

Before I start, I do not believe that I am a chronic critic of our city government. On the other hand, I am proud to be a resident of our community.

However, in regards to our garbage service, it seems to me that the St. Regis Paper Co. is trying to pull a fast one on us Tecumsehites. I much prefer our present can service to the bag system which has been proposed.

Although, I have little knowledge of the efficiency of the bag set up, all the reports of it which I have heard are negative. Why don't our city fathers canvass the few streets that are now using the bag system and see how well these residents like the system?

All of the residents of these streets I have spoken to dislike the bags very much. However, if a survey of these streets could possibly prove otherwise. I'll gladly go along with the bag system.

WCTU Hears by Grapevine

TO THE EDITORS:

To the Voters of Tecumseh Township we hear, by the way of the grapevine that a petition has been circulated and presented to the Township Board to pressure a ballot in the coming election to sell liquor by the glass.

It is generally understood when any new issue is to be presented it must be advertised in the local paper twice before election. We have not seen it. Can it be legal?

Voters if you find such a ballet Nov. 8 we of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union emplore you to vote No on it.

Sincerely
Mrs. W. G. (Lulu E) Waldron
Pres. of WCTU

Some Have Incinerators

TO THE EDITORS:

There are a couple of questions I would like to put forth in reference to the compulsory paper sack garbage program.

What about the citizens that have incinerators and garbage disposals in their homes? Is the city of Tecumseh going to reimburse and remove these no longer convenient items since, according to the city, we will have a more efficient plan.

In some households, both members are employed, so, consequently, the sacks will be sitting on or near the sidewalk all day. If these contents are scattered by winds etc., will the city send someone to clean up the mess? Or will this be the responsibility of the individual?

True — this new plan will eliminate the daily back-yard and incinerator burning for the sanitary process of having garbage sitting for a week.

Mrs. Sharon Russ

The engagement and approaching marriage of Barbara Jean Curtis to Robert Hawkins is being announced by her mother, Mrs. James Curtis, Sr., 307 W. Russell Rd. Mr. Hawkins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hawkins of Ives Rd. A November 12 wedding is being planned by the couple.

Pythian Sisters Plan Fall Events

Past Chiefs night was set for Nov. 9 when there will be a program and entertainment as well as roll call and the nomination of officers. Mrs. William Vollmer will be in charge of refreshments.

It was voted to put on two small dinners early in December.

The first card party will be November 5 and the public is invited. Each family may bring either cookies or sandwiches. Mr. and Mrs. Rollo Thielan and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Bailey are the committee.

Cards were sent to the sick and Mrs. Charles Keil received the mystery gift.

The Officers Club met at the home of Mrs. Clifford Hardy Wednesday. Husbands were guests.

Education Week New Feature Is Class Visitation

The Senior High School students and staff invite the public to participate in American Education Week, Nov. 6-11.

This year, besides the annual open house, a new feature has been added of interest to parents as well as students.

Parents will be able to attend their son's or daughter's classes during regular school time, providing for them a true picture of the methods and new trends of education.

The open house will be held Thursday, Nov. 10, at 7:30 p.m. Abbreviated schedules consisting of 10-minute periods will be followed.

Mrs. Leslie Calhoun, one of the teaching staff, said Monday, "Please come and meet the teaching staff. Let's get acquainted."

Refreshments will be served.

Display Case Rediscovers Microscope

The microscope in scientific investigation, teaching and sheer art is on display in the glass case just as you enter the Tecumseh Public Library.

The instruments and photomicrographs are from the collection and work of the Tecumseh research scientist, Dr. N. Meyers, wife of Al Meyers, who recently gave a report at the International Congress of the Royal Microscopical Society in Chicago. The pictures shown there are now on display in the local library.

The enlarged color photomicrographs of medicinal crystalline compounds as seen under the microscope in polarized light have also been incorporated into a teaching film strip just completed by the University of Michigan Audio-Visual Education Center together with Dr. Meyers.

Entitled, "Rediscovering The Microscope", it is for science students and teachers at all levels.

In color and sound, the old and new methods are blended, while the accompanying teaching manual can be used by any class or group leader.

Laboratory personnel will be particularly interested in the pictures of miscoscope and photo instrumentation used in heart and circulatory disease studies.

Among the microscopes is a mysteriously blinking black box which has sent students and librarians to the refenence books to find the meaning of a "strobe circuit".

Layman's Group Changes Schedule

The inter-church laymen's Bible Study Group which has been meeting at the Friends Church at 6:30 a.m. Saturdays will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. starting Nov. 3.

The Gospel of John will be studied.

Through My Window

THE LEAST BIT

The small friendly-type controversy started last spring when the trees began to leaf out. My, that seems a long time ago, doesn't it? Several years ago a clump of scraggly maple trees sprang up in the exact center of our best view up the creek and this year the trees were big enough so that they did an excellent job of completely blocking out the scene.

We would look out the window and see a mass of green. I started campaigning for a bit of tree cutting — after all, one of the joys of living by the creek is seeing it.

Dad, however, kept talking practical matters, things such as soil erosion and how the roots of the trees help hold the bank. Well, to make a long story short, since he is the one who swings the axe, the maple trees are still standing.

★

WHEN THE LEAVES started falling and the creek view "opened up" — wow! There is a shallow pool right at the foot of the bank and the first afternoon that we had a really good look at it, I was slightly puzzled and then wildly excited.

The puzzlement involved what looked like two stones, a small round one sitting on top of the bigger one. I did not remember stones there though.

Of course, who remembers each stone in the creek and besides, they do move around thanks to high water and kids. There was just something about this particular stone pile though that attracted, and held my attention.

★

I HAD NOT watched long when I knew what it was. When the smaller stone turned a little and showed me a long, sharply-pointed bill and the bottom stone raised up on two knobby-kneed legs — my stone pile was none other than a least bittern. How exciting!

Much too soon, and before I could even think about having Elizabeth get the binoculars, the bird jammed his bill into the water, apparently caught nothing and decided to look for lunch elsewhere.

To say he walked to the creek banks does nothing to show you how he moved. And this was one of the highlights of the brief experience.

He was almost sulky, perhaps he was disgusted at not having found lunch. But anyway, he deliberately and rather slowly, lifted his big-toed feet high.

It was a jerky walk and I imagine a quiet one. Upon reaching the weeds at the creek's edge, he disappeared. The term protective coloration will never describe anything better.

★

He is dark brown in color and although the bird books discuss such markings as yellowish underside and greenish-black back, I wonder if it would not take good lighting and an extremely close look to see them.

Voice-wise our bittern supposedly has a coarse harsh squawk. I think now that perhaps he was a summer visitor. At least, many times during August we were confused by an unusual noise, we knew it must be someone along the creek but could never discover who.

Mr. B. is not the social type though and probably the least of his worries would be our not recognizing his voice.

The diminutive size does give him away, however, 11 to 14 inches is not a big bird. There is no chance at all of confusing him with his big, 25-inch cousin, the American bittern.

So it is that when we saw the least bittern the other day, we recognized him right away, there was not the slightest hesitation, not the least bit.

Festival Will Bring Past Back

By KAY STEELE

Remember when we used flat irons and spinning wheels or wore long dresses and sunbonnets?

Remember when we sat around a potbellied stove and read by oil lamps?

Remember riding a "yankee jumper" down the hill on a snowy day or when the druggist used apothecary jars for medicines as well as candy?

No, matter what the answer you can recall a touch of the past November 9 at the Tecumseh Methodist Church when the Woman's Society of Christian Service features Ye Olde Fall Festival beginning at 10 a.m. in the educational building.

Visitors will be treated to a Gift Shoppe, the Needle's End, Ye Olde Toy Shop, a Sugar and Spice Shop, a Country Store, and the Corner Coffee Shoppe.

Each store, decorated with relics of the past, will offer attractive or tasty items made by the women of the church.

A turkey dinner will be served from 5 to 7 p.m. with an advanced ticket sale now in progress.

Local Office Aids Children

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Offices of the Tecumseh Protective Service program were opened Nov. 1 in the Presbyterian Church Annex at 207 W. Chicago Blvd.

Mrs. H. H. Hanna, director of the program, said Tuesday, "It's great, just great. I'm delighted with these rooms. They are so functional."

The program has received the wholehearted sponsorship of the Tecumseh City Council, the Tecumseh School Board and the Ministerial Association.

Mrs. Hanna said that the protective program involves community cooperation, using all resources within the community to help families when help is needed.

"We work with children and their families in the area of pre-delinquency and pre-neglect hoping to keep children from court referrals," continued the director.

The Protective Service is a division of the Probate Court in the juvenile area. It serves the Tecumseh School District area.

The offices will be open for referrals from 8:30 a.m. until noon five days each week, closing for legal holidays such as the upcoming election day and Veteran's day.

Mrs. Hanna received the assignment to work in this field from Judge Maurice Spear six months ago. She has studied a similar program now in its ninth year in Oakland County and has been much impressed with the success of it.

★

Oakland County has handled 11,000 cases over a period of eight years with less than 15% later becoming court referrals.

Mrs. Hanna, a long-time resident of the City, has been employed with the Lenawee County Probate Court for five years.

She is highly respected, as approved by the resolution of the City Council dated May 2 of this year. It reads:

"Whereas the proponent of this program, Mrs. H. H. Hanna, widow of our late honored mayor, is a person held in great esteem by this Municipality, the City of Tecumseh resolves:

"1. It shall sponsor a Protective Service Referral program in general outline as suggested by the said Mrs. H. H. Hanna.

"2. All citizens of this Municipality, and all public officials, being urged to cooperate wholeheartly with Mrs. Hanna and with said Protective Service Referral to the end that this community may be a model city in its treatment of the pre-delinquency problem."

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books ready for you to borrow at your Public Library:

KATE AND EMMA by Monica Dickens. In London, Kate is befriended by the daughter of the maeistrate. Between these two girls, from different backgrounds and with very different problems there springs up a friendship which is deep.

YANKEE DOODLE DANDY by Noel Gerson. A biographical novel of John Hancock, about whom we know little except that his was the first signature on The Declaration of Independence. The author remedies this in a fascinating novel.

SECOND TIME ROUND by Clifford Hanley. A novel of the journey between a first and second marriage.

THE LIBERATION OF LORD BYRON JONES by Jesse Ford. A realistic narrative of racial crisis, set in a small Southern town, that far transcends its local setting.

MR. RIGHT IS DEAD by Rona Jaffe. The New York girl, the girl of the moment with the face of the year, with the essential gesture and emotional style of the 1960's is here actually, ironically and precisely drawn.

WINDS OF THE DAY by Howard Spring. "The first real day of my life," says Alice Openshaw beginning her story, "was when I banged the front door. That was when I made a decision for myself. It was then that I threw myself upon the winds of the day, to let them bear me where they liked." A warm and richly eventful chronicle.

JOURNAL OF A SOUL. Pope John XXIII. "My soul is in these pages." Pope John spoke these words to his private secretary as he turned over his spiritual diaries to her for publication after his death. This is the first such work from a Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church.

ALY, prince, adventurer, diplomat, deity, and perhaps the greatest lover of our times; a biography by Leonard Slater.

MISSION WITH LEMAY; the personal and outspoken story of a history-making general, written in unique and intimate collaboration with an author of international fame, MacKinlay Kantor.

Everybody Celebrates Her Birthday

Sandra Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schneider, 1009 River Acres Dr., has a party every year at her birthday time, which is Oct. 31.

This year Mrs. Schneider entertained eight little girls Saturday for her daughter's pleasure.

Games highlighted by "Pin the Tail on the Donkey" were played by the girls preceding refreshments featuring a cake decorated with black cats, bats, pumpkin heads and witches.

More than 14,000 of disabled persons receive assistance each year from the State Department of Education Vocational Rehabilitation Division.

Cool Costumes Awarded Prizes

By JUDY FIELDER

It was "The" weekend.

The brooms were pulled out of the closets, old wigs brushed up, fabric scraps sewn together and the orange and black crepe paper disappeared from the stores . . . it was Halloween.

"Trick or treat," was the call at the front door Monday night, as fat little witches with hats as tall as themselves, ghosts, ghouls and princesses stood side by side waiting for their "treat."

A happy score of "Thank yous" echoed as the backs were turned, the goodies dropped into their sacks for later inspection and they scampered on to the next lighted porch.

Saturday was the day for the official city Halloween celebration, with both the senior and junior high school dances attended by 300 students.

In the afternoon, the smaller children paraded in their finery in the costume contest at the Community Center before being treated to cider and doughnuts.

Winners were:

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Why that little devil has been staying in the press box of Maple Stadium all week.

"Snowed in?" I asked Bootin' Pussy when we ran into one another following the crazy Adrian-East Lansing game on Saturday afternoon.

"Very funny," he grimaced, pulling the black-and-orange muffler a mite snugger. "Actually, it's pretty comfy. No Hilton, but OK for the time being."

Here is probably Tecumseh's No. 1 Loyal Fan, although in recent years the only action he sees are Tecumseh and Adrian contests.

"I'm getting old, you know," said Bootin' with a grin. "Can't stand all that ramming around, but I'll never miss the Indians and Maples."

"Well, how come you arrived a week early? Hey, were you the one to bring all that snow?"

"Cool it, kid. I could care less for the white stuff at my age, but I had a job to do.

"Tom Fagan always enjoys my scouting report on Adrian's action the week before his Indians engage the county seaters. Would you like to see what I cooked up for him?

Without waiting for a reply, Bootin' whipped out a paw-full of scribblings, with X's, O's and wiggly lines. They looked like preliminary plans for an A-bomb.

As my jaw dropped, the pesky little guy was taking a deep breath and about to begin a spiel that would ramble on for 20 minutes.

★

"FIRST OF all, I told Tom to fire up his defensive left side and have a real reception party for Harley Westfall. The kid can ramble. Goes a lot like his dad—you remember Bob when he was an All-American with Tommy Harmon over at Ann Arbor?"

A nod was all I could offer. Bootin' wasn't even pausing.

"Young Westfall goes at every backfield spot — plus plays Monster Back on defense. He likes sweeping to his right and at 185 pounds, he's hard to bring down.

"Now as for the Maple quarterback, he'll probably be Gregg Arbaugh, a good passer. Dean Nelson may QB a little, too. Remember his brother Doug a few years back?

Another nod allowed as I did.

Then Bootin' turned to his notes again, giving me an opportunity to ask about the Maple defensive unit.

"Hmmmm, glad you mentioned that." He rustled through several chits.

"Actually I don't need my notes to answer. That's Adrian's greatest weakness. East Lansing gave 'em troubles — and I'm hoping so will Tom's lads.

"Westfall and Marshall are great on defense, so is little Dennis Suydan, who just came up from the junior varsity. But they're all backs.

"Joel Hiser goes both ways at end — and he's tough. But the rest of the line is a question mark."

★

BOOTIN' said he'd better get back up to the press box now that everyone had taken off. He was planning pork and beans for supper and wanted to get a little fire going.

"I'm sure Cliff Nelson won't mind," he chuckled.

Now that the cat's scouting report was over, I had a chance to inquire about Bootin's winter plans.

"Looks like Puerto Rico for me. Say, didn't you once tell me your wife's kin folks, the Bob Clanceys, lived there? How about giving me their address? I'm sure they'd love to have me pop in for a couple of months."

I'm sure they would.

Off to Florida

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beach left for their Florida home Sunday.

Parking Lot Meter Bond Is Retired

Another $1,000 parking meter revenue bond has been retired, the fourth bond to be retired since off-street parking meters were installed.

This bond was paid for by the United Savings Bank and bank president, Pat Meadows, presented it to Council Monday night.

He said an attempt to raise $5,000 by the end of the year would retire five more bonds, which would boost savings to the city of $16,598 in unpaid coupons.

Mr. Meadows asked city officials if they would remove 30 meters in each of the four parking lots in lieu of five bonds. This would raise the total from the present 52 free spots to 122.

Mayor Harold Easton said the Council would consider his proposal and reach a decision by the Nov. 21 meeting.

City Hall Is Closed

Starting Saturday, Dec. 3, offices at city hall will be closed Saturday mornings.

Council approved a recommendation from City Manager Cal Zorn Monday night after he explained the rotation of hours required for the personnel there.

For residents who pay city bills on Saturday mornings, a deposit box will be installed.

Gets $667.95

Council approved an expenditure of $667.95 for the Tecumseh Protective Service Monday night.

Mrs. H. H. Hanna, juvenile court case worker who started the youth-parent program here, asked city officials for assistance.

The amount offered is half the remaining 1966 budget.

Area Voters Help Romney Chances for White House

Area voters did their part to help push Gov. George Romney into the national political spotlight as he crushed Zolton Ferency in Tuesday's election.

Two Liquor-by-the-glass proposals were turned down in Tecumseh Township by 171-136 and Clinton Township, 384-274.

Marv Esch re-captured the 2nd Congressional District seat for the Republicans, but Wes Vivian got surprising support in Tecumseh's three precincts, where Mr. Esch took a slim 1,176-968 margin.

Senator Bob Griffin ran strong in all parts of Lenawee County, getting more than twice the votes of G. Mennen Williams.

Donations Hit $42,000

Contributions to the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation will probably total about $43,000, according to Carl Lamb, chairman of the 1966 campaign.

This figure is almost $3,000 short of the Foundation's $45,884 charity budget.

Pledges and cash donations amounting to $41,342 had been turned in by early this week. Some collections had not yet been received, however, and these are expected to account for an additional $2,000, Mr. Lamb said.

An urgent call has gone out to those solicitors who have not turned in their kits. All receipts should be deposited with Mrs. Chauncey Harrison at the United Savings Bank.

She's Dumpy, But a Honey

By CAROL HOWELL

Opal's a good soul, honey — and that's the truth.

Lives at the dump. Collects junk. Doesn't have much going for her. But she does have a way with a homily.

And she has three new friends — real gen-uine. They're crooks, of course, and they're trying to do her in, but she doesn't know that. And besides, she'd be the first to remind you that nobody's perfect.

Anyhow, honey, Opal has always figured that, if you love everybody, they just gotta love you back.

Do the bad guys manage to knock Opal off before she kills them with kindness?

Everything works out just peachy, honey, as our heroine might say, in the Tecumseh Players' first show of the season, "Everybody Loves Opal".

★

Jo Wegner is delightful as Opal —dowdy, but pure, honey—real gen-uine.

Diana Harbaugh, as Gloria, is flashy and greedy — but one knows she just can't be all bad.

John Raymond is Brad — addicted to booze and pedantry. His are some of the play's funniest lines. He delivers them glibly, but he lacks the assurance essential to a really convincing heel.

Mickey Lambert, as Solomon, might be the Huckleberry Finn of the underworld. If there can be comic relief in comedy, he is it.

Robert Moore and Gail Rothfuss are good in minor roles, and Fred Ward's set really has to be seen to be believed.

As a matter of fact, so does Opal.

★

AFTER BEING snowed-out Thursday, the show opened Saturday before a nearly-filled house at Tecumseh Community Center.

Performances are scheduled this week for Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday. In deference to the Adrian-Tecumseh football game, there will be no show Friday.

Two Fight Compulsory Sack Pickup

A resolution for compulsory paper sack pickup of garbage in Tecumseh was given its first reading by Council Monday with two officials dissenting.

Councilmen Ray Puffer and Lawrence Mohr voted against it.

Parents Go Back to School

Parents of Tecumseh High School scholars will be given an opportunity to follow their children's schedule through a school day at an open house Thursday evening at 7:30.

The affair is held in observance of American Education Week, Nov. 6-11.

Ten-minute periods will give parents and teachers an opportunity to meet. Discussions can be held during the social time when refreshments will be served.

An open house was held Wednesday evening in the Junior High School.

Jaycees Win State Award

Tecumseh Jaycees, who spearheaded a drive to raise $20,000 for new football lights have achieved state-wide recognition of their efforts.

The service club received the Michigan Jaycees' quarterly award for commuunity service in judging which followed the State Jaycee Convention in Gaylord Oct. 15.

They were cited for "an outstanding project which contributed significantly to the advancement of the Jaycee organization and to the welfare of the city."

Goal: New Building

MACON — The Macon Methodist Church will launch its crusade for $40,000 with an Open House from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, for the purpose of securing the funds necessary to begin construction of a new Education Building to be built in connection with the present church building.

Members and friends will go to the church and while there will make their subscriptions to the crusade fund according to the Rev. Donald K. Corl, pastor of the church since his appointment by the Detroit Conference in 1962.

The Crusade Committee includes chairman Hallie Jane Mehler, Elwyn Bugbee, Mrs. Herbert Morden, Herman Mehler and Terry Ross.

The crusade will be conducted by 40 "Selected Visitors" with James Rhoades as visitation chairman. The Crusade commit-

Dead Man Is Elected

Clayton Bigelow died at the age of 73 Sept. 26, shortly after he filed to run for the office of constable in Macon Township. In Tuesday's election he placed second with 298 votes.

A friend called the token vote a "tribute to his many years of outstanding township government service."

Little Theatre Group Offers Fun and Work

By VIRGINIA MURRAY

Feel sometimes as if life were passing you by? That the guy next door is having all the fun?

Could be that you need a fresh outlook, some interesting new friends or a challenging hobby?

All of these and more can come to those willing to invest a little time and talent in a thriving community activity, the Tecumseh Players.

Somehow the uninitiated have come up with the idea that a theatre group is "all play and no work." Nothing could be farther from the truth.

LEARNING THE lines for a play is a great accomplishment in itself, but while the cast is busy in someone's basement, the rest of the "wheels" are also busy.

The set chief is designing. He may be your breadman, your accountant or the vice president of a local plant.

As pressure mounts, the fatal cry is heard from the director, "You've got to finish it and get off the set."

He is joined by his wife, secretary, teenaged children and members of his wife's bridge club, all dutifully painting in the last agonizing lines of a flat.

At this stage, the need is for those handy with a hammer, those familiar with lighting and electricity and the effect of light on paint and color. (Interior decorators and paint salesmen take notice!)

Costume people check through attics, basements and the Good will Store. For musicals, the hands of many nimble-fingered seamstresses transform a group of melodious choristers into cowboys or Salvation Army girls.

"Anyone seen a cognac bottle?"

"I have one at home, but it's full."

"Well, bring it, and we'll empty it for you."

The bottle will show up at the next rehearsal, empty. All spirit found at a community theatre group will be used to put on a good show.

★

In leisure time, players often go to productions with an eye to producing it locally or to compare another group's production with one they have already done.

While the show is readied for the audience, the most vital member of the community theatre team (what's a play without an audience?), the rest of the group are making posters, gathering props, planning and printing the program, selling tickets and taking reservations.

★

WHAT CAN you as an individual get out of community theatre? Why, as much as you are willing to give, of course. Give according to your talents.

If you are a hair dresser, offer to style the leading lady's hair, if you have no time or talent, buy an ad in the program or a ticket, then go. Better still, become a patron and receive two season tickets as a gift of The Players.

Captains of industry encourage participation of young executives because stage appearance develops poise, self confidence, emotional maturity and cooperative attitude.

There is truly democratic spirit in theatre: you may not enjoy yelling at your boss for not coming up fast enough with the lights, but you will both learn valuable lessons in the spirit of comradeship and cooperation, making life easier for you both in the long haul.

All work and no play makes even the most successful venture dull, so while the latest dramatic offering is groomed, others are planning the party, usually held after the final performance. It's a fun-time with friends you have made while working, playing and bickering together over the years.

"Anyone for work, play and music? Tryouts for "Annie Get Your Gun" will be in the Glass Room of the Community Center in December.

See you there.

THAT'S MY BUDDY — Cindy Aylesworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Aylesworth, 610 W. Logan, hugs her pal "Pumpkinhead", who combined the best of the mixup of two seasons last week. If Pumpkinhead looks like he's crying, it's because he knew the comradeship couldn't last. At least Cindy could save his head.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

"We are ready for an old-fashioned winter," said Mrs. Gene Sell after last week's unexpected heavy snowfall brought skiers from all over the area to Irish Hills Sports Park. Only problem hampering the enthusiastic skiers was their cars getting stuck before reaching the slopes, but by Friday afternoon roads allowed easier passage and the snow lovers had "a ball."

Apparently the "Conservation Department" is labeling every small body of water. Latest to be tagged is right here in Tecumseh, dubbed Lake Vivian, a wide spot in the River Raisin where it curves around behind Herrick Park subdivision. The lake is named in honor of Mrs. Woody Marsh, 803 Outer Dr., whose first name is Vivian.

Patrons on the rural or mounted routes are asked by Jack G. Metcalf, postmaster, to please keep the approach to their mail boxes clear of snow so the carrier can leave the mail.

"You don't know how much of a temptation it was to say 'Silky Egli was purr-fectly cast as Mr. Tanner'," was Carol Howell's covering note with her review of "Everybody Loves Opal." Some people never stop.

Hospital administrator Bill Groover admits "I'm my own best customer." Right now he has two Groovers as customers — his wife resting comfortably in the maternity ward and his third son, at 9 lbs., 2 oz., living it up down the hall in the nursery.

"It can't be," said Mrs. Henry Howard. So she drove by it again, checking the new Hayden Floor Mill sign on the billboard west of Harvey's Grill.

Mrs. Cy Baily of 9355 Pleasant Dr., identified the only unknown member of a 1913 football team recently printed in The Herald. It is Fay Satterthwaite who lives in California now, who was Mrs. Baily's classmate. He's a cousin of Perry Satterthwaite. His parents had died, and he made his home for a time, during those school years in Tecumseh, at the home of his cousins.

"Don't put my tie on my dress, Mommy," said the tyke, "when I sit next to Becky, she keeps curling it around her finger."

Books — the most inexpensive entertainment that can take one to the far corners of the world, or reveal information from one's own back yard. The Tecumseh Public Library will hold a Holiday Book Fair with volumes for adults and juveniles Nov. 28 - Dec. 3.

Several new ideas were initiated this year for Trick or Treaters Monday evening. One householder on Murray Dr. (it could have been Mrs. Robert Stone) dressed as a ghost motioned to the youngsters from her picture window. Pretty spooky too, some kids didn't invade that domicile to get a treat. Another resourceful resident, don't know who, decided to let the youngsters know what Halloween was all about by giving each one a written explanation of the origination of All Hallows Eve.

Unknown Soldier Memory Honored

One soldier from among the 1,648 unidentified dead of United States infantrymen in France was buried with highest honors in Arlington National Cemetery on Armistice Day, 1922.

Later, the United States was to inter unknown Americans who died in World War II and Korea in what came to be known as the Tomb of the Unknown Soldiers.

England, France, Italy and Belgium erected similar Tombs after World War I. Evidence seems to indicate that either the French or the English originated the idea, but the facts are lost in history.

The French claim that their fighters in the Verdun trenches in 1915 first gave voice to the idea of returning the body of an unknown soldier to the ground of his own country.

★

IN SEPTEMBER, 1919, legislation to establish a Tomb of the Unknown Soldier was introduced in the French General Assembly. Within a year the selection was made and an unidentified Frenchman was interred under an eternal flame beneath the Arc de Triomphe.

The British suggest that one of their World War I chaplains, the Rev. David Railton, first thought of the idea.

As the story goes the chaplain came across a crude grave near Armentieres in the spring of 1916. Scrawled on the rough wood marker, in pencil, was the obvious last tribute to a fallen comrade: "An Unknown Soldier Warrior of the Black Watch".

VETERANS DAY IS FRIDAY — BE SURE TO FLY YOUR FLAG

After the 1918 Armistice Vicar Railton, now a holder of the British Military Cross, began to promote a plan for the re-burial of an English hero among his nation's illustrious war dead.

He was unable to arouse much interest until the French movement had begun. While the idea still had popular appeal the Vicar wrote the Dean of Westminster Abbey urging the project.

★

AFTER considerable debate, Parliament approved the resolution and, on Armistice Day, 1920, England buried its Unknown Soldier in Westminster Abbey.

Thus inspired, General W. D. Connor, then commanding the remaining American forces in France, called a similar proposal to the attention of General Peyton C. March, Army Chief of Staff.

Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., N. Y., introduced to Congress a resolution calling for burial in Arlington of an unidentified American soldier.

The measure was passed on March 4, 1921, and the United States became the third nation to enshrine an Unknown Soldier.

Wherever and however the idea was originated, the Tombs of the Unknown Soldiers have become some of history's most eloquent expressions of devotions, reverence and gratitude.

Cast Removed

John Kopka had the cast removed from his leg Friday morning at Herrick Memorial Hospital, however, he will be unable to put much weight on it for a time. He was injured in a cave-in June 25 and has had the cast on since July 3.

Brazee Begins Freshman Year

Edward Brazee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Brazee of Rochester, N. Y., formerly of Tecumseh, has begun his freshman year of studies at State University College at Oswego, N. Y.

Edward is a graduate of Penfield High and is enrolled in Oswego's language arts program.

The new freshman is a member of the college's largest class and part of a record student body of 3,885.

He is the grandson of the Rev. and Mrs. Alvin Brazee of this city, now wintering in St. Cloud, Fla.

It's Wednesday again and about 15 gals will meet at 7 p.m. at the Community Center to indulge in a new dance entitled 'Fanny Walk." Mrs. Bruce Brown of Onsted, instructor for the health, rhythmic and modern dance course (slimnastics) offered by the Parks and Recreation Department, introduced the interesting exercise in a recent class.

Not only amusing, the "dance" is decidedly slimming and well worth the effort it requires to move about the floor — yeah, yeah on your fanny.

The present 10-week course will end Nov. 30 and a new one, simply a continuation, will start Dec. 7. Don Moffatt said Wednesday morning that the program will take a break for the Christmas holidays from Dec. 14 to Jan. 4.

New Telephone Directory Is Now Being Delivered

Newest edition of one of the world's most frequently used books — the telephone directory — is now being delivered to General Telephone customers in Tecumseh, Britton, Clinton and Tipton announces Ken Conway district manager.

This year, more than 24,600 General Telephone directories will be distributed throughout the Lenawee County area, he said.

★

"Larger than ever, our new directory has more names, Yellow Pages, and a completely revised customer information section," Mr. Conway said.

The new directory will introduce an index page for customers information on the inside front cover.

Another addition to the directory this year, he said, is a localized exchange area map printed in conjunction with the continental U. S. Area Code map.

Mr. Conway offered a word of caution:

"Leaf through your old directory carefully before replacing it with the new edition," he said. "Many times important papers, letters, or even money are placed in the telephone directory for safe keeping and forgotten."

"Remember, also, to transfer your written list of frequently called numbers from the old directory to the new one," he added.

Electric Company Shines in Storm

TO THE EDITORS:

I would be remiss if I did not praise the men who restored the electrical power on my side of the street around midnight during the first night of the storm last week.

They worked diligently for two or more hours without a "coffee" break, too. I watched the whole procedure from my living room window by candle-light indoors and moonlight outside.

What a glorious feeling when suddenly the lights came on, the furnace started working, the refrigerator started humming, the toaster popped up, the radio provided sweet music and the TV had a late movie, and I started smiling.

Then and there I realized again that people do care about us and our comforts. Believe it or not, the temperature in this house dropped only five degrees.

My sincere thanks not only go to the employees of Consumers Power but also to the following:

- Our local police for examining and providing traffic safety upon discovering a huge tree branch that had fallen across our street.
- Employees of the Telephone Co. for restoring service early the next day.
- The city employees for removing the debris so promptly and any others who might have had a part in this matter.

Jaycees Say 'Thank You'

TO THE EDITORS:

I wish to thank you for your help in promoting the debate between Mr. Esch and Mr. Vivian. As co-chairman on this project, I speak for all the Jaycees when I say that we are very sorry the debate could not be held.

The day of the debate we had many calls from citizens showing their interest. This kind of interest is gratifying at times when too many people just don't seem to care.

It does show that people do care and were genuinely interested in these two candidates. Thanks to all the people who helped in the organization of the debate and thanks to you interested people.

Ric Creswell and the Tecumseh Jaycees.

Jim Johnson Gains 1st Team Honors

Jim Johnson of the Pontiac Arrows won a first-team offensive spot on the Mid-West Football League All-Star squad.

The Stars meet the league champions Sunday afternoon in an annual post-season game — and that happens to be Pontiac.

★

SO JIM and the six other Arrows who won All-Star ratings on defense and offense will be replaced by honorable mention selections from other clubs.

The battle is being held in Pontiac's Wisner Stadium at 1 p.m.

An All-Star banquet will climax the day, coming after the game. Highlights of the dinner will be presentation of a variety of trophies — including Most Valuable awards to the best offensive and defensive players in the league.

Johnson, the former Tecumseh High star, led the league in scoring this season with 12 touchdowns.

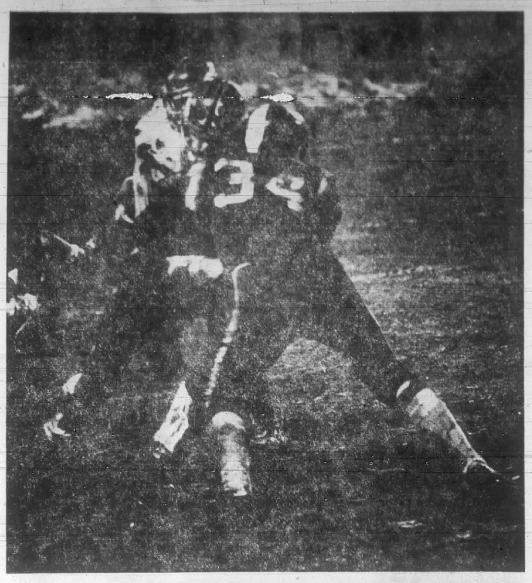
★

LAST WEEK, in the season's finale against River Rouge, Johnson paced the arrows in their 38-0 victory, scoring three times, twice on runs and once on an aerial.

In winning the 1966 crown, the Arrows piled up an 9-0-1 record. Pontiac also took the title in '65 with an 8-2 mark, with Johnson leading the club in rushing.

All of which would indicate that Jim is probably going to get his wish — a chance at the big time. He's slated for a tryout next summer with the Miami Dolphins of Coach George Wilson.

ALL-STAR JIM JOHNSON



TOP — A high-flying Indian arrives too late to help Roger Young, partially hidden in the grasp of a Lutheran West linebacker. Other Tecumseh players are Gary Dauber (61) and Jim Hunt (20).

Defense Paces Frosh Victory

With the defense playing its finest game of the season, Tecumseh freshmen stopped South Lyon Junior Varsity, 12-2, Tuesday in a driving rain.

Coach Ted Todd's crew held the high-scoring Lions to just two first downs and never let them inside the 35-yard line.

Both of Tecumseh's touchdowns came in the final period:

South Lyon had managed to grab a two-point lead in the second period when Mike Kennedy was tackled in the end zone, following a 67-yard Lion punt which rolled dead on Tecumseh's one-inch line.

Tecumseh got inside the South Lyon 10-yard-line four times in the first half, but was stalled there by stout Lion defensive play.

The win gives the Tecumseh Frosh a 7 and 1 record for the year.

Beth Cruises Down River

Beth Satterthwaite told of her recent delightful trip by paddle boat down the Mississippi River, for the meeting of the Friendly Class last Tuesday with Mrs. Oscar Meads.

Sixteen members present related some experience or some person they were especially thankful for. Mrs. Zola Ruffner read scripture on a Thanksgiving theme.

Mrs. Naomi Sallows, the president, announced the annual Christmas party, a mother and daughter banquet, Dec. 6 for members of the class.

Gingerbread topped with whipped cream and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Meads and Mrs. Myron Dermeyer.

Facts about cleaning carpets with Blue Lustre

A gallon of Blue Lustre cleans the equivalent of six 9x12 rugs, depending on soil.

Traffic paths may be removed without cleaning wall-to-wall if rest of carpet shows no soil.

It costs only about 1¢ per square foot to clean your carpet. Blue Lustre electric shampooers may be rented for $1 a day.

Carpets stay new-looking if you keep Blue Lustre handy to remove spots and traffic paths as they appear. Since it contains no soap, there is no residue to cause rapid re-soiling. It dries to an invisible crystalline powder containing the soil, removed by vacuuming.

You'll be delighted by the way Blue Lustre restores forgotten colors in both carpets and upholstery. Des Ermia's Furniture, Tecumseh.

School Bus Drivers Will Attend Classes

Three classes for all school bus drivers in Lenawee County will be held this month.

Nov. 14 — Addison High School

Nov. 15 — Blissfield High School

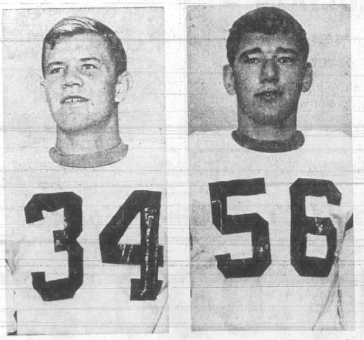
Nov. 21 — Lenawee Institute

All classes meet from 7 to 10 p.m.

New laws pertaining to school busses that were passed by the 1965 State Legislature will be discussed. Various areas of bus operation in the county will be covered by Supt. Milton C. Porter.

Specially qualified instructors from the Bus Driver Education Staff conducted each class.

"Well trained, school bus drivers are a necessity today. School busses carry our most precious cargo — our children," noted David H. Soule, coordinator of school bus driver education at Eastern Michigan University, sponsor of the classes.



TOP INDIANS — John Anderson (34) 170-pound fullback, and Doug Schwartz, (56) junior tackle, were rated top Tecumseh football players for the week. Anderson not only led the backs with 88 yards rushing, but blocked well on other running assignments. Schwartz paced the linemen with most of the offensive plays being run through his tackle spot. And, like several other Indians, Schwartz gets little rest, playing on defense as well.

Can Indians Make It Three Straight Over Adrian Maples?

By JIM LINCOLN

Friday's finale with the Adrian Maples, arch rivals of the Indians, should find Tecumseh "up" to post not only a winning season with a 5-4 mark, but to set a record no other local club has accomplished.

Tecumseh has never whipped Adrian three straight years. Two consecutive years, yes, but three, no.

None of the present Indians have ever lost to the Maples, and the string should not be snapped this season.

Although, Adrian, winner of just one game this fall over a weak Battle Creek Lakeview 11, will be tougher than its record indicates.

Adrian throws the ball, and fans who have watched Tecumseh this year dread having the ball in the air. The Indians have been real tough all year on the defensive line, although losers in four games, not one team has been able to gain consistently on the ground against Tecumseh.

Henry Mensing, 5'8", 195-pound guard, ranks among the best linemen ever to play here. He's led a pack of linemen here who have outshone the offense all year long.

Although the season certainly has been disheartening to Coach Tom Fagan, the defense has been one big consolation. Injuries have riddled Fagan's club this season, a year when the Indians should have been rated among the best.

Tecumseh can look back on 1966 when the Indians had Willow Run on the ropes, then lost. Against Dundee, which the Vikings won 6-0, the Indians succumbed to a fumble, setting up Dundee's score.

The lone game in which Tecumseh slipped badly was against Grosse Ile. GI was charged up and the Indians couldn't do anything.

Blissfield clipped Indians 20-0, but breaks set up all three scores, and it could've been a 0-0 game as easy as not.

Four losses, three of them marginal, should not affect Tecumseh's play against Adrian. The Indians' defense will probably bottle up the Maples' running game paced by Harley Westfall—forcing them to throw. If they throw, and they will, Tecumseh fans can only hope the secondary can come up to the task.

Offensively, Tecumseh should be able to move, particularly if the Indians have the momentum from whipping Lutheran West, 27-13.

Last week's clash was the best offensively for Tecumseh this season. Jim Hunt gave the Indians good quarterbacking and Roger Young turned in his best performance of the year.

Young, hurt in the opener against WR, picked up 75 yards and looked like the Young of old, if knee and ankle injuries had not slowed him down.

John Anderson appears to have completely recovered from a bum knee—and he ran like it, picking up 92 yards while playing only about three quarters.

It this offense can come up with a score or two, and the defense plays like it did against WR, Dundee and Blissfield, Coach Fagan should have another Maple scalp and the Indians an honor of bouncing Adrian three straight years.

HERALD PHOTO BY BILL WHITING

HIT 'EM HARD — Halfback Roger Young puts his head down and rams into Lutheran West defender, brightening Tecumseh's hopes for the Adrian encounter this week. Young's performance was probably his best of the season, an autumn of injuries for the speedy senior back.

Series Started in 1942

Tecumseh and Adrian meet for the 13th time in a rivalry, dating back to 1942.

In 12 games played, the Maples hold an edge of 7-5, but the last Adrian victory was in 1963. Tecumseh will be slight favorites to narrow the series gap Friday night.

Last year, Adrian was a two-touchdown favorite only to have Tecumseh rally in the rain and mud for a 7-6 victory. Anything can happen when the two teams meet, and usually does.

A resume of past games is:

1942—Adrian 27, Tecumseh 0
1945—Tecumseh 6, Adrian 0
1946—Adrian 19, Tecumseh 0
1957—Adrian 20, Tecumseh 0
1958—Adrian 25, Tecumseh 13
1959—Tecumseh 6, Adrian 0
1960—Tecumseh 7, Adrian 7
1961—Adrian 33, Tecumseh 0
1962—Adrian 33, Tecumseh 7
1963—Adrian 26, Tecumseh 7
1964—Tecumseh 19, Adrian 7
1965—Tecumseh 7, Adrian 6

REDSKIN BACKS, GENE BROWN, IVAN McKENNA, MEL PARDEE AND DOUG WIGHT SHINED IN MANCHESTER VICTORY

Pardee Scores 3

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Clinton Tops Manchester - - - Hosts Saline in Finale

By IVAN McKENNA

CLINTON—Lakeland C Champion Clinton completed its third season in conference play without a loss Friday with a 32-14 pounding of Manchester.

It was the Redskin's final league game and the victory gave them a perfect 6-0 record. Overall, Clinton is 6-2.

Halfback Mel Pardee led the scoring assault for the Redskins, picking up three touchdowns, one in each of the final three frames.

The first came on a two-yard plunge capping a 65-yard drive which followed a blocked punt by the Redskin defense.

In the third quarter, Pardee scampered 45 yards to paydirt. He notched up his final TD with a 19-yard run in the final period.

Clinton's defense, which has been tough all year, played up to par.

In addition to the blocked punt, Sam Sparks and Paul Papsdorf recovered Dutchmen fumbles while Jake Schwab and Ivan McKenna came up with pass interceptions.

Linebacker Dave Grinnell and guard Tom Young were also defensive standouts.

The Redskins, who have been primarily a second-half ball club, came through with 20 points in the first two periods.

Papsdorf scored first for Clinton when he scooped up a Dutchman fumble on their 41-yard line and scampered in to score.

McKenna provided Clinton with a 14-0 advantage in the opening frame on a 12-yard slant.

The Flying Dutchmen, whose passing attack was hampered by the weather, did manage to accomplish something that no other Lakeland C team has been able to do — score more than one touchdown against the staunch Redskin defense.

Going into the game, the Redskins had allowed only one touchdown in league competition. Manchester picked up two in the last quarter.

Dutchman quarterback Pat Wallace combined with end Larry Fielder on a 65-yard pass play for Manchester's initial tally.

With only 12 seconds remaining in the game, Jim Nickerson picked up another touchdown for the losers on a six-yard run. Manchester, with its season completed, has a 3-5 record.

Coach Mike Snyder's outfit will be out for revenge Friday night when Saline comes to Clinton in the final game of the year.

Last fall, Saline spoiled the Redskins' bid for an undefeated season by handing the Redskins an 18-6 defeat.

New Signal Caller Paces THS Triumph

By JIM LINCOLN

While many local, area schools took the night off, Tecumseh whipped Lutheran West, 27-13, on a field just hours before which had been blanketed with several inches of snow.

LW made its first — and last—visit to Tecumseh with a reputation of a tough ball club. It may be, but the Indians were tougher and only some questionable calls prevented the winning margin from being greater.

Starting on their 20 late in the first quarter, the Indians drove 80 yards in 11 plays with Hunt wedging over for the six pointer. He then flipped a pass to end Dean Hebb for the extra point.

★

IT WAS THE first time in eight games that Tecumseh had been able to march entirely on the ground for a touchdown.

The Indians came right back the next time they had the ball. Hunt this time hit Hebb over the middle from the 21, with the 6'3" end taking the ball in from the 12. Roger Young skirted end for the extra point.

Leading 14-0 in the third quarter, the Indians went in again after Hebb intercepted a pass on LW's 37 and ran it back to the 24.

With John Anderson and Young banging away at the LW line, Tecumseh upped the margin to 20-0 with Young scooting in from the one. After the Indians were set back five yards on the extra point try, Young just missed running in for the point.

Trailing by three TDs, LW came back through the air and Tecumseh penalties. Officials stepped off 35 yards against the Indians in a LW drive which started on the Leopard's 15.

★

IF THE game had been close, two 15-yard penalties would have had been called real stinkers. Tecumseh was charged with roughing the kicker when actual contact wouldn't even have broken a tea cup.

The second big infraction was called when a LW receiver dropped a pass and then was hit. Pass interference was called when it was obvious the LW player had touched the ball before being tackled.

As it was, three completed passes, good for 39 yards and the penalties gave LW a first down on Tecumseh's two. Three plays later the Leopards scored with Ron McGory plunging in from the one.

Russ Gartha then passed to end Norman Wildauer for the extra point.

★

A LITTLE humor was added to the victory when Coach Fagan called upon rotund Henry Mensing, 5'8", 195-pound senior guard and tri-captain, to try for extra point.

Henry responded by bursting off-guard into the end zone.

Tecumseh's finest guard and linebacker in years bulled in and finished the Indians' scoring for the evening.

Detroit's LW came back on two passes to score, the last a little screen with just over a minute left. It was tallied against Tecumseh's second string which had put the rush on.

Policyholders Will Receive 84% of Net Gain

Approximately 84% of Mutual of New York's estimated net gain from 1966 operations will be returned to policyholders next year in the form of dividends and extra interest.

Ronald J. Croll, 6530 Sutton Rd., Britton, MONY Field Underwriter, announced today that the company's board of trustees has tentatively allocated a record-high $72.9 million from 1966 earnings for dividends, interest on dividend deposits or as excess interest above the amount guaranteed in settlement options.

The overall increase will result in dividends averaging about 3% greater than if the present dividends scale had been continued.

Boysville Back Adds 3 More Touchdowns

By RICK CURRIE

RICHMOND — Boysville's Fighting Knights finished out their football season on a winning note, downing the St. Augustine Saints, 39-0, here Sunday on a snow-covered field.

Mike O'Dea ran the extra point.

During the second quarter, Chalmers again went in, this time on a 24-yard sprint. O'Dea gained the Knights' second score of the period from eight yards out.

Dave Rockwell ran the extra point leaving St. Augustine behind, 20-0 at the half.

The Knights rolled up 101 yards in the third quarter with Chalmers going across for his third score of the game from the two-yard line.

In the final quarter, Dave Rockwell came across with a one-yard smash for another Boysville tally. Don Chalmers converted.

CLINTON — Costume director, Debby Claus and her committee, are looking for several long gowns of the 1800 era to costume the female members of the cast of "Pirates of Penzance."

Two sets are being constructed, one with a rocky seashore and the other, chapel ruins.

Mrs. Donald Geiger, director of the musical, is being assisted by Ivan McKenna, student director.

Ivan, like several others assisting with the project, is not a member of the choir, but is interested in the project enough to volunteer help.

Susan Kirkland is in charge of properties.

Gail Johnson is the business manager.

Ken Bennett, who had considerable experience last year handling the lights in the performance of "The Mikado" and at the Band Follies show, will again be at the switchboard.

Sharon Pribble will again be in charge of the make-up.

CLINTON — An open house was held in the new educational building of the Clinton Methodist Church Sunday afternoon.

The building has been in use since early in October by three first grade classes of the Clinton Elementary School.

The 40 x 80 ft. building was built by the Krieghoff-Lenawee Company. The first floor includes a church office and library, storage room, a class room for two nursery classes and a large L shaped room for four classes. This large class room may be used for a dining or meeting area.

There are several class rooms, rest rooms and a furnace room on the second floor.

The building can accommodate 200 children.

Mrs. Frank Allen, Mrs. Hazel Thompson, Mrs. Ralph Halladay and Mrs. Viva Riker served coffee to the many visitors during the afternoon.

Although the interior is completed the furnishings have not been moved in.

A meeting is scheduled for Thursday night at the church, when Edith Buffett, the Ann Arbor Children's Worker from the District Superintendent's office, will be present. She will meet with the Commission on Education, Church School superintendent, teachers and assistants to discuss the best use of the available equipment for the building.

Air Liner Offers Free 'Jet Flight'

American Airlines' Astrosphere — a free exhibit that offers visitors a cross-country flight in first class jet seats without ever leaving the ground — has landed in Detroit.

The unit, which includes a large auditorium and display area, is at Northland Center through Saturday and will be at Eastland Center Nov. 15 to 19.

The Astrosphere will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The huge Astrosphere, the world's largest inflated dome structure, is on a two-year tour aimed at the millions of Americans who have never flown.

Some 10 million Americans are expected to see the Astrosphere in its appearances in shopping centers across the country.

★

INSIDE THE dome the setting resembles the interior of a first class jetliner, complete with earphones, seat belts and American stewardesses.

The 128 "passengers" watch a 12-minute color movie, including views of take-offs and landings, taking them to various vacation areas across the United States.

Inside the dome are various displays by American's participating partners — American Express, Hertz, Holiday Inns of America and Texaco.

Camp Fire Girls Hold Candy Sale

Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls, Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls and Horizon Club girls are visiting friends and neighbors in the annual Camp Fire Girls candy sale.

The sale, Tuekabatchee Council's only fund-raising event of the year, ends Saturday, Nov. 19.

Participating girls must go in pairs and must wear a complete costume and a Camp Fire Girls candy sale badge.

Unless accompanied by an adult they may sell candy only during daylight and in their own neighborhood. The girls offer both chocolate nut and fruit-flavored hard candy this year.

★

PROCEEDS of the sale are used by Camp Fire Girls to serve the girls of Lenawee County — above the operating expenses appropriated by the Lenawee County United Fund.

Each group of girls gets a bonus for each box of candy sold.

Remaining proceeds are used for capital expenditures, improved services to all Camp Fire Girls groups in the Council, maintenance and operation of Camp Tuekabatchee, group and day camping.

A yellow honor bead in business, to add to her costume, will be awarded to each girl who takes part in the project.

White Birch Needs Water

Many white birch, willow and poplar trees have been dying from neglect in Michigan the past two or three years because of the drought.

When white birch decline in vigor they are susceptible to an infestation of insects known as the bronze birch borer.

The pest can best be prevented rather than eliminated. Keeping birch trees in vigorous condition by frequent watering during low rainfall and by fertilization will keep the tree strong and prevent damage.

Presbyterians Use New Area in General Plans

Telephones are ringing and typewriters are clicking as the members of The First Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh make plans for a building fund drive to be held Nov. 26 to Dec. 11.

The building committee has been consulting with the architect for several months and has submitted a proposal for area use of the properties purchased on E. Chicago Blvd. and Logan St.

To better inform the congregation of accomplishments needs of the church, a series of breakfasts, morning and afternoon coffee hours and evening group meetings have been planned for this week.

Contacts are being made both by letter and by telephone to find the most convenient time for each member.

The next few weeks promise to be busy ones for interested Presbyterians.

Meat Prices Expected To Jump

Housewives had better save a little complaining about higher food prices until next year if beef cattle feeders make any money on feeder calves now going in their feedlots, Michigan State University livestock specialists believe.

Prices feeders paid for calves at eight Michigan cooperative sales in October were nearly 20% higher than a year ago.

That means that if cattlemen are going to make any margin on their winter and spring labor and feed in getting 500 to 600 pound gain on the calves, beef prices will be higher next year.

AVERAGE PRICES paid for steer and heifer calves and yearlings was $3.14 per hundredweight higher than a year before.

The 1966 prices averaged $29.26 compared with $24.12 per hundredweight in 1965.

The number of calves available was less than expected by buyers, and as a result, bidding was spirited. Only 9,800 animals of the anticipated 14,000 were sold.

The shortage was caused by a combination of cattle raisers holding back more heifer calves for replacements to build their herds and earlier individual sales.

Individual buyers combed northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula before sales and offered from $1 to $2 more than the 1965 prices. They bought many and as a result the sale numbers were down 3,250 from 1965.

The world's busiest waterway, the Detroit River is in Michigan, with enough fresh water for every manufacturing plant in every city in America flowing by Detroit each afternoon.

Epic Poem Being Presented at Siena Heights

The well-known epic poem of Stephen Vincent Benet, "John Brown's Body," will be presented by the Drama and Speech Departments of Siena Heights College Nov. 17, 19 and 20 at 8 p.m. in Walsh Hall.

Freedom for all men, regardless of race or creed, is the general theme of this presentation. Although it transcends the Civil War era, the production has a universality which cannot be missed in 1966.

Special matinees have been scheduled for children on Saturday, Nov. 19 and Sunday, Nov. 20 at 2 p.m. Admission is 50c for children.

Adult admission will be $1 for any of the performances.

13 Brave Storm

Thirteen members of the Hall-Slater Post VFW Auxiliary were present for their meeting in spite of Wednesday evening's storm.

Inspector Mrs. Robert Connolly Jr., vice-president of Sixth District, from Monroe Auxiliary No. 1138 and another guest, Mrs. Stewart Connally, past color bearer from the Monroe Auxiliary, were present for the meeting and inspection.

The Auxiliary and post will hold the Past President and Past Commanders Banquet Dec. 10, combined with an adult Christmas party.

The dinner will be prepared and served by the Jaycees Auxiliary.

THE SOCIAL meeting will be held Nov. 16 and those who wish to take the Food Handlers Test in Adrian will meet at the VFW Hall at 7:30 p.m. and go in a group to Adrian. They will return to the hall for the meeting.

Membership chairman Mrs. Richard Eisenmenger reported that 51 members had paid dues for 1967.

Mrs. Lloyd Stites, community calendar chairman, reported that the Auxiliary ordered 700 calendars and had 1,032 listings placed in their Patriotic Community calendar, to be available in January.

Mrs. George Downard, chairman, will introduce into the Senior High School the program of Americanism Scholarship of the auxiliary's National President.

★

THE AUXILIARY has resumed a program for boys in service first since World War II. They will send boxes to sons of all auxiliary members and husbands.

Mrs. Lloyd Stites asks that members who have sons in service send their address to her immediately.

The Auxiliary also donated to Radio Free Europe. Members were reminded to vote and also to display United States flags on Nov. 11, Veterans' Day.

Booklet Aids Buyers

Do you shop with an eye for meat grades? Do you choose the correct market unit size for your family, so you won't have a lot of waste?

MRS. ANITA DEAN, Extension foods specialist, says that the wise food shopper compares food purchases on the basis of weight, quality and food value. A high food bill doesn't insure a well-nourished family.

She covers how to figure average sizes of servings, gives handy charts in comparing sizes of cans and frozen food containers. She explains federal government, packer and retailer meat grades and shows how they can help the consumer in choosing.

She also gives guides for selecting poultry, fish, dairy products, breads and cereals, fruits and vegetables.

★

REGARDLESS of prices on individual commodities, Mrs. Dean believes that the food shopper will get more for her money if she plans wisely before going to the store.

Then she should shop intelligently, comparing weight, quality and food value, as well as price. The next step in saving food costs is to store food carefully and prepare it correctly to avoid waste.

Mrs. Rentschler showed a film from General Motors illustrating how the designs of cars are determined. It presented Firebird III, a car of the future being tested in Arizona.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Hoyt Whelan who was assisted by Mrs. Wesley Mast.

Clara Waldron will be the hostess and will take reservations for the Christmas banquet at the Youth House of the First Baptist Church Dec. 5.

Tests Measure Student Abilities

BRITTON — The National Educational Development tests will be given to ninth and tenth graders Wednesday according to Counselor Vern Neidlinger.

The NEDT, as the tests are popularly known, measures the degree to which the student has developed his abilities to interpret, evaluate and understand the subjects he is studying in school.

NEDT attempts to tell the student and his teachers something about his present educational strengths and weaknesses at a time when something can be done about it.

A realistic appraisal of the student's present abilities will help him, his teachers and parents plan the route required to reach his goals successfully.

The results also help the school administrators to compare our school educational program with schools across the country.

★

The student will receive a score on each section, plus a composite score, which is the average of the five test scores. This score is the index of the student's overall educational development and is related to his ability to succeed in academic pursuits.

★

The answer sheets will be scored and reports returned to the school principal by early December. The student will receive a handbook to help him interpret his scores.

Joyce Billeau, James Conrad Speak Vows

BRITTON — A candlelit Britton Emmanuel Lutheran Church was the setting for Joyce M. Billeau and A3c James E. Conrad to be united in holy matrimony by the Rev. Thomas Drobena Friday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Billau of N. Ridge Hwy. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Conrad of Clinton-Macon Rd.

The bride approached the altar, which was decorated with white gladioli and palm fronds, on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage.

She wore a gown of chantilly lace with sabrina neckline and long sleeves. A chapel train fell over her bouffant full-length tiered lace skirt. A crystal star held her elbow-length illusion veil and her only jewelry was a silver cross necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Robert Rowe of Britton was matron of honor with attendants Mrs. Thomas Conrad of Ann Arbor, sister-in-law of the groom, Kathy Conrad, sister of groom and Sue Henning.

All the bride's attendants wore full-length gowns with empire bodice of red lace and white chiffon over white taffeta skirts. A ful-length train of red lace over taffeta was held by a bow at the back of the low square neckline.

Flower girl Dawn Johnson of Livonia, cousin of the bride, wore a matching gown, made by the bride. Her headpiece was a circlet of white flowers.

Randy Fergus of Chicago was best man, with ushers Thomas and Dean Conrad of Ann Arbor, his brothers and Pfc. Robert J. Billau of Fort Riley, Kan., brother of the bride.

Jeffery Conrad, nephew of the groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Conrad, was ring bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fergus hosted at the church and at the reception immediately following the ceremony at the United Products Workers Union Hall. The bride's cake had a large cross base and four round tiers topped by a couple.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Richard Solarski, Susan Billau of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Dean Conrad of Ann Arbor, Rebecca Rainey of Onsted, Darlene Billau of Milan, Carolyn McNair of Waldron and Sherry Squires.

Following a honeymoon to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, N. Y., the couple will stay in a house trailer northwest of Macon until he leaves for a year's duty in Thailand. She will stay with her parents during his over-seas duty.

The bridegroom's parents entertained at rehearsal dinner at Don's Beef Buffet Friday evening.

The bride was honored by four showers preceding the wedding, given by Mrs. Robert Rowe, Mrs. Fred Lewis, Mrs. Ervin Billau and Darlene and Mrs. Thomas Conrad and Mrs. Dean Conrad.

An Old Timer Remembers

By CLARENCE J. AVERY

Editor's note — A regular Herald feature, "Touch of the Past" recently produced a surprising bonanza. Clarence J. Avery of Gull Lake, a one-time Tecumseh resident, received from a friend, a clip of the column when his name appeared, prompting Mr. Avery to pen a lengthy letter, which The Herald will print in serial form.

My boyhood friend and schoolmate, Earl Murphy, now living in Britton, whom I have seen but once in over 50 years, upon observing in your article "Touch of Past," under the heading "1906" that I had succeeded Guy Nemire as messenger boy at the Lake Shore station, thoughtfully forwarded the clipping to me.

This I did with a deep and mixed feeling of nostalgia and pleasure.

I feel you may like to know that at least one of the characters of that way-back-when area is still around and kicking.

While it may not be much of a story, I would like to point out to you what influence that little old messenger boy job and the rattle of the telegraph instruments in that old weather-beaten railroad station, had on the course of my life, which over the years zig-zagged from there to the floor of the New York Stock Exchange with many interesting stopovers along the way.

★

IN ADDITION to Guy Nemire some of the other names listed that I remember include Vern Comfort, Leon Burlingame, Clarence Witherell and, of course, who could forget that man-about-town character "Fuzzy" Mominee, who, accompanied by his faithful pug dog, met all trains with his one-horse dray.

As I recall, his sales pitch was "Anything Hauled to Anywhere in Town for 35 cents."

Since I was in New York City in 1916 I missed out on catching any of those 50,000 bass which were dumped in the Red Pond. All I ever caught there were a few small sunfish.

I got quite a chuckle when I read (under 1886) about the rapid growth of Britton with all those new houses being built. I wonder what could have caused such a boom to fizzle out.

But now take Tecumseh, that's a different colored pony. That place has really blossomed out.

That little town — as I knew it — was bound to grow and prosper with no small credit due the old Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad. Why, I remember when all its passenger trains when going through the town, made not one, but three stops as the trainmen bellowed, "Tecumseh!" "Chicago Street!" "Tecumseh Junction!" How could a town miss with that kind of transportation service, I ask.

Some of the natives took advantage of this unusual courtesy especially on Saturday nights when groups of frolicsome young merry-makers would snitch a ride through the town by piling aboard the train at the first stop only to scramble off at the last one.

There were other abuses too. There were known instances where bulky objects such as family washings were transported for free from one end of the town to the other on the platform of the rear coach.

Car Defects Under Fire

Lenawee County sheriff patrol officers have been instructed to increase violator contacts during the next four months, paying special attention to vehicle conditions and operator's license status.

In an effort to bring to the motorist's attention vehicle safety equipment needing repair, officers will check the condition of all vehicles stopped for violations.

Items to be checked include:

► Steering — for excessive play or hard operation.

► Brakes — for effective braking action.

► Horn — for proper operation and loudness.

► Mirror — for adjustment and clear vision.

► Windshield and windows — for unobscured vision.

► Headlights — for intensity and aim.

► Other lights — for proper working order.

► Tires — for wear and for indications of poor wheel alignment and/or faulty balance.

► Exhaust system — for dangerous leaks or noise.

Findings will be tabulated and analyzed to encourage needed legislation to make Michigan streets and highways safer.

"We have no intention of being unduly harsh with motorists in our area," Sheriff R. L. Germond pointed out.

"This is fair warning that we simply want to do all we can to improve driving behavior and help make sure we have safer vehicles on our highways.

"Unless we and the public do more to halt the spiraling trend of the past five years in our traffic toll, the next few months threaten to be the worst in Michigan's history," he said.

Takes Part in Exercises

His wife, Ruth, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Coates of 1301 E. Monroe Rd.

Airman Sturgeon is a radio repairman with the 28th Military Airlift Squadron at Hill AFB, Utah. His unit is providing C-124 Globemaster aircraft to airlift more than 800 U. S. infantrymen and 1,500 tons of supplies from Elmendorf AFB, Alaska to the exercise site.

"Dall Sheep" is designed to test men, equipment and military techniques under simulated combat conditions in the Artic.

After returning to the base in Utah, Sturgeon underwent an emergency appendectomy at the Air Force Hospital Sunday. He is improving daily.

The airman, a graduate of Tulsa Central High School, attended the University of Tulsa.

Jack Bryan Is Safe on Carrier

Jack Bryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bryan, Dinius Rd., is safe. Jack is stationed aboard the US aircraft carrier Oriskany that was swept by fire off the North Vietnamese coast Oct. 26.

Forty-three officers and men of the 3,000 personnel aboard the Oriskany were killed and 16 others were injured in the mishap.

Jack's sister, Joyce, telephoned his wife, the former Bonnie Beattie, in California only 20 minutes after she had received word that her husband was unharmed.

A recent letter stated that the Oriskany is expected to dock back in San Diego Nov. 16.

Mr. Bryan said Monday that he and his wife spent an anxious day before news came of their son's safety. "It may be a small percentage of men injured but when it's yours, you can't help but be concerned. We are sorry for the others who weren't so fortunate," said Mr. Bryan.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Apathy Is Not Dead

Apathy is Not Dead. It plays an important part in the breakdown of the moral fibre of our country.

Rioting, premeditated arson, civil disobedience and wild rampages bordering on insurrection and anarchy make one shudder.

Edmund Burke said, "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing."

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said in a recent message to the nation's law enforcement officers, "Crime rates in the United States will drop when the criminal is convinced that his arrest will be swift, his prosecution prompt and his sentence substantial.

"Today's criminal is convinced that an apathetic, uncooperative public will delay his arrest, that new court decisions will postpone or prevent his prosecution and that through unjustifiable leniency, his sentence will be negligible," continued Mr. Hoover.

A staunch American, the FBI leader stated, "It is our heritage to stand erect, proud and unafraid, not cowering before any master nor bending to any threat — a Nation where freedom, equality and justice are attainable conditions, not hollow phrases."

"The height of human dignity is reached by free men deliberately choosing their destiny, humbly mindful of their obligations to their Creator and their fellow man," the message said.

"We have the facts on which to make a choice. They are on our streets and in our courtrooms, in front of our eyes in every metropolis and hamlet. A right and rational choice must be made or we shall consign to oblivion the most cherished hopes and aspirations ever conceived for freedom in the history of mankind," he continued.

Mr. Hoover admonished his men stating:

"I sincerely believe:

"That we must reawaken in every citizen a fierce devotion to supremacy of law and and equal justice;

"That we must forever renounce the idiocy that associates glamour and heroism with lawbreakers;

"That all criminals must be brought to the bar of justice for realistic handling, not merely maudlin sympathy;

"That means must be provided to defeat the enemies within our borders who are puppets of enemies from without;

"That we must insure by every lawful means that differences are resolved in the courtroom, not in the street;

"That we must adamantly insist that each individual is held responsible for the natural and probable consequences of his acts.

He concludes: "Let the hoodlum, the racist, the demagogue, and the exponent of anarchy know that the great, quiet power of this Nation lies in her law-abiding citizens, and they will stomach no more. The choice is ours. The time is now."

Seaman Recruit Glen D. Bow, 19, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bow of 605 Brook St., has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center in Great Lakes, Ill. In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station. In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other basic subjects.

WHATEVER HAPPENED TO FALL?

Great Blowing Blizzards! Who in this great, wide world ever expected such a Nov. 2? Who, in their wildest nightmares, ever conjured up so much snow and wind this time of year? They talk about early storms but this was ridiculous.

Tuesday afternoon, when Elizabeth and I heard a weather prediction of snow flurries, we merely chuckled. When Dad came home and we told him that there was more than three inches of snow on the ground in the Upper Peninsula, he laughed.

It was sort of a nasty laugh, the kind which conveys a feeling of superiority, almost a-well, that's-what-happens-when-you-live up-there.

What is the old adage about he who laughs—? Even that evening, after he put the car in the garage and I asked about the weather, he maintained it was not going to snow.

★

WELL, WEDNESDAY morning our world was mighty white for a place that was not going to have any snow. When Mom opened the drapes, the blizzard that was raging was just unbelievable.

The wind was screaming and howling, the wet snow swirled in a topsy-turvy manner. It was wild.

A storm which conceivably could be the worst of the year, was belting us and along the creek there were still trees with leaves, in the case of the Norway maples the leaves were bright yellow. Oh, my!

Good gracious, we had just gotten over Halloween. There were still leaves to rake up, storm windows to put on, porch furniture to be put away.

Snow shovels were still resting in their summer storage spots, snow tires still laying next to them. A few little flurries, which would melt as soon as they hit the ground, might be expected but a full blown, mid-winter type blizzard at this time of year — never!

★

BUT THAT is exactly what happened. And, I must confess, it was a fascinating thing to watch. The gale winds plastered the snow against trees, fence, utility poles, windows, everything.

In no time at all there was a veritable fairyland outside. The thing which kept us spellbound, however, was the wind. It just would not quit. In fact, it seemed to gain momentum and strength as the day wore on.

By 4:30 the storm was so furious that Mrs. Mast's house had completely disappeared from sight and M. & D.'s was just a faint outline. Cars going north on Democrat St. showed up as two little headlights.

I have heard fishermen say that sometimes the wind will go down with the sun. On Nov. 2 it didn't. All night long we shivered at its screaming and howling.

★

THURSDAY MORNING was hectic, but gradually things eased up, there was even a little calm, but wham, by 3 o'clock it was blizzard time again. The birds took full advantage of the lull in the storm.

The poor things had not ventured forth to do much eating the day before, so were doubly glad for full feeders. Cardinals, bluejays, grackles, titmice, mourning doves and sparrows.

They all swooped in and hungrily gobbled lunch. I hope they fed well and fortified themselves against the returned "wild and wooly" blizzard.

Marilyn and Cindy summed up this whole silly weather situation. During the morning calm, they were out making snow men. Cute Mr. and Mrs. But guess what their heads were—Cindy's pumpkin jack-o-lanterns.

So it is that as I finish this article at 3:30 Nov. 3, the weather is perfectly terrible — almost in the state of shock I ask, "What happened to fall?"

JACKSON — The Stagedoor Players, a Jackson community theatre group, will present "Come Blow Your Horn" Nov. 18, 19, 25, and 26 in the Pine Room of the City Hall here.

The three-act comedy shows conflicts between youth and parenthood by episodes in the lives of two sons.

The play will be directed by Christopher Cantine of New York City, who is spending a brief visit in Jackson with his parents.

NEED MORE SPACE? BUILD UP

The old homestead just isn't the same for the Jerry O'Brien family, 402 Seneca St. — it's lots larger and boasting two more bedrooms. A spacious second-story addition, 16x32 feet have given the O'Briens and their three children two, brand new bedrooms. Aluminum siding and 3⅝" Fiberglas insulation will keep them cozy warm this winter, and pleasantly cool in the summer months. The job was completed recently by Chuck Sanch Construction Co. These two rooms are atop an earlier addition to the O'Brien home, made four years ago to give an enclosed back porch and added footage to the kitchen. That job was handled by Bill Mackey. For both remodel jobs, the O'Briens selected Moore Lumber Co. as suppliers of the necessary materials. If you're thinking of enlarging your home — a new bedroom, family room, finishing off the basement — see Moore for your needs. Nothing down, easy financing.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

This autumn, much of my spare time was devoted to a fascinating and rewarding experience, coaching the St. St. Elizabeth seventh and eighth grade football team.

Most Catholic schools are run on extremely tight budgets — and St. E is no exception.

That means few frills.

If the kids are to get them, interested adults have had to step forward with the time and needed cash.

Back in the mid-Fifties, real estate man Jack Osburn, who isn't even a Catholic, but who had two boys in St. Elizabeth, volunteered to handle football and basketball.

Dads backed him up with contributions for the purchase of uniforms, shoulder pads and helmets, also cash to pay referees for games.

When Jack retired three years ago, Jim Greene, one of his former St. Elizabeth players and a Tecumseh High lineman until a head injury ended his gridiron days as a sophomore, took over.

Jim got his diploma from THS last year and is now a student at Sacred Heart Seminary, starting on the long road to becoming a priest.

That left the sports program temporarily hung in mid-air and so one afternoon I found myself in old togs, standing on the school playground, surrounded by a sea of eager, upturned young faces.

And he was so right.

The 1966 season started with 22 young men in September and when things were wrapped up in our four-game schedule with a clash on Oct. 27 against Camden-Frontier, the same 22 were on tap.

★

BOYS IN the 12 to 14-year-old bracket are a wonderful bunch. They're bubbling with energy, alive with desire to learn to play sports, ready to show they want to become men.

We had some fabulous practices and game situations.

The '66 Cubs posted one victory against three losses and despite the fact at times when the Old Coach felt his charges could forget faster than they could learn, there wasn't a moment I wasn't bursting with pride over those young fellows.

Since a boy who wants to play football must first learn the art of bringing down a ball carrier with a low crisp tackle — shoulder driving into the runner's thighs, arms locked around both legs — we spend much of our time on a rugged tackling drill.

Three lads form a triangle, about five feet apart, with one on "the point". All are aimed in the same direction, at a fourth boy who faces them from about eight feet.

The pigskin is gently slammed into the bread basket of the No. 4 man who rams forward into the triangle. That's the signal for the trio to spring ahead and bring him down.

Those on defense learn in a hurry never to wait for the ball carrier, but to drive at him.

At first, our seventh and eighth graders were a little timid, but as they saw they weren't going to be hurt, they began to enjoy the action.

Wham! Crunch! Bam!

★

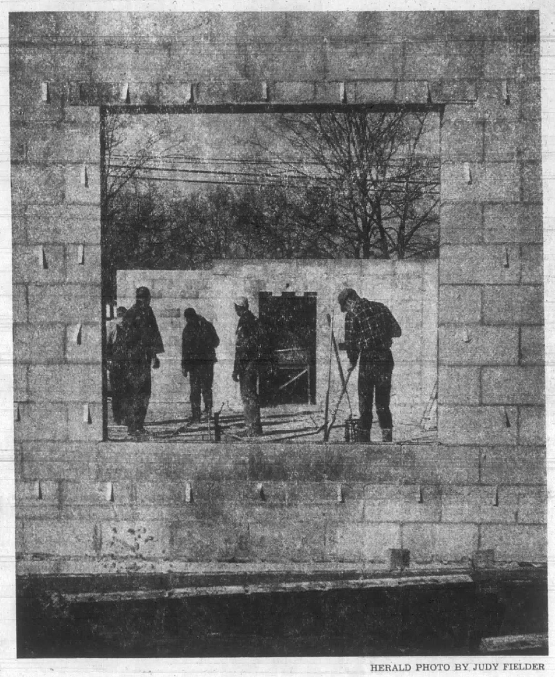
ST. ELIZABETH has sent its share of football players up to the Tecumseh High School varsity — the Osburns, Mike and Jay, Jon Aho, Roger Young, Dan and Jim Greene, Jim Parros, to name a few.

One day maybe some of the '66 Cubs will be up there, too, and their Old Coach will certainly feel a welling of pride when they are.

Dads of the team are honoring them Tuesday night with a banquet in the school auditorium at 6:30.

THS Coach Tom Fagan will be the speaker and he'll probably be taking a close look at the lads as they step forward to accept their awards.

Construction Crews Are Hustling



HERALD PHOTO BY JUDY FIELDER

PICTURE FRAME — Construction workers at the new United Savings Bank branch on N. Evans could easily be a painting in an Op art frame. Tabs inserted into the cement block structure are ready to hold the Indiana limestone that will face the building, which is scheduled for completion the end of January.

RACING WINTER — Swinging into place at the Budd Co. disc brake plant at Clinton are 500 tons of structural steel for the $6.5 million layout. The roof is expected to go on next week. M. H. Wilkins Co., Darin-Armstrong Co. and the Charles J. Rogers Co. are working as a team without a general contractor, as yet. Footings are being poured for the office section in front of the present steel work. Architect W. A. Johnston said the schedule calls for the building to be enclosed by March 1.

car, Anna Lewis, 16, of Onsted and Sherman Lewis, 14, of rural Onsted and the other driver, Mr. Brost and Hazel Brost, 75, were admitted to Herrick Memorial Hospital with injuries.

Merit Scholarship Exams Coming Up

Tecumseh High School students who expect to graduate and enter college in 1968 may register now to participate in the 1967-68 National Merit Scholarship Program.

First step is the NMS qualifying test, on Feb. 25.

If a student is unable to pay the fee, it will be handled by the National Merit Corp. at the request of Tecumseh High School.

★

IN ADDITION to competing for Merit Scholarships, students can take the test to obtain information useful in planning their future education and careers.

With his NMSQT scores each participating student will receive a handbook to help him evaluate his scores, compare his performance with that of other high school students across the country, and give him information on choosing a college and financing his education.

The handbook and other interpretive materials are furnished as part of reporting the test results.

The highest scoring students in each state will be named semi-finalists and will be eligible for Merit Scholarship consideration.

In addition to the National Merit Scholarships financed by NMSC, more than 350 business corporations, foundations, colleges, professional associations, unions, trusts, other organizations and individuals offer scholarships through the Merit Program.

Obtained through Dr. Eleanor Skufis of Adrian, this was the first showing of the film in Lenawee County.

It brought out the necessity of good communication between parent and child starting at an early age in order to discuss freely the subject of sex.

Dr. Richard Coak showed the film and held a discussion period following it.

Mrs. Richard Clute was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Graham Foster was a guest.

Indian head bands were children's favors provided by Mrs. William Adams and Mrs. Robert Ries. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Robert Marsh and Mrs. Stephen Fulop.

Ridgeway Man, Veteran Teacher, Honored

By MAXINE CALHOUN

A more immediate honor has been accorded Julian O. Strong, of Ridgeway, who retired in June after teaching biology in Melvindale High School for 30 years.

Named in his honor, the Julian O. Strong Junior High School at 3303 Oakwood Blvd. in Melvindale, was dedicated Monday.

A handsome photograph of Mr. Strong was presented at the dedication ceremonies and it will be placed in the new school.

★

MR. STRONG was born in Toledo, Aug. 31, 1900. After graduating from Dundee High School he entered Michigan State Normal College, where he received his bachelor of science degree in 1931.

Later he was granted his Master of Science degree from the University of Michigan.

He taught for nine years in the public schools of Washtenaw County before becoming affiliated with the Melvindale-Northern Allen Park Public Schools in 1936.

Quoting the dedication brochure, "The boys and girls of Melvindale-Northern Allen Park Public Schools were fortunate through the years that they had a man who loved to teach and who would give unselfishly of his own time to further their interests in photography and astronomy."

★

MRS. STRONG, who taught family and home-living subjects for 17 years in the Melvindale High School, retired in 1961.

Mr. and Mrs. Strong have spent all their summers at her family home, the Lafe Pocklington property at 6095 Ridge Hwy. in Ridgeway, and now make their year-round home there.

Retirement, no doubt, is providing Mr. Strong with more time to spend with his many hobbies, among them an intricate collection of model trains, many of them made by himself.

Russ Garno tells us that democrat Bill Wright was so pleased with the recent election that he took his wife on a week's vacation.

"Remember When" was the theme of an exciting room at "Ye Olde Fall Festival" at the Methodist Church Wednesday. A Yankee jumper (child's old fashioned sleigh), grandmother's wedding gown, rare specimens of mi-lady's hats, fashioned from stuffed birds and other finery are among the many treasures that the gals got together for the event. Dressed in fashions of years ago, the sales clerks created pretty pictures everywhere as they carried out the business of the day. This certainly is an event that should become a tradition with the Methodists.

When Mrs. Jim Merritt recently wanted a baby sitter, she decided on a Herald classified for a run of three weeks. The first insertion was in our last edition was all she needed. The day of publication Mrs. Merritt had her baby sitter—and nearly 20 calls from other volunteers seeking baby-sitting work. Looks like a working mothers' market.

Instead of sending Christmas cards to one another, employees at Tecumseh's Fisher Body plant are collecting money normally for the purchase of cards and postage and sending it to the regional USO office in Indianapolis, Ind., for use in Vietnam.

Mushrooms fresh from the soil for Nov. 11 dinner at the George Everett residence. Mrs. Franklin Schroeder, 7980 Billmyer Hwy. has her own private patch and looked for the little buttons just after the snow left. Sure enough, up they had popped. She let them grow for a couple of days before taking them to her grandparents.

Recent contributions to the Herrick Memorial Hospital Landscaping Fund were in memory of LeRoy Heilman from:

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mueller
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ruhl
Mr. and Mrs. John Hewlett
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rebottaro
Mr. and Mrs. Robert German
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kopka

Young men between the ages of 21 and 36 who are looking for an opportunity to serve the community are invited to attend the Nov. 30 meeting of the Tecumseh Jaycees. Wives are welcome, too, since this is a joint meeting with the Auxiliary. Coffee and doughnuts will be served. Call Frank Sandhoff, 423-3494.

There was a gathering Sunday evening of St. Elizabeth fathers who were making arrangements for the school's football banquet. Earlier, most of the fellows had watched the Lions beat Minnesota Vikings when Gerro Yepremian soccer-kicked a record six field goals.

Someone said maybe the dads could get Garo to come over to the school sometime and tell about his booting technique.

The next day, Dr. Laszlo Gero, pastor of Gloria Dei Church, was told of the pun. He laughed, then added it was 30 years late for him. But in the 30's he did a lot of soccer kicking in his native Hungary.

The Holiday Book Fair will be held at the Tecumseh Public Library Nov. 28 - Dec. 3.

Fresh strawberries again for breakfast this week. Mrs. Richard McMahon has been picking strawberries from her garden at least once each week since the "abominable snow."

Julie Parrish will be a guest star on "Star Trek" television show Thursday, Nov. 17, at 8:30 p.m. on Channel 4.

Free cardboard cartons for mailing Christmas gifts to servicemen in Vietnam are currently available at Ken-Ray Drug, thanks to the Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co., which donated the containers.

Hidden Lake Gardens now has a selection of color post cards.

Tired of licking and sticking? Send those trading stamps off to the Public Relations Office of the Ypsilanti State Hospital. They are most anxious to have them. Any kind.

Jaycees are looking for singers, dancers and/or hams to take part in the second annual Jaycee Follies. The variety show will be presented at the Tecumseh Products' Union Hall Jan. 19, 20 and 21. If you'd like to take part, call Mrs. Roger Butler, 423-4201.

Little Garden Club Plants Bulbs, Enters 1967 Contest

The Little Garden Club of Tecumseh will enter the 1967 Sears-Roebuck Civic Improvement Contest, sponsored by the Michigan Federated Garden Clubs.

In order to qualify, a project must be underway but not completed.

The Herrick Memorial Hospital Landscape Plan, sponsored by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, is nearing completion of its third stage.

Last week members of the Little Garden Club planted bulbs on the northwest side of the hospital grounds.

★

Memorial contributions to the Landscape Fund are still being accepted at the United Savings Bank by the Hospital Auxiliary.

Minister Calls 'One Nation God' People's Heritage

In observance of the National Exchange theme for November, "One Nation God" the Rev. Blair Bashore addressed the Tecumseh Exchange Club, Monday night.

The Rev. Bashore gave an inspiring resume of the heritage which these words mean to every American citizen. The words are meaningful not only to the Exchange members, but for patriots as well as religious orders, he said.

"If it were not for religion the belief of God, these words would have very little strength," the Rev. Bashore said.

George Choske, a Tecumseh Junior High teacher, was welcomed as a new member and inducted by Past President, Robert Hartt.

Exchange guests were Melvin Ruettinger and Graham B. Foster.

Members were told that Bill Rumpf, a member, has been released from the hospital and is recovering satisfactorily.

Facts about cleaning carpets with Blue Lustre

A gallon of Blue Lustre cleans the equivalent of six 9x12 rugs, depending on soil.

Traffic paths may be removed without cleaning wall-to-wall if rest of carpet shows no soil.

It costs only about 1c per square foot to clean your carpet. Blue Lustre electric shampooers may be rented for $1 a day.

Carpets stay new-looking if you keep Blue Lustre handy to remove spots and traffic paths as they appear. Since it contains no soap, there is no residue to cause rapid re-soiling. It dries to an invisible crystalline powder containing the soil, removed by vacuuming.

You'll be delighted by the way Blue Lustre restores forgotten colors in both carpets and upholstery. Des Ermia's Furniture, Tecumseh.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

"He never wants to go back to Vietnam. He said that it's the most frustrating business you ever saw," remarked Mrs. E. J. Aebersold Wednesday morning as she told of a recent visit from her son, Lieut. Colonel Greg Aebersold, just back from 13 months in the fray, the last session since February.

The Tecumseh Air Force officer told his mother that were she to have her present brick home in Vietnam she would pay about $1000 a week to a Swiss bank. He said black marketing is terrible, especially in housing.

Sunday Mrs. Aebersold entertained a family gathering. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Aebersold and family of Pontiac and Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Smith and family.

√

The annual migration to the north woods for deer hunting has begun. Among others going are Cecil Alderdyce, Harry Crosby, Frank Gray, Melvin Purple and Frank Horton, who left Saturday for Grand Marais.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Franzen and Irene Szabo will leave Friday for the Atlanta area where they will meet his brother and wife of Monroe for a week's deer hunting.

√

John Litteral in company with his father, Rollie Litteral, of Morenci, and brother, Alvia, of Brooklyn, will leave Friday to spend the week at Roscommon. Mrs. Litteral and the children, Robert, Rollie, Cindy and Carla, enjoyed a special dinner of their father's favorite food celebrating his birthday anniversary Wednesday evening. This is a rare occurrence at the Litteral residence since Mr. Litteral is usually away from home hunting on his birth date.

3 Youths Admit Television Theft

"Those who attend a meeting and read their brochure will be more prepared to make their pledge when the canvasser calls Sunday afternoon, December 11," the Rev. Julian Gresham stated

Memoriam

In loving memory of Frank Gottschalk who passed away Nov. 15, 1959.
Often a lonely heartache,
Many a silent tear,
But always a beautiful memory
Of one I loved so dear
They say time heals all sorrows
And helps us to forget
But time so far has only proved
How much I miss him yet.
Sadly missed by his wife, Catherine. N17p

Tecumseh members are cooperating with the National American Legion Auxiliary in sending the hometown paper to servicemen and women.

This complies with postal regulations, but frequently does not pay the postage, however the charge for service peoples subscriptions will remain $1 for one year.

Barrio Residents Go by 'Squatters Rights'

By JUDY FIELDER

Mary Seager is back in the world of snow, running water and two - story houses after spending 27 months in Venezuela as a community development worker with Accion, a privately sponsored "civic action" organization.

Mary, who graduated in 1964 from Radcliffe College, lived in a two-room cement block house with a tin roof while she worked with residents of Barrio Los Olivos, an 8,000 population slum suburb of Maracay, a large industrial city with a population of 150,000, the majority caused by an influx of workers in the last 10-20 years.

"The barrio looks much poorer than it really is," says Mary. "Because 75% of the men are working. They just haven't had time to put up better houses."

A factory worker brings home from $150 - $200 per month, but must support a large family.

The barrio was formed by "squatters rights", according to Mary. When a section of the city was overflowing, residents would unite and move to a new area, each choosing his own land.

With little or no planning, the people constructed shacks of available material, including fiberboard, wood or tin, and move in.

The predictable result for the first year is havoc, with no planned streets, schools, sewers or running water.

Most residents in the barrio buy oil drums full of water that are trucked in from outside the community, although there are two small public faucets, where the poorest families stand in line to carry their water home.

The job of the community development worker is to act as a promoter of activities in order to unite the people and show them how to work together to accomplish their desires.

At the beginning, a survey was taken of the barrio by the workers to discover meeting points and the primary needs, such as water and schools.

One of the first actions of the workers can be to set up public vaccinations and provisions for children to get one glass of milk per day, both provided free by the government.

The problem is finding a place to meet and getting volunteers to work.

"It's a start," said Mary. "The overall project is one that starts small and snowballs. Each step calls for another."

The workers form sewing, handicraft and cooking classes and the men organize sports.

"They are a lot of little activities to join the people and get them working and playing together," Mary said.

Soon the people discover they need a meeting place — a community center — a need which they have created themselves.

They start organizing committees, including women's public relations, construction and youth —each with a president and officers.

The president of each organization is a member of the overall coordinating committee, which meets to discuss and plan projects.

Someone donates an empty house for meetings, which is soon outgrown — the people decide they need a larger and better one.

Fund - raising activities are initiated.

Nearly completed in Barrio Los Olivos is a $6,000 multiple use center built entirely from contributions from Maracay business or the government and labor from the barrio inhabitants.

The center will offer professional training courses for adults given by the National Institute of Co-operative Education. A diploma goes with graduation, which opens job doors.

Rooms for committees are planned, along with a patio for a kindergarten class for which the women's society is raising money. Further enlargement is already planned, but it all takes a long time, because by doing it themselves, the work is primarily on weekends.

Ideally, this unites the community. The sections are working together and pressure builds up for a bigger project," said Mary.

One barrio recently piped water, almost entirely by hand into the community and plans to distribute it street by street.

In Barrio Los Olivos, the people are grading the streets organizing a large fiesta and planning for the future.

The project wasn't all roses and honey. There were discomforts to encounter — especially for a four - climate, big house, electricity and running water-raised girl.

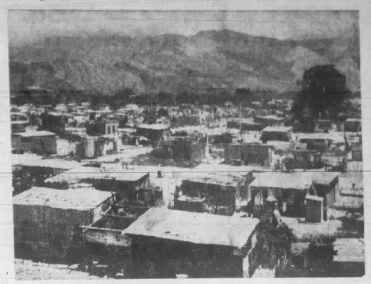
"Venezuela features two climates, hot-dry and hot-wet," said Mary.

"There were a lot of bugs, including some moths as large as bats and cockroaches the size of mice, but you get used to it," she added.

"Besides, the reward of seeing the community unite and change overrides all the discomforts," said Mary.

"The going-away party was fabulous. They worked so hard to make it a big surprise, decorated, put up an American flag, fixed refreshments, made speeches and gave us diplomas and presents," she said.

Mary is now in New York City job hunting for social work in a field similar to the one she performed in Venzeuela.



WHAT A VIEW — Nestled at the foot of the mountains is Barrio Los Olivos, a slum suburb of Maracay. An influx of industrial workers created the overflow of people, who took small parcels of land and built shacks of tin, fiberboard or other available materials.

Club Bubbles with Polkas

By KATHRYN SOMMERS

Shades of Lawrence Welk!

The maestro would have loved the November meeting of the Tecumseh Music Club.

As Helen Bendes, instructor in elementary music for Tecumseh Public Schools, played lively polkas on her accordian, Mr. Welk might have asked some of the audience to dance.

It would have been charming.

★

FIFTEEN LADIES met Nov. 8 at the home of Mrs. Clarence Kenney. Mrs. Larry Burch and Mrs. Henry Krey of Adrian were guests and Mrs. Earl Mason was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Truman Rentschler served as co-hostess.

Mrs. Clarence Brock, program chairman for the evening, introduced Miss Bendes. She briefly explained the history of the accordian and mentioned that German accordians have buttons for the right hand to play as opposed to a piano keyboard on the American models.

Then she showed what her accordian could do as she played "The Rain Rain Polka," "Oh, Marie," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and the "Pennsylvania Polka."

The mobile home of Mrs. Kenney offered a natural setting for a performing accordian player — Miss Bendes played from the "balcony" (really the kitchen-dining area).

★

THE EVENING was entitled "Fun For the Money" and was the money-making night of the club's year.

Mrs. Leland Fogelsong acted as auctioneer for baked items and "white elephants" and the group happily added $31.50 to its treasury as a result of the evening's fun.

The next meeting will be Dec. 12 at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Waldron.

Guest artists for the evening of Christmas music will be Mrs. Milton Bailey, Jean Bailey and Mrs. John Brown, all of Adrian.

Rocks Run out of Room

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"Hubby's hobby got out of hand," said Mrs. O. E. Priest recently in an ad attempting to sell some of her husband's efforts in lapidary art.

In other words, the Priest residence on Evans Lake is fast becoming filled with beautiful pieces of jewelry made from semi-precious stones found by the couple on many walks.

The Rev. Priest, now retired, remarked that it is surprising what wonders of nature lie just outside one's doorstep - - - if one takes the time to look for them.

He supported his statement by displaying a fossil of coral from the Devonian age.

The Rev. Priest ministered in Britton for many years, then Clinton and for a time, supplied at Tipton. He dabbled in Real Estate for 10 years and helped his children in an ice cream parlor business for a couple of years in Britton.

When he retired, he and Mrs. Priest sought a hobby they would both enjoy and that would take them out-of-doors, finally decided upon rocks.

Travels to see their son, Douglas, and his family in Arizona, and daughter, Shirley Robison, and family near Los Angeles, Calif., have provided much interesting looking, but the Priests insist that gems and fossils, including precious stones, are abundant in Michigan. This especially is along the shores of the Great Lakes. He found a gorgeous amethyst along Lake Superior's shoreline, where the gems are most prevalent.

Indian artifacts as well as trilobite that became extinct 250 million years ago in the brachiopod are have also been brought to light by the enthusiastic rock hounds.

They have three other daughters, Mary Austin, a teacher at Howell, Anita McNamara, of Fenton and Carol Hay, of Ann Arbor.

"You have to find the gems first," said the Rev. Priest "and then get some equipment."

He has a diamond saw to cut his rock finds in slices and a motor-driven trim saw using water when grinding with different grades of sandpaper.

A tumbling machine with grits from coarse to fine as well as sandpaper is used to polish the gems before they are set in hand-wrought silver mountings.

Magnificent specimens of Thompsonite, Dadoxite, agates, green stone, Indian moss and amethyst as well as many others are in the collection displayed beautifully in glass cases, on a hutch, in book shelves and other places in the Priest residence.

The Rev. Priest remarked that some of the finest calcite and celestite in the world are to be found within 50 miles of here. The Priests often go to the world-renowned Clay Center, Ohio, to hunt for crystals and coral of different varieties.

The Evans Lake gem finder is especially proud of a ring and tie bar worth about $150 that he made from a fire agate he found on Saddle Mountain in Arizona.

Preparing to leave, Mrs. Priest stopped the reporter by exclaiming to her husband, "She must see the show."

The "show" proved to be a most interesting exhibit of fluorescent-like mineral colors that appear in the rocks when an ultra violet mineral lite is shown on them in the dark. Fascinating.

Showing The Herald reporter a pretty fire opal, Mrs. Priest remarked, "If you hear of us getting a divorce ----." She let her voice fall without completing the sentence but it was obvious both to the reporter and to the Rev. Priest that his loving spouse has her heart set on that opal for Christmas.

The pastor and his wife have always been ones to share their blessings with those around them. Now much of their time is spent in imparting knowledge to young people in their neighborhood, in area schools and among junior members of the State Line Gem and Mineral Society of which they are members.

A poem written by the Rev. Priest was recently printed in the bulletin of the club and it appears here.

THE SONG OF THE SAW

By the Rev. O. E. Priest

O, the song of the saw as it sunders the slabs,
From the rocks in the rough, to be fashioned in cabs.
Its music is dear to the heart of the "hound,"
As he searches for beauty in the rocks he has found.
And thrilled by the colors and intriguing design,
He ponders the question, O why is it mine,
To be first to behold, this beauty so rare
So wondrously fashioned with infinite care.
And placed in the keeping of Old Mother Earth,
Awaiting the ages 'til time should give birth,
To a rockhound like me with the song of his saw,
To behold first, such beauty, in wonder and awe?
And the only good answer that comes to my mind,
Are the words, "He that seeketh — it is he that shall find,
He that ploweth the field may uncover the gold.
And he that searches for pearls may find riches untold."

Play Director Names Seniors of the Week

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Recently named by their music teacher, Peg Geiger, as "Seniors of the Week," Barbara Bowman and Ivan McKenna might have been named the "busiest" as well.

Ivan is student director of the musical "Pirates of Penzance," to be presented by the high school choir, Nov. 18 and 19. His assistance is most helpful to the director, Mrs. Donald Geiger.

His time-consuming and difficult duties include seeing that script and music is learned and that each cast member acts the part for which he was chosen.

He must keep the cast and crew working together with perfect timing.

Ivan takes part in many school organizations. He is the president of the Student Council and of the Varsity Club.

He participates in varsity track, wrestling and football, is a member of the National Honor Society and is active in class activities. He was recently appointed business manager of the 1967 Clinton High Yearbook.

Extra-curricular activities fill many more hours of Ivan's busy life — he is president of the Ann Arbor-Jackson United Church Youth and a member of the Michigan United Church Youth Executive Forum Board. He teaches a Sunday School class and during the summer plays the organ at the United Church of Christ.

He also reports the Clinton High sports news for The Tecumseh Herald.

BARBARA BOWMAN is the piano accompanist for the musical, "Pirates of Penzance."

Barbara has been a member of the National Honor Society since 10th grade and has been treasurer of the Society for two years.

She is treasurer of the Student Council and historian for the senior class. She is a member of the powder puff football team for the fourth year.

She has served as organist in St. Dominic's Catholic Church for four years and is a member of the Catholic Youth Organization.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bowman.

Seaman Apprentice Barry L. Winder graduated Oct. 28 at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Ill. He is spending a 14-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winder, of Clinton before reporting for duty on the USS Ogden, San Diego, Calif. Seaman Winder is a graduate of Clinton High School and Jackson Junior College.

Donate 499 lbs. of Used Items to World Service

CLINTON — Mrs. Edgar Randall and Mrs. Louis Blaisdell drove to Napanee, Ind. one day last week to deliver a 499 lb. collection of used clothing and bedding to the Church World Service Center.

Included were several new quilts, diapers and layettes and a quantity of used nylon hose, all donated recently to the mission collection of the United Church of Christ.

While there the women learned of the great need for soap to be sent to refugee families. Many motels and hotels have been donating small used bars of soap which can be melted down for reuse by the needy overseas, Mrs. Randall said.

Decoupage Handiwork Is Described

CLINTON — Mrs. Clarence Kentler of Harper Woods demonstrated her decoupage handiwork and described the methods for decorating surfaces with paper cutouts to the members of the Clinton Woman's Club Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Kentler, who is the sister of Mrs. Frank Woods, said that the art of decoupage takes time, patience and perseverance, since some of the objects require as many as 10 to 15 coats of satin and high luster varnish, one every 24 hours.

She exhibited baskets, boxes, and plates that she had varnished in rich brown shades and decorated with cutout flowers and fruit.

The program on hobbies was attended by 26 members and former members, Mrs. Floyd Fitch of Valencia, Venezuela and Mrs. Natalie Bartell of Detroit. Mrs. Alton Emerine was welcomed as a new member of the club.

Other handiwork hobbies exhibited were stained opaque and translucent ceramics made by Mrs. Carl Garrison.

Mrs. Edgar Randall showed some of her unusual ceramic pieces as well as examples of contour glass bending and her newest hobby, china painting.

Mrs. Ralph Halladay modeled a hand-woven apron and shawl from Finland.

Purple and white chrysanthemums flanked by white candles in silver holders centered the tea table which was covered by a deep orchid tablecloth.

Mrs. Fitch poured at the silver tea service. The social committee included Mrs. Richard Cadmus, Mrs. William Kershner of Tecumseh, Mrs. Viva Riker and Mrs. Dayton Sell.

Mrs. Ralph Reed will arrange the Little Tots Program of Christmas Music, for the Dec. 14 meeting.

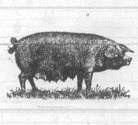
DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.



LIMITED FEEDING OF SOWS during gestation will help produce large litters of uniform pigs and it will cut feed costs, too. Sows will have less udder problems, a longer productive life and fewer farrowing problems. One of the best methods is to hand-feed once a day in individual stalls. Or, you can hand-feed sows in small groups or full-feed one day out of three. With shelter or in confinement 4 pounds per head daily may be sufficient in winter. Otherwise, a sow may require 5 to 7 pounds.

PROPER OUTSIDE MACHINERY STORAGE is important if you don't have room for all machinery in buildings. First, line up equipment at right angles to the prevailing wind to keep as much rain and snow out as possible. Keep each machine off the ground with blocks and if they have rubber tires, jack them up off the ground. Grease and paint exposed parts with rust preventative. Oil and store all link chains.

EXTRA FEEDING PROFIT of $5 per head is almost guaranteed by feeding Stilbestrol to steers. Yet less than half of Iowa's cattle feeders are using it. Another hormone, Tapazole, has produced a 20% increase in gain and 15% better feed efficiency in Iowa tests. Now, a new hormone for heifers is coming on the market soon. MGA (Melengestrol acetate) has boosted gains by 18%. It suppresses heat periods, and has no noticeable side effects.

SHRED CORN STALKS NOW. But for best erosion control avoid disking them in, particularly if corn was planted on contours. This avoids knocking down ridges that hold water. If you can't shred the stalks with a rotary chopper then it's better to disk than leave them lay.

SENIOR TRI-CAPTAIN ROGER YOUNG BURSTS FOR GAIN IN SECOND HALF

Indians Fall by One Point

By JIM LINCOLN

Adrian snapped a two-game losing streak to edge Tecumseh Friday night, 13-12, at Maples Stadium — and before the smallest crowd to watch the rivalry in many years.

Clearly outplayed in the opening two quarters, the Indians came back in the second half and nearly pulled it out, despite errors galore.

Tecumseh mistakes, coupled with the officiating, left a lot to be desired by both the Maples and the Indians. The officials seemed destined to prevent Adrian from scoring, and Tecumseh proved equal to the test with its bungling.

Runbacks of punts and kick-offs featured the Adrian attack and brought about the Maples' first score.

After two exchanges of punts, the Maples scooted with the last one for 30 yards to Tecumseh's 25. On the next play, Steve Marshall cracked over Tecumseh's right end and romped 25 yards untouched.

In what proved to be the winning point, Dave Nelson took the high pass from center and tossed to Tom Horvath for the extra point.

Neither club did much the rest of the first half, although Adrian played most of it in Tecumseh's territory.

After Adrian's TD, the Indians moved to the Maples' 17 where they fumbled with Adrian recovering. It was Tecumseh's only threat in the first half.

★

WHILE ADRIAN completely dominated the first two quarters, Tecumseh came back strong in the third period.

Starting at their 26, the Indians moved to paydirt in four plays. Quarterback Jim Mobley hit Dean Hebb wide open in the middle and the 6'3" end rambled to Adrian's 19 before being cut down from behind.

After Roger Young gained four to the 15, John Anderson hit for four more and then breaking tackle after tackle, Anderson raced in for the TD.

Probable turning point in the game then resulted when Adrian's Bud Rowley gathered in the kickoff and raced to Tecumseh's 25.

Seven plays later — on fourth down at Tecumseh's three — Rowley skirted Tecumseh's right end for the score. Adrian missed the pass for extra point, leaving the Indians a chance to tie.

With Jim Mobley passing, Tecumseh came right back with a 69-yard TD march. Mobley hit Young for 19 yards to the 50, where an Adrian player grabbed Young's face mask for a 15-yard penalty, moving Tecumseh to the Maples' 35. Young again took another pass to the 17.

Then two plays later on a bit of razzle-dazzle, Mobley flipped to Jim Hunt who in turn connected with Hebb at the goal line.

In the all-important try for the extra point, Mobley pitched out to Young running wide. Young in turn hurled to Hebb, but the ball was just beyond his outstretched hands.

Closest Tecumseh came again was on its 45 where the Indians failed to pick up a first down and relinquished the ball with more than a minute left in the game.

★

LOSING WAS a disappointment to both the THS team, coaches and fans. The Indians did not play particularly well and the first half was reminiscent of the Grosse Ile game.

Adrian, winner of just two games this season, was fired up and it brought the Maples their victory.

ROGER THE DODGER — After picking up a key block from unidentified Indian in foreground, Roger Young swings to his right as Adrian's Dennis Suydam (32) moves toward the action. Young's best gains came on pass plays with the Maple line doing a good job of bottling up wide running attempts.

Hornets Sting Skins, 31-13, in '66 Finale

By IVAN McKENNA

SALINE — The going was a bit rough Friday night for Clinton's Redskins when they faced Saline in the final game of the season.

The Hornets stung the Redskins, 31-13. It was the first home loss for Clinton in three years.

The Hornets quickly jumped off to an early lead, scoring twice in the first few minutes of the game. After that the Redskin defense tightened up and did not allow another touchdown until the third quarter.

Clinton cut the lead in half midway in the first frame when halfback Mel Pardee plunged over from the one.

The Redskins had a golden opportunity to tie the game in the first frame, but a fumble on the Hornets' three-yard line erased that chance.

In the closing seconds of the first half they once again advanced deep into Hornet territory but failed to score.

Early in the third period Saline marched methodically down the field and added six more points to its lead.

★

THE DETERMINED Hornets tallied twice more in the final frame. The Hornet defense did a fine job for the winners as it came up with two pass interceptions, a blocked punt and a fumble recovery all at crucial points in the game.

Halfbacks Dave Feldkamp and Ron Chatterton each scored twice for Saline.

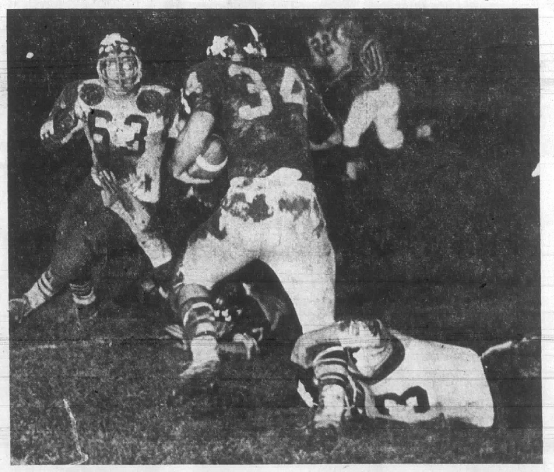
One bright spot for the Redskins was the fine play of Papsdorf, a sophomore. He was on the receiving end of several long passes and played an outstanding game defensively.

★

CLINTON ENDED its season with a 6-3 record. Although the Redskins suffered three non-league setbacks, it was a successful season for first-year Coach Mike Snyder.

His outfit posted a 6-0 mark in Lakeland C competition and captured the championship for the third straight year.

Clinton	6	0	0	7—13
Saline	12	0	6	13—31



ADRIAN GAINER — Steve Marshall (34) who ran hard for the Maples, is about to meet Indian defensive star Henry Mensing (63), while Carlo Mobley (73) grabs hold of Steve's leg. Mensing closed his career rated as one of Tecumseh's finest all-time defensive performers.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

The Photo Club saw how film is developed and printed on a large commercial basis. On the first of this month Brother Aloysius took his camera buffs to Plymouth where they visited The Goldseal photo finishing plant. It is here that many of your undeveloped rolls of film come, and in a matter of minutes they are developed by automated machinery. Since the Photo Club does all their own film processing, they found this visit to Goldseal educational and interesting.

Three senior minds were put to the test last Saturday. Mike Gaudreau, Paul DeWaelsche and Rick Currie took the Michigan Scholarship Test at Clinton High School. If the results are favorable these three could find themselves in one of many of Michigan's fine colleges.

The annual Halloween Party was judged best yet. This year all the classes gave a hand in its making. The night's festivities centered around game booths and costume contest. First prize in the masquerade went to Vito Brazika's funeral of Edgar Allen Poe. The costume was made up of casket, pallbearer, preacher, and Vito as the corpse. Second prize went to Bill Sacks and Bill Marquis who came as a pair of dice.

Last Saturday was the grand opening of the Senior Canteen. The canteen, located next to Muscle Beach, provides the campus with a place for the students to go and have refreshments after school and in the evening. The seniors announced a successful opening as they took in over $45. If this continues the class of '67 may be in Washington yet.

Don Chalmers and Sam Kirkland went to Notre Dame to visit Ed Johnson, graduate of last year and aspirant to the Brothers of Holy Cross. Don, Sam, and Ed attended the Notre Dame-Pitt game in the afternoon. The seniors announced that Ed is doing well and seems to be happy in his vocation.

"What's your new job?" was the topic of conversation around campus early this past week. With the beginning of a new quarter, which started last Monday, comes a new job list. Each boy has some little house cleaning job he has to do each morning and on Saturday mornings. What does our student council and senior class president do each morning. He washes the morning breakfast dishes.

What was Boysville before it was Boysville? Prior to the founding of Boysville October 7, 1948, the property was owned by the late Henry Ford. Mr. Ford established a trade school which was active in brick making, wood working and other various trades. The present pond was once a clay pit from which bricks were made. The present maintenance building, better known around campus as "the long white building", was formerly a saw mill. Mr. Ford even had his own fire department which was located in our present infirmary. This trade school was not successful, perhaps because of the location, thus Mr. Ford sold it to the Archdiocese of Detroit for Boysville.

"EVERYBODY LOVES OPAL" and that also includes 45 Boysville students.

Through the traditional gracious invitation of the Tecumseh Players, the Knights were again spectators to an evening of entertainment.

The interest and responsive laughter given by the students reviewed adequately the fine performance directed by Thelma Hollenbeck.

The Tecumseh Players are certainly a credit to our community and the cultural value they add to the Boysville students is unmeasurable.

Twenty students participated in the tournament.

Golden Silhouettes was the theme of the semi-formal dance sponsored by the seniors at St. Joseph Academy in Adrian.

Thirty-seven boys from Boysville were invited to Regina Caeli lounge where music was provided by Roy Saari and his Orchestra.

Wrestling has been added as the sixth competitive varsity sport at Boysville.

Richard Chatters, who introduced the sport to the campus last year, has expanded the program by entering Boysville in an area league. The wrestling team holds its practices after school each day at Muscle Beach.

Chris Sabatini, a freshman, and Jeff Forth, an eighth grader, have been added to the Knight's roll call. Chris is a member of St. Mary of Redford parish in Detroit, and Jeff belongs to St. Boniface parish.

Boysville now has 158 boys.

Eight State Officers from the Knights of Columbus spent last Saturday at Boysville. The K of C is the financial backbone of Boysville.

An Old Timer Remembers

By CLARENCE J. AVERY

NO. II

In viewing all the fine enterprises and looking bug-eyed at all the swank new houses that Tecumseh now sports, one realizes that the little old burg has really gone places.

Some years ago, after a long absence from those parts, coming in on the old Macon Rd., as I passed my old home, I was shocked to see a number of shiny airplanes squatting in the field where we used to plant clover, and a little farther, across the road I was amazed beyond words to see that our old sow pasture had been transformed into a top-flight residential section with some of the finest homes to be found anywhere.

Why, I remember one time one of our cows got stuck in the mud in the river just off Bullhead Point — where a beautiful home now stands — and we had to pull her out with a team of horses.

Lacking the skill of a Will Rogers I almost got stuck along with her in trying to get a rope around the critter's neck. Also, when I was about 10 years old, using some barrel stays, building lath and canvass, I constructed a contraption resembling a sail boat.

Then with a bamboo mast with a rigged bedsheet for a sail I mounted it between two buggy wheels and pushed it across the cow pasture to the river.

There I climbed aboard and successfully maneuvered it down the river and across the mill pond to the paper mill where I was met by an anxious parent who hustled me home.

I had been observed putting the thing together in the back yard, but nobody ever believed that I intended to put it in the water. Anyway I never saw it again and I always suspected it met the same fate as my pet woodchuck that mysteriously disappeared.

This early experience, however, must have taken roots, because in the years to come I was to build a number of boats including a Lightning class sailboat in which I became a fleet champion and subsequently competed in the Lightning International races off Buffalo.

My last project is an off-shore fishing boat, which for the last 10 years has been kept in Florida.

A recent reference to me in a Touch of the Past is correct. It was during the summer vacation in 1906 when I was given that very important position of messenger boy at the Lake Shore station, succeeding Guy Nemire who had taken up the more important duties as call boy for the D T & I.

As I recall, this messenger boy business made little difference in my hours, because I was always hanging around the Lake Shore station anyway, making a nuisance of myself, I suppose, while boning up on my telegraphy in which I already had considerable ability.

You see, our farm home in Saline, and later for a time, on the outskirts of Tecumseh, with other farm houses, was connected on telegraph circuit.

That's right — it was a telegraph line, called the Farmer's Line. I believe and extended between Milan and Tecumseh. The little nickle-plated telegraph sounder mounted on a shelf in our dining room was rattling in my ears almost from the time I was born.

My mother the "ham" in our family was my teacher.

The line, I think, was strung about 1893 — when I was three.

Snowbound Pilot Waves in Farewell

"He tipped his wings, circled the cornfield and flew away," said Mrs. Richard McMahon of Ives Rd. Monday, telling about the pilot whose plane was downed in the snow storm here Nov. 2.

Frank Underhill, of Livonia brought his plane to a standstill in the cornfield on the McMahon farm, suffering only a bent propeller in landing.

The ground was so wet that he was unable to take off until Sunday. After refueling at Meyers Airport, he flew over the McMahon farm for a final salute before heading back to Livonia.

Mrs. McMahon mentioned that the incident again proved "what a small world." In conversation is was revealed that Underhill's father in Bloomfield Hills goes hunting each year with Mrs. McMahon's brother-in-law of Farmington.

to halt inflation

"WOULD YOU FAVOR RAISING TAXES OR CUTTING DOWN FEDERAL GOVERNMENT SPENDING?"

71% FAVOR CUTTING SPENDING

7% FAVOR RAISING TAXES

TAX FORM

Citizens Favor Spending Halt

Seven out of 10 Americans want to reduce federal government spending to control inflation.

Two out of three say they have been hurt by it.

One-third feel they are worse off financially than a year ago.

These are some of the results released today from a major national opinion survey taken in early October by the Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N. J.

The study was commissioned by the National Association of Manufacturers.

Given a choice between the two, 71% of the respondents favored a cut in federal spending rather than increased taxes (7%).

Compared with earlier surveys, the latest ORC poll also shows that there is growing concern about inflation with its consequent rising prices and reduced purchasing power of the dollar.

Almost half (48%) of the respondents report they are "greatly concerned" and this concern is evident in all segments of the population, regardless of age, occupation level, or where they live.

★

SIX IN TEN say they are fighting their own private war against inflation by changing shopping habits — cutting down, buying cheaper foods, substituting, designating heretofore "necessities" as "luxuries":

"I walk around the store a long time before I buy anything today." (Woman, over 40, Midwest)

"I look for some things to take the place of other things—some things are just too high." (Woman, over 40, West)

The survey also demonstrates that the effects of inflation are being felt more seriously by the elderly and those with lesser education. More than four in 10, 60 years and older, report that they are "worse off today" than a year ago.

★

"I have a hard time making it on my salary sometimes. I think I'll need a second job." (Woman, under 40, West)

"I hold two jobs and one is very poorly paid. If things go much higher can I work three jobs?" (Man, under 40, South)

More than twice as many people blame inflation on the Government than on any other group.

Twenty-eight per cent feel Government is "most responsible" for inflation, compared with 6% blaming Business.

Ten percent blame Labor and 13% the people themselves.

A rising 41% admit that they "don't know" where to lay the blame, although there is much less uncertainty expressed about what to do about it.

Since last spring and reflected in previous ORC opinion surveys, there has been an increase among those favoring federal spending cuts.
